RESOLUTIONS OF THE ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE,

PROVIDING FOR PUBLICATION OF THE REPORT OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL.

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That the Adjutant General of the state be authorized and required to make a full report of the records and transactions of his office, embracing therein the names, residence, date of enrollment, muster, discharge or death of every officer, soldier and marine of this state in the military and naval service of the United States, during the late war, with such other military information as may be of public interest. 36

Said report shall be published in size and style of a volume similar to those published by the state of Indiana, and that two thousand five hundred copies of the same be printed, under the supervision of the Adjutant General.

Resolved, further, That said report, so published, be distributed in manner provided by law, as follows: To the offices of each county clerk and each circuit clerk, one copy; to each public library in this state, one copy; to each member of the general assembly and its elective officers, one copy; to each state officer of this state, one copy; to the Adjutant General's office of each state and territory, one copy; to each state library, one copy; to the United States library, five copies; to the war department at Washington City, fifty copies; and the remaining copies to be deposited with the Adjutant General, to be disposed of in sets, to soldiers and citizens of the state, at cost: Provided, that said report shall not exceed eight volumes, and shall not cost exceeding two dollars per volume.

ADOPTED, February 16, 1867.

P R E F A C E.

The delay in the publication of the Adjutant General's Reports, made to the Governor of Illinois, for the years 1865 and 1866, is justly attributable to the want of lawful authority to do so at an earlier day. Most of the other loyal states had made provision for such publication, during the progress of the war, but no such legislative action had occurred in this state, previous to the resolutions of the General Assembly of 1867, which authorized this publication. In the absence of such authority, I did not care to forestall legislative action, and assume responsibility in a matter involving so large an expenditure, where no legal obligation required me to do so. Since authority has been conferred to print and publish the reports, the labor of preparing the material and arranging the same, has been prosecuted with all the clerical force authorized by the appropriation made for this purpose, and it is hoped now, that at no distant day, the entire report will be completed, as has been so long desired by the soldiers of the state.

It has been difficult, in many cases, and impossible in some instances, to procure full and complete records of each and every organization credited to the state. The fact that there existed no legal obligation upon officers in the United States' service to make reports to their state authorities, left the matter of making such reports one of discretion, to be done, or not, as the officer pleased. No penalty whatever could be imposed for a failure in this respect, nor was there then, any present advantages apparent from making them, hence it may too frequently have happened, that in despite of the aid given the state authorities by the Federal officers, many important rolls, orders and documents, necessary to make our record here a perfect one, never has reached this office. In this way, if any soldier shall discover that his record is in any way defective or incomplete, he may account for the same, and rest assured that the records here in the office are precisely as published in these volumes, and that all their records, as set down here, are based upon official documents in the office, which, so far as the files here are concerned, remain uncontradicted at this date.

Another difficulty that I have encountered is in procuring reports of historical memoranda of the regiments. It will be observed, that in many instances, the memoranda of the regiments are not completed to date of final muster-out, and, in some instances, no historical memoranda at all is added to the rosters of officers. That this is the case, is no fault of this office. Repeated and persistent efforts have been made, before and during my term of office, to keep the historical memoranda of regiments complete. In many instances, however, various causes combined to make it extremely difficult to obtain them, and, since my report must necessarily have been compiled from returns and reports made to this office, by commanding officers, their failure to return them, leaves, in many cases, a partial history, and, in some cases, none whatever, of their regiments. No soldier or officer can regret this more than I do, for I had hoped to see full memoranda of each regiment, with accurate dates of its marches, sieges, battles and achievements, preserved for all time, and handed down to those who may come after us, as a monument to live long after the last of the grand army shall have passed away.

In making up this historical memoranda, great brevity has been found an absolute necessity. It could not be expected that any thing like a history of each regiment from Illinois, could be now presented, much less could it be published. No one now could write the history of one hundred and seventy-five regiments, and do justice to them, within the period of one official term. Moreover, to do so, would be a departure from official duty, and an assumption of the office of historian; hence, a brief memoranda of the marches, sieges, battles, etc., with dates of the same, has been deemed sufficient to meet the wants to be supplied by this report, leaving to the historian to chronicle the story of their achievements.

With these explanations, feeling conscious that I have omitted no duty tending to complete and preserve a perfect record of the honorable part borne by the state of Illinois and her heroic sons in the late struggle for national existence, against the most wanton and causeless rebellion that ever occurred, this report is respectfully submitted.

I. N. HAYNIE.

Adjutant General of Illinois.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS—STATE OF ILLINOIS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.

SPRINGFIELD, January 1, 1866.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, RICHARD J. OGLESBY,

Governor of Illinois:

SIR:—By the provisions of “An act to provide for the appointment and designate the work, fix the pay, and prescribe the duties of the Adjutant General of Illinois,” approved February 2d, 1865, the “Adjutant General’s office,” for the first time in the history of the State became an organized department of the State government.

Previous to this date, the position of Adjutant General had been conferred by your predecessors, and the duties of the office executed under, and by virtue of, militia laws of the State, enacted in the code of 1845, and acts amendatory thereof. Under these laws, however, no special duties were prescribed, or authority conferred, and until sometime subsequent to the beginning of the rebellion, now so auspiciously terminated, the business as well as the records of the office, were in an unorganized condition, without order and without system. Under the sudden impulse given by the rebellion to all matters of a military character, it became manifest that the office was to become, and indeed was, at an early day, a state necessity, and its reduction to order and method a paramount duty.

On the 11th of November, 1861, Adjutant General Fuller, under the circumstances above indicated, assumed the control of the office and entered upon the discharge of its duties; and by the aid of his able assistants inaugurated and systematized the business of the office, until now it may be justly said to be a monument of industry and labor, of which the State may well be proud.

In the midst of the varied duties of the office, constant attention had been given to the necessity of securing complete records of all the military matter that might in future be of use to the soldiers of the State; and it is but just to say, that the office affords evidence in itself of the great success of those efforts. Nevertheless, whilst all this was true, the records and files of the office possessed no legal validity, as records recognizable by the civil tribunals of the country, nor were the official acts of the Adjutant General clothed with the sanction and force of statutory authority. By the acts to which I have referred, however, all this has been remedied, and the records of this office possess by law, the validity, force and effect of records of other departments of the state government. Previous to the passage of this act it had been your pleasure to tender to me the position of Adjutant General of the state, and I had, on the 9th day of January, informally taken possession of the office. My predecessor having before then resigned his position, and the duties of the office having been discharged, ad interim, by my present Assistant Adjutant General, Lieut. Colonel Edward P. Niles.

By the provisions of the 9th section of the act to which I have referred, it is enacted that, "he (the Adjutant General) shall annually, on the first day of January in each year, submit a written report of the transactions pertaining to the duties of his office for the preceding year, to the Governor of this state, with the expenses of the same for said year, in which he shall give all such statistics and information as may be deemed of interest to be known and preserved."

It affords me pleasure to comply with the above provisions, and in the subsequent pages and several schedules herewith presented, I have the honor to submit such "statistics" and "information" as I have "deemed" of the character indicated by the act.

On the 16th day of January I took formal possession of the office, and entered upon its duties. I did not deem it best at that time to make any changes in the subordinate positions under my control, and therefore left the several desks of the office in charge of those I found at them. As soon as I was authorized by law to do so, I proceeded to appoint my Assistant Adjutant General, and Chief Clerk. Edward P. Niles had since 1861, been the ablest and most meritorious employee in the office, and I deemed it but just to him, to tender him the appointment of Assistant Adjutant General; the same was accepted by him, and since then no change has occurred. My first Chief Clerk was Joshua Rogers, who remained until recently, in charge of that desk.

It was, however, early determined by me, to secure for all the positions in the office—other than the one filled by Col. Niles—men who had served honorably and faithfully in the cause of the country. I well knew that there was, all over the state, many competent and faithful soldiers, now out of employment, willing to accept positions, and it was deemed but just to provide, as far as possible, for them. In this I have been eminently successful. The four gentlemen now in charge of the several desks of the office, have each done faithful service and won honorable distinctions in their country's cause during the late contest; one as colonel of cavalry, one as colonel of infantry, one as captain and assistant commissary musters, and one as regimental quartermaster of 50th Illinois volunteers.

SEAL OF OFFICE.

By section 12 of the act of 2d February, above referred to, it became my duty to provide a seal of office; no seal having before been authorized by law, or used in connection with the office. This I have done, and as required by law, have filed "description and imprint thereof with the Secretary of State." It will be seen by reference to that section, that after said seal is provided, "all commissions and official instruments required to be issued or signed by the Adjutant General, and all certificates from said office, shall be sealed with said seal," and the same was made evidence of their legal force and effect, "when they are in other respects in conformity with the laws of the state."

During the term of my predecessor, and whilst no seal was used in this office, it had been the practice to make up all the commissions here, and after being signed by the Governor and Adjutant General, to procure the seal and signature of the Secretary of State. After the seal for this office had been procured, I deemed it better, if it could lawfully be done, to dispense with the seal of Secretary of State to commissions. There was, however, a serious question as to whether a commission was of any validity, unless sealed by the seal of state, as required in section 25, article 4, of the constitution of the state of Illinois; and I determined to take the opinion of the best legal talent within my reach. The act of February 2d had been drafted to obviate this very difficulty, among others, and the validity of the act, so far as it gave force to a commission, depended upon the question whether the power or authority to commission officers in the service of the United States was derived from the state constitution or from the Federal Government. I had assumed that the power was derived from the Federal Government, and therefore maintained the validity of the 12th section of the act of 2d February, 1865, giving validity to commissions issued and sealed with the Adjutant General's seal, without the seal of Secretary of State.

The able counsel to whose opinion I referred this question, concurred with me, and since then the practice of the office has been in conformity with this view. I am satisfied of its correctness.

ORGANIZATION OF 1865.—SENT TO THE FIELD.

On the 16th day of January last, (1865,) your Excellency was inaugurated and assumed the executive duties of the State. The Legislature had then been in session two weeks, and much of the civil affairs of the state demanded immediate attention. Embarrassing as exigencies of this character ordinarily are in times of peace, to those just assuming the discharge of so great responsibilities, the fact that we were far advanced towards the end of the fourth year of a great civil war, (the crisis of which, for national weal or woe, was known to be imminent, and the early results of which were looked for with extreme anxiety,) towards the success of which so many citizens of the state had enlisted, all of whose interests, as soldiers, needed to be looked after, rendered the position more embarrassing still. Add to this the further fact that a month previous to this period the Federal Government had issued its call for 300,000 additional men, and fixed the time for draft under said call on the 15th of February following, and the difficulties by which the incoming administration was environed, will appear not only to be anomalous, but of the most important and perplexing character. Still no time was to be lost, action at once was indispensable, for at that date it was understood that the quota of Illinois (not yet assigned,) would have to be filled by the 7th February, (then only twenty days distant,) or the draft would be enforced by the federal authorities.

Great as these responsibilities were, and serious as were the obstacles to be met and overcome, it was determined to surmount them if in the range of human possibility, and thereby secure to the federal authorities the ability to overwhelm the rebellion with the then impending blow. With this view, your Excellency, on the 17th day of January, issued the following proclamation, to-wit:

STATE OF ILLINOIS, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 17, 1865.

To the People of the State of Illinois:

In obedience to the proclamation of the President, of 19th December last, calling for 300,000 volunteers to serve in the armies of the Union, I, as the Chief Magistrate of Illinois, call upon you to manifest once more your patriotism and devotion to the country by voluntary enlistments in the service of the United States.

Upon my request, the Secretary of War has consented to permit the organization of ten regiments of volunteers, for one, two, or three years, to be credited upon the quota of this state under said call.

The time within which these regiments are to be raised, the manner of organization, place of rendezvous and equipment, you will learn by general orders from the office of the Adjutant General, herewith published, and all companies or regiments organized under this call will conform thereto.

The quota allotted to this state will be announced as soon as it is ascertained.

In appealing to you, I believe that neither the state or general government will ask in vain. At no time during the existence of this wicked rebellion has Illinois been behind her sister states in manifestations of loyalty and patriotism; and during the darkest hours of this contest, her sons with a matchless heroism and devotion, have ever responded to the requirements of our National Executive. I feel that you will do so again; that those veterans, many of them my old comrades in arms, now at home, who have won distinction upon many glorious fields, will come forward again to win additional laurels, and add to their already brilliant achievements others no less brilliant; and that thousands of others, stimulated by their patriotic example, will turn from their ordinary avocations, whilst their country needs their services and calls for their assistance.

The draft ordered by the general government will take place on the 15th of February. You have until the 7th of that month to fill your quota by voluntary enlistments.

Let it not be said now, when our brave Illinoisians, under the gallant Sherman, have penetrated the heart of the rebellion, and our heroic and indomitable Grant is breaking down the very gates of its citadel, and the end of this rebellion, so far as we can see, is not distant, that at this hour Illinois has dimmed and tarnished her proud record by tardiness and inaction; but let her respond with men as true and brave as those who have shed such imperishable fame upon her arms.

RICHARD J. OGLESBY, Governor.

At the time the above proclamation was issued it was believed that the number of troops to be supplied from this state under said call, could more readily be procured by securing to those enlisting the opportunity to form new organizations. It was known that there were many officers who had served honorably in the union army, and many privates and non-commissioned officers of merit, who, if allowed to organize companies and regiments, would not only re-enlist themselves, but would at once use every influence speedily to complete their organizations; and no good reason was perceived why this very worthy class of men should not be allowed the opportunity thus open to them. With this view, application had been made to the Secretary of War to permit ten new regiments to be organized and sent to the field, and the same was at once allowed. On the day of the date of the above proclamation, therefore, I issued the following order, to-wit:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.

SPRINGFIELD, January 17th, 1865.

General Orders No. 2.

I. In pursuance of the call of the President of the United States, under date of 19th December last, for three hundred thousand (300,000) volunteers, one hundred companies of infantry will be raised in Illinois for government service, to serve for one, two, or three years, unless sooner discharged, as each recruit may elect.

II. Said companies to consist of one Captain, one First Lieutenant, one Second Lieutenant, one First Sergeant, four Sergeants, eight Corporals, two Musicians, one Wagoner, and not less than sixty-four (64) nor more than eighty-two (82) privates.

III. As fast as recruits are obtained they will be sent to the nearest or most convenient District Provost Marshal's Office, where they will be examined by the Examining Surgeon, and if passed, they will be enlisted and mustered into the military service of the United States and forwarded to the draft rendezvous at Camp Butler, near Springfield, Illinois, by said Provost Marshals.

IV. As soon as said companies have eighty-three (83) enlisted men they will organized into a company, and such company officers as may be elected by the men will be commissioned by the Governor, unless good reasons exist for refusing.

V. As soon as ten companies are organized they will at once be formed into a regiment, and the field and staff officers commissioned by the Governor.

VI. Incomplete companies which fail to organize by the 7th of February next, will be liable to be consolidated with others similarly situated, and assigned to new regiments, or to fill vacancies in old regiments.

VII. Volunteers under this call will receive the bounty of $100, $200 and $300, for the respective terms of service of one, two and three years, as provided by the general government, one-third of which will be paid by the Mustering and Disbursing Officer when the company is completed. Each enlisted man will also be entitled to such county and township bounty as may be offered by the county or sub-district to which he is credited on the muster-in-rolls; and the residence of the enlisted man, as shown by said roll, will fix the place of his credit on any future draft that may be made.

VIII. Every precaution should be used to prevent the enlistment of persons unfit for service from physical disability, or minors under eighteen years of age; and any officer who shall enlist a recruit who, on medical examination, shall be rejected as obviously unfit for duty at the time of enlistment, will be liable for all expenses of such enlistment.

IX. It is earnestly recommended that all companies should be filled as speedily as possible to the maximum number, (101 men,) in order that the number required to be drafted may be reduced as much as possible.

By order of his Excellency, Gov. Oglesby.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

By reference to this order it will be observed that instead of authorizing ten regiments to be organized, one hundred companies were to be raised. This plan was adopted with the view, first, of forming each successive ten companies into a regiment as soon as they arrived at rendezvous; secondly, to retain control entirely of each regimental organization, its officers, etc.; and thus avoid, not only the delay that would occur if each set of officers had been selected and required to raise each ten full companies before organization, but would besides secure, in the opinion of the state authorities, the best men for field positions. Heretofore in the organization of troops from the state, officers were often first selected and authority first given to them to organize companies or regiments, and whilst it was not generally difficult for one man of influence to raise a company, it became no inconsiderable undertaking to raise ten, and required much time and labor. But no delay in these organizations could be allowed, and it will be seen that this apparently unimportant modification of the practice heretofore recognized in the state, operated with astonishing success.

No sooner was it made known over the state that new regiments were to be organized, than numerous applications were received for authority to organize them as regiments. Specific authority, however, of this kind was continuously denied, and in no instance given; whilst every application for authority to organize a company was granted, unless the applicant had been disqualified by some disability to command the same; each applicant being assured, however, that his advancement and promotion depended, first, upon his qualifications, and next, upon his activity in sending companies into camp. At this period the ardor and patriotism of the people had been aroused to a wonderful extent. Everywhere the most enthusiastic spirit prevailed, and the gallant sons of the state poured forth to enlist in the cause of the country and swell the invincible armies already in the front. Under these circumstances, it was deemed best to establish two additional rendezvous for volunteers; one at Chicago, under the command of Col. John L. Hancock, and designated as "Camp Fry;" the other at Quincy, under charge of Maj. Gen. Benjamin M. Prentiss, and designated as "Camp Wood." I, therefore, at once, issued the following order No. 3:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, January 19th, 1865.

General Order No. 3.

I. The following named camps are hereby designated as additional Camps of rendezvous for troops now organizing under the provisions of General Order No. 2, current series, from these Headquarters, to-wit: Camp Fry, Chicago, and Camp Wood, Quincy.

II. All recruits or companies enlisted from the 1st, 2d, 3d and 6th congressional districts of this state, will be reported to and rendezvous at Camp Fry, Chicago, and Colonel John L. Hancock, of Chicago, is hereby appointed commandant of said rendezvous.

III. All recruits or companies enlisted from the 4th, 5th and 9th congressional districts, except those from Menard, Mason and Cass counties, will be reported to and rendezvous at Camp Wood, Quincy. General Benjamin M. Prentiss is hereby appointed commandant of said rendezvous.

IV. Recruits from all other portions of the state will be sent to Camp Butler, Illinois, the place of general rendezvous, as provided by General Order No. 2, from these Headquarters.

V. Transportation for men enlisted and mustered by the District Provost Marshals, will be furnished by them. Transportation for all recruits within the districts which rendezvous at Camp Fry, not so enlisted and mustered, will be furnished by Capt. C. C. Pomeroy, United States Mustering Officer, Chicago, upon application by the recruiting agents; and for all recruits for the rendezvous at Camp Wood and Camp Butler, transportation will be furnished by Lieut. Col. James Oakes, Superintendent Volunteer Recruiting Service, at Springfield, Illinois, upon application by said agents. In all cases of application for transportation, the agent will state the number of recruits, the place of destination and name of person in charge of recruits.

VI. It is advised that all recruits shall be taken to the nearest Provost Marshal, to be by him enlisted and mustered, and he will at once furnish transportation to the general rendezvous, as no credits for enlistments will be given, nor should local bounties be paid, until the recruits are enlisted and mustered into the service. District Provost Marshals will give receipts to recruiting agents for all such recruits brought by them respectively, and accepted into the service of the United States.

VII. Paragraph 3 of General Order No. 2, current series, from these Headquarters, is hereby amended to conform to this order.

By order of his Excellency, Gov. Oglesby.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

The success of the measures adopted affords the best evidence of the correctness of the views entertained and acted upon. With so much harmony and rapidity were regiments organized, that many of them were on duty far towards the front before it was supposed possible to have organized them. The regiments thus organized number from 147 to 156, inclusive, and in schedule "E," filed herewith, will be found the number of each of said regiments, the name of its commanding officer, date when and place where organized, with date of departure for the field and strength of the same.

By reference to the rosters of these organizations, many names before familiar to the service will be observed, and whilst I have, with much pleasure, issued commissions to meritorious officers for the first time entering the service, yet I confess it afforded me peculiar gratification to see many of my old comrades in service, who had won honorable distinction, and wore honorable scars, coming forward again to enter the army a second time, and receiving from the State authorities well-earned promotion. Such patriotic devotion should forever challenge the admiration and gratitude of their countrymen.

Early in February, it was ascertained that recruiting was going on in all parts of the State so rapidly, that many more volunteers would soon be raised than could possibly enter the ten regiments. So gratifying were the prospects, indeed, that under authority received here from Secretary Stanton, the following orders were issued at their respective dates, and the draft which was before fixed for the 15th of February, postponed temporarily.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SPRINGFIELD, February 4, 1865.

General Orders No. 10.

By authority from the War Department, the time for recruiting for new organizations is hereby extended to the fifteenth instant.

Paragraph 6 of General Orders No. 2, current series from these Headquarters, is hereby amended to conform to this order.

By order of His Excellency, Governor Oglesby.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, February 14, 1865.

General Orders No. 17.

All persons authorized to recruit companies under the provisions of General Orders Nos. 2 and 3, current series, from this office, who have not already reported their companies as completed, may continue to recruit until their companies are filled, unless otherwise ordered.

By order of His Excellency, Governor Oglesby.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

Under these circumstances, it became necessary to dispose of the men thus being enlisted, in some other manner, so as not to check or retard voluntary enlistments throughout the state. So far as could, at this time, be perceived, the next best plan to adopt was, since new regiments could not be organized, to continue the authority for companies to be organized, and in lieu of placing them in new organizations, to send them to fill vacant places in old regiments in the field. Authority for this purpose was, therefore, at once applied for, and, without hesitation, granted; whereupon the following orders were issued (No. 28):

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, February 20, 1865.

General Orders No. 28.

I. Seven of the ten regiments of infantry, recently authorized by the War Department to be raised in this state, having completed their organizations, and the other three being nearly ready for organization, no other regiments will be organized in this State.

II. Authority has been received from the War Department to accept companies of infantry, to be assigned to old regiments in the field, whose regimental organizations have been reduced by consolidation. For this purpose, fifty companies will be received, and will rendezvous at Camp Fry, Chicago, or Camp Butler, near Springfield, Ill., as may be most convenient, to be assigned to such old regiments as the Governor may direct.

III. Company organizations will be the same as directed in General Orders No. 2, current series, from these Headquarters. Transportation to rendezvous will be furnished as heretofore.

IV. The companies authorized to be raised under this order must be reported to the commanders of camps designated, within twelve days from this date.

By order of His Excellency, Governor Oglesby.

EDWARD P. NILES,

Ass't and Acting Adjutant General.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, March 6, 1865.

General Orders No. 46.

I. The ten regiments authorized to be organized in this state having been filled, and authority having been given by the Secretary of War to recruit other companies for old regiments in the field, it is ordered that all persons holding appointments from these Headquarters to recruit companies of infantry for United States service, and whose companies have not yet been reported as full, will continue to recruit until their respective companies are filled, unless otherwise ordered.

II. The misuse or abuse of authority obtained to recruit, from this office, will, in all cases, be regarded as good grounds for a revocation thereof. Recruiting agents should, with zeal and energy, and without delay, enlist the men required to organize their company, and as speedily as possible report the same to the District Provost Marshal, or at the general rendezvous, for muster.

III. It is gratifying to announce that the prospect of avoiding any draft in the state, under the present call, is good. It depends upon the efforts of the loyal patriots of the state. Let them but respond hereafter as they have heretofore, and the honor of Illinois will be sustained.

By order of His Excellency, Governor Oglesby.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

This course was continued subsequently, and acted upon until the 10th day of April, during which time fifty-one companies had been organized and assigned to old regiments in the field, aggregating in strength 4,764 men. The wisdom as well as the justice of these assignments of new men to old regiments has been abundantly vindicated by subsequent experience, for not only has the new recruit been enabled to become much more rapidly veteranized, much more speedily acquainted with the duties expected and required of him, but he has been allowed (by being identified with those organizations whose fame was historic, and whose names were synonyms for renown) to share the laurels already won, and indulge in the proud consciousness that thenceforth the fame and just credit of his regiment was his. And not alone was the new recruit benefited. The increased number added to old regiments, reduced and decimated by all the vicissitudes of long and severe service, enabled many meritorious officers to receive merited promotion, which otherwise could not have been conferred, and, in this way, it is believed that these dispositions have been mutually advantageous, and eminently just to all, and, at the same time, strongly tended to advance the public weal.

Appended to this report, and forming part of schedule "C," will be found a list of said companies, with the names of commanding officers, the date when, and place where, organized, the date of assignment, the regiment assigned to, and strength of said companies. In the mean time, for causes to which I shall advert in another part of this report, volunteer recruiting had greatly slackened, and it was, therefore, deemed best to cease the organization of companies, and allow the recruits thereafter enlisting to be sent to such regiments as they preferred, under the regulations of the Federal authorities. The following order was, therefore, issued, and under its operation no more than the above new organizations were formed:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, March 27, 1865.

General Orders No. 48.

I. All persons who have heretofore obtained authority from this office to recruit companies for the United States service, under general orders Nos. 2, 3, 28 and 46, current series, from these headquarters, will, on or before the tenth day of April next, report all recruits enlisted by them to the proper rendezvous at Camp Fry or Camp Butler, to be organized into companies by the commandants of said rendezvous, as provided in said general orders.

II. From and after the said tenth day of April, 1865, all authority to whomsoever granted from this office to recruit companies for the United States service under general orders heretofore mentioned, will be and is hereby revoked and annulled, and no exercise of authority after that date under the same will be recognized as valid or authoritative.

III. All enlistments hereafter made should be credited to the sub-district where the recruit resides and is enrolled, if liable to enrollment, and especial attention is called to the requirements of the act of Congress of March 3, 1865, in order to avoid any injustice towards sub-districts and needless complications on part of the recruits and enlisted men.

IV. The enforcement of this order will not prevent further volunteer enlistments into the United States service under the late call of the President of the United States, but such volunteers and enlisted men will not, after said tenth day of April, have the privilege of organizing themselves into companies and choosing their officers, nor can they be assigned as companies to regiments in the field by state authority.

By order of His Excellency, Governor Oglesby.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

After this order was issued, recruiting still continued throughout the state, until the 13th day of April, 1865, when, by order of the Secretary of War, recruiting ceased throughout the United States. Up to this period, the state had furnished, to be credited against her quota, under call of Dec. 19th, 1864, twenty-seven thousand nine hundred and ninety-six (27,996) men, as will be seen by reference to schedule filed herewith, marked "G."

The deficit of the state at this time, by sub-districts, was 5,715, and the excesses in sub-districts from which no quota was required was $19, which, when deducted from the deficits, shows really due from the state on this last quota, 4,896 men, and those would have been speedily furnished had not recruiting ceased, as above stated.

EXPENSES OF THE OFFICE.

The following sums were appropriated by the last Legislature to the office of Adjutant General:

For clerk hire, per annum, to be paid quarterly.....	$ 5,000 00
For messenger, the sum of (per annum).....	400 00
For stationery, fuel, lights, rent, etc., etc., and incidental expenses, not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars, for two years—half of this sum for 1865.....	7,500 00

Total per annum.....$12,900 00

In schedule (II,) appended to this report, will be found a full statement as to the amount drawn and expended, and for what expended, for all which vouchers are on file in this office. The items for amounts paid for furniture have been rendered necessary by the large accumulation of flags, trophies and records committed to my custody under the laws of the state; and even with all that I have done to keep pace with the demands of the office in this respect, I have been unable to provide as fully as I would desire to do for many things with the custody of which I am charged. In this connection, allow me to call your attention to the condition of

THE BATTLE FLAGS AND TROPHIES OF THE STATE.

At the beginning of my term, I found already accumulated in the office a large number of trophies and flags, all of the latter greatly worn by service in the field, many of them riddled with the bullets of the enemy, and bearing other evidences of the courage and gallantry of Illinois soldiers.

I regard it as a duty due from me to the soldiers and to the state to preserve these sacred evidences of their renown by every possible care and precaution. The better to enable me to do so, I procured a large glass fronted case to be made, the cost of which will be found in my exhibit of expenditures, and had intended depositing all of them within the same or similar cases. At this time, there was not exceeding seventy-five of them to be provided for. Soon, however, I discovered that there would be a very large accumulation of them, more than I could, in this manner, provide for in an office of dimensions not greater than the present one. I have, therefore, deposited them in the office, preserving them in the best way within my power, with the hope that legislative action hereafter may enable me to provide for all of them in such way as to hand them to posterity, whose rich legacy they are.

Most of those in the office prior to June 14th, 1865, had been placed in the custody of the state by the several regiments who had borne them, accompanied, many of them, with requests that the state would take charge of them and preserve them as sacred trusts in behalf of those who had followed and fallen around them, and as the best testimony of the valor of her soldiers.

I am pleased to know that assurances to them have not been wanting that such should be the action of the state.

On the 14th of June, 1865, and soon after the disbanding of the army was determined upon, it was ascertained that a very large number of these flags were to be disposed of; whereupon the Secretary of War issued, through the Adjutant General, the following order:

HEADQUARTERS SUP'T VOL. REC. SER., ILLINOIS.

SPRINGFIELD, June 14, 1865.

To Brevet Brig. Gen. JAMES OAKES:

You are authorized by the Secretary of War to turn over to the Governor of the state, at such time as he may name, all regimental colors now in your charge, under section seven, paragraph five, general orders number ninety-four, (94) current series. All colors hereafter taken charge of by you, will be turned over in like manner.

Please acknowledge this.

[Signed] THOMAS M. VINCENT, A. A. G.

Official copy: Respectfully furnished His Excellency, Governor Richard J. Oglesby, for his information, and with the statement that I will be happy to turn over to him all regimental colors now in my possession, or which may be received by me, at such time as he may be pleased to designate.

[Signed] JAMES OAKES, *Brevet Brig. Gen. U. S. A.,
Chief M. and D. O., Illinois.*

Pursuant to this order, General Oakes has, from time to time, turned over to this office the flags and colors of the several regiments mustered out, as far as they have come to his custody, until now they number over three hundred, forming a collection unprecedented in the history of the state, and the preservation of which is well worthy the patriotism of the people.

I can not refrain here, from again referring to their danger of loss by exposure to destruction by conflagration. On the 18th day of July, 1865, I had the honor to call your attention to this matter by a communication, a copy of which I take the liberty to insert below. Allow me to reiterate all that I have said in that communication, and to add that the conviction of the great necessity for some provision relative to this matter, adequate to secure their safety and preservation, has been continually strengthened.

Candor compels me to add that I have not thus alluded to this matter again, with the view of pressing it unpleasantly upon your excellency, but my present purpose is mainly to place this matter where it will probably be brought to the notice of those who, at no distant day, can remedy the difficulty complained of, by providing adequate means for their safety.

Appended to this report, and marked as schedule "C," will be found a list of the colors and trophies referred to, and which, if preserved, will forever afford the most conclusive testimony—tattered, riddled by the enemies' shot, and worn by service as they are—of the invincible heroism by which the soldiers of the state have won imperishable renown.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.

SPRINGFIELD, 18th July, 1865.

His Excellency, Gov. R. J. OGLESBY,

SIR:—For some time past, I have been impressed with the paramount importance of providing for the safety of the records, trophies and flags, belonging to, and in custody of, this office. I have no cause of complaint whatever to make, so far as my convenience is concerned. The present office is comfortable and well arranged, everything that is desirable in this respect is provided. But the office is not a safe one. There are now ten large cases filled with papers, many of which, if lost, could never be replaced. There are many volumes of manuscript books, containing the labor of years, and the tabular statistics of military history of the state, which if lost, can not be replaced. There are besides, more than one hundred battle flags of our regiments, every one of which is priceless, and of which all the wealth of America could never make a duplicate. Should they be destroyed, no wealth could compensate the state for them. The most priceless jewels that ever deck a crowned head, if lost, can be replaced; but these, the brightest jewels of the state, made historic and inestimable by the blood and sacrifice of so many brave sons of Illinois, the mementos and relics of so many brilliant achievements and great victories, if once gone are gone forever. As we are now situated, any day may witness such an event. We are surrounded by buildings, some brick, some wooden, and if fire were to occur, destruction would be inevitable almost. Safety can not be secured by any precaution we may take here. Under these circumstances, I submit to you, that if possible, arrangements be made to better secure these records, flags, etc.

It has occurred to me, that if the Supreme Court could be changed, so as to give this office the rooms now occupied by it, great advantage would accrue. The records of that court are not so voluminous as to prevent their removal in case of fire. Ours are. If their records were destroyed, it would at most only injure a very few litigants, who may be interested in the records. Here a whole state, nay, a nation and people, would be the sufferers, and that too of an irreparable loss.

The rooms now occupied by this office were originally designed for the Supreme Court, and are well adapted for the same. They can be procured for that purpose at a reasonable rent as long as desired; and to avoid any objections made for want of appropriation to pay rent for rooms for the court, until the biennial session of the Legislature, 1866-7, I will myself procure them.

Under these circumstances, I submit to you that the public interests require this change to be effected, and I most respectfully request the same.

I am very respectfully and truly,

[Signed]

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

THE RECORDS AND FILES OF THE OFFICE.

Great uneasiness is also continually felt with reference to the safety of the records and files of the office. To attempt to estimate their value to the people of Illinois, would be vainly expended labor. Two hundred and fifty-six thousand men have entered the service from Illinois. Here in the records of the office—in the enlistment papers—the muster-in and muster-out rolls—in the letters sent and received—in the record of promotions, and of gallant deeds—in the roster of officers—in the orders issued and received—may now be found the history of each one of that vast army. Those of that gallant host who yet survive, have an estate in these papers that money can not purchase, and the loss of which can not be supplied. If this be true of them, who will undertake to estimate their value to the widow or orphan of those whose lives have been yielded to secure the unity of the nation and the honor of the American name. And yet all these things are in daily danger of total destruction, and this condition exists with the full conviction that at present there is no remedy for it. I have endeavored to provide to some extent against this danger, by procuring and putting in process of completion, a set of records for the office, in which the most of the records now in the office that concerns the soldier, can be transcribed and concentrated. By reducing my expenditures as much as it could well be done, I ascertained that funds sufficient would be at my command, to procure the necessary books in which to enter up, not only the history of every organization, but of every man. I have deemed it greatly to the interest of the state, in every sense, to procure them and complete them. In this shape the records would not only be much more easily removed from the office, (and therefore more easily preserved,) but the entire record of each soldier would then be found at once without difficulty, and seen at a glance, whereas now it is only to be learned after searching through extensive rolls, and examining masses of papers and records and orders, beginning with the enlistment and ending with the muster-out. It will require no inconsiderable period of time to complete them, and will, during that time, necessitate the employment of more clerks than would otherwise be needed in the office; yet so firmly convinced am I of their utility, convenience and value, that I have not hesitated to assume the responsibility of the work. It has thus far progressed satisfactorily, and I hope by an economy of labor in the office, to have those records far advanced with the means now at my command, by the end of another year. Nevertheless, it will be impossible for me to keep up the current business of the office, and complete them within my term, without further aid. To make up the records of one hundred and seventy-five regiments, in which is included the history of a quarter of a million of men and more, and found in masses of papers and records running through four years and a half of war, is indeed a herculean task, requiring the most indefatigable labor, patience, industry and earnest zeal; yet I have deemed it best to inaugurate the work now, and will prosecute it with whatever clerical force I can spare from current business, with the hope that if my action shall be approved, future legislative aid may enable me speedily to complete so important a work.

UNION PRISONERS FROM ILLINOIS, DECEASED AT ANDERSONVILLE, GA.

As a part of the military history of the soldiers of this state, I present herewith a list of deceased prisoners at the rebel prison of Andersonville, Ga., captured from Illinois regiments. It was procured through the forethought and intelligence of Sergt. Maj. John H. Goldsmith, whose affidavit of the correctness of the same is attached, and is believed to be a faithful and correctly kept list of the martyr heroes who fell victims at this place to the atrocities practiced in rebel prisons by our infuriated adversaries. I have taken occasion to test the verity of this list in many ways. The attention of officers of discharged regiments and companies, here for payment, has been called to the list of men therein reported deceased from their commands, and in every instance they have confirmed the truthfulness of the list. Muster-out rolls upon which men not present for muster-out, are accounted for, and lists of casualties returned to this office have been examined, and they too, confirm its correctness; so that now I regard the paper as worthy of full credit, and have, therefore, ordered it to be recognized as an official record of the office; and I desire to accord to Sergt. Maj. Goldsmith, my thanks for his industry and forethought in making and preserving a record of so much value to the orphans and widows of the soldiers of the state. This list may justly be said to form the darkest page in the history of the rebellion.

Who can measure or imagine the atrocities which would be laid before the world were the panorama of sufferings and terrible trials of these gallant men but half unfolded to view? But this can never be done until new words of horror are invented, and new arts discovered by which demoniacal fiendishness can be portrayed, and the intensest anguish of the human soul in ten thousand forms can be painted. The civilized world will never cease to read with amazement the history of the cruelties invented by the ingenuity and zeal of religious bigots, and practiced upon their victims for generations; nor will it cease to wonder at the mysteries revealed in the history of the bastille, so long the prison house of those whose delight was to scourge the human race; nor at the atrocities perpetrated in the black hole of Calcutta, or the merciless cruelties of the semi-barbarian Sepoys of India. Each of these dark pages have in their turn challenged the unutterable execration of mankind; but it remained, after all, for a civilized people, in the middle of the nineteenth century, upon the American continent, to advance in the refinement of human cruelty and the infliction of human suffering to the boundary line of human invention, beyond which nothing but infinite power to torture or inflict can pass; and this too, for no other crime in their victims than that they loved the government of their fathers, and had followed the starry emblem of their nationality.

As upon every field and upon every other page of the history of this war, so here, amid these tragic scenes, Illinois has borne her share. More than eight hundred names make up the awful column, which, like a pyramid, extends itself until the human mind, unable to comprehend the demonism that placed them there, sickens at its contemplation; and yet, these men already seek the privilege of citizenship in this great government they tried in vain to destroy, and ask to be made again the peers of those patriots who saved it, and of the fathers, brothers and sons of those heroes they destroyed.

The names of these martyred dead are appended hereto, in schedule marked "N."

PROMOTIONS.

Anterior to my assuming the discharge of the duties of this office, some applications and conflicting recommendations for promotions in regiments in the field had accumulated, and were the first to claim my attention. It had been the rule of my predecessor, (adhered to by myself,) to order the promotions, as a matter of course, without question, when the recommendation was in line and according to rank; but in conflicting claims or recommendations, no action was taken by the assistants in the office without the special order of the Adjutant General or Executive.

The serious affliction and extreme illness of Gen. Fuller during the last months of his term, rendered it impossible for him to give that constant attendance to daily duties of the office, without which delays will unavoidably occur. In this way some commissions were delayed, by which meritorious officers were, in some instances, prevented from assuming the rank and command to which they were entitled, as early as they otherwise would have done. It became my duty, therefore, at the earliest period possible, to dispose of these cases and satisfy the parties in interest, and I at once proceeded in the efforts. General Order No. 43, issued by Gen. Fuller, early in his term, had long been the guide of the office. Seniority of rank was recognized by this order as the rule for promotion; exceptions, however, were recognized in cases of special merit or conspicuous gallantry in the applicant, or special demerit and unfitness existed in the party superseded by a junior. Of the wisdom of this rule I have never entertained a doubt, and I have felt but very little inclination to depart from it in any case when the rights of an officer were involved who had done honorable service. My own experience in the army had taught me that each officer regarded his right to his rank and promotion as an indefeasible estate, so long as he honorably held a commission in the service, and in this view I entirely coincided. It was difficult for me to perceive the justice of retaining an officer in the service in a rank that, so far as was known here, he filled honorably for a long period, and then when promotion was to be made, supersede him with a junior. Yet, the only cause of difference of opinion that has existed between myself and officers in the field, has grown out of recommendations of this character by commanding officers, who, I have but the remotest doubt, believed they were acting for the best interest of the service in recommending juniors for promotion. In a number of cases I have reluctantly yielded to the pressure of recommendations of this kind, but never without feeling a regret at what I feared might prove to be an injustice to some worthy officer who was without influential friends in the army to indorse and urge his claim.

In some of the states the Executives have adopted the same rule, and have adhered to it so closely as to require, in cases of conflicting recommendations for promotions, that the senior officer should be sent before a board for examination, and if found qualified, they have refused to supersede him. The absence of some tribunal of this kind, to which questions affecting qualifications of officers could be referred in case of difference of opinion between commanding officers in the field and myself, has been felt as a serious inconvenience, and but for the fact that the rebellion ended within a few months after I took charge of the office, some regulation of this character would have been established.

The rapid approach, however, of the period at which all the gallant officers and soldiers of the state were to be mustered out of service and return again to the walks of civil life, rendered any innovation upon the old and well understood rule, perhaps unwise and impolitic; and I have, therefore, deemed it best to allow it to remain unaltered and in full force.

I submit herewith, marked schedule "D," a list of all appointments and promotions made during the year, and beg leave to call your attention to them.

INJUSTICE IN PAYMENT OF SOLDIERS.

Deeming it my duty to take notice of all matters that affects the interest of the soldiers of the state, I have thought it not improper to call attention to what I regard as cases of injustice in the manner of paying off the soldiers of Illinois, and the causes of complaint which have from time to time existed.

The first class to which my attention has been called, has been soldiers who were discharged after the discharge of the regiments to which they belonged. In such cases, they have been paid up to the day to which their regiment had been paid, and have been compelled to lose whatever pay was due for the period of service between the date of the discharge of the regiment and their own discharge. It can be readily seen that in numerous cases this works serious hardships and great injustice. Every one at all acquainted with the service knows that men are constantly and necessarily detailed, by orders for duty, away from their regiments, at corps, division and brigade headquarters, as clerks in quartermaster and commissary departments, in hospitals, etc., and when so detailed they are compelled to remain until relieved and ordered to join their commands. Whilst many have been thus away from their regiments, the latter have been mustered out, discharged and paid, leaving the detailed soldier still on duty and obliged to serve, or be disgraced if he refuses. Yet, for all this time after his regiment is discharged, he receives no pay, but is only paid to the date at which his regiment receives pay.

Another class of soldiers from whom complaint has reached me, are the veteran volunteers who enlisted under the provisions of General Order 191, of June 25, 1863, and the veteran recruits who enlisted under Circular No. 25, of 18th March, 1864, both from the War Department.

The third paragraph of General Order 191, provides that:

III. Every volunteer enlisted and mustered into service as a veteran under this order, shall be entitled to receive from the United States, one month's pay in advance, and a bounty and premium of four hundred and two (402) dollars, to be paid as follows:

1st. Upon being mustered into service he shall be paid one month's pay in advance,	$13 00
First installment of bounty,	25 00
Premium,	2 00
Total payment on muster,	$40 00
2d. At the first regular pay-day, or two months after muster in, an additional installment will be paid,	$50 00
3d. At the first regular pay-day, after six months' service, he shall be paid an additional installment of bounty,	50 00

4th. At the first regular pay-day, after the end of the first year's service, an additional installment of bounty will be paid,.....	50 00
5th. At the first regular pay-day, after eighteen months, another installment, .	50 00
6th. At the first regular pay-day, after two years' service, another installment, .	50 00
7th. At the first regular pay-day, after two and a half years' service, another installment,	50 00
8th. At the expiration of the three years the remainder of the bounty will be paid,.....	75 00

IV. If the government shall not require these troops for the full period of three years, and they shall be mustered honorably out of the service before the expiration of their term of enlistment, they shall receive upon being mustered out the whole amount of bounty remaining unpaid, the same as if the full term had been served.

These bounties and terms were offered to that class of men who had served not less than nine months, and could pass an examination required by the mustering regulations of the United States.

Originally, the time within which to enlist was limited to ninety days from June 25, 1863; but this time was afterwards extended by General Order No. 305, of 1863, so as to include all volunteers serving in three years' organizations who may re-enlist for three years or the war, in the company or regiment to which they (then) belonged, and who may have at the date of re-enlistment, less than one year to serve.

All such enlisting after the expiration of the ninety days, were decided to be entitled to said bounty of $402. By Circular No. 25, of March 18, a bounty of $400 was also promised to every recruit who is a veteran volunteer, as defined in general orders for recruiting veteran volunteers, to be paid in installments; and to all other recruits not veterans, a bounty of $300, to be paid in installments; and a clause similar with clause IV, of General Order No. 191, was added to this circular of March 18, 1864.

The rebellion was virtually ended and the war closed by the surrender of Lee, in April, 1865, followed very rapidly by that of all other Confederate forces east of the Mississippi, and within a brief period by the remainder. In the mean time, the reduction of our own army had begun, under orders from the War Department, based entirely upon the hypothesis that the war was ended, and the services of the troops were no longer needed or required. Patients in hospitals were mustered out; then soldiers whose term of service expired before Oct. 1, 1865, were mustered out. Finally, the army of the Potomac and the army of the Tennessee were mustered out.

On the 8th of May, 1865, General Order 84 was issued, the first section of which is as follows, to-wit:

I. Veterans who enlisted under the provisions of General Order No. 191, series 1863, from this office, and the extensions thereof, (G. O. No. 324 and 337 of 1863, 20 and 92 of 1864,) and recruits (not veterans) who enlisted for three years or the war, under the provisions of the circular letter of October 24, 1863, * * * are on their honorable muster out and discharge from the service of the United States, before the expiration of their respective terms of enlistment, entitled to the unpaid balance of the bounties promised them by the orders and laws under which they enlisted.

This order seems to have been based upon the opinion of Attorney General Speed, of May 6, 1865, (not published until June 10, 1865, in Order 111, War Department,) in which he decides in conformity with the above quoted section of General Order 84, issued two days thereafter.

Notwithstanding all this, a portion of the men who enlisted under these orders promising bounties, have been and are being discharged without being paid the "unpaid balance of the bounties promised them by the orders and laws under which they enlisted." Many "veteran volunteers" and "veteran recruits," broken down in health by the long periods of services in the field, have, after the war has been closed, and even after their own regiments have been discharged and paid in full the balance of the bounty due alike to all, been discharged from the hospitals, where disease compelled them to seek refuge, and have only been paid the part of the bounty actually accrued due. I have no means of ascertaining the exact number of men of this class, but believe it to be considerable. But whether few or many, good faith should be observed towards all those faithful men, and a liberal rule in their favor be followed in all cases where justice will not be infringed.

A third class of cases of hardship and wrong arises upon promotion being made from the ranks or from non-commissioned officers since March 3d, 1865. As soon as a private or non-commissioned officer is promoted and receives a commission, his right to bounty as a soldier ceases, and he is required to refund $25 advance bounty; and if his promotion occurred since March 3d, he is not entitled to the three months' extra pay allowed other officers on muster-out and discharge. Thus, he has neither the rights of a private soldier nor those of an officer.

If, therefore, a sergeant is promoted to first lieutenant ten days before he is discharged, with half his period of service elapsed, he loses the other half as bounty, gets in lieu thereof the rank and pay of an officer for ten days, without the extra pay received by the other officers. This is a hardship that ought to be remedied. The last class of cases to which I call attention is by far the most considerable, and, although of less consequence to the soldiers, has, in the aggregate, resulted in a greater wrong to the state than any other before mentioned.

Previous to the 20th of November, 1865, under orders from Paymaster General, regiments arriving at the rendezvous in this state for payment, were only paid to date of their arrival, unless afterward their payment was "delayed" for some cause beyond the ordinary time of payment. Early after the reduction of the army began, I saw the hardship of this rule, and attempted to remedy it, but failed. I found that the rule originally adopted, and upon which troops were originally paid, was that organizations should be paid to date of muster-out. Had the Federal authorities followed this rule, and discharged the soldier in the field and paid him his transportation thence home, no difficulty would have arisen. But it was soon found inexpedient to do so, and, therefore, the policy of mustering out regiments in the field and sending them to the selected rendezvous in their respective states for payment and discharge was adopted. As soon, therefore, after this as a regiment was mustered out, it was put under orders to report in this state, either at Chicago or Camp Butler. In all such cases, a period of time, more or less in proportion to the distance to be traversed, necessarily elapsed after the muster-out and before their arrival at their state rendezvous. To compel the soldier to lose this time, and receive only pay to the date of his muster-out, was seen to be an injustice, and hence an order was issued to pay them to the date of their arrival at rendezvous, without reference to when they were mustered out. This order, to some extent, remedied the evil, but it was soon discovered that its practical operation was to still impose upon the soldier a wrong and a hardship. Necessarily, delay would occur after arrival of these regiments and before they could be paid. Many causes combined to make this delay longer in some cases and shorter in others; but that regiments should be delayed after arrival and before their payment was seen to be inevitable. The rolls were to be examined, then signed by the soldier, then returned to the paymaster, and then the accounts for for payment made up. These delays protracted the stay of the soldier in camp from four to ten days, all of which, under the orders in force before 11th June, 1865, the soldier was compelled to lose. It was not his fault that he did not depart to his home at once upon his arrival; he could not go without his discharge and his pay, and these he could not get until the Federal authorities gave them to him. To require him, therefore, to submit to loss of time after arrival, and up to date of receiving his pay and discharge, was felt by the soldier to be a hardship and an injustice from the government, from which he had the right to expect a more liberal rule.

To remedy this evil, caused by this kind of delay, the following order was issued by the Paymaster-General :

WASHINGTON, June 11, 1865.

* * * * *

Pay delayed organizations to date, when payment of it commences.

B. W. BRICE, P. M. General.

As soon as this order was received by Major McClure, he, on the 16th of June, 1865, issued the following order to the several paymasters subject to his jurisdiction in the states of Illinois and Indiana, to-wit :

MAJOR:—You will, in accordance with the above, and until further orders, pay all organized troops mustered out of service to the actual date of the commencement of your payment.

[Signed]

DAN'L McCLURE,

Chief Paymaster, Dist. Ind. and Ills.

It would appear that an order so clear and explicit would not admit of more than one construction, and yet, strange as it may seem, such has been the case ; and this difference of construction has resulted to the detriment of Illinois soldiers to the extent, it is believed, of a quarter of a million of dollars or more ; for, whilst in Indiana, all organized troops mustered out have, since 16th June, been paid to the day on which payment began, in Illinois none have been paid to that date, except such as were, after arrival at rendezvous in the state, "delayed" for want of paymaster to pay them ; and if there were any regiment paid here under this construction up to the day payment began, I have been unable to ascertain which one was so paid.

At sundry times complaints were made to me by the officers and men of several regiments, and I have, as far as was possible under the circumstances, rendered them all the satisfaction in my power. Not having such official connection with the paymasters of the United States army as entitled me to be furnished with orders issued for their guidance, it was some time after the above orders were in force ere I became advised of them, and of the different rules for payment under them acted upon in Indiana and in this state ; nevertheless, when I did become advised of them, and after other efforts to remedy the wrong had failed, I addressed the following communication to Adjutant General Vincent, at Washington :

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, November 3, 1865.

Col. THOMAS M. VINCENT, Assistant Adjutant General, Washington, D. C. :

COLONEL:—I am informed that, under the orders of Col. Daniel McClure, Chief Paymaster for the District of Indiana, etc., all the troops from that state are paid up to the day of their payment, without regard to the time they report for payment and discharge. Under the orders acted upon in this state the troops paid here are only paid up to the time they report for payment on their arrival here, while most always every regiment remains here in camp from five to ten days afterwards, waiting to be paid.

Now, this is an injustice to the troops of Illinois, and I desire, most respectfully, to know if an order can not be issued remedying this cause of complaint, so that all soldiers from the state of Illinois may be paid up to date of final payment the same as those of other states. Inclosed I send you a copy of the order referred to.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

I. N. HAYNIE, *Adjutant General.*Official: ED. P. NILES, Assistant Adjutant General.

By due course of mail, I received the following reply from General Vincent, Adjutant General, to-wit :

Adjutant General I. N. HAYNIE, State of Illinois, Springfield, Illinois :

SIR:—I have respectfully to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3d instant, relative to final payments made Illinois troops on muster-out.

In reply, I am directed to inform you that upon a reference of your communication to the Paymaster General U. S. A., it was returned to the office with the following indorsement, i. e. :

“The printed circular of Col. McClure, inclosed by the Adjutant General of Illinois, was undoubtedly the guide to all paymasters in that state after the date of its receipt. Therein it is directed to pay all organizations to date when payment of it should commence. That is, that the entire of any organization should be paid to the same date, and that date would be the date when its payment commenced.

“Prior to the publication of this circular, payment by the order of the War Department was made to date of arrival at rendezvous.

“Afterwards, it is presumed that all were paid in Illinois and Indiana alike to the date of payment, as above stated.

“Certainly such was the case unless the circular had been disregarded, but Adjutant General Haynie seems to inclose the circular, and refer to it as evidence of the charge he makes, that the Illinois troops have not been paid by the same liberal rule that has governed in the payment of Indiana troops. It seems to me to be evidence of the contrary fact.

B. W. BRICE, P. M. G.

“P. M. G. Office, November 10, 1865.”

I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

(Signed)

THOMAS M. VINCENT,

Assistant Adjutant General.

The above letter was at once referred by me to the senior paymaster at this rendezvous, and his attention invited to the same, with the request that he “would advise this office whether any Illinois regiments had been paid up to the date of payment, and if not, to explain the reason in detail.” Major Bridgman at once replied to me, stating that "delayed organizations had been paid to date of payment, but that others were only paid to date of arrival." Information so vague and indefinite as this was unsatisfactory. I therefore addressed another note to Major Bridgman, of which I insert below a copy:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, November 17, 1865.

Major BRIDGMAN:

Your indorsement on my letter of inquiry is received. It is not as explicit as I could desire, and I therefore trouble you again. I am not aware as yet that any Illinois regiment has been paid here up to the day payment began, but I am advised that a class of this kind exists, to-wit: A regiment leaves Vicksburg November 6th, arrives at Camp Butler November 13th, reports to Gen. Oakes same day, places rolls in your hands same day, five days or a week elapses while the rolls are being worked upon in your office, getting them ready for payment, and this brings the date of payment to 18th or 20th, yet the organization is only paid to the 13th, thus causing the soldier to lay here five to seven days without pay. I am informed that you do not hold that such a case can come within the order authorizing payment to the day when payment begins, and that, in such case, you decline to pay except to date of arrival. Is my information as to your construction of the orders correct?

The frequent complaints that are made here of this hardship on officers and men is my apology for troubling you so often.

Very respectfully,

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

To this communication I have received no reply, but in a personal interview had with Major Bridgman, chief paymaster, (under whose orders the other paymasters on duty in this state act) and after full expression of my views of the orders, and the indorsement of Paymaster General Brice, at Washington, it was agreed by Major Bridgman to conform to the construction of the orders acted upon in and for the state of Indiana, and pay the troops of this state up to the day of payment. Thus far, since the above conference, (Nov. 20th, 1865,) such payments have been made.

It is to be regretted that this result could not be attained at an earlier date, for the reason that much the larger portion of our troops have been discharged and paid under a rule obviously unjust towards the soldier, and by the operation of which they will either be deprived of a part of their pay justly due them, or be compelled to procure it after long delay and no inconsiderable expense, and perhaps only after an act of Congress for their relief shall have been passed.

Annexed, in schedule "B," will be found the dates at which the several regiments were mustered out and arrived here for payment, in which the list of those paid between June 12, and November 20, will be seen.

QUOTAS AND CREDITS.

On the 19th of December, 1864, the President of the United States issued the following proclamation:

WAR DEPARTMENT—ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

WASHINGTON, December 21, 1864.

General Orders No. 302.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—A PROCLAMATION.

[Calling for 300,000 Volunteers]

Whereas, by the act approved July 4, 1864, entitled "An act further to regulate and provide for the enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes," it is provided that the President of the United States may, "at his discretion, at any time hereafter, call for any number of men, as volunteers, for the respective terms of one, two, and three years, for military service," and, "that in case the quota, or any part thereof, of any town, township, ward of a city, precinct or election district, or of any county not so subdivided, shall not be filled within the space of fifty days after such call, then the President shall immediately order a draft for one year to fill such quota, or any part thereof which may be unfilled."

And whereas, by the credits allowed in accordance with the act of Congress, on the call for five hundred thousand men, made July 18, 1864, the number of men to be obtained under that call was reduced to two hundred and eighty thousand:

And whereas, the operations of the enemy in certain states, have rendered it impracticable to procure from them their full quotas of troops under said call:

And whereas, from the foregoing causes, but two hundred and forty thousand men have been put into the army, navy and marine corps, under the said call of July 18, 1864, leaving a deficiency on that call of two hundred and sixty thousand (260,000):

Now, therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America, in order to supply the aforesaid deficiency, and to provide for casualties in the military and naval service of the United States, do issue this, my call, for three hundred thousand (300,000) volunteers, to serve for one, two or three years. The quotas of the states, districts and sub-districts, under this call, will be assigned by the war department through the bureau of the Provost Marshal General of the United States; and "in case the quota or any part thereof, of any town, township, ward of a city, precinct or election district, or of any county not so sub-divided, shall not be filled" before the fifteenth day of February, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, then a draft shall be made to fill such quota, or any part thereof, under this call, which may be unfilled on said fifteenth day of February, 1865.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this nineteenth day of December, in the year of [L. S.] our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the Independence of the United States, the eighty-ninth.

[Signed] ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President: WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

By order of the Secretary of War:

E. D. TOWNSEND, Assistant Adjutant General.

Official: Assistant Adjutant General.

Among the first and most important matters to which my attention was directed at the beginning of the year, was the filling of the then unassigned quota of the state, by voluntary enlistments, under the proclamation then in full force. It had been shown by the unpublished report of my predecessor that on the first day of December, 1864, the state, upon the assignment of quotas before then made upon her enrollment, was behind only one hundred men, (leaving out of view the 78,079 years of service yet remaining to the credit of the state, based upon the "period of service" of the three years' men.) Between this date and the first day of January, 1865, this number of men had not only been supplied, but the official data in this office shows that we were then entitled to credits for 1,345 men against any quota assigned under the call for 300,000 men, of December 19, 1864. The measures which had been early inaugurated by yourself, to stimulate enlistments, were soon attended with most wonderful success, so that from all parts of the state volunteers were pouring into the several camps so rapidly that the mustering officer could, with much arduous labor, scarcely keep pace with the demands made upon him. Districts, counties, cities and villages, were each vying with the other in their efforts to send speedily to camp the men that might any day be demanded of the state.

It had been previously announced, that under the President's proclamation, calling for 300,000 men, the actual number would be required to be sent to the field; but it being also well understood that all previous quotas were more than filled, with a large surplus in years' service, to go upon future calls, no apprehensions were indulged as to the ability of the state to meet any just demand made upon her people.

On the 24th day of January, 1865, the following dispatch was received from Gen. James B. Fry, Provost Marshal General at Washington, by Col. James Oakes, Provost Marshal General of Illinois, and a copy filed in this office.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 23, 1865.

To Lient. Col. JAMES OAKES, Springfield, Illinois:

The revised quota of the state of Illinois under call of December nineteenth, (see proclamation of President, of date Dec. 19, '64,) is thirty-five thousand five hundred and forty-one, (35,541.) The apportionment by districts will be mailed to you to-morrow. Notify Governor.

[Signed] JAMES B. FRY.

This quota had been ascertained by calculations made in the office of the Provost Marshal General, based upon a rule adopted there for the purpose, and which is fully explained by the subjoined circular, addressed to Gov. Miller, of January 12, 1865, and orders from war department, No. 22, of February 17, 1865:

WAR DEPARTMENT—PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL'S OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12, 1865.

His Excellency, STEPHEN MILLER, Governor of Minnesota:

SIR:—Your communication of the 3d instant, in relation to the quotas of the districts in the state of Minnesota, has been received, and in reply thereto, I have the honor to state that the call of the President for 500,000 men, dated July 18, 1864, having been greatly reduced by credits on account of army and navy enlistments, which had not heretofore been credited, it became necessary to make an additional call for 300,000 men to make up the deficiency, and to preserve the present strength of the army and navy.

It was not expected that the call of July 18, 1864, for 500,000, would put that number of men in service, because the act of Congress under which the call was made, directed that all enlistments made in the navy, from the commencement of the rebellion until the 24th of February, 1864, should be credited upon the quota, and these, with other equitable claims for enlistments not previously credited, reduced that call and rendered necessary the one of December 19, 1864, for 300,000.

The object, therefore, of the last call, is to put 300,000 men in the service. Whether they are enlisted for one, two, or three years, they will be counted as units in filling the quota, and the excess or credit which any locality may be entitled to on account of filling its quota with three years' men will be estimated in the assignment of future quotas, should there be another call, upon the same principle that has varied the quotas under the present call, because some localities have filled their quotas under the call of July 18, 1864, with three years' men, and others with one year men. It will be observed that the numbers of men to be furnished under the present call, are not in proportion to the population of states or districts nor to the number enrolled. Had all localities filled the call for 500,000, with three years' men, or all one year's men, or all in the same proportion of both, the number of men to be furnished under the present call, would be in proportion to the number enrolled, and approximate three-fifths of the quota under the call for 500,000, varied only to correspond with the changes in the enrollment, as revised and corrected.

But as it would be unjust and illegal to require a district which had filled its quota under the last call with three years' men to furnish as many men under the present call as an equal district which had filled its quota under the last call with one year's men; the former having furnished three times the number of years of service which the latter had furnished, it became necessary to estimate the number of years of service which each state, district and sub-district had furnished respectively, so that in ascertaining the required number for each district, in order to obtain three hundred thousand men, each locality would receive full credit for the number of years of service furnished under the last call, or excess carried forward and credited upon that call, previous calls being filled with three years' men, or enlistments reduced to a three years' basis.

The call of December 19, 1864, having been made to make up deficiencies under the call of July 18, 1864, it is not to be expected that the number of men required from localities will correspond with the number enrolled, or their quotas under the call for 500,000. In order, therefore, to ascertain what number of men is due from a given district, we must look to what it actually furnished under the call of July 18, instead of what it was required to furnish. Thus, where two districts, having the same enrollment, were required, under the call of July 18, 1864, to furnish two thousand men each, and one actually furnished but one thousand men, while the other filled its quota, it would not be lawful for the latter district, which had put two thousand men in service, to be required now to furnish the same number as the former, which had furnished only one thousand.

But suppose that both of the above districts had filled their quotas, the former with one year's men, and the latter with three years' men; the one furnishing 2,000 and the other 3,000 years of service; now, as the law provides that quotas shall be assigned "among the districts of the several states, considering and allowing for the numbers already furnished as aforesaid, and the time of their service." In assigning a quota under a call to make up deficiencies, the deficiency of years' service, as well as the deficiencies in number, are to be estimated, and the quotas varied accordingly.

As before said, the object of the present call is to raise 300,000 men, and they will be required from the different localities in proportion to the number enrolled, and the number which such localities were deficient, or in excess, under the call for 500,000.

This principle was announced from the Provost Marshal General's bureau, when the quotas under the call for 500,000 were announced, or about that time, (see opinion of solicitor of war department herewith,) and the benefits that would result from three years' enlistments, and the law governing the subject, explained. To secure three years' men, the government offered three hundred dollars bounty, and paid but one hundred to one year's men; municipal authorities generally contributed local bounties in similar proportion.

The law having provided that the periods of service heretofore furnished, should be considered in assigning quotas, the question then to be determined is, at what time shall the credit be applied?

As it is impossible to follow the fortune of each individual soldier, and reckon the period of his actual service, it follows that either the credit for the period for which they enlist should be given when the men enter the service, or withheld until the expiration of the three years' term.

The rule has always been, under all calls, that when a soldier is accepted into the service, he is received and credited for the term of his enlistment or draft, the government taking the responsibility that he will serve for the full period of his enlistment, and in no case has any locality been called upon to replace men lost to the service by death, disability or desertion. Enlistments for six months, nine months, one and two years, under former calls, were counted as for that term, on entering the service, and as such, reduced to the three years' basis.

The period of service is reckoned as a unit, having no fractional parts so far as credit is concerned; a soldier who enlists for three years, and dies or is discharged at the end of twelve months, is credited to his sub-district as a three years' man; and the man who enlists for one year, and is discharged in a week after enlistment is credited as a one year's man. To await the expiration of three years, that is until the service had been rendered, would defeat the object of the law, and would probably delay the draft until after the close of the war. It must follow, then, that the amount of credit to be given is, and always has been, dependent upon the period for which the soldier enters the service. When a district presents an acceptable recruit for three years, and he is received as such by the government, that district has done all it can do in the premises, and the government takes the responsibility that the soldier will serve his term of enlistment. This being admitted, the time to apply the credit, or to take into account the amount of credits to which the district is entitled, is when a settlement is made with all the districts, with a view to assigning quotas under a new call. This follows, not merely as a matter of convenience in computation, but as a matter of necessity, in order to do exact justice to all the different states and districts, and moreover is in exact accordance with the terms of the statute, which provides that, "in assigning to districts the number of men to be furnished therefrom, the President shall take into consideration the number of volunteers and militia furnished by and from the several states in which said districts are situated, and the period of their service, since the commencement of the present rebellion, and shall so make said assignments as to equalize the numbers among the districts of the several states, considering and allowing for the numbers already furnished as aforesaid, and the time of their service."

And again, section 2d, act of February 24, 1864: "That the quota of each ward of a city, town, township, precinct, or election district, or of a county, where the county is not divided into wards, towns, townships, precincts, or election districts, shall be, as nearly as possible, in proportion to the number of men resident therein, liable to military service, taking into account, as far as practicable, the number which has been previously furnished therefrom."

I have the honor to inclose a copy of circular No. 1, of 1865, which provides that the quotas assigned under the call of December 19, 1864, for 300,000 men, are not to be reduced, except by actual enlistments since the 19th of December, 1864. The rule in applying credits is, that they should be deducted from the quota of the call that produced them. All men raised since the call of July 18, 1864, are credited upon the quota under that call; if the quota is more than filled, it is carried as excess to the credit of the locality, and taken into account in the assignment of the quota under the call of December 19, 1864, and Provost Marshals are instructed that in determining the quotas of sub-districts, under the present call, they will apply such excess accordingly; and all men raised since December 19, are of course credited upon the call of that date.

In crediting the excess that is carried forward from the call of July 18, 1864, and applied to the call of December 19, 1864, I consider not only the number of men of which the excess is composed, but also the period of their service; and the quotas assigned under the call of December 19 are thus reduced by this excess of service, and hence they should not be further reduced, except by enlistments subsequent to December 19, 1864, the date of the call for 300,000 men.

The credits to the state of Minnesota, (under the call of July 18, 1864,) up to Nov. 30, 1864, show that the men furnished for one year, was 2,685; for two years, 204; for three years, 61; a very large proportion, as will be observed, being one year's men. The excess of credits on the 1st day of August, was 1,407, of which the first district is credited with 1,037, and the second district with 370; and credit has been given for three years' term of service on each unit. The first district furnished 1,859 more years of service than the second district, and consequently the larger number to be furnished under call of December 19, falls on the second district. If there is any error in these figures, I shall be happy to correct it when pointed out.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

[Signed] JAMES B. FRY, Provost Marshal General.

WAR DEPARTMENT—ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

WASHINGTON, February 17, 1865.

General Orders No. 22.

The following report of the board appointed by the President of the United States to examine and correct the quotas of the several states and districts, under the call for volunteers of December 19, 1864, is published for the information of all concerned:

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 16, 1865.

His Excellency ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

President of the United States, Washington, D. C.:

SIR:—The board convened by the following order:

“EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON CITY, February 6, 1865.

“Whereas complaints are made in some localities respecting the assignments of quotas and credits allowed for the pending call of troops to fill up the armies; now, in order to determine all controversies in respect thereto, and to avoid any delay in filling up the armies, it is ordered: That the Attorney General, Brigadier General Richard Delafield, and Colonel C. W. Foster, be and they are hereby constituted a board to examine into the proper quotas and credits of the respective states and districts under the call of December 19, 1864, with directions, if any errors be found therein, to make such corrections as the law and facts may require, and report their determination to the Provost Marshal General. The determination of said board to be final and conclusive, and the draft be made in conformity therewith.

“2. The Provost Marshal General is ordered to make the draft in the respective districts as speedily as the same can be done, after the 15th of this month.

have respectfully to report as follows:

The call for 400,000 men, made by the President on the 19th of December, 1864, requires that that number shall be raised.

But the law requires that the number of men previously furnished by different localities, and the periods of their service shall be considered, so as to equalize the draft.

The number of men liable to military duty is to be determined by the enrollment lists.

The number of men which had been furnished by the various localities, and their periods of service, were ascertained, and previous accounts having been adjusted, the excesses, where they existed, were carried forward under the last draft.

The amount of service furnished is determined by multiplying the number of men raised by the number of years for which they enlisted.

Having thus ascertained the number of men enrolled on the 31st day of December, 1864, the number of men furnished up to that date, the localities from which they come, and the periods of their service, it is proposed to distribute the call for 300,000 men among the several districts, and parts of districts, according to the number enrolled in each, and the number of men furnished, and the periods of service previously rendered by each.

The rule by which this is accomplished is as follows:

Take the whole number of years of service furnished by the districts of the United States from the commencement of the rebellion to the 31st of December, 1864. From that sum deduct the whole number of men furnished from all the districts of the United States up to that date. The remainder will be the excess of years of service furnished by all the districts. Multiply the call of December 19, 1864, by three, to have the number of years of service upon that call, and to this add the excess as ascertained above. Then, as the number of men enrolled from the whole United States, up to the 31st of December, 1864, is to the period of service, as above ascertained, so is the number of men enrolled in a given district to the number of years of service it is required to furnish, including its pro rata share of the excess.

From this sum deduct the actual excess the district furnished; the remainder is the number of years of service which the district is required to furnish under the call of December 19, 1864, which, divided by three, gives the number of men required from the district.

As this call is for 300,000 men, that number can not be reduced by men going in for a period longer than one year. Inequalities produced by men going in under this call for longer periods than one year must be equalized on future calls.

It will be perceived that though the aggregate of the excess furnished is added to the whole call, the excess of each district is afterwards subtracted from its quota. Thus the number of men called for is neither increased nor diminished, but equality produced, considering the number of men and the periods of their service. Localities which have heretofore furnished a greater amount of service have, in proportion to their enrollment, a less amount to furnish under this, and e converso.

Men having heretofore enlisted for one, two and three years, it was necessary to take one of those periods as the basis of the calculation. As three years embraced both the other periods, it makes the calculation more simple to adopt that. The same result would be arrived at by adopting either one or two years as the basis, but the process of calculation would be more complicated.

Such we find to be the rule adopted by the Provost Marshal General. The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the laws of Congress, and is just and equitable.

We have carefully examined and proved the work done under this rule by the Provost Marshal General, and find that it has been done with fairness.

We file in the Provost Marshal General's office our calculations of the quota of each and every district indorsed by us as correct,

JAMES SPEED,

Attorney General of the United States.

RICHARD DELAFIELD,

Brig. Gen. and Chief Eng. U. S. A.

C. W. FOSTER,

Colonel, and Ass't Adjutant General.

This unexpectedly large demand for troops surprised all, and few could be made believe that there was not an error somewhere in calculations producing such a result. Within a brief period the assignment of district quotas throughout the state was made, and here, again, was a surprise no less startling than the assignment of the original quota. By the latter part of January, and early in February, complaints from all parts of the state began to be forwarded to this office, and I became satisfied that not only was there good cause of complaint on the part of many sub-districts, but that it was an utter impossibility to procure the quotas assigned from some of them. It was not an unusual thing for evidence to be laid before me that the quota required from a sub-district was larger than the number of all the men in the district actually liable to draft; and, in one instance I now remember, the quota assigned not only required every man of the sub-district to go, but three besides; but, in this case, the unflinching patriotism was still equal to the demand, for, great as they felt the injustice to be, they yet filled their quota by raising the money and actually sending a substitute for every able-bodied man in their sub-district, and three besides. The agent sent here by this sub-district, however, remarked at the time that he thought "it was pretty tight papers," and in this I agreed with him. I may add that this sub-district (although the only one so situated that filled its quota) was not by any means the only sub-district so situated in the state, and that had to submit to "pretty tight papers," whilst almost every county in the state (with but few exceptions) felt what was recognized to be true here, that their quotas were onerous beyond all former precedent. Under these circumstances, it became indispensable to appeal to the authorities at the Federal capital for relief from what was regarded by all as an error somewhere greatly to the prejudice of the state and resulting in an increase of the quota demanded from it, not justified by the real true condition of the people, for it was a manifest fact that upon no hypothesis could a quota be correct and just that required from any sub-district more men than were actually to be found within its limits. In the midst of the busiest part of the session of the legislature it was impossible for your Excellency personally to visit Washington, and, with the large and constantly increasing number of recruits pouring into the several camps of the state, to be organized into regiments and sent to the field, it was equally impracticable for myself to go. It was, therefore, deemed best to procure the services of Major Wait, canal trustee of the state, well known to possess the confidence of yourself and of this office, and have him to repair at once to Washington and confer fully and freely with the Provost Marshal General, and ascertain, if possible, the basis upon which this quota was assigned. Major Wait, therefore, did proceed to Washington, charged with this important duty. On his arrival, he had several interviews with the Provost Marshal General (Fry). Whilst this visit was not wholly unattended by good results, the main object for which he was sent was not accomplished. A full report of his efforts, and what was accomplished, will be found below, in a letter which was written by him at the time, and which I herewith submit as a part of the history of this important matter. The letter was received here February 5th :

(LETTER OF MAJOR WAIT.)

WASHINGTON, January 30, 1865.

Governor OGLESBY :

I telegraphed you this day "our quota can not be reduced. Full credits are given. All three years' men are counted same as three one year's men. General Fry informed me Haynie started this morning for Washington. Shall I stay till he comes?"

I went this morning with Governor Yates to see General Fry. Yates had left your communication to Secretary of War with General Fry on Saturday, to which Fry was to have given an answer in writing. Yates stayed but a moment after introducing me.

General Fry stated to me that your communication did not require an answer, as the matter was fully explained in his communication to the Governor of Minnesota, of January 12, 1865, and in the opinion of Solicitor Whiting, of August 1st, 1864, both of which had been sent you. I replied that you had received one copy of each of the above, and neither you nor General Haynie were able to understand from either of them how Illinois should, under the present call for 300,000 men, be required to furnish over 35,000 men, when, on the first of July last, to answer future calls, she had an excess of 35,000 three years' men, and, after getting credit for these as one year's men, she had filled her quota under the late call for 500,000 men, and what you asked for the state was, that she should, under this last call, be credited in full for the remainder of the term of these 35,000 three years' men. You asked only what you thought was right, and only for such credits as were contemplated under the law and actually due the state. Fry replied, "that is just what I have done in making up your quota. I have given you full credits for all your men in the service up to the 1st of January, each three years' man counting same as three one year's men, and each two years' man counting same as two one year's men. He asked me if I had his letter to the Governor of Minnesota, and Solicitor Whiting's opinion. I told him I had not. He then gave me a copy of each. I looked at them, and stated that I had seen them before, but could not understand from them how our excess of over 70,000 years of service, after filling the last draft, should, under this call for 300,000, be completely extinguished, and, in addition thereto, the state required to furnish over 35,000 one year's men. I told him I had not studied the circular much, but that you and Haynie had, and that if he would explain to me so that I could understand the matter, and fully appreciate, as he did, that full justice had been done the state, I could explain the matter so that it would be satisfactory to you. It was then ten o'clock, and he told me to call at one o'clock, and the necessary explanation would be given. I called at the appointed time, and was introduced and referred to Captain Scott, who proceeded to give me the required information, as follows :

1st. This draft differs from all of its predecessors. What the government is going to have is 300,000 new men in the service. Instead of calling for a million or two of men, and afterwards reducing the call by credits to 300,000, the call is for just the number of men required, all credits being given to states and districts in the Provost Marshal General's office before the call is made and quotas assigned. To ascertain this, the excess of years of service of all the states above previous calls, is added to the 300,000 now called for, multiplied by three—for instance :

Excess of Maine in years.....	60,000
" Massachusetts in years.....	120,000
" New York in years.....	180,000
" Illinois in years.....	140,000
Total years of service in excess of former calls, say.....	500,000
300,000 call, multiplied by 3.....	900,000

As the enrollment of the Union is to the gross quota of the Union, so is the enrollment of each state to its quota, from which should be deducted the excess of years of service, and the remainder, divided by three, will give the net quota of the state. I thought when I started to write the above I had the enrollment of the Union, but I have not. I have of our state, however, and I will give you the formula as between the state and one of the districts, taking the Chicago district :

Enrollment of State.	Gross quota of State.	Enrollment of Dist.	Gross quota of Dist.
290,218 :	177,514 :	34,827 :	21,304
Less excess of years			11,480
Divided by 3			9,827
Gives net quota			3,274

I think I understand the principle by which our quota is obtained, and it looks to me as though it must be right, provided other states have not got more than their just credits, (and of which, of course, we can not question) and provided, further, Illinois has all hers.

Illinois is credited with total years of service	122,946
Less quota of July 18, 1864	52,057
Excess in years	70,889
Gross quota of state	170,574
Deduct excess	70,889
Divided by 3	106,685
Gives net quota	35,561

I obtained the credits from Provost Marshal General due from July 18, to December 31, as follows :

One year's men	14,482
Two "	535
Three "	2,323
	17,340

General Haynie telegraphed me only 16,780, from July 1st, 1864, to 1st January, 1865. We gain by taking Provost Marshal's statement.

I understand at the Provost Marshal's that our credits of years of service were obtained as follows :

1st July, 1864, 35,875 three years' men	107,625
One year's men, enlisted since July 18	14,482
535 two year's men	1,070
2,323 three years' men	6,969
Making total credits (years)	130,146

But you will see it gives more than they have given us credit for. I will call to-morrow and have this explained, or rectified, if an error, and, if I have the correct understanding of the matter, get the credits for 1st to 18th July last, if any, and will write you to-morrow. I think I have explained how our quota is ascertained, and why it differs so much and is so largely in excess of what we supposed it would be, as fully as I can by letter. I trust you may understand it. I think ample justice is done the state, after the error, which I suppose has occurred, spoken of above, is rectified, or the matter otherwise explained. I have not made application yet about the Chicago volunteer substitute matter; will do so to-day if I have time; it will give me a chance to see the Secretary of War, and be referred back again to Fry, whose opinion I know already, which is adverse to the request.

How the credits of the different districts should be different in the office of the Adjutant General of the state from what they are in Fry's office neither he nor I can tell here, and Fry says he does not care which you adopt. So that he gets the state quota filled he is satisfied.

Yours, truly,

[Signed] S. WAIT.

It will be seen that Maj. Wait refers to a supposed error in the calculation of credits due the state. It is due to him to say that he did subsequently call the attention of General Fry to this matter; and by some cause, the explanation of which has never been made fully to the office, an additional credit on the state quota was made of 2,649, thus reducing the quota thereafter demanded from the state, from 35,541 to 32,892.

The above report was submitted by Maj. W. on the day of his return to this city from Washington, Feb'y 5th. In the meantime, complaints from the people continued to be made; among the most important of which, deserving to be mentioned, was that of Chicago. The quota of that city had, after several attempts at its correct adjustment between the Provost Marshal General and the state Provost Marshal, (Colonel Oakes,) been finally settled at 5,202; originally, it had been made, as stated by Maj. Wait, at a smaller number; but this was discovered to be an error in calculation, no satisfactory explanation of which has reached this office. Subsequently, another plan of distribution of the quota by congressional districts, counting them as the unit, and distributing to each district from the Provost Marshal General's office, its quota of the 32,892, was adopted. This gave to Cook county her quota as 6,246, whilst to the 11th district it gave only 118 as its quota, and left the 13th district not only no quota, but in excess of all calls 2,201. Notwithstanding these results, it was well known both in General Oakes' office and here, that in the 11th and 13th districts there were many sub-districts largely in deficit and liable to draft; which, nevertheless, by the large excesses in other sub-districts of their district, would not be called upon for a single man, if this plan of distribution to congressional districts was adhered to; thereby throwing the quotas which should justly be supplied from those sub-districts, upon other congressional districts, and to their extent enlarging their burden. It will be at once perceived that this would be unjust, and I believe it was so regarded by General Oakes; and it was believed by that officer that the correct plan of distribution was not to distribute to large districts, and thereby protect its sub-districts largely in deficit, from any quota, but to distribute to each sub-district its own quota, taking its own enrollment, deficit or excess, as the basis; and thus require of every sub-district of the state to contribute directly to the state its just quota. This plan was finally adopted by the Provost Marshal General of the state; and whilst I do not, as Adjutant General of the state, assume to control, advise or direct General Oakes in this matter, it is due to him to say that no good reason could be seen, or was urged against its adoption; and I may here add, that in all I have seen of General Oakes, he has not only been untiring in his labors, but has manifested the most laudable determination to do equal and exact justice, as far as was in his power.

It was, by this arrangement, distributing to sub-districts, that Cook county had her quota reduced from 6,246 to 5,202 ; and if this course resulted in giving to Cook county too large a quota, (as I feel sure it did,) it was to be attributed, not to errors or miscalculations here, but to the erroneous enrollment of the county and state, and the large quota thereby settled upon the state, together with such errors as may have existed elsewhere, if any so existed.

Thus were matters situated, when on the 15th day of February last, a large committee of the most prominent citizens of Chicago, met your Excellency at this office to present their protest and remonstrances against the quota of their county and city.

It was insisted that the enrollment of the county and city was excessive, and the cause of their excessive quota ; and that it was in the power of the Governor, the Adjutant General and General Oakes, to remedy the matter.

It was replied that the state authorities were not by law vested with any power or control over the matter whatever ; the acts of Congress or the orders of the Provost Marshal General did not confer any upon them, but gave it to other (Federal, not state) officers ; that all the state officers could do in the matter was to advise, and General Oakes had been requested to adopt no measure or rule that did not do exact and equal justice to all parts of the state.

On the part of the committee it was then urged that the state authorities should join with a committee of the citizens of Chicago, and lay the whole matter before the authorities at Washington ; and notwithstanding the great press of business in this office at the time, it was finally agreed, as an act of justice to Cook county and the state, that this should be done ; and thus ended this conference.

Soon thereafter, a committee of prominent citizens of Chicago was appointed, consisting of Hon. S. S. Hays, Col. Hough, Mr. Walker, Mr. Dore and Mr. Medill, who at once repaired to Washington, and was there joined by myself, (on the part of the state authorities,) in obedience to your instructions, carrying with me the following letter of instructions, before then prepared by your Excellency, in contemplation of an earlier visit on the same business, which I delivered in person.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, January 30th, 1865.

Brig. Gen. JAMES B. FRY,

Provost Marshal General, Washington, D. C. :

Dear Sir: In view of the embarrassment of our people, arising from the settlement of 35,541 recruits to be furnished by the state of Illinois, under the quota arranged by you against the state, under the call of December 19, 1864, for 300,000 men, and that I may be able to explain to our people the facts of the case more definitely, I respectfully request of you a reconsideration of the subject, as I desire to call your attention to a few considerations which may have escaped you in the adjustment of the quota.

In your communication of date of January 24, 1865, to your Acting Assistant Provost Marshal General, Col. Oakes, you state "that 35,541 is the number required of Illinois, after taking into account the credits to which the state is entitled, by estimating the number of years of service furnished by one, two and three years' men." This quota amounts to eleven per cent. of the whole 300,000 men, and this is after the enrollment had been reduced about ten per cent.; and yet, the quota of Illinois under the call for 500,000, last July, in which you did not take into account any credits at all, was only about ten per cent. of the whole number asked for, being 52,057. Upon this quota you allowed to the state, subsequently, a credit of one year's service of the excess of three years' men, 35,875.

How is it, then, that our quota under the 300,000, which is said to include our credit of 35,875, is more than eleven per cent. of 300,000, when, without any credit, under the call for 500,000, it was only ten and four-tenths per cent.?

Again, it was insisted under the call for 500,000 men, July 18, 1864, that our deficit was, by sub-districts, 28,058, and that we would be required to fill this deficit by sub-districts, although the state was only behind, on all calls, after the credits for one year's service of the excess of 35,875 three years' men, 13,440.

Subsequently, but fifty per cent. of the 28,058 deficit was called for, being 14,029.

If the call of the President for 300,000, is in fact as stated to fill up deficiencies under the call of July, 1864, for 500,000, then our quota would be but 14,029, since we have received on that call the proper credit of one year of the service of the 35,875 three years' men credited to the state.

But if this last call of the President for 300,000 men, is in fact an original call, we will earnestly insist upon our rights to a credit for another year's service of the 35,875 three years' men, now in the service of the general government, from this state; and the more consistently and respectfully will we insist upon it, since it is deliberately provided for in the laws on the subject, and promised to us in the written opinion of the Solicitor of the War Department, of August, in disposing at that time, by order of the general government, of the credits then claimed for this state by my predecessor.

I see no objection to your system of adjusting credits for all recruits or drafted men furnished on the quota under the call for 500,000 men, in July last, and carrying the excess, if any, forward to the quota under December 19, 1864, and thus following up that system in all subsequent quotas for men furnished under any call made since the first of July, 1864, and giving credits accordingly.

But this does not reach the admitted credits due the state previous to that time, nor can I see where we have received any credit for our 35,875 three years' men on this call for 300,000 men.

I am unable to explain it to the people of the state on any understanding I have been able to obtain of the subject. I think it is of the utmost importance in every point of view, that such an explanation be given of it as shall, upon principles of equal justice to all the states, and a recognition of our own rights, be satisfactory to our people.

General I. N. Haynie, Adjutant General of the state of Illinois, will hand you this letter. He is fully authorized to act for the state in the adjustment of this question. You will find him a frank and candid gentleman, who will appreciate every kindness you may be able to extend to him.

I have desired him to make a full statement of the views of the state authorities on the several questions; also, to present the probabilities there are for raising the ten regiments of volunteer recruits; and, if necessary, to ask for further time to complete their organization. As the quota of the state was not given until recently, I feel certain we shall not be able to complete the organization before the first of March.

I have the honor to remain, General,

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

[Signed.] RICHARD J. OGLESBY, Governor.

On the day succeeding our arrival there, the committee, accompanied by Senator Trumbull and Hon. I. N. Arnold, M. C., who kindly consented to accompany us, called upon General Fry, at his headquarters. The object of the visit was at once made known to the General, to be a correction of the enrollment and quota of Illinois, and especially of Cook county. It was urged on the part of the committee that the enrollment, beyond all doubt, was excessive; that it even (in Cook county) exceeded the vote of the county; being, in fact, 15 per cent. greater, and should be corrected.

General Fry replied that the enrollment could be corrected at any time, and referred to instructions to District Provost Marshals to that effect. It was replied to this, that the time for corrections of enrollment must necessarily cease, else no quota could be assigned; and that corrections for the purposes of this draft had to be in time to be distributed upon; and that corrections were known to have been reported, but too late for this draft. The reply was that no enrollment now made could change this quota; that it was distributed and settled, and the only plan to be adopted was to fill it; or, if it was made to appear that the enrollment of a district was excessive, then for the government to drop a part of the quota and lose the men. It was then proposed that Cook county should furnish 50 per cent. of her quota by volunteering; that in the meantime a new enrollment be made by a new officer, (the District Provost Marshal not being regarded as reliable,) for the reason that the old one, (James,) as fast as corrections were made by striking off names, had others added; so that when 6,000 had been struck off, 6,100 had been added, and the effort was dropped; and if on a new enrollment, any more than the above 50 per cent. was due, Cook county would furnish them at once.

At this time, I stated to Gen. Fry, that I was there not only as one of this committee, but on behalf of the whole state, for that complaints were heard daily from all parts, and that just before leaving Springfield, I had called upon General Oakes and learned that a new enrollment could be made in fourteen days, and in the meantime we could and would furnish more men by volunteering than he could get by the draft.

General Fry replied that this manner of presenting the matter was unsatisfactory; that he would prefer to have it submitted in writing. I replied that since this is the case, it is useless to prolong this interview, and I shall submit what I have to say in writing, if it is desired. While this interview was progressing, a considerable number of gentlemen entered the room, and remained attentive observers of what was passing. The zeal and ability manifested by the members of the committee on the part of Chicago, made it apparent that the matters discussed were regarded of no unimportant or ordinary character, involving on the part of the state, many thousands of men and vast sums of money, when aggregated; and on the part of the Federal authorities, the justness of the whole distribution of the quota made to all the states. All felt, all realized, the great interest at stake. The interview with Gen. Fry ended, however, without any satisfactory result, and it was then ascertained that the strangers present, many of them were members of similar committees from other states, who had visited the capital for the same purpose. The city of New York had been complaining of her quota, which had been, on the 23d of January, published at 4,433, but which, on the next day, was changed and settled at 21,019. So it was said Pennsylvania was dissatisfied, and all therefore, had committees there awaiting the result of the application of Illinois. Thus did this question grow and increase in magnitude the nearer it was approached, until I confess nothing but a sense of my duty to the state could have induced me to meet it. Afterwards, on the same day, in order to submit, on the part of the state, the views I felt justified in maintaining, I addressed Gen. Fry the following communication, asking information to be had only from his office:

WILLARD'S HOTEL, WASHINGTON CITY, February 23, 1865.

Brig. Gen. JAMES B. FRY, Prov. Mar. Gen. U. S.,

SIR:—I desire to have furnished from your office, for the use of the state of Illinois, the following information:

- 1st. The quota assigned to each state under the late call for 300,000 men.
- 2d. The enrollment of each state upon which said quota has been assigned.
- 3d. The excess of each state allowed under the rule of distribution adopted by your office.
- 4th. An explanation of the method adopted to arrive at the excess allowed Illinois: in other words, what was the excess allowed to Illinois, and how was that excess made up?
- 5th. What is the total number of men furnished by each state, and the period they have served up to December 31st, 1864.
- 6th. What is the total number of men furnished by each state, and the period for which they enlisted.

It is desirable to have this information at the earliest convenient moment, since it will be impossible for me to submit in writing, as requested by you at our interview this morning, the views entertained, and the object sought by the state authorities, until this information is furnished.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

[Signed] I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General of Illinois.

On the succeeding day I received the reply of the General, denying me the information desired.

In the meantime it had been determined by the members of the committee from Chicago to apply to Mr. Lincoln, in person, lay the whole matter before him, and get his decision. Immediate application was made to the President for this purpose, and he at once kindly accorded an audience, stating that he desired the attendance at the same time of the Secretary of War and General Fry. This audience was fixed for 10 A. M., 24th February, but General Fry being too unwell to attend then, it was deferred until Monday, 27th February, when the President, in the office of Mr. Secretary Stanton, and having the Secretary of War and General Fry both present, had the entire question presented to him. Mr. Lincoln was fully aware of the fact that several states were awaiting the result of this application from Chicago and from Illinois, for a postponement of the draft and a re-enrollment, in order to present their claims for a similar favor; nor was he less alive to the magnitude of the question and interests involved, than the others seemed to be.

At this audience the committee on the part of Chicago asked:

First—For an order for the immediate re-enrollment of their district by a new man, (distrusting Provost Marshal James,) alleging that the present enrollment contained at least 12,000 names not liable to draft.

Second—That mutual protection clubs should be credited pro rata, with the recruits they put in.

Third—That Chicago should put in 2,600 men on her quota, the draft for the other 2,600 to be suspended until the new enrollment is made; after which, if any more than the 2,600 were found to be due, the city would furnish them at once.

The committee, by their chairman, and by Messrs. Hough and Medill, urged with great zeal and distinguished ability, the justness of their application. It was stated and argued that there was not then in Chicago, 18,000 men liable to draft, while the enrollment fixed the number at 34,600; that the quota of the city was excessively oppressive, being one-sixth (1-6) of the whole state, while its proportion was only one-twelfth (1-12); that the district had already furnished more men and years of service than any district in the Union, except "Lower Egypt," that the deficit of 2,000, charged over from prior quotas, was unjust, and in consequence of the wrong enrollment of 15,000 names last year, it ought to be corrected.

Secretary Stanton, (to whom the President stated he had committed this matter at the out-set, with the promise not to interfere with his decision,) then proceeded to decide:

First—That it was too late now to order a new enrollment without interfering with the present draft, and if made it might not materially reduce the present one.

Secondly—That if granted, many, very many, other districts, in a dozen or twenty different states, would clamor for the same privilege. If granted to Chicago, it must be granted to other cities and districts; that he would rather relieve Chicago from furnishing a man than to allow a re-enrollment under the present call, as the example would cause trouble in the other districts, and probably keep 100,000 men from the field when most needed.

He also stated that the army might any day now, be put under marching orders to strike the final blow to the rebellion; and he appealed to the committee to know whether Illinois would not rather submit to this temporary burden than by interfering with the whole matter at this juncture, jeopard its final success.

For once, I confess I felt myself in the presence of one of the great masters of this rebellion, who, with a patriotism as elevated as the great cause at issue, and an inflexibility of purpose as relentless and unchangeable as the decree of fate, was moving the nation forward in its great mission.

It is due, however, to the members of that committee and myself, to say, that it was no part of their design to retard in any way the operations of the government in sending men to the front, and if it had been for an instant believed that the success of our efforts would have had this effect they would have been instantly abandoned; but it was believed by them, and so stated, that the state could and would continue to forward to the field, under the plan proposed by the committee and by myself, as many troops as it was in the power of the government to procure in the same period by any other method. Impressed with the soundness of this conviction, after the above decision had been made by the Secretary of War, and feeling that I owed it as a duty to the state, so far as was within my power, to aid in discovering errors, if any existed, and thus secure them against wrong, if wrong had been done them, I proceeded to lay before the President the following communication, prepared to be laid before Gen. Fry, but which, since the whole subject had been referred to Mr. Lincoln, was deemed proper to be considered by him:

WASHINGTON CITY, D. C., February 25, 1865.

Brig. Gen. FRY, Provost Marshal General:

SIR:—Since the application I had the honor of submitting to you the other day, asking for certain information was denied, and since the subject matter is regarded by me as of the most grave and important character, and as stated by you at our personal interview, will only be passed when submitted in writing, I herewith have the honor to most respectfully lay before you, for your early consideration and decision, the following calculations, statements and propositions. In doing so, allow me to assure you that I have no other desire in the matter, than to arrive at equal and exact justice with reference to the interests of a state, whose people and authorities I have the honor to act for, and who, since the beginning of the present war, have manifested no other disposition than to do their whole duty towards the Federal government.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully and truly,

[Signed] I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General of Illinois.

Up to Dec. 31, 1864, our total credits for men were.....	198,711
Leaving of men, to be deducted from the quota assigned under call of December 21, 1864.....	1,345

In February, 1865, the quota is assigned, after all credits are deducted, of 32,887. This is required out of a population of 1,700,000. Yet Ohio, with a population of 2,400,000, is required to furnish only 20,000 men under this call; so that with 700,000 less population than Ohio, Illinois is required to furnish nearly 7,000 more men.

Under the call of July 18, 1864, we all know the draft was enforced against Iowa. That state was then behind in her quotas. Except in a few sub-districts, the draft was not enforced in Illinois, for we, including all calls upon us, were only behind as a state then, in men 13,440, with a surplus of 35,875 three years' men, to answer a call for 52,057 one year's men. Yet now, under this call for troops, Iowa is exempt from draft—has no quota upon her enrollment and — population, whilst Illinois has 32,887 required from her.

AGAIN—EXAMINE THE FOLLOWING FIGURES:

Under No. 1 call of Oct. 18, 1863, 300,000 men—Quota, 27,930, or 9 31-100 men to every 100 called for.
Under No. 2 call of Feb. 1, 1864, 500,000 men—Quota, 46,309, or 9 26-100 men to every 100 called for.
Under No. 3 call of March 4, 1864, 200,000 men—Quota, 18,564, or 9 28-100 men to every 100 called for.
Under No. 4 call of July 18, 1864, 500,000 men—Quota, 52,057, or 10 41-100 men to every 100 called for.
Under No. 5 call of Dec. 19, 1864, 300,000 men—Quota, 32,887, or 10 96-100 men to every 100 called for.

Total.....1,800,000 men. Total, 177,747, or average, 9 81-100.

Now, whilst it is admitted by the War Department that the state of Illinois had 78,079 men to her credit on 21st December, 1864, the date of last call, they insist that we have had the full benefit of it, and that still there is due from the state 32,887 men, after we receive that credit; thus, after exhausting all our credits, we pay almost eleven men of every hundred called out, (300,000) whilst under former calls, before any deduction was made for credit, the highest amount under any quota was 10 41-100 men to every hundred called for. With these figures, I fail to comprehend how we are now, (with 78,079 years due us,) in a worse condition than ever before, when we were without credits, or before credits were given. In other words, we now are called on to furnish a greater per centum of men on this call, after all credits are allowed, than ever before when no credits had been allowed.

The average per centum is 9 87-100, to every one hundred men called; this would give Illinois 29,610, as her full quota. How is it, then, that this is exceeded by 3,277, when it is confessed we are entitled to the credit of 78,089 years, to begin with?

Again, Ohio has a net quota assigned her of 26,000 men upon a population of 2,400,000. The same ratio would give to Illinois only 18,416, as our net quota upon a population of 1,700,000, if our credits are equal to those of Ohio. Illinois then has an excess of 78,079 men or years. This ratio would give Ohio 110,229, as her excess, if her net quota was in proportion to Illinois' net quota.

But this, instead of giving Ohio 26,000 as her quota, would give her 46,437, or 20,437 more than it is. Yet, we find that Illinois, with her 1,700,000 population, is required to furnish 32,887 men, and extinguish 78,079 years' of credit admitted to be due, thus making her aggregate quota under this call, 110,976 men for one year. At this ratio the grand aggregate quota of Ohio should be 156,666 men, to-wit: 26,000 net quota, and 130,666 of an excess over all previous calls. These figures are, of course, not understood to be exactly accurate, for want of accurate data, but the calculations are made to demonstrate that there exists a necessity which justifies and requires the state authorities to ask the information solicited, and thereby be enabled to detect error, if any exists.

I have been advised by General Fry that the state enrollment can be and should be corrected at any and at all times by the Provost Marshals, and intimations were clear that if any one refused, he would be removed; so that this is remediable by the people, if they will attend to it. But the state authorities can have no remedy or relief from an injustice or error in computing and assigning quotas, or in making up and allowing credits or excesses, unless they can have access to data not now in their possession. It is proper to infer that no injustice is intended Illinois, yet errors may exist, and if the information desired be not furnished the state authorities, and they be thereby enabled to affirm the correctness of the quota assigned, our people will believe they have been wronged by the quota fixed upon us, detracting, to some extent, from our fair fame, and requiring more men than is demanded from other states, in proportion to their population, enrollment, men previously furnished, and periods of service rendered.

It is proper for me to add, that I have heard it stated that the rule adopted by the Provost Marshal is to add all the excesses of the states to the 300,000 men called for, then distribute this aggregate to the states upon their enrollment, after which the excess of each state is deducted from its aggregate quota, and the balance is its net quota.

The Provost Marshal General, at the interview with him, on 23d Feb., informed me, however, that in getting at the excess of Illinois, he did not go behind the settlement of July 1, 1864, made with the state authorities of Illinois, in which settlement, as I understand it, the period of service was not estimated, but men furnished for three years were simply off-set against so many other men required from the state, leaving out of this calculation, and not making it one of the elements thereof, the period of service.

What we want, therefore, is the means of testing the correctness of the elements used in making up the excesses of the several states, and of Illinois; and which, under the rule referred to, swell the aggregate quota of the Union, in proportion as the excess of a state is increased or diminished. When we can see that this is correct, or point out any error, the state can have no just cause of complaint, if her citizens do not then correct the enrollment of their own districts, and thus have complete justice.

It is, therefore, respectfully submitted and proposed, that, as the aggregate excesses of the different counties in Illinois, from which no quotas are required, amounts to 6,742 men; and as errors are believed to exist improperly increasing the net quota of Illinois more than a like number above what is deemed just under the President's late call:

First—That the state will, as rapidly as possible, put into the field, by volunteering, under this call, 20,000 men. In case volunteers are not furnished in a reasonably short period, then that number to be drafted for.

Second—That in the meantime, the enrollment of the districts be made correct, either by an enrollment de novo, or by corrections, as justice requires over the state.

Third—That the information asked by the state authorities in my note of 23d Feb., 1865, be given; the same not to be made public by them, without permission of the Secretary of War.

Fourth—As soon as the correct enrollment and quota of the state can be ascertained, then if the latter amounts to more than 20,000 men, let it be furnished or drafted for; but if it amounts to less, the overplus to be carried to the credit of the state on any future calls. This, it is believed, will secure justice and cordial co-operation from all parties.

Very respectfully,

[Signed] I. N. HAYNIE, Adj. Gen. of Ills.

The result of this application was (as anticipated by me, after hearing the decision in the former one,) similar to that of the committee, and for like reasons. With great patience, and apparently full of a purpose exalted beyond the reach of an emotion, Mr. Lincoln listened to all that was said in behalf of a people he knew were so attached to him, and towards whom it was known he felt the most indulgent kindness; but no re-enrollment could be procured to be made, nor could a reduction of the quota be obtained; and thus terminated this application, which, whilst pending, was felt by all concerned to be of a character to command the most earnest consideration of the great men whose province it was to decide it, and which, in its results, affected the people of the state to the extent of thousands of men and millions of money, in the shape of bounties to pay for putting the quota demanded in the field.

And now that the exigencies which demanded the rigorous and inflexible rules are past, it may, and no doubt will, at some time in the future, become a question as to whether the state shall not be partially or wholly reimbursed for bounties advanced to raise soldiers. And if this be denied them, it may still be insisted justly by Illinois, that (if her people have had demanded from them more than was justly due in men, and they have thereby expended money to supply this demand,) they shall be re-imbursed at least for all that was expended by them, and which, in fact, was beyond what was right to be demanded.

I am not sure, but believe now, in some of the states, bounties (above what was paid by the Federal Government,) instead of being paid by individuals, was paid by the states, and then a claim filed for this expenditure against the United States, as a war expenditure, and allowed.

Whether this be so or not, it could not affect the justness of a demand based upon expenditures to furnish men wrongfully required; and I shall, therefore, present to your Excellency, some statistical tables and calculations going to indicate that Illinois has furnished more than her share; and if her people are not re-imbursed in the expenditure thereby caused, the fair fame, honor and patriotism of the state will be vindicated, when it is shown that her people have done their whole duty, and more; and this, at last, is of higher moment than all else.

I present herewith a table, prepared with great care, marked schedule "G," showing our enrollment, quotas and credits down to the time when recruiting ceased, in 1865.

In 1863, January 1st, (see Gen. Fuller's report,) the enrollment, with 115,123 men in service, left liable for service....	276,196

Enrollment of 1863, was.....	287,941
------------------------------	---------

Increase from 1862.....	11,745
-------------------------	--------

July enrollment of 1864, was.....	333,518
-----------------------------------	---------

In the same time we had, Dec. 31, 1864, increased our credits

from 115,123 to 198,596. Increased credits.....	83,473

Increase of enrollment and credits.....	140,795

The December enrollment of 1864, was.....	290,191

Decrease from July.....	43,327
-------------------------	--------

But from July, 1864, to Dec. 31, 1864, we had filled quotas of.	52,057
---	--------

The decrease of enrollment was, therefore, less than number of men sent away, by.....	8,730

---------------------------	-------

And this was the enrollment on which the quota of January, 23, 1865, was assigned for call of Dec. 19, 1864.

The enrollment of January, 1865, is shown to be.....	278,287

Decrease from last enrollment.....	11,904
------------------------------------	--------

But the quota was not assigned to Illinois on that enrollment last mentioned, nor am I advised that we received any benefit from this enrollment, unless it be that the reduction of our quota, procured by Maj. Wait, from 35,541 to 32,892, was partly thus produced, and I am inclined to believe it was; because, if 290,191 enrolled men give us a quota of 35,541, as was the fact, an enrollment of 278,287 men would reduce the quota to 34,083. If from this we now deduct the number of men furnished after the call of 19th December, and not before credited on any call, to-wit: 1,236 men, the balance left for the state quota will be 32,847, only differing from actual quota 45 men thus proving, by strong inference, that the reduction of enrollment and these credits produced the reduction from 35,541 to 32,892. Still this reduction, the last made in said enrollment, was only 3,174 less than the July enrollment of 333,518, if we deduct therefrom the 52,057 men sent to the field and credited under July call; so that if the enrollment was at any time, even in July, 1864, excessive, (and nothing could be clearer,) it remained so to the end; and these excesses produced the large quota of July, 1864, raising the per centum from 9 31-100, 9 26-100, 9 28-100, as under former calls, to 10 41-100, under July call, and 10 96-100, under December call, 1864; or if we regard 35,541 as our real quota, the per cent. was run up to 11 84-100 for every 100 men called for; thus demanding from Illinois almost the eighth part of the quota of the whole Union.

Again, General Fuller, in his report, shows enrolled, between 18 and 45 years of age, 276,196 liable, January 1, 1863, to service, with 115,123 men in service. In his report of 1864, (not published,) he shows that up to that date the state was credited with 197,260 men; the difference between these two numbers will be the number of men sent from those liable to service, between January 1, 1863, and Dec. 1, 1864, and is 82,137.

If now, we deduct this last number from the total liable to duty January, 1863, we have a balance of men left, December 1, 1864, of 194,059. Yet the last enrollment before January, 1865, shows 333,518 liable for duty, being an increased enrollment of 139,459, from January, 1863 to December, 1864. Or, if we take the enrollment on which our December call and January quota were assigned to us, of 290,191, we still have 13,998 more than was liable to duty in 1862, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, when the act of Congress, March, 1864, only requires enrollment of those from twenty to forty-five; and this, too, when we had sent, ad interim, between January 1, 1863, and December, 1864, 82,137 men to the field.

Let me test this increase in another shape :

The enrollment of November, 1863, was.....	287,941
That of July 18, 1864, was.....	333,518
Increase from November to July, 7 months, 7 days.....	45,577
Being 15 84-100 increase for that period, or 2 18-100 per month, or 26 per cent. per year.
There was also enlisted from January 1, to July 1, 1864, men,	33,252
Total increase in 7 months and 7 days.....	78,829
Being for total period, 27 33-100 per cent.; or per month, 3 77-100 per cent.; or per annum, 45 24-100 per cent.

Indicating, if these enrollments can be sustained, an increase in population and men, in time of war, such as never was heard of in times of peace, and in the era of our most wonderful progress.

Again, by examining enrollment of 1864, and comparing it with enrollment of 1863, it will be seen that every county in the state was increased, except four. Edwards was reduced 19; Richland, 9; Wabash, 27; and Will, 408. Total, 463. The reason of this increase is found in the nature of the duties exacted of enrolling officers. Under their instructions they made special efforts to add to the roll, but left the duty of striking from the roll, to be attended to by the citizen who was wrongly enrolled. Indeed, evidence had to be furnished the board of enrolling officers, to get a name (once enrolled) off. Thus, while Government gave facilities for getting on, it placed obstacles in the way of getting off; so that those liable to draft let their names stand, not thinking that they were farther interested, while their neighbor, not liable to draft, did the same thing, knowing, that if drafted, he could exempt himself; thus increasing the burdens of all liable to duty. In this way was this extraordinary enrollment of 1864 produced, and thereby had not only our extraordinary quota of July, 1864, settled against the state, and reducing our credits on future calls; but had, also, our still more extraordinary quota of 1865 settled upon us.

Let me prove this still farther :

Take, for instance, the 12th congressional district. Under the distribution of quota of January, 23, 1865, to the districts, it was ascertained, that if carried out, every man in some counties, Monroe, for instance, would be demanded.

Such a state of case was shocking to justice. A re-enrollment of that district was had at once, and I believe it was the only district entirely re-enrolled. What was the result? I give it below :

	Enrollment 1864.	Enrollment 1865.
St. Clair.....	8,959	4,539
Madison.....	8,598	4,449
Clinton.....	2,372	1,483
Washington.....	2,682	1,709
Randolph.....	3,301	2,076
Monroe.....	3,509	726
	<hr/> 29,421	<hr/> 14,982

Showing an extraordinary reduction of nearly 50 per cent. on the former enrollment, changing the demand or quota from the number so high that it could not be filled, as in the case of Monroe county, until the entire deficit of the district was, as will be seen by the official showing, less than the excess this change gave to Monroe county, the latter being 646, the former 381, divided between these counties.

These figures show another thing: that is, that one-fourth of the reduction of the enrollment of the state is found in this one district, whilst six other counties can be found on the table showing one other fourth of the reduction, thus leaving 90 counties out of 102 the benefit of only 50 per cent. of the reduction of the enrollment. If these figures do not demonstrate the enrollment to have been, beyond parallel, excessive, I am unable to do it. I am no better satisfied now of this fact than in February last, still it is due to the state to let the facts of history go to the world; then her fame will take care of itself.

Now having said thus much to prove the enrollment excessive, I will add another page to prove that even on this excessive enrollment our quota, too, was excessive. To do this I have prepared the following calculations and deductions:

As shown by official papers in this office, we had, when recruiting ceased, furnished during the war, actual men, without regard to periods of service.....	256,297
Of this number we had three months' men of 1862, 3 months' men of 1863, and 100 day's men; making total of 20,844, for whom we claim no credits.....	20,844
Leaving balance to our credit of.....	<hr/> 235,453
The quotas required of the state were, to July 18, 1864.....	145,303
Under call of July 18, 1864.....	52,057
“ December 19, 1864.....	35,541
Making total calls and quotas in men.....	<hr/> 232,901

Leaving balance, after deducting all quotas from actual credits , of.....	2,552 being that many more than all quotas demanded .
By schedule (G,) published herewith, it is shown that when recruiting ceased, we were actually in deficit in sub-districts.....	5,715
With excesses in other sub-districts of.....	819
Leaving the state in deficit, after deducting these excesses..	4,896
In other words, if we had proceeded until the demanded quota was filled, we, instead of being 2,552 in excess of all men actually required, would have been in excess in men.....	7,448
If, therefore, filling the quota of 35,541, would have put us in excess 7,448, that quota was clearly excessive to that extent, and ought to have stood 35,541, less 7,448, showing the quota should have been, even on the excessive large enrollment, only.....	28,093 instead of 35,541.
Now, as the enrollment stood December, 1864, it will be seen that this result accords precisely with all previous quotas to the state. Thus the call of October 18, 1863, for the same number of men, gave our quota at.....	27,930
Even this difference is more apparent than real, because the enrollment of October, 1863, was 287,941, whilst enrollment of December, 1864, was 290,194. If the first gave as its quota 27,930, the second, at the same ratio, would give 28,148, being only 55 more than this calculation shows our quota ought to have been on the enrollment. This result is remarkably confirmatory of the correctness of these calculations, and harmonizes at once with the per centum of men before required of the state on other calls, and placing them respectively at $9\frac{31}{100}$ for October, 1863; at $9\frac{36}{100}$ for February, 1864; at $9\frac{28}{100}$ for March, 1864; at $10\frac{41}{100}$ for July, 1864; and would have been at $9\frac{36}{100}$ for December, 1864; leaving the increase per centum, demanded under call of July 18, 1864, to be explained by the increase of the enrollment from 287,941, in 1863, to 333,518 in July, 1864.

Thus have I attempted (with how much success let the world judge) to demonstrate that, amid the extraordinary exigencies of the times, Illinois has not only performed her whole duty, but, with a patriotism equalled only by the valor of her sons, responded with unstinted hand to the demands made upon her loyalty; yielding to the Federal government her citizens and money, upon an enrollment known to be excessive and onerous beyond parallel, and upon a quota confidently believed to be so to the extent of thousands.

Notwithstanding all, however, it was determined that, since no change could be effected, and since every honorable means had been exhausted to relieve the people, the required number of men should be furnished, leaving to the future the adjustment of questions of difference between the state and Federal authorities, satisfied that honor and patriotism demanded the sacrifice.

The following proclamation was, therefore, issued from this office by order of your Excellency, and thoroughly distributed over the state:

STATE OF ILLINOIS, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

SPRINGFIELD, March 6, 1865.

To the People of Illinois:

Under the recent call of his Excellency the President of the United States for 300,000 men, and the rule adopted by the Provost Marshal General, the quota allotted to and required of Illinois was 32,875 men for one year. It affords me much satisfaction to be able to announce to you that in our efforts to fill this quota, Illinois has not fallen below the high character she has heretofore enjoyed.

By official statements from the Adjutant General's office, it is shown that there have been already 18,500 men furnished by the state as credits against this quota. Some difference in the views entertained by the state and the Federal authorities have existed, and many complaints have reached me that injustice has been done to different localities by the distribution of our quota.

As your executive, I have striven in every honorable way to correct, if possible, the difficulties complained of. The views of the state authorities have been fully made known to his Excellency the President, and Department of War. They have, after a full, careful and patient hearing decided that the great interests of the nation demand of them to make no change. I have the most unlimited confidence in the patriotism and integrity which dictates this decision, and as your executive, feeling that if any injustice has been done Illinois, it will be eventually redressed by the National authorities, I deem it my duty to call upon you, now that we know the decision is settled and unchangeable, to respond with that patriotic devotion to the Union always heretofore manifested by the state.

The spirit of our people, in response to this call of the President, has been quite equal to the old spirit of 1861 and 1862, and they have not hesitated because of the large number of men required, or the immense sums of money necessary to meet the demands to respond with alacrity and cheerfulness. Illinois would suffer wrong rather than be justly chargeable with a lack of devotion to our cause, or have it truthfully asserted that we have failed in the zeal and energy necessary to accomplish all that the country expects and requires at our hands.

Nine thousand of the troops called for and enlisted have been assigned to old regiments in the field. We are required to furnish fourteen thousand more for the same purpose. Citizens of Illinois, let this be done, if possible, without a draft.

RICHARD J. OGLESBY, Governor.

Official; I. N. HARNIE, Adjutant General of Illinois.

Obedient to this appeal, the citizens of the state continued with ardor to enlist up to the period at which hostilities ceased in April, at which time there was really but 4,896 men to be enlisted under the last quota. Below is a debit and credit statement up to this time, as shown in this office:

The State of Illinois in Account with the United States.

On the 13th day of April, 1865, recruiting in the United States ceased by order of the Secretary of War, and, as will be seen by the above table, with all the disadvantages I have shown existed to her prejudice, her excessive enrollment and extraordinary quota (exceeding, in itself, the whole enrollment of New Hampshire, with her population of 326,000 in 1860, by 6,623) leaving only due the United States 4,896 men, and this the unbounded patriotism of her people would have filled by the first of May.

SENATE RESOLUTION ORDERING PUBLICATION OF ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT.

In February last, a resolution of the tenor following, was introduced into the lower house of the General Assembly of this state, and passed, to-wit:

WHEREAS, The state of Illinois, responding to all the calls made upon her by the general government, has contributed nearly two hundred thousand of her brave men to fight the battles of the Union, thousands of whom have already fallen upon bloody fields, or have died in hospitals from honorable wounds.

And, whereas, It is eminently meet and just, not only to the patriotic men who survive, but also to the families of those who have died in the service of the country, that a full and complete record should be made and kept, of the fact that they participated in the struggle for the restoration of the Union.

And, whereas, Our sister states have, many of them, already published these records of honorable service, not only as a tribute due to the soldiers and their posterity, but as a glorious history of the part they have taken in the war for the defense of the Union and their beloved country; therefore,

Be it Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring herein, That the Adjutant General of the state be, and is hereby authorized and directed to prepare from the rolls and files in his office, and from reports from the field, a brief record of every soldier who has been engaged in the government service during the war; giving his name, age, place of residence, occupation, nativity, date of enlistment and muster, to be accompanied by a historical memoranda, embracing the casualties to officers and men, the marches, skirmishes and battles in which each company and regiment has participated, and the brigades, divisions, army corps and departments to which they have been attached during their term of service.

Resolved, That ten thousand copies of this be, and the same are hereby ordered to be printed and bound, under the direction of the Adjutant General of the state, to be distributed as follows, etc., etc., etc.

On the 10th day of February, 1865, these resolutions were reported to the senate by the clerk of the house, (see Senate Journal, page 549,) and were by that body referred to the committee on Federal relations. Afterwards, on the 13th of said month, the committee say that after having had the same under consideration, they report: "That they highly approve the object of said resolutions; but, in their opinion, it would not now be in the power of the Adjutant General to satisfactorily perform that duty. Said war is still in progress, and thousands of our soldiers are yet in the field performing service, and subject to casualties, a statement of which can not now be written; and consequently, the work proposed can not be general, including all the soldiers, as such a work should." The proposed record (they also say) will not be satisfactory, because the same does not include the officers, but includes the soldier only; the committee, therefore, propose that the completion of said work be postponed for the present.

At the date of the pendency of these resolutions, (whilst I concurred in the utility and justice of ultimately publishing such a work,) I heartily concurred in the conclusion to which the senate committee arrived; and had such a work been then ordered, it would have been incomplete and unsatisfactory.

The time may now speedily be at hand, when the objections urged by the committee having been obviated by the suppression of the rebellion and ending of the war, such a report may not only become practicable, but a wise measure and just tribute to the brave defenders of our nationality and unity.

The report of the committee was agreed to by the senate, and the resolutions, therefore, defeated.

Subsequently, on the 15th of February, the following resolution was introduced into the senate, and passed by that body as a senate resolution.

Resolved by the Senate, That the Adjutant General be, and he is hereby instructed to have published in permanent form the rosters of all regiments, and muster-rolls thereof, from the state of Illinois in the service of the United States, or who have been during the present rebellion, showing the regiment, rank, date of muster-in and muster-out of each, residence or place from whence enlisted, and the date and place of death of each, either by disease or in battle, as nearly as possible; and that ten thousand copies of said report be published and distributed as the Governor may direct.

A copy of the above senate resolution has been furnished me by the Secretary of State.

It will be observed that this last resolution is of similar character to the house resolution referred to senate committee and reported against by said committee, and that the reasons governing the objections to the house resolutions would also apply to this; in fact, at the date of the passage of the resolution, it could not have been complied with.

Since these resolutions have been brought to my notice, I have given them very patient consideration, and have hesitated long before concluding not to comply with the one passed by the senate. The adoption of the first set by the house, would seem to indicate a concurrence of their views with those of the resolution passed by the senate; still, I have no right to treat the resolution as other than a senate resolution.

It would afford me much pleasure, great as the labor will be, to cause such a report to be made and published.

In my opinion, the time will soon be at hand when it will be felt as a universal want in the state; and whilst I have deemed it to be my duty to decline obedience to this resolution, on account of the considerable outlay, and the want of clerical aid in my office, I have at the same time prepared, and am now attempting to complete a set of records containing the information indicated, in which every soldier, from Lieutenant General Grant, to the last enlisted private, will find his name recorded, and his history, in brief, written down. I have deemed it my bounden duty to the soldier to provide this record; and trust, by timely aid from future legislation, to be able to complete the same; and when completed, it will be for the legislature to order, after a knowledge of its cost, that it be published. For me to assume the expenditure involved in its publication, is more than I feel now disposed to do. And while I would cheerfully obey and conform to any joint resolution of the two houses, I must beg of the honorable senate not to regard me disrespectful toward their honorable body in deciding to defer full conformity therewith.

The period will soon arrive now, at which all our soldiers will be mustered out; when this is done it will be the aptest time to make up the balance sheet of the war, and show the history of each one of the vast army of heroes furnished by the state. In the meantime, it shall be my object to make all the preparation, and have all the records of this office so well up in all their details, that if any future legislature shall order the expenditure of the sum required to publish the same, it can be speedily done.

EXTRA SURGEONS OF 1862.

On the 30th of April, 1862, the following dispatch was received by his Excellency, Governor Yates:

WASHINGTON, April 30, 1862.

To His Excellency, GOVERNOR YATES:

You are hereby authorized to appoint, temporarily, two additional Surgeons for each Illinois regiment; the appointment to continue until further orders of this office.

[Signed] EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

In obedience to this authority, and in anticipation of the close approach of a great battle before Corinth, then closely invested by our immense army, a number of appointments were made in the month of May, 1862, among them were the gentlemen whose names appear in the schedule or list annexed:

These Surgeons although acting under the authority of the War Department, really formed no part of the army. They were not mustered into service, nor did their names appear upon any rolls, either for muster or pay. Nevertheless, as early as possible after their appointments, they severally repaired, at their own expense, to the several posts assigned them, to render such medical aid to our soldiers as the necessities of the service demanded; and it is believed their services were timely and efficient.

No provision had been made, however, by the Secretary of War for their payment, nor had any been then made by the state; so that the gentlemen above named, not only gave their time, but paid their own expenses going and returning to and from the army, then near Corinth, Mississippi.

Under these circumstances, the legislature, at its session of 1863, in an act entitled "An act making appropriations to pay certain expenses of the government, not otherwise provided for by law," included a section as follows:

SEC. 26. There is hereby appropriated the sum of two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay for the services of twenty Surgeons, employed by the Governor, "to go to Corinth, Mississippi, to attend to the sick and wounded of Illinois regiments; said sums to be certified to, under oath, to the Adjutant General."

Under this act, the several persons interested filed their claims, soon after its passage; and it was ascertained by General Fuller that the claims for services rendered, after they were all filed, amounted to more than the appropriation; and it was deemed best, for this cause, not to pay any of them; and, therefore, the matter stood over unadjusted.

After my attention was called to them, I ascertained that some of the claims before then improperly rendered among this list, were entitled to be paid and had been paid elsewhere, and that some parts of the claims of the parties filed under this law, and to whom something was due, were improper to be allowed against the state, being for services performed under contract with the army medical director, and therefore a claim against the United States directly, and not against the state.

In this way the amount really due upon the several claims filed, was ascertained to be within the amount appropriated by the above act. I therefore had a consultation with the Auditor, and it was adjudged to be but just that those claims should be paid. At this time, the whole amount of claims justly chargeable against this fund was less than the sum appropriated, but approximated toward it. In conformity with this understanding, and after the claims were proven, I have deemed it my duty to order the allowance and payment of Doctors Wardner, Lanphear, Miller, Nesmith, and Burns; and the same have been paid. I have also approved the claims of Messrs. Bull, Daggy, Chandler, Corbus, Mease, Cook, and Albin, the proofs being properly filed; all of which now will be paid to the parties when called for. The claims of Lamb and White are not yet proved as required, but the sums set opposite their names are believed to be about the amounts due them, and if proven up as required will be paid. The above named claims had been filed here long before the date of my appointment, and I had supposed that all the claims that could arise were thus presented; but recently Dr. Willard, of Wilmington, has filed a claim, as will be seen on the schedule, for $175, the proof of which is in the form required by law. I have no doubt but that it is due him, and shall pay to him the surplus after the above claims are satisfied, and shall thus dispose of those cases so long pending here.

I trust this disposition of them may be regarded as just, and as nearly equitable as could be arrived at. It will leave a small balance due, which can be early provided for in some future appropriation.

SHERMAN'S MARCH TO THE SEA.

On the 15th day of November, 1864, after the destruction of Atlanta and the railroads behind him, Sherman, with his army, began his march to the sea coast. The almost breathless anxiety with which his progress was watched by the loyal hearts of the nation, and the trembling apprehension with which it was regarded by all who hoped for rebel success, indicated this as one of the most remarkable events of the war; and so it proved.

It is no part of my province, nor have I the means at hand, by which I could be enabled to write the history of this wonderful campaign, the success of which, was fraught with consequences so cheering to the Union arms and so direful to the rebellion. Yet I have taken some care to preserve a correct list of the regiments from this state that are entitled to share the laurels won by this army in their "march to the sea," and which, of itself alone, is sufficient to render their names synonyms for courage, endurance and patriotism. The following is the list referred to, with the names of their field officers.

THE MILITIA LAWS OF ILLINOIS.

At the last session of the legislature, an effort was made by the military committee of the house and senate to agree upon some plan for the organization of the militia of the state, by which, in case of exigency, it might be called into service and used. It was well known then, and is still I believe, a fact universally admitted to be true, that the present militia law of the state, (re-modeled and adopted in 1845, from statutes then obsolete and useless,) is a dead letter upon the statute book. It has never been enforced since its enactment, nor is there any disposition manifested now on the part of any body to make the attempt practically to execute it.

Under these circumstances, I am inclined to ask that its entire repeal be recommended, even though no other should be substituted therefor, for the reason that we had better be without a statute than to have one that is impracticable, unwieldy, unsuited to the tastes and genius of the people, and altogether regarded with indifference and contempt.

It is believed that no disposition exists on the part of the returned soldiers to organize under its provisions; indeed it would be strange if soldiers who had formed part of the grand armies of Grant, Sherman, McPherson, Banks, Logan and Thomas, and who, under their orders, had fronted and vanquished the armies of the rebellion, should be content to take their place in the ranks of some militia company, side by side with those who have had no experience in the army or the field, and march at the command of some country cross road politician, decked out with his feather and his stripes. My own opinion is, that such a disparagement to the soldiers of the state would be objectionable and distasteful to them.

On the other hand, it is believed that the other portion of the arms-bearing population are as little inclined to play at such a farce, for the reason that they would realize that little credit was to be won by them now, after the war has terminated, by appearing in arms and attempting military exercises, in the presence of the thousands of veterans of the army, everywhere to be found in the state. The present law, therefore, dissatisfies both classes and ought to be repealed. In case this is done, some substitute for the system should be adopted, whereby the arms-bearing population of the state can be henceforth kept up to the present standard of intelligence and skill in the arts of war possessed by the country. It is without doubt, a fact, that now, with no organized militia in the state, our military strength as a people is augmented far beyond anything that has ever before existed in our history. We are to-day in a position to organize an army at once, invincible in both numbers and discipline. To what may we attribute the existence of this admitted truth? are we not indebted for this to the intelligence, skill and education of our late soldiery in all the arts of war.

In 1861, when the rebellion commenced, but few, scarcely one in a thousand, of our citizens, knew any thing whatever about organization, discipline or drill; not one in a hundred could form a company, or one in five hundred knew how to shoulder arms. Now all is changed. Everywhere in the state, all over it, may be found men skilled in the arts of war, and competent not only to organize companies, but to command regiments, brigades and divisions, with credit. This intelligence, knowledge and skill, which now renders us so strong and so secure, ought not to be lost with the present generation, and whatever plan shall be substituted for the present obsolete one, should, in my opinion, make the preservation of this intelligence, knowledge and skill, the great essential of the system. The security thus afforded is, or ought to be the very object and end of all military organizations; and that system that does not look wholly to this end is useless and unworthy of adoption. If any system upon which the militia can be organized throughout the state would be productive of these results the expense necessary to render it effective would perhaps render it objectionable: still, some plan ought to be adopted, and whilst I am disposed to leave the matter entirely to those whose province it is to decide and determine it, I beg to refer, by way of suggestion, to the following communication addressed by myself to Professor Turner, of Illinois, upon this subject, and his reply thereto, and then to leave the matter to your Excellency and the general assembly, whose province it is to dispose of it.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, December 13, 1865.

Professor J. B. TURNER, Jacksonville:

SIR:—I see by to-day's papers that the State Teachers' Association will meet at Joliet, on the 26th inst. For some time past, I have been reflecting upon the propriety of certain modifications of our school system, of the practicability of which I am by no means satisfied. To explain: the old militia laws of the state are, and always have been almost a dead letter—impracticable, cumbersome, useless—and therefore can never be resuscitated. Any other system of a similar nature, to be effective and operative, will necessarily be expensive beyond any sum the state will probably just now be willing to appropriate to such a purpose; nevertheless, the military interests of the state, as an educational question, should not be neglected. The vast amount of knowledge of the arts of war acquired in the late contest should not be allowed to be lost with this generation, but should, in some way, be transmitted to the next. I very well know, that in 1861, when troops were organizing in Illinois, there was not one man out of each five hundred who even knew how to form a company, much less did they know aught of the manual of arms, or of company movements; but now there are scores of men in every neighborhood, who are not only able to do this, but are qualified to organize and even command regiments.

How best can this knowledge be preserved to those who shall come after us? Sundry plans have occurred to me—among others, this: that it should be made a part of the education of the male pupils at all our common schools, high schools and colleges. If the system of graded schools, which I believe is regarded as an improvement upon the old plan, shall come into general practice in the state, then each county could sustain, possibly, one high school, in which regular instruction could be given, and at which, indeed, the more advanced male pupils (or all of them,) might be organized into a military company and provided with arms; and not only taught these minor arts of war, but trained up under a severe military subordination and discipline.

If this should be deemed impracticable, and I should trust it might not be, why could not a "military chair" be added to our colleges every where in the country? We regard, justly too, intelligence as the great safeguard of the people and of the nation. Not intelligence upon one branch of knowledge, but upon all branches. Yet it is a startling fact, that anterior to 1861, whilst every other knowledge might be obtained at our institutions of learning, the knowledge of how to preserve the government in time of war had been so utterly neglected that not one man in a thousand knew how to "shoulder arms!" And it was, I believe, taught as a part of the system of education at no schools, except government schools, so that when our armies were organizing in 1861 and 1862 the first eighteen months were spent in learning what could have been taught the boy at school much cheaper, but which had before been to him a sealed book. I therefore propose for your consideration, this question:

"Can a plan of military education be engrafted upon our present system of common schools, or adopted by our high schools and colleges, so as to be practically successful in preserving the military knowledge now possessed by the country?"

I address this to you because of your long connection with the educational interests of the state, and your known zeal for their advancement, and with the hope that the subject involved may attract the attention and elicit the opinions of the various gentlemen of the Teachers' Association.

A copy of this letter may be given to the press, in order that the attention of all the members of the Association may be earlier called to it. In the meantime, or whenever you have leisure, (and it is your pleasure,) I shall feel gratified to be furnished with your views upon the matter I have taken the liberty to suggest.

With assurances of high regard and respect, I hope you will believe me truly your friend.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

PANA, ILL., December 19, 1865.

General I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General's Office, Springfield, Ill.

DEAR SIR:—At the date of your letter, addressed to me at Jacksonville, I was on my way to the Bloomington Convention, and thence toward the South. On the cars, this morning, my eye happened to fall on the published copy in the Chicago Journal, of December 19th. As I shall not return home to meet the original letter until too late for a reply, in season for the purpose you intimate, such is my own conviction of the vast importance of your suggestions that I at once concluded to arrest my journey and business, and stop over in this town till the next train, to reply without delay. Whatever apology the haste of my letter may require must be found, in part, at least, in the fact that it is thus written in the bar-room of a tavern, after finding every private room in this town pre-occupied and closed against me.

The wily leaders of the southern rebellion well understood the importance of popular military knowledge and enthusiasm to the defence of the republic. Hence, one of their very first measures of revolution, inaugurated, and but too successfully accomplished, years ago, by them, was to utterly break down and annihilate the then existing military spirit of the north, kept alive only by the military system bequeathed to us by Washington and the fathers of the Republic. Their first move was to appeal to the "stupidly good men" throughout the north, through the public press, against the attendant evils and defects of that system, on professedly high moral grounds, not to secure its revision and reform, but its utter extermination. These moral appeals to the moral and religious classes of the north was, in due time, followed by the most hideous burlesque of all military reviews—commencing at Washington, the national capital, and urged on in all the large cities and towns of the north—thus making all military reviews ridiculous in the eyes even of the wicked and profane. Meantime, throughout their own rebel dominion, they took good care to sustain and strengthen, by additional schools and drills and means, their own martial spirit in the south; to enlarge and strengthen West Point and other schools of this kind, and to keep them wholly under their political influence and control. And when at last they had got control of the arms of the government also, they very naturally supposed that the north was totally powerless and disarmed; as utterly bereft of all military spirits as she was of ostensible arms and resources; and such, indeed, was the appalling fact, as every reflecting mind saw, but saw too late. Under such unequal conditions, well might the south laugh at the very idea of the north attempting to fight; for what had she to fight with? Apparently nothing. Her men, her spirit, her arms, had apparently all been clandestinely wrested from her and transferred to the uses of the more favored south.

Now, the primal question in your letter to me is really this: "Shall this free people ever allow themselves to be befooled in the same manner again by an enemy, foreign or domestic? or shall we follow the counsel of Washington and the common sense of mankind, and learn that 'in peace is the time—and only fit time—to prepare for war.'" But if so, how shall this be done? I am no military man; I know little or nothing of war; and my opinions on those subjects, I am well aware, are of very little value. But the only proper way that I can think of for a nation of freemen to reach those results with the least possible danger, and the greatest possible advantage, is to do the very thing you suggest—do, in short, as they do with all their other great public interests—make them an inherent part of your great system of national popular education. I have thought so for years; further reflection does not weaken, but every day deepens and strengthens my conviction that, in the principles you suggest you are fully and entirely, and, if I may so say, indisputably right. To say that a nation of thirty millions, ruling a continent bounded only by the great oceans, upholding and pledged before God and man to defend a form of civil government adverse in its fundamental principles to every other great power on earth; to say that such a people ought not, in some way, to be a military people, is simply to say that they ought to be a set of confounded fools. Much like those goodish old grannies of the free north, who, in the case above referred to, left themselves, their presses and pulpits and courts, to be used as mere tools in the hands of the incipient rebels of the south, for crushing out in their midst that little of the martial spirit among them, which was, in fact, their only hope in the oncoming struggle; which, if it had been strengthened and fostered, instead of being extinguished, I fully, even now, believe would have prevented the possibility of the occurrence of the late rebellion; for the south never could have been deceived into the war unless under the full belief that we were totally paralyzed in our military resources, and, therefore, could not resist if we would. True, it was a great mistake, a great blunder on both sides alike. But it cost us at least half a million of men, and five thousand millions of money. Have we not paid enough for that whistle? Ought we not to get some wisdom out of this sad experience.

In my judgment, if there ever was a people standing in defense of the liberties of earth, and of Heaven, too, who needed promptly to obey the great Master's injunctions for all similar cases, that "he who has not a sword should sell his coat and buy one"—that people is our people, and now is the very time to make the exchange; and if well, and wisely, and thoroughly made, and made at once, and made in earnest, it will do far more to preserve the peace of the world than the sacrifice of another million of men on the battlefield. For no nation on earth will ever dare to attack us in an unjust cause, unless they find us, as the south did, at some vital point wholly unprepared.

Let the popular schools of the country perpetually, in all time to come, throw into the bosom of the daily life of the republic, say three millions of citizens, all sufficiently well instructed in the principles of military tactics to furnish both officers and men of all ranks, able to go through with a handsome military drill in one week's time, and ready to be enlisted and thoroughly armed in one hour's notice, and insults, and taunts, and sneers at the republic, as well as wars upon it, will be found far more scarce in the world's market, and the price far higher in the future than in the past; and the good manners and good breeding of "John Bull and his friends and allies" will be improved at the same time that his pugnacity is repressed and our quiet insured.

So deeply were the friends and advocates of the national scheme for industrial universities impressed with these ideas, that, years ago, before the grant of Congress to the several states was made, they took good care to have such a clause introduced into their bill for that grant, imperatively demanding, as a "sine qua non," instruction in military tactics in all the states, in all these industrial universities alike; and wherever or whenever, in all coming time, any state either omits or neglects this, from that moment they forfeit their share of the national endowment.

The great object we had in view in this provision was, that these universities in each of the states should furnish to the states, in times of peace, a strong and able corps of teachers, to diffuse the same practice and the same spirit through all the lower schools of the nation; and, in time of war, a corps of officers to drill and marshal them at once for the battlefield. Exactly your idea, as you perceive, organized by public law; first by Congress, and then by acceptance of the states; that, is so far as it can now be done, for we can not at once introduce the system into all our common schools, or even our higher schools, until we can first secure a corps of teachers, competent to teach and to manage the system—which our present teachers, to a great extent, can not do.

To make assurance doubly sure in this regard, I myself moved for a clause in the bill chartering our own state university, as presented to the state legislature last winter, expressly giving to the trustees discretionary power over the dress, drill, arms, etc., of the pupils in our state. And I think that the state ought also to establish at once a professorship of military science and tactics in the Normal University, and that every graduate of that school should be compelled to know enough about the matter to give all required instruction in the common schools; and that no American citizen ought to be considered as more than half educated till he has a good elementary knowledge of the primal principles, both of the arts of war and the arts of peace. For, as American citizens, it is of vastly more importance to all our sons to know how Grant and Sherman and Farragut and their comrades made war than it is to know how the Greek Achilles, or the Latin Romulus, or the Indian "Red Jacket" did it, and it can be learned in half the time.

Nor is such instruction either as useless or impracticable as the ignorant, on the one hand, and the pedantic, on the other, are prone to imagine. On my late visit to the eastern cities and schools, I called on my old classmate and friend, General Russell, of New Haven, Conn. General Russell, when the war broke out, had one of the most thorough, successful and popular classical high schools for boys in that far-famed city of colleges and schools.

He has secured in the city, adjoining his school room, the requisite grounds, arms, accoutrements, etc., for a daily military drill; the whole school is organized into a proper military corps. It is a camp on service—that is, in service over books. Each class of boys choose their own officers and inspectors, and report to headquarters every possible delinquency of their comrades that comes under the laws of the camp or school. The result is, the boys wholly govern themselves. I have seen something of schools in my life; I have had something to do with them; but I confess that I never before saw a school so quiet, so orderly, so gentlemanly in all things, and, at the same time, so proficient in learning, as this school of young boys, absolutely governing themselves in all things by rules of strict military order and subordination. It was delightful to see them take so much comfort and just and honorable pride in their success. Not a single thing about the premises can you find scratched, or marked, or displaced, or disordered. All goes on like clock work, and these officer boys do it all themselves. They will not allow the least disorder, neither in the commissary department, nor in any other—not even in its antipodes (if you know what and where that is, and how shamefully it is defiled and marred in all boys' schools). Their daily drill also gives them a handsome carriage, and a part of their needful daily exercise in the open air. I need not say to you, sir, that this single school was of more service to the country at the breaking out of the rebellion than any dozen schools on the ordinary plan could be. They furnished able and competent drill masters for all the country round, besides a strong corps of able and efficient officers for the field of battle.

Now, it should be borne in mind that this school of General Russell's is, in no proper sense, either in pretention or in fact, a military school; it is not even a special scientific school, but simply an ordinary classical high school, established for the express purpose of fitting our young boys for our classical colleges; and its present military features were introduced gradually into the plan as an incidental means of exercise, recreation and government, by General Russell, whose long experience and great sagacity in managing boys of that age, has taught him that this is the easiest, the most agreeable, and by far the most available means at hand; for it is self-regulated, self-administered, and works like clock-work. Let any one who doubts visit General Russell's school, or write him for his opinion in the matter, and he has been quite familiar with all other modern methods for almost forty years. Such a scheme of military discipline and drill as his is would not simply cost the state nothing, and the people nothing, either in time or money, but in all our schools alike, it would immensely facilitate discipline, order and decorum, and increase progress in all branches of learning whatever.

But excuse me, my dear sir, I always become quite too garrulous when I get upon these themes; but the arrival of the cars will shut down the brakes on me, if nothing else will. All I really wanted to say when I began was simply this: That an American citizen needs to learn only three simple things, namely: when, where and how to work, to fight and to pray, to the best possible advantage. When he knows this, he is well educated. He is fit to be a citizen of the great republic; till then, he is uneducated and unfit for many, if not all, its most important uses; and your plan for giving him the needful skill in combat, with the utmost safety to the republic, I have long deemed the only feasible one, and one which should be adopted as soon as possible; and I hope you will not fail to concert proper measures with Mr. Bateman, or others, to have it brought distinctly before our convention of teachers, as it will be impossible for me to be there personally to urge its claims.

Whatever use you can make of these hasty suggestions in the cause, you are at liberty to do so, as the cars have arrived, and I must proceed again on my journey.

Very respectfully and truly yours,

J. B. TURNER.

MILITARY STATE AGENTS.

The vast number of the citizens of the state who had enlisted and were serving in the army of the Union, at the beginning of the year, produced many cases of severe trial and serious inconveniences to the soldier, to remedy which, no enactment of the legislature had been provided. By means of the Sanitary and Christian Commissions, and their indefatigable agents, the people had been, and still were, enabled to relieve and provide, to a very great extent, for a large class of wants and necessities, not provided for by the Federal authorities; and through these voluntary organizations and humane instrumentalities, the generous patriotism of the northern people poured their offerings with unstinted hand upon the army.

So wonderful in extent and effect, indeed, were these organizations, that it has been truly said that their rise and successful operations in the relief of the soldiers of the republic, marked the existence of a new element in the history of civilized warfare.

Notwithstanding the good done, however, by these instrumentalities, it was perceived that there were still inconveniences and hardships endured by the soldiers not so peculiarly within the reach of these voluntary associations as they would be of agents coming by authority from the state, and clothed with the sanction of law, to look after the interests of the soldiers of the state, in whatever form their services might be needed. To meet these exigences and provide relief against these wants of the soldier, the legislature of the state passed an act, entitled "An act to authorize the Governor to appoint Military State Agents," which was approved February 16, 1865.

By the provisions of that act your Excellency was authorized to appoint any number of agents, not exceeding six, who were to be "Military Agents of the state of Illinois," and were to be stationed at such places within the rebellious states, or elsewhere, as would best promote the interests of the volunteer forces in the United States army from this state.

By the further provisions of said act, your Excellency was authorized, by orders, from time to time, to prescribe the duties of said agents, and to adopt rules and regulations to govern their action, and to dismiss or recall them for omission of duty, etc., etc.; and when appointed, they were to be commissioned and to enter at once upon their duties, and report monthly to the "office of the Adjutant General of this state."

As early after the approval of this act as suitable agents could be selected, your Excellency proceeded to fill those appointments; and on the first day of March following order, No. 42, of date March 1st, was issued from this office:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, March 1, 1865.

General Orders No. 42.

SECTION 1. In pursuance to an act of the legislature, approved February 16, 1865, the following persons are hereby appointed Military State Agents for the state of Illinois, and assigned to duty at the several places respectively mentioned, to wit:

T. P. ROBB, of Chicago, at Memphis, Tenn.

H. D. COOK, of Woodford county, at the City of New York.

D. B. MORRILL, of Winnebago county, at Louisville, Ky.

JACKSON M. SHEETS, of Edgar county, at Nashville, Tenn.

HENRY KING, of Hancock county, at New Orleans, La.

SEC. 2. Said agents will at once report to the Adjutant General of the state, at Springfield, for duty, and after being commissioned and qualified, will proceed without delay to the places assigned for their location and duties.

SEC. 3. Each agent shall be authorized and required to look after the comfort and welfare of all sick, wounded or disabled soldiers of the United States army from Illinois, and also to the welfare, etc., of all such as may be absent, for any cause, from their respective companies.

SEC. 4. Said agents shall, from time to time, and as often as practicable, visit all hospitals or departments within the district in which he is or may be assigned to duty, and search out and discover, and aid all soldiers from Illinois, who, for any cause, may be unable to accomplish for themselves that which may be useful and proper to be done.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of said agents to make report from month to month, and at the end of each month, of all their acts and doings in the line of their duty, and to furnish to the office of the Adjutant General all such data and information relative to the soldiers of this state as may be required to be furnished by orders or instructions from said office.

SEC. 6. Said agents will receive the sum of twelve hundred dollars per year, to be paid monthly. The salaries and all necessary expenditures incurred in aiding sick, wounded and disabled soldiers from Illinois at their respective agencies, will be paid, upon the order of the Governor, out of the fund appropriated by the legislature for the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers.

By order of his Excellency, the Governor of Illinois.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General of Illinois.

After the appointments above referred to were announced, I at once proceeded to issue commissions to the several appointees, (giving to them the honorary rank of Colonel,) and, accompanying the same, sent the following letter of instructions:

(LETTER OF APPOINTMENT.)

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.

SPRINGFIELD, ———, 1865.

To ———, ———:

SIR: Having been appointed one of the Military State Agents for the state of Illinois, and assigned to duty at ———, you are hereby directed, without undue delay, to repair at once to said place and enter upon the active discharge of your duties.

I inclose herewith General Orders No. 42, current series, from these headquarters, by which you will be governed and controlled.

It is expected that from the general outline of the duties laid down in this order, much will be left to the discretion and good judgment of the several agents; and until further and more specific instructions are given, these are deemed sufficient.

It is also expected that you will, on arrival at your post, report to the commanding officers; and thereafter, as far as possible, maintain cordial relations with all the military authorities within whose command you may come.

You will report your arrival to these headquarters by letter; and thereafter, from time to time, report your actions.

By order:

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

By reference to a list of said officers attached hereto, it will be seen that Col. Bumgardner was added to the number named in said printed and published order, to date of the same day, thus filling up the number (six) authorized to be appointed; and that subsequently, Col. Wickizer was appointed, July 14, 1865, to fill vacancy of Col. Robb, whose resignation had been accepted. Col. Sheets having been ordered to supply the place of Col. Robb, at Memphis, and Col. Wickizer sent to Nashville.

It will be also seen that on 26th July, Col. King, agent at New Orleans, resigned, who was succeeded by Col. Long.

In May, the exigences of the service seemed to demand the presence of an agent, temporarily, at Washington; and since the services of Col. Cook and Col. Bumgardner were both demanded in the vicinity of Gen. Sherman's army in the south, at or near which they then were, Col. Newton Crawford was temporarily authorized to act at Washington, and did so until relieved by Col. Cook, in June, 1865.

At the time these several gentlemen entered upon the discharge of their duties, the vast armies of the Union were in full activity, whilst the loyal states of the north were re-enforcing them with every possible energy.

As was natural, and to be expected, therefore, the Federal hospitals everywhere were filled with those gallant men, who from wounds or exposure, had been rendered unable to accompany the armies in the several campaigns then in progress. At Jefferson Barracks, Cairo, Memphis, Vicksburg, New Orleans, at Louisville, Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Philadelphia, New York, Washington, Savannah and Newbern, were hospitals, in which were to be found many of the soldiers of the state, requiring attention and aid.

To these several places, therefore, instructed as indicated before, these agents were dispatched. It may well be supposed that they found ample scope for their industry and zeal.

The good accomplished by them, and by the state through them, can not be over estimated. In every possible way relief was extended to the soldier; and they were made to feel, that although absent from their officers and comrades, yet still the state, through its agents, was looking to their welfare; and many a good citizen, now at home, doubtless has cause to be thankful for this timely and humane provision made by the legislature in behalf of the soldiers.

These arduous duties were, without interruption, continued until toward mid-summer of the year. In the meantime, hostilities had ceased, the discharge of the army had been completed, including most of the soldiers and patients in hospitals, and hence the services of these agents were no longer (all of them) needed; accordingly, the resignations of Col. Sheetz, Col. Morrill and Col. Wickizer have been accepted; and, at this writing, Col. Bumgardner has been ordered to assume charge of the New Orleans agency, still rendered necessary by the fact that many of our troops, indeed most of them now in service, are in the department of the south and in Texas. Upon his assuming charge of that agency, Col. Long will be relieved and his services dispensed with.

The vast number of soldiers of the state, now at home, having business at Washington before the departments and bureaus, and the fact that much aid can be rendered them and the widows and orphans of the state, in procuring, speedily, their pensions and back pay, bounties, etc., by an active, faithful and intelligent agent at the capital, has caused it to be deemed just to retain an agent and station him there, with instructions to look, speedily, after all matters of this kind committed to his charge.

Col. Harry D. Cook is believed to possess all the qualifications requisite for such duties, and has, therefore, been ordered to repair to Washington, where he now is, and will remain until relieved by orders.

The annexed reports of the state agents, appointed under the act of the legislature of 1865, are published with the view of showing the general scope of their duties, and the manner in which they were attended to.

Military State Agents of Illinois, appointed in pursuance of an act of the Legislature, approved February 16, 1865.

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY AGENT FOR ILLINOIS,

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 1, 1865.

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General :

SIR:—Having been commissioned by his Excellency, Governor Richard J. Oglesby, on the first day of March, 1865, and appointed military state agent for the state of Illinois, and assigned to the western department, with headquarters at Louisville, Ky., I repaired, without delay, to this place, and at once entered upon the discharge of the duties of my office, and for the months of March and April I now have the honor to submit to you the following report :

Immediately upon my arrival, I reported in person to Major General J. M. Palmer, commanding the department of Kentucky. I was very cordially received by the General, who expressed himself as being highly pleased at the appointment of an agent to look after the interests of Illinois soldiers at this place. He assured me of every facility in his power to grant me in the discharge of my duties.

Immediately after securing a room for an office, I started upon a tour through the hospitals here, and across the river at Jeffersonville and New Albany, Ind. There are, in all, twenty at Louisville and the above-named places.

I found the condition of our soldiers generally very good. The hospitals, most of them, were neat, clean and well ventilated, and in good condition. I will mention two as being excellent in the highest degree: Jo. Holt, U. S. general hospital, in charge of Major H. P. Stearns, since appointed medical director at Nashville, Tenn. This hospital accommodates fourteen hundred men. And the Jefferson U. S. general hospital, with a capacity for the accommodation of five thousand men. This is one of the most perfect institutions in this country; the best, decidedly, I have seen. It is under the charge of Major M. Goldsmith, and under his admirable supervision it has become so celebrated as to be visited by thousands through curiosity. It is sufficient to say that in neither of these institutions did I elicit a single complaint from any soldier.

At Crittenden U. S. general hospital, I found great complaint of an insufficient quantity of food. I at once reported the fact to Assistant Surgeon General R. C. Wood, U. S. A., who immediately issued an order to the surgeon in charge, R. R. Taylor, to issue to the men at the full diet tables the full army ration of some articles, including bread. Since that, I have heard no more complaint from that cause. At Brown U. S. general hospital, I found the same complaint, and found the same remedy at the hands of Col. Woods.

After making a thorough inspection of every ward in the hospitals here (except the small pox), I went to Madison, Ind., forty miles up the Ohio river, where there is a very extensive U. S. general hospital, in charge of Major John H. Rauch. There are nearly four miles of wards here. I went through every one, and saw and talked with every Illinois soldier, and I have none but words of the highest commendation to express the gratification I felt at the perfect condition I found this institution; and, as at Jo. Holt and Jefferson, I could not elicit a single complaint of bad treatment, insufficiency of food, or neglect, from a single man. Than these three hospitals above named, there are none better, or under abler surgeons, in my opinion, in the United States.

Having thus made the rounds of the several hospitals, involving a walk through the wards of over fifty miles, including the journey to and from them, and distributed my cards among our soldiers, business commenced to flow in upon me rapidly. Since that time I have, to a great extent, been confined to my office. On Sundays I visit the hospitals, and at any other time when sent for by any soldier who can not come to me, or send for what he may want.

As being, perhaps, the best way to report to you what the nature of my business is, I will give you an extract from my journal, from the first page I open to:

"April 13, 1865. At 8 o'clock A. M., went to the hospital boat just in from Nashville this morning, with sick and disabled soldiers transferred from Nashville to this place; did them all the good I could, and then went to barracks Nos. 1 and 2 to attend to some business for Scudder and Myers; then went back to the office and worked two hours and got it cleared of applicants; then went to the Provost Marshal General's office to see about some of our boys who were in prison; who were there without any charges against them; back to my office, which I found full of men again, wanting every conceivable thing. Disposed of them satisfactorily; wrote for a pass for C. Aikens to go to Huntsville, Ala.; wrote two letters for descriptive lists; wrote to Provost Marshal General for James Newhall; wrote two letters to Provost Marshal General for information about two men in military prison at Lexington, Ky.; wrote to Adjutant General of Department for information about the discharge papers of William Garrett; wrote to Provost Marshal General for pass for H. H. Klock, who brought a letter from the Governor's office; wrote an order on Dr. Hillman for a soldier; wrote for the effects of John McDaniel, who died at Bridgeport, Ala.; sent a telegraph dispatch; wrote an application to Dr. Butterbaugh, at Clay hospital, for the discharge of David C. Dunsith, etc., etc. Besides the above, I wrote thirteen letters, gave out tobacco to probably fifty men, or sent it to them upon their orders, one of which I inclose as a curiosity to you, and it is a sample of a hundred others I have, and answered questions for a hundred men, I should think. Retired to my bed at three o'clock A. M., 14th of April."

Thus, I have been obliged to work, since I opened my office, from eighteen to twenty-one hours out of the twenty-four. I have effected a very important change in passing citizens to Tennessee. It did involve a needless expense of from eight to fifteen dollars, and a delay of from twenty-four to forty-eight hours. Now a pass is immediately granted upon my application, by special order from Major General Thomas.

There are very many instances where the immediate transfer of a soldier is highly important, in some instances even to the saving of human life, I have no doubt. By the ready accordance of his powerful assistance, Assistant Surgeon General R. C. Wood has placed the means at my disposal of effecting the special and immediate transfer of any soldier when I think it important to be done.

But it is needless for me to say what I have done or am doing; my duties are as multifarious as are the wants of man, and thus far I have tried to discharge them, with what success those whom I have endeavored to assist must say. There are now about two thousand Illinois soldiers in the hospitals and barracks in my department.

On the 1st of April I had the honor to forward to your office a list of the deaths in the hospitals here for the month of March. Accompanying this report, I send a list of all the deaths for the month of April. Were I asked what is the greatest evil which the soldier, who is away from his regiment, has to complain of, I should answer, the want of his descriptive list. I can trace more evils directly and indirectly resulting from this cause than to all others combined. Every soldier in the French army carries his own descriptive list, and there can be no doubt in the mind of any man who has seen the terrible injustice of the working of our system, but that it would be far better, on every account, were our soldiers not only allowed but required to do the same.

In concluding this report, I will say a word respecting my intercourse with the officers with whom I have had business relations. They, are, without exception, of the most cordial and pleasant character. I came here an entire stranger. I now feel that I am among friends, and their friendship has been manifested to me in all the acts of courtesy in social intercourse, and in according to me every facility to aid me in the discharge of my duties, that is possible for gentlemen to give or receive.

I will mention the names of Major General J. M. Palmer, Assistant Surgeon General R. C. Wood, U. S. A., and Capt. L. B. Folsom, Provost Marshal General, as officers and gentlemen who have earned my warmest gratitude for the invaluable assistance they have rendered me in the discharge of my duties. General Palmer remarked to me that my field of labor was an exceedingly interesting one, and that I should find a great work ready for me. And I have, indeed, found it true.

In concluding my report, I will say that if I fail in any degree in the full discharge of my whole duty to the soldier, it will be through no fault of or lack in the officers with whom I have become acquainted.

As being fitting and proper for me to do so, I will advert to the awful tragedy that has swept over America like a wave of woe. Tongue can not express the grief that weighs down the spirit, and presses on every heart that throbs for liberty. We seemed hurled backward twenty centuries to the forum of Rome, with dead Cæsar at our feet. But we mourn not the proud conqueror—an ambitious Cæsar—but the great heart, so pure and good, that a nation loved him. The mighty, changeless will that held millions of traitors in awe and dread; that wonderful intellect that has guided us in safety through seas of blood into sight of the haven of peace; we do not know our loss; we can not realize or comprehend the greatness of Abraham Lincoln. The dwellers on the mountain side can not see the mountain. When our children's children shall look back from the great plane of the future; they will see him in all the sublimity and grandeur of his colossal proportions. But we, to-day, remembering his goodness and purity, his firm will, true to the country in its hour of its peril, his honesty of purpose, the nobility of the man, can find no words to express an universal woe. In sad, in solemn silence, we bow down our heads; we weep bitter, blinding tears for thee, great heart; noble, magnanimous soul; since Washington, thy country's noblest birth. Our Lincoln—dead! A mighty nation in its grief bids thee All Hail and Farewell!

W. D. B. MORRILL.

NEWBERN, N. C., May 18, 1865.

Brig. Gen. I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General, Springfield, Illinois:

SIR:—Since my last report to you, dated April 29th, I have been operating here alone, and am happy to report, have been generally successful. I have assisted quite a number of our men pecuniarily and otherwise; but the aid that is most appreciated by them is to know that the agent is doing all he can to get them sent away from here, north and homeward.

The officers of Foster general hospital, are mostly eastern men, and I have learned with regret that there exists not a very friendly feeling between our men and the doctors in charge of the hospital. There evidently is an ill feeling between eastern and western troops; at any rate, Dr. Cowgle, surgeon in charge of general hospital at Newbern, was not sending away our men fast enough either to suit them or me. I concluded to report to Gen. Schofield in person, and see what could be done in the matter. Last Saturday, I took the train for Raleigh, and arrived there Sunday morning about 9 o'clock, the 14th inst., a distance from Newbern, 109 miles; passed through Goldsboro. Sunday as it was, I waited on the General; found him in good health. He seemed to be rejoiced to see an Illinoisian, as we were near neighbors. He spoke of Gov. Oglesby as an esteemed friend, and wished to be remembered to him. I made known my business, and gave him an idea of things as they existed at Newbern. He seemed to understand the difficulty at once, and would apply a remedy by ordering all Sherman's men not under medical treatment to be discharged on their descriptive lists, and those without a descriptive list to be sent north immediately. I came back satisfied that our men would not be detained now, as much as the doctors wished to keep them. Yesterday, Dr. Cowgle sent 350 to Moorehead City, to take a steamer for the city of New York. I went down to Moorehead City with them to put them on board the steamer; returned after night. To-morrow, the last lot will leave for Alexandria, Va.

I found quite a number of our men in different portions of the hospital that had been detained here for three months or longer, and the doctor had no idea of parting with them for some time. I talked with him, and said it was not using our boys right, they ought to have their turn with the others; but no, "they could not be spared yet," "their places could not be filled." I told him other men could learn as well as our men did. During the time these men have been in the hospital, there has been as many as ten thousand patients admitted and gone, and now but few left. I have made special inquiries in regard to Illinois soldiers in hospitals, and find after this last order, they will all be sent north, and in consequence I will leave this place in a few days, and notify you on my arrival at Alexandria. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a printed report of Illinois soldiers in the field; also, yours of the 11th inst., came duly to hand this day. I will send it to the Colonel.

I have the honor to submit this report, hoping it may prove as satisfactory to your honor as my feeble efforts have been realized by our boys.

I remain, General, your most obedient and humble servant,
B. F. BUMGARDNER.

HEADQUARTERS ILLINOIS MILITARY AGENCY,
MEMPHIS, TENN., March 31, 1865.

Brig. Gen. I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General, Illinois:

SIR:—Agreeable to your late instructions, I have the honor to forward herewith the following report:

The following Illinois troops are stationed at this post: 113th and 120th regiments infantry; 4th, 5th, 11th and 12th regiments cavalry; Co. G., 1st regiment light artillery, Co. K., 2d regiment, do. The sanitary and police condition of these regiments are good. New and comfortable barracks have been erected for their use. Water is good, and their surroundings are generally pleasant. As usual at this season of the year, sickness from malarious diseases is on the increase. For the purpose of having sick soldiers more under the immediate care of the officers of their regiments, field hospitals have been ordered. All cases of a chronic or lingering character are taken to United States general hospitals. Whole number of Illinois troops sick in field hospitals, March 18th, was 221; taken sick during the week ending March 25, 202; showing a very considerable increase. Whole number sick in field hospitals, 423. We have eight United States general hospitals at this post. Whole number of patients, (all states) this date, 2,568; of that number, 468 are from Illinois.

The above general summary shows 891 sick and wounded Illinois soldiers at this post.

The condition of the sick in general hospitals is not as good as I could wish, or as it might be, were we able to obtain articles of diet. The shipments by benevolent societies north, have been wholly, during the past three months, inadequate to the demand. Memphis, commercially speaking, is the receiving and shipping point, for sick and wounded soldiers, or "Rendezvous des Invalides," for the different army corps on and adjacent to the Mississippi river. To-day all the beds in hospitals may be occupied; to-morrow, five hundred beds may be vacant. At no time, however, is the number of patients reduced below 2,500. Scarce a day passes that the attention of the agent is not called to cases of great destitution from among Illinois soldiers. Money can be used at all times to great advantage, in relieving the wants of these brave men. It is very necessary that a military agent in the field should be able to answer all questions in relation to his state troops, as well as to judge of their wants and welfare. To facilitate his duties, and to enable him to answer understandingly, the numerous questions asked of him, I would respectfully recommend that you furnish the agents with all orders from the executive of the state and those from the war department, touching Illinois troops in the field.

The time intervening between the receipt of my late commission and your instructions accompanying the same, and the date of this report, has not been sufficient to enable me to report the condition of all the Illinois troops in the department to which I have been assigned. My future reports, however, will contain all necessary information.

I am in receipt of your communication of the 24th inst., with draft on New York for $498 75 inclosed, for the relief of Illinois soldiers in this department.

I am, General, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ILLINOIS MILITARY AGENCY,

NASHVILLE, TENN., August 31, 1865.

GENERAL:—I have the honor herewith to transmit the report of operations and expenditures in my department for the month of August, 1865.

At the close of the month of July ult., there remained of Illinois soldiers in the general hospital at Nashville, one hundred and ninety-seven, (197) belonging to various regiments, some of which regiments had been mustered out of service for some time, but the soldiers were kept in hospital because the surgeon in charge had no official knowledge that their regiments were mustered out. In this there is no blame to attach to the surgeon in charge, for he would not act on vague and uncertain reports. I at once gave to the surgeon in charge official notice from your official report to me, of what Illinois regiments were mustered out, which procured their immediate discharge, to the infinite delight of about fifty Illinois boys. I visited the hospital almost daily, looking after the wants and comfort of the sick and wounded, talking with them and giving them all the good cheer and solace I was capable of. I believe this alone was of very great value to the poor fellows, for they would brighten up and express much gratitude for the interest their state seemed to take in them by sending a special messenger to look after them.

I found most of the soldiers at the hospital entirely without money, being absent from their regiments and generally without descriptive lists; they had not been paid for many months, and some not for a year. In such cases, I gave each a dollar to buy tobacco and postage stamps, which always elicited emotions and expressions of gratitude towards their "noble state."

In obedience to the order of his Excellency, Governor Oglesby, "to visit the general hospitals in this department," I proceeded on the 10th inst., first to Chattanooga, where I found only three Illinois soldiers, and these able to be on duty at the hospital. I next visited the general hospital on Lookout mountain, five miles from Chattanooga, but found no Illinois soldiers there. I then proceeded to Atlanta, Ga., where I found thirty-two (32) Illinois soldiers in hospital—twenty-seven from the 150th, four from the 149th, and one from the 147th regiments. I found the hospital in good condition, the patients well cared for, and generally doing well. Amongst our poor soldiers here, I dispensed a good deal of cheerfulness and some little money, all of which was gratefully received.

Whilst I was at Atlanta, ten poor blacks were brought to the hospital, who had been shot and badly wounded by the "high-toned chivalry," about six miles from Atlanta. Gen. Samson, commandant of the post, at once dispatched a sergeant of cavalry to arrest the amiable perpetrators of the chivalric deed; but whether he succeeded or not, I have not learned. I opine that this people will need the mollifying and persuasive influence of the bayonet for some time. I found the white male citizens of Atlanta, reticent and subdued; mournfully, but sullenly, looking upon the desolation of the track of Mars. But the women are still violently rebellious, spitefully curling the lip and turning up the nasal organ, at our soldiers and northern ladies; it is to be hoped they will learn better manners by mingling freely with the Yankee mudsills, who are now coming plentifully among them.

From Atlanta I returned to Chattanooga, thence to Knoxville, Tenn., where I found no Illinois soldiers. I think the whole force in East Tennessee is composed of loyal Tennessee troops.

It is a pleasing spectacle to behold and contemplate, that in East Tennessee, where the people were generally loyal to the government, they have almost entirely escaped the desolations of war; the farms are in good condition, the houses and fences are unharmed, and were it not for the forts and block-houses along the line of the road, the traveler would not suspect that the country had ever heard the tread of hostile armies.

Another noticeable fact in East Tennessee, is the country is divided up into smaller farms, and cultivated chiefly by free white labor, hence the loyalty of that part of the state.

From Knoxville I returned to Chattanooga, thence to Huntsville, Ala. Here I found forty-four Illinois soldiers in hospital, forty-three from the 7th cavalry, and one from the 6th cavalry.

The 7th cavalry had been stationed at Decatur, Ala., which proved to be a very sickly point for our soldiers; some two hundred and fifty of the regiment were reported in their regimental hospital; but on the 20th inst. the regiment was removed to Madison Station, within ten miles of Huntsville, which is said to be a very healthy point.

I remained two days at Huntsville, administering heart and cheerfulness, and material aid to the sick soldiers, to the extent of my ability and discretion. Huntsville is a very pleasant and healthy place, the water is most excellent and in great abundance; atmosphere charmingly pure and healthful; hospital well conducted—the patients doing well.

The town shows but few marks of the ravages of war; but the people are said to be like those of Atlanta, greatly in need of a change of heart to become good loyal citizens.

From Huntsville I proceeded to Nashville, where I arrived on the 22d inst., having been fourteen days in visiting the various hospitals. Here I learned that some thirty Illinois soldiers were confined in military prison, (the state penitentiary,) for various military offences, such as desertion, drunkenness and insubordination, sentinels sleeping on their posts, etc., etc. I at once called on Major General Thomas, whom I found to be a most amiable gentleman, and has a most tender regard for the poor soldier. I modestly and respectfully suggested to the General that it now seemed to me proper that these poor fellows should be released, as the war was over, and they had faithfully and heroically fought for their country for three years or more, but, unfortunately, when their work was about done, and the glorious victory achieved, they had committed slight military offences, perhaps through an excess of joy and bad whisky; that it now seems to me that they should be pardoned by a magnanimous country, whose flag they had defended and maintained so gallantly. From the General's reply to this appeal, I have no doubt, that in all cases where the imprisonment is strictly for military offences, he will release them; so by my next report I hope to have the pleasure to announce that all Illinois soldiers are released from the military prison.

It will be seen by the report herewith attached, that on this 31st August, there are only sixty-three Illinois soldiers in the hospital at this place; and these are all doing well, and will soon be able to go home or to join their commands. In conclusion, I may remark, that all the hospitals I have visited are in excellent condition, and the patients are humanely and, I presume, skillfully attended.

There is a very marked improvement in the care, attention and comfort, in all the military hospitals, since the earlier part of the war.

Whilst it would be improper for me to make any invidious distinctions as to the merits of the different hospitals, for, as above remarked, all I have visited are well and humanely conducted, yet I may say, that the Cumberland hospital, at Nashville, under the superintendence of Maj. Clark, surgeon in charge, seems to me pre-eminent in all that can conduce to the well being and physical wants of the patients. Dr. Clark is a gentleman of humane and generous impulses, and has a sympathy for his patients, which is often more potent in restoring health to the poor soldier than pills and medicine. Dr. Clark (or Dr. Cloak) has been peculiarly prompt, also, in discharging and sending home all patients, where it was at all proper to do so. Such a surgeon in the army is a public benefactor.

The patients at this hospital, so far as the physical wants are concerned, and all that pertains to cleanliness and comfort, and medical attention, are much better off here than the majority of them would be at home. But still there is a great anxiety with all volunteers to return to their homes, now that the war is over, and they besiege me daily to intercede for them to go home. I administer consolation by telling them I have no doubt all will be mustered out this fall. I entreat them to be patient, faithful and obedient a little longer, and they will receive the grateful applause of their state and fellow citizens when they do come home.

It will be seen by the report herewith attached, that the chief expenditures of this month have been incurred in visiting the hospitals of this department; but I am satisfied that their visitation has been a most excellent and beneficent one, and the state an hundred fold repaid by the heartfelt gratitude of the brave citizen soldiers whose wants and necessities have been so generously looked after by the Governor of their state. Should peril again menace us, these soldiers will not be found wanting.

I herewith inclose receipts in all cases where it was practicable to obtain them. For the balance of the expenditures, I respectfully beg you to rely upon my honor.

I am, General, most respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. H. WICKIZER, Mil. Agt. for Illinois.

Brig. Gen. I. N. Haynie, Springfield, Ills.

ILLINOIS MILITARY STATE AGENCY,

MILITARY DIVISION OF THE GULF,

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Oct. 1st, 1865.

General I. N. HAYNIE, Adj. Gen. of Illinois:

SIR: I have the honor to forward to you this communication, as my report of the military agency of Illinois in this city, for the month of September, 1865.

Since my last report, no change of much importance has occurred in this department.

Herewith annexed, you will please find a report from general headquarters, containing a list of all Illinois organizations in this division, with their commanding officers, strength and station. General Sheridan has lately returned from Texas, and I have asked for a list of those regiments from Illinois that may soon expect to be mustered out of service, if consistent with military regulations.

No reply to my application for the discharge of William Githland, company B, 76th Illinois volunteers, has as yet been made, in consequence of that regiment being far off in Texas.

I am sorry to say that I am still denied access to the reports of regimental surgeons and those in charge of hospitals, in the office of the medical director in this division, by which the monthly report of deaths could be made out and forwarded home for publication.

The health of our troops in this division for the past month has been very good, excepting the prevalence of an epidemic remittent fever called "break-bone fever," which, although not fatal, is yet for several days very distressing. This fever has prevailed very extensively throughout this whole region, both officers and men being alike exposed to its attacks. As yet I have not heard of one single fatal case.

During the past month I have obtained the muster out of many of our men who were sent from the several hospitals to be forwarded to their respective regiments, to the camp of distribution. These men were all convalescent, yet feeble and still unfit to discharge the duty of the soldier.

Many men of the 36th Illinois volunteers, now being mustered out in this city, where they have been on duty for some time past, have elected to remain here, and have required my assistance in obtaining this privilege.

The number of sick in our hospitals at this time, from Illinois, does not exceed one hundred and fifteen, and are all doing well, the most of them being convalescent, and rapidly recovering their health.

The number of deaths in these hospitals the past month has been unusually small.

The United States Sanitary Commission, in this city, has this day closed its doors and ceased its operation.

Through the kindness of Dr. George A. Blake, its able, efficient and gentlemanly agent in this city, I have been supplied with many articles that will be serviceable to our soldier boys that may need them. My office is daily visited by many of them who gladly and thankfully receive them; and I only regret that the supply on hand is so small that it must soon be exhausted.

Our city will soon be crowded with our returning soldiers from Texas, and the remittance forwarded by his Excellency, Gov. Oglesby, will be just in time to meet many wants that could not otherwise be relieved. I shall endeavor to make a judicious use of it, so as to insure the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of men.

The instructions contained in the communication of his Excellency, were similar to those I had previously received from yourself, and have always been complied with on my part.

I have carefully looked after the condition of our troops, keeping them advised of all necessary information about their regiments, their rights and their treatment; seeing to their papers, their health, their transfers, their furloughs and discharges; and visiting and assisting and comforting the sick in our hospitals, and also in receiving them and attending to all their wants at my office in this city.

My application for the muster out of the supernumerary non-commissioned officers of the 11th Illinois volunteers, transferred to the 8th and 43th Illinois volunteers, has not as yet been responded to from general headquarters, but I informally understand that it has met with success, and that these men will soon be mustered out of the service, so that they may speedily return to their homes in the north.

In my last to you, of date September 20th, inst., I requested you to forward to me in this city, my salary for August and September, also my account for expenses up to that time.

The additional expenses incurred since that time have amounted to the sum of $15, which added to the previous bill, makes for the month of September, $38, as per bill rendered.

Our boys are becoming very impatient for the good time coming when they can all return to their families and their homes. When, or how long, that may be is not yet known to any of us. I think our men are subjected to a very great injustice in receiving their mileage, or in its computation by paymasters. The distance home by the shortest mail route (which is by Mobile) is about 350 miles shorter to St. Louis than by the way of the Mississippi river, which all are compelled to take. Paymasters say this is in accordance with special orders, and there is no remedy for it.

During the past month, I have received many letters from wives and friends at home, inquiring after their husbands and friends in the army. These calls have always been promptly attended to, and information returned as speedily as possible.

I am happy to say that the most cordial good feeling still exists between your agent and all the military authorities in this military department.

I have the honor to remain your obedient servant,

OWEN M. LONG,

Col. and Mil. Agt. of Illinois at New Orleans.

NEW YORK, June 30, 1865.

Brigadier General I. N. HAYNE, Adjutant General, Springfield, Illinois:

GENERAL:—I have the honor to report that business connected with the agency at this place has progressed as satisfactory during the month of June as could, under all the circumstances, be expected.

On the 14th inst., the paymaster located at the New England rooms, together with several others and a number of mustering officers, were ordered to Elmira, N. Y., for the purpose of mustering out and paying off a number of regiments returned home from the field, and rendezvoused at that place. This checked the progress which was then being made in mustering out and paying off men sent from hospitals to this city to be paid. During the temporary and partial suspension of mustering out and paying off men here, I concluded to make a trip to hospitals in some of the New England states, as I was unable to determine how far our men had been sent in that direction, having found more or less of them in nearly every hospital from North Carolina to David's Island, twenty-two miles up East river from this city. I came to the conclusion that it was important to learn that fact. I accordingly left this city on the evening of the 19th inst., and returned on the 24th. I first visited Lovell hospital at Portsmouth Grove, near Newport, R. I., where I found thirty-nine of our men. Nothing had been done by way of mustering out or discharging them, and everything looked a good deal as though the surgeon in charge and his assistants thought they had a good thing, and I found on talking with the men that they had unanimously come to the same conclusion. I very frankly told the surgeon so, and asked him why he did not proceed to discharge the men in accordance with orders from the War Department; that he had no right to retain them in hospital and make no effort to get them out. He had not even sent for descriptive lists for the men who came there without any. I told him that such a course would not be approved by the authorities at Washington or New York, and a different policy should at once be entered upon; that the men in his hospital were nearly all well and anxious to go home, and the government desired that they be sent home as fast as possible. I need not say that our men were delighted to see some one looking after their interests, and as I left the hospital to go on board the boat, the effective force of the hospital came out and gave three hearty cheers for Illinois. I acknowledged the compliment thus paid to the state, and said to them they cheered remarkably well for men on hospital rations, and bid them good-bye, determined to see that something be done at once to get them off home; or, in other words, that they get their rights. I went directly from Portsmouth Grove to Boston, Mass.; from there to Manchester, N. H., and this was the first place I found where they had not received any Illinois men. From Manchester I went to Worcester, Mass.; from there to New Haven, Conn.; then to this city. The authorities in Boston told me that the hospitals near that city were being broken up, and that they had discharged or transferred all Illinois men; hence I did not spend time to visit the hospitals near that place. The last man we had at Worcester was discharged the day I was there, and the last one at New Haven was discharged on the 13th inst. I think this trip was necessary and important, because I am satisfied much good at Portsmouth has and will result from it, and I now know just where all of our men in this part of the country are, having found a line beyond which our men had not been sent.

On my return to this city, I reported the condition of things at Portsmouth Grove hospital to the medical director, and the result was a mustering officer was at once sent there to muster out the men, and three of our men have just arrived in this city on their way home from that hospital, which shows that the good work has at last commenced.

On the 12th inst., I visited Fort Wood, on Bedloe's Island, New York harbor, and Fort Columbus, on Governor's Island, near this city. At Fort Wood I found fourteen of our men, nine of them veterans, and two have been received there since the 12th, making sixteen, the highest number at the fort during the month. At Fort Columbus I found nine of our men—seven veterans and two non-veterans. Most of these men had been at these forts for some considerable time, and the officers in charge said they could do nothing with them until they received orders from General Hunt, at New York City; that orders governing hospitals did not apply to forts.

As soon as I could get an interview with Col. Howe, President of the New England Soldiers' Relief Association, I laid this matter before him, and suggested the propriety of my writing him a letter setting forth the grievances complained of by our men in this locality, and, as he was personally acquainted with General Hunt, that he submit my statements to him, and urge action on his part to have a remedy applied to remove the grievances complained of by the men.

Col. Howe approved of my suggestion, and said he would do all he could to help the matter along; hence, on the 19th inst., I wrote a letter to Col. Howe on the subject, a copy of which is herewith inclosed. On my return from my New England trip, Col. Howe told me that he called on General Hunt and submitted my letter to him, and urged him to take some action on the subject. The result was, General Hunt wrote a strong letter to the authorities at Washington (which he read to Col. Howe), submitting or naming the grievances named in my letter, and urged that something be done to remedy the grievances complained of. Col. Howe said he left General Hunt, satisfied that something would be done in the matter at once. How much this action effected I can not definitely say, but one thing is true, all Illinois men at Fort Columbus have been disposed of since the 19th inst., and only three are left at Fort Wood, and the officer in charge said to me that they would be sent to their regiments during the coming week, they not being liable to discharge under present orders.

I was desirous to report all of our men by giving name, rank, company and regiment, but found I could not well do so, as the hospital records are being used constantly in making up papers on which to discharge men.

The following statement exhibits the progress made in getting our men in this locality mustered out, discharged, transferred, etc., during the month, and the number remaining on hand yet to be disposed of, which I trust will be satisfactory.

When I first came to this city, in May last, there was one hundred and forty-three of our men in Grant hospital, Long Island, but this hospital was broken up on the third of this month, and the men on hand transferred to hospitals at Fort Schuyler and David's Island. It will be seen from the above list that only one hundred and sixty of our men remain in this region, and that two hundred and forty-nine have been mustered out, discharged, or sent to their regiments during the month, and, as the work is going on as rapidly as ever, and the arrivals nearly ceased, and the men on hand being in good condition, it seems reasonable to conclude that our men will nearly all be away in two or three weeks, and, at farthest, the month of July will undoubtedly see them all away from this locality.

The medical director told me to-day that he would break up the hospital at Portsmouth Grove in two or three weeks at farthest, and the breaking up of the others would soon follow. This being the case, and as the New England Association take a great interest in the welfare of our men, my opinion is that it will be unnecessary to continue the services of a regular agent at this place. I therefore respectfully suggest that I be transferred to some place where my services are more needed than here, or allowed to return to Illinois, as, in your judgment, will best promote the interests of the service.

I forward herewith a statement of expenses incurred during the month; all of which is respectfully submitted.

I am, General, your obedient servant,
[Signed] HARRY D. COOK, Military State Agent.

NEW YORK, June 19, 1865.

Col. FRANK E. HOWE, President New England Soldiers' Relief Association,

194 Broadway, New York city:

COLONEL:—As an agent for the state of Illinois, appointed and instructed by the Governor of said state, to aid its soldiers in whatever pertains to their interests, and not inconsistent with the general interests of the military service of the country, I desire most respectfully to present to you some of the prominent grievances under which our soldiers are laboring at the present time, in this locality, and in their behalf, respectfully ask your hearty co-operation in securing a prompt redress of the grievances of which they complain. There is, at the present time, over three hundred Illinois soldiers in the several hospitals and forts of New York harbor. Many of these men have been in the service three years, some of them more than three years. They entered the army in the valley of the Mississippi river, in the early part of the rebellion, have served under Gen. Grant in his memorable campaigns in that valley, and subsequently under Gen. Sherman, in his wonderful campaign through the states of Tennessee, Georgia, North and South Carolina, and being worn out by constant service and long marches were from time to time placed in hospitals at Savannah, Wilmington, Beaufort, Newbern and others along the coast, thus being separated from their companies and regiments. They have, from time to time, been transferred from the aforesaid hospitals to this locality, where they now are. Some of these men are permanently disabled, from wounds received and other causes, while in the line of duty in the field; others, after proper rest, have become comparatively well. Some few are veterans, able for duty, and still they are retained in hospital, receiving only hospital rations, which are insufficient for well men, or men who have been sick or prisoners of war, and are now recovering their former appetite. Many of these men have not been home since they entered the service, and most of them have not been paid for many months; many have families, and during their absence, the hand of affliction has been laid heavily upon them; in some cases, the wife and mother have been removed by death, in many cases leaving children not only helpless, but destitute of even the necessities of life. In other cases, children have died, and the mother and wife, from the depths of her stricken heart, is writing to the father and husband, saying to him (in many cases using these words,) "now that the war is over, and the government safe, come home to us." I have seen many letters of this kind during the past month. I need not say to you, that any man fit for a Federal soldier, could fail to be deeply moved by such loving and patriotic appeals from his loved ones at home. It would indeed be very consoling, if the wife or children, or both, could be permitted to visit the father and husband, but even this, in numerous cases, can not be. The long distance to be traveled, together with an entire lack of means to defray expenses, rise up as insurmountable obstacles, and as the soldier looks at this unwelcome but stern reality, he asks "why am I detained in hospital, far from my home, with not the least possibility of doing my country any good thereby, and only adding to its already heavy burden, in the form of a national debt. Is there no way by which I can be sent home, or at least transferred to my state?" There is another class of men with different surroundings; I refer to single or unmarried men. Many of this class are well, nearly all convalescent. These men, especially from the far west, represent very generally the agricultural interest, are either farmers or the sons of farmers, under age; they say that it is near harvest, and in case they can get home, it will be greatly to their pecuniary interest, as wages will be high. In many cases fathers are writing to their sons, that unless they can get home to aid them in the approaching harvest, they will be compelled to pay two or three dollars a day for men to fill their places, while their sons are retained in the hospital under pay at sixteen dollars per month and inadequate rations. I will only name one other class, viz: veterans; they say they are willing to remain during their term of enlistment, if the government desires them to do so, and they only ask to be sent to their regiments. They say they did not enlist as veterans to serve out their term in a hospital, on sick men's rations. This class of men, that are not to be discharged under present orders, would be satisfied, if sent to their regiments: and there are many of them that are becoming debilitated because they do not receive rations necessary for well men. It is true that some of these different classes of men are being mustered out and discharged; but unless the force of mustering officers and paymasters is early increased, many of them will be compelled to spend the entire season in these hospitals.

I will close, by stating that it does seem to me that these men are entitled to earnest and immediate consideration; and having been a soldier myself, for over three years during the present war, I naturally sympathise most deeply with these men; and may I ask you to give this subject your earnest consideration, and endeavor so to represent the whole matter to the proper authorities, that these soldiers may find full and speedy relief; for I know, and all must feel, that these men are worthy of the highest consideration, and the government can not afford, neither do the men believe, that the government preserved by their patriotism and valor, will, when made acquainted with the facts, allow them to leave its service dissatisfied with the treatment and consideration received at its hands.

I desire you to understand, that although I have written this communication in behalf of Illinois soldiers, as an agent for that state, I feel that, with a few exceptions, the principles involved are of a general character, and should be so considered and acted upon.

I have the honor to be, Colonel, your obedient servant,

[Signed] H. D. COOK,

Colonel and Military Agent for the state of Illinois.

Colonel Wm. J. SEAN, Medical Director, Department of the East, New York city:

COLONEL:—I have the honor to submit for your consideration the following statement, viz: In March last, I was appointed and commissioned by the Governor of Illinois, as military agent for that state, and the Atlantic coast assigned as my field of labor. I at once accepted the appointment, and entered upon the duties of my office, commencing at Newbern, North Carolina. My instructions from the Governor, make it my duty to visit the United States hospitals along said coast, as often as I deem it necessary, for the purpose of seeing the soldiers belonging to military organizations of the state of Illinois, to ascertain their condition and treatment, and supply any necessary articles of food or clothing that may be necessary, which could not otherwise be obtained; also, to render any necessary aid I can, in regard to their records or papers, and do anything in my power, (not inconsistent with the military service of the country,) to relieve the ever recurring wants of the soldier.

I arrived in New York on the 6th of May last, and on the 8th reported at your headquarters, exhibited my authority, and was very kindly and promptly furnished by you with a general pass to visit the hospitals in your department at pleasure, in which business I have since been constantly engaged. On the 20th day of last June, I visited Lovell hospital, located at Portsmouth Grove, Rhode Island. I was met at the landing by the officer of the day, to whom I presented your pass, was conducted to the hospital headquarters, where I made known my business, and asked to pass through the wards and see the Illinois men, get their names, rank, company and regiment. Major O'Leary, surgeon in charge, was not present at the time, but an officer with the rank of first lieutenant, whom I took for his assistant, sent an orderly with me, and I commenced passing through the wards. After passing through several, an orderly came to me and said the surgeon in charge desired to see me. I immediately went to headquarters, and surgeon O'Leary said he did not know by what authority I was passing through the hospital, taking the names of the men. I told him I exhibited my pass to the officer of the day, was furnished with an orderly to go with me, and supposed I was all right. I then showed him the pass I had the honor to receive from you, and he said I could go on. I returned and passed through one or two more wards, when I was told by a ward master that he had just received orders not to give me the names of Illinois men in his ward. I again repaired to headquarters, and said to Major O'Leary, that if he said I should not take the names of Illinois men I would leave. He then told an orderly to tell the ward master to let me take the names of Illinois men. I then returned and passed through all the remaining wards. I found, in all, thirty-nine men belonging to Illinois regiments, and one Illinois man belonging to a Missouri regiment. I talked freely with the men in regard to their treatment, character and quantity of their rations, (knowing from experience that this is an important item with the soldier,) and also whether their descriptive lists were at the hospital; and answered many questions in regard to matters pertaining to their interests generally; and I must say that I never visited any place where I found such general dissatisfaction as at this hospital—it seemed to be universal. They complained of their treatment generally, and of the quantity and quality of rations furnished, and that they could get no satisfactory answer in regard to their business matters. I tried to encourage them, and told them to be patient and orderly, that I would do everything I could to get them off, and presumed that mustering out would soon commence, although at that time nothing of that kind had been done. After having a little talk at headquarters, it being by this time near sundown, and there being no means of getting away that night, I, with some trouble, made my way past the guard by aid of your valuable pass, and secured accommodations for the night at a farm house about one mile outside the lines. At seven o'clock, A. M., next morning, I passed through the hospital grounds to the boat, and proceeded on my journey. The above is a brief statement of the treatment I received on my first visit to Lovell hospital.

On Friday last, I received two letters from men in Lovell hospital, stating that although mustering out had commenced, that no Illinois men were being mustered out, and that they were told by the clerk "that surgeon O'Leary had ordered him not to make out any papers for Illinois men, as the state agent had told him he was going to have his men transferred to their state, and that he was looking for the transfer to come." One letter stated that "papers for three hundred men or more had been made out, but they will not make out any for an Illinois man." Soldiers arriving in this city from Lovell hospital, have stated that surgeon O'Leary said "the state agent had undertook to get the Illinois men out, and now let him get them out." I may have said to the surgeon, that I thought the Governor would make application to have Illinois men transferred to the state; that I had written him on the subject and thought the application would be made; but this in no way justified the surgeon in withholding from Illinois men the rights accorded to men from other states, under existing orders. It seems strange, indeed, that such a strict constructionist as surgeon O'Leary should proceed to act upon a passing remark, such as I made, as he would under a regular order, or in any way suspend the operations of any orders in his possession, for any such reason as offered.

It was under these circumstances that I decided to make a second visit to Lovell hospital, to ascertain exactly why it was that Illinois men were denied rights to which they were entitled, and which were being granted to those of other states.

I arrived at said hospital on the 8th inst., about 9 o'clock A. M.; showed my pass to the officer of the day, and went with him to the surgeon's headquarters; was introduced by him to surgeon O'Leary, who merely remarked that he would see Col. Cook in his office. I was soon notified that the surgeon wished to see me; I went in his office; he said when I was last there I violated military discipline by communicating with soldiers without first coming to headquarters, and that I talked to the men in a manner calculated to create insubordination among them. I peremptorily denied having done anything of the kind, and pronounced the charge without the least foundation, and asked him to produce the man or men that I had thus talked to, or show any conduct on the part of the men that would warrant such a charge. This he refused to do, or allow me to; but called the officer of the day and ordered him to see that I was at once placed out side the lines. He refused to allow me to remain until the boat which brought me there returned from Newport, or to take passage from the landing. The officer of the day called an orderly, who conducted me past the guard in the direction of the railroad. I was thus summarily and insultingly placed out side the lines, with a commission from my Governor, with the title of Colonel, and your pass in my pocket. Fortunately, a train of cars soon came along, enabling me to reach Newport in time to take the evening boat to Providence, from which place I returned to this city yesterday morning.

I am happy to say that numerous soldiers have arrived in this city from Lovell hospital, who state that my visit there on the 20th of June last, did much to pacify and render the men contented, much more than they had previously been.

I need hardly say that any Surgeon in charge of a hospital who properly treats the men placed under his charge, need have any fears from visits from state agents. It only becomes necessary to refuse such agents full and free communication with the men, in order that the men be denied the right to make known the abuses which are being heaped upon them.

Under all these, to me very unpleasant circumstances, I feel it my duty to protest against such treatment, as a direct insult to the state I have the honor to represent. I also owe it to the brave men from Illinois, who are being denied the rights accorded to soldiers of other states, and forbid communication with the agent of their state, sent out by the Governor for that very purpose. I also owe it to the wife and children of each of these men, and the widows whose sons are being unnecessarily and unjustly detained from their homes, and I owe it to myself as a public officer of Illinois and an honorable man.

I have the honor, therefore, most respectfully, but earnestly, to ask, through you, that the soldiers of Illinois in Lovell hospital be at once placed in possession of all their rights, and receive equal treatment, in every respect, accorded to soldiers of other states in said hospital; and such other redress for the insult thus offered the state of Illinois and its agent, as the treatment received demands.

I have the honor to be, Colonel, your obedient servant,

H. D. COOK, Military State Agent for Illinois.

GENERAL OFFICERS FROM ILLINOIS.

In schudule "K" I have made up, as far as the data in my possession has enabled me to do, a list of the general officers in the United States service from Illinois. I am satisfied the list is not complete, for the reason that official data has alone been used, whilst the great number of recent promotions by brevet, known to have been made, yet unreported and not officially notified to this office, renders it out of my power to do to all entitled to be on the list the justice they deserve; and if for the above cause names are omitted that ought to be there I shall at the first opportunity remedy the objection by making the list complete. In the meantime, I trust those officers omitted will not be disposed to regard the same as just cause of complaint.

HISTORICAL MEMORANDA OF REGIMENTS.

To preserve as far as possible, and by every means in my power, correct historical memoranda of the several regiments and independent military organizations of the state, has been deemed by me to be of the first importance. The time will come, it is believed, when everything connected with our recent military operations and organizations will be read and studied with interest; and since I foresaw that this would be regarded of no little importance, I at an early day adopted measures to secure data, at once accurate and authentic as well as complete. With this purpose, I issued the following circular, to-wit:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS, -

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, July 13th, 1865.

To the Commanding Officer — Regiment Illinois Volunteers, ———:

SIR: Now that many, and perhaps, at an early day, all of the Illinois regiments are to be discharged the service, and those organizations which have reflected so much renown upon the state are to be broken up, to be known to the future only by the history of their great achievements, I have deemed it my duty to call upon the officers who have commanded them to render me whatever aid they can, to secure beyond question, for all time, a truthful record of their deeds.

In no other way can this be so well done as by those who participated in and witnessed their achievements; and at no other time can this be so well done as now, when the events of the past four years are fresh in the memory of those most conspicuous in the Union cause.

In order, therefore, to effect this object, and thereby complete the records of this office, I have the honor respectfully to request:

1st. That you will immediately forward to this office a brief, compact history of your command since ———, embodying in the statement all the engagements, marches and movements, with all items of interest which will give the organization a merited and enduring record in the archives of Illinois.

2d. That you will forward to this office a full list of casualties in your command, made up by companies, as per printed blanks herewith furnished.

3d. That if your command, or any of your officers or men, have been in orders commended for bravery, gallantry in action or good conduct, you send copies of orders and brief histories of the same.

Believing you will take the greatest interest in thus aiding to complete a clear and reliable history of the Illinois volunteer force,

I have the honor to remain, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

I. N. HAYNIE, Adjutant General.

This circular, with blanks to be filled and returned to this office, has been sent to all the commanding officers of the troops of this state, out as well as in the service, whose address was known.

Many of them have with promptness cheerfully responded to this application; so that we now possess historical memoranda of nearly every regiment in service from Illinois; and I hope, ere long, to be able to procure the same from all, without exception.

In appendix No. 1, will be found, in condensed form, the memoranda referred to.

CAMP DOUGLAS.

As worthy of consideration and useful for reference in the future military history of the state, I have deemed it best to preserve in this report the following history of Camp Douglas, taken from the Chicago Tribune, and believed to be accurate and carefully made up.

On — day of —, 1865, Camp Douglas ceased to be a rendezvous for payment and disbandment of our state troops, and since then Camp Butler has been the only state rendezvous. In some future report I hope to be able to present the history of this camp, made by the war so familiar to all the citizens and soldiers of the state.

Its history, however, is yet incomplete, inasmuch as it will doubtless be a rendezvous so long as there remains any Illinois troops in the service.

THE REBEL PRISONERS.

Where from and where Captured—Numbers and Condition, Habits and Amusements—Attempts at Escape—The Return Home.

Some institutions exist, and pass away to be forgotten; others never die, but live eternally in the memory. They possess associations clinging around them, and entwined in every fibre of their existence, so closely allied to the interests of the community, that time only serves to mellow the interest, and clothe them with ever-growing importance. Of these, not least in the minds of the citizens of Chicago, is Camp Douglas. Called into birth by the outbreak of a wicked and causeless rebellion, it rapidly increased in importance, until it became one of the great institutions which have marked the American government as the most warlike on the face of the globe; and the nation, as a people, who would pass even through "the valley of the shadow of death," to preserve their government from foes without or "fightings within."

The camp is now rapidly passing away from the things that are. The government order for its sale has been partially executed, and by the 20th of this month the last building within the barricades will have been sold. Already many of the officers' quarters have been removed by enterprising individuals to various localities in the city, to serve for residential and other purposes, and ere long the last erection will have been taken away, the last foot of fence torn down, and the ground turned over to its original owners.

At this point then, with the occurrences of its history fresh in the memories of all, when the camp is physically going the way of all flesh, it will not be amiss to give a detailed account of the history, uses and government of our city camp.

From the commencement of the war, an urgent necessity was felt by the local authorities for a stated camp, in which regiments could be organized and stationed until under "marching orders." To meet this want was Camp Douglas called into existence. Previous to its location the various regiments being raised in this city were quartered at several impromptu camps distributed around the suburbs. Among these were "Camp Douglas," (south of the present camp,) "Camp Song," "Camp Mulligan," "Camp Sigel," "Camp Dunne," "Camp Fremont," "Camp Ellsworth," "Camp Mather," "Camp Webb," and others, named for the time, according to the fancy of the soldiers, in honor of officers or prominent citizens interested in raising the regiment. These, however, possessed but "local habitations" in the thoughts of the people, and soon passed away to give place to

CAMP DOUGLAS.

Camp Douglas was located on the ground upon which was held the Seventh Annual Fair of the United States Agricultural Society, in September, 1859, south of the then, but a little north of the present, southern limits, and just opposite the residence and last resting place of the great statesman whose name it bears. The selection of the site was made by Adjutant General Fuller, under orders from the Governor, and in its selection most careful reference was made to the many advantages it possessed for a military camp and military prison.

The camp consisted of about sixty acres inclosed, divided by inside partitions into the Prison square, consisting of twenty acres, the Hospital square of ten acres, the Garrison square of twenty acres, and the Whiteoak square, formerly used as a prison, of ten acres. Whiteoak square soon gained a popularity as being the location of the prisons for the prisoners and unruly members of the garrison, but was afterwards merged into one of the other divisions. The Garrison square was surrounded by the quarters of the officers and men, and contained a parade ground, level as a plane, and about half a mile round. This square fronted Cottage Grove avenue, and was flanked on the west and south by the Prison square. From the time of the location, the attention of the authorities was called to the necessity of erecting suitable dwellings, as quarters and hospitals, and during the subsequent years the attention of Capt. Eugene Roddin, A. Q. M. U. S. V., was occupied in effecting the necessary improvements and conveniences in the camp. The following table exhibits the number of buildings in camp, and their size, at the time of its dismemberment:

Nature of Edifice.	Dimensions.	Number.
Headquarters.....	80 by 40	1
Officers' quarters (No. of rooms).....		66
Offices	12 by 12	14

The whole of the work was performed by the prisoners, under the direction and surveillance of a competent detail of the garrison.

The hospitals, especially, were large and commodious, containing accommodations for over three hundred inmates each, and provided with all comforts for the sick.

The kitchens, also, were models of neatness and cleanliness worthy of the best regulated hotel or residence.

ITS COMMANDERS AND GARRISONS.

In September, 1861, Hon. Richard Yates, then Governor of the state, in pursuance of a law passed at the preceding extra session of the legislature, ordered the camp to be located at Chicago, and designated the counties of Cook, Lake, McHenry, Boone, Winnebago, Stephenson, Jo Daviess, Carroll, Ogle, De Kalb, Kane, Du Page, Will, Kendall, LaSalle, Lee, Bureau, Whiteside, Rock Island, Henry, Grundy, Kankakee, Putnam, Iroquois and Livingston, to constitute a separate military district, to be known as the northern district. Col. Joseph A. Tucker, of this city, was appointed commandant, and Milton O. Higgins, Adjutant. Soon after the location of the camp, the Mechanics' Fusileers, commanded by Col. Wilson, were set to work building barracks and laying out the grounds suitable for camp purposes. In October of 1861, Governor Yates appointed Lieut. J. C. Long and S. S. Boon camp instructors, and they for several months rendered efficient service.

The first troops that occupied the camp were Brackett's 9th Illinois cavalry, then numbering about seven hundred men; three companies of the Chicago Legion (51st Illinois regiment); one company of the 57th, and two companies of Hartman's dragoons. They were soon joined by the second regiment of the Douglas brigade.

In November, 1861, there were 4,222 men in camp, consisting of the following regiments and sections of regiments:

Brackett's 9th cavalry, Col. Brackett commanding—1,021 men.

Chicago Legion, Col. Cumming commanding—512 men.

National Guards, 53d regiment, Col. Baldwin commanding—202 men.

Second regiment Douglas brigade, 55th regiment, Col. Stewart commanding—974 men.

Princeton regiment, 56th, Major Page commanding—432 men.

McClellan brigade, 57th regiment, Col. Lynch commanding—184 men.

Mechanic Fusileers, Col. Wilson commanding—653 men.

German Guides, Hartman's battalion of dragoons, Col. Hartman commanding—175 men.

Lyon Color Guard, a detached company, Capt. Friedrich Kurth commanding—69 men.

Shortly afterwards, the above were joined by the Lead Mine regiment, Col. John E. Smith commanding, numbering 667 men.

In the early part of October, 1861, Col. Mulligan having surrendered to the rebel Price at Lexington, and been released with his men on parole, was ordered to Chicago to take charge of the camp, his regiment, the 23d Illinois, or Mulligan's brigade, performing garrison duty. Col. Mulligan remained in charge until early in the year 1862, when he was succeeded by Col. Tucker, who again took command, with two regiments of three months' men, and on the expiration of their term, he in turn yielded to Gen. Dan. Tyler. Toward the latter end of September of the same year, Col. Cameron, of the 65th Illinois, a Scottish regiment, having been captured at Harper's Ferry, and subsequently paroled, returned to Chicago, where his regiment was first organized, and assumed the direction of Camp Douglas. Several other regiments, or portions of regiments, which had shared the same fate, were also ordered to camp, to remain until exchanged and again fitted for active service. With these additions the garrison consisted of the 93d, 111th, 115th, 125th, 126th and 39th New York regiments, the 2d New York heavy artillery, the 39th and 60th Ohio, the 65th Illinois, part of the 12th Illinois cavalry, the 2d Vermont, Rugby's Indiana battery, an Illinois battery, and smaller portions of one or two other regiments. During the habitation of the camp by these detachments, the soldiers' quarters were burnt three or four times, though whether from carelessness or incendiarism, was unknown to the authorities. The camp was then commanded, for brief periods, by Gen. Ammen, Capt.

Phillips, and Turner, until the winter of 1862-3, when Col. DeLand, of the 1st Michigan, or Indiana sharpshooters, took command, with his regiment as garrison, the other portions of the regiments being ordered to again repair to the front. During the year this garrison was reinforced by twelve companies of the old Invalid Corps, four companies of which came on the 17th of September, 1863, from Jeffersonville, with Capt. E. R. P. Shurley, who, upon his arrival, occupied the position of Assistant Adjutant General.

On the 23d of December, 1863, upon the removal of Col. De Land, Brigadier General Orme, post commandant, assumed personal supervision of the camp. The garrison then numbered about one thousand eight hundred men. Early in the spring of 1864, the sharpshooters were, at the request of their colonel, ordered to the front, by which means the garrison was reduced to one thousand members of the Invalid Corps. About this time the corps was generally re-organized into the Veteran Reserve Corps. Into this organization the twelve companies at Camp Douglas were transferred, and other men added, making the 8th, 15th and 11th regiments of the V. R. C. The latter named regiment speedily left the city, or was merged into others, causing the garrison here to consist of the 8th regiment V. R. C., commanded by Colonel (now Brigadier General) Benjamin J. Sweet, and the 15th, commanded by Colonel Joseph C. Strong.

In August the garrison was reinforced by the arrival of the 106th Pennsylvania (hundred days) volunteer infantry, commanded by Capt. Neff, and on the inauguration of the Copperhead Convention, the guard was still further strengthened by the 24th Ohio battery, of one hundred and fifty-six men, armed with the best Parrott guns, and commanded by Capt. James Hill. The camp continued with this garrison until the 28th of October, when the Pennsylvania regiment left the city, its term of service having expired. The battery remained some months later, when it also left for other parts.

Upon the resignation of General Orme, May 22, 1864, the command of the camp devolved upon Col. Strong, though this officer was subordinate to Col. Sweet, who superseded General Orme as commandant of the post. About the middle of July, Col. Sweet removed his headquarters from No. 90 Washington street, in the city, to camp, and assumed personal direction of the garrison and prisoners. The camp continued under the active care and skillful vigilance of Col. Sweet until his resignation, in the summer of 1865. He was succeeded by Capt. E. R. P. Shurley, who was in charge of the institution until October, when he was ordered to Detroit as Acting Inspector General of the department of the Ohio. He remained there until his resignation a few weeks afterward, having served with honor in the service of the United States from his enlistment in the 26th New York regiment, April 14th, 1861. The camp was taken in charge by Capt. Phelps upon the resignation of Capt. Shurley, and he continued in charge till the famed relic of the rebellion, like the cause which called it into notoriety, "departed this life."

THE PRISONERS.

At first Camp Douglas was not a military prison. It was laid out as a rendezvous for the various regiments organizing in the city, in which they could remain until the reception of marching orders for Dixie caused them to leave for the front. As such it was exclusively used until the latter part of February, 1862, when the glorious victories at Fort Donelson brought into northern arms a number of prisoners too great to keep at the front, but highly necessary to be kept somewhere. The authorities then saw in Camp Douglas an excellent retreat for the sorrowing sons of chivalry, and accordingly, on the 21st of February, sent within its precincts three thousand two hundred prisoners of war. These were speedily followed by a second detachment of twelve hundred and fifty-nine, so that in the course of a few days, Chicago had the strongest evidences of the great rebellion brought into her midst, and her population increased by nearly five thousand unwilling residents.

As these were the first rebel prisoners of war brought into Chicago, the following exhibit of their character and derivation will not prove uninteresting:

3d Tennessee.....	422	14th Mississippi.....	303
10th Tennessee.....	430	20th Mississippi.....	449
26th Tennessee.....	69	7th Texas.....	367
42d Tennessee.....	266	2d Kentucky.....	123
49th Tennessee.....	454	Guy's Virginia Battery.....	54
50th Tennessee.....	502	Jackson's Artillery.....	34

51st Tennessee.....	17	Battalion 4th Alabama.....	35
Murray's Tennessee Battery.....	17	27th Alabama.....	138
Cumberland Tennessee Battery.....	129
Ross' Tennessee Battery.....	96	Total.....	4,459
2d Mississippi.....	464
Privates.....			4,022
Non-commissioned officers.....			350
Commissioned officers.....			77
Regimental officers.....			10
			4,459

Some few weeks after the arrival of the above, a third detachment of over two thousand men were received and likewise accommodated with quarters within the city limits, free of all charge and expense to themselves. Matters then remained in statu quo, only enlivened by the attempts ever and anon made by some discontented and adventurous spirits to break the bonds that held them, until early in May, when the victories at Pittsburg Landing and Island No. 10 again caused an influx of secessionists to our city. In the fall of 1862, the prisoners in camp could have been classified as follows:

Captured at Fort Donelson.....	5,717
Captured at Pittsburg Landing.....	736
Captured at Island No. 10.....	1,709
Received from various hospitals.....	700
Total.....	8,962

Add to these the prisoners of war captured at Arkansas Post, and the record for the year will be nearly complete. During the ensuing winter and spring, exchanges were made so freely that the prison camp became depopulated almost as rapidly as it had hitherto increased in the number of its compulsory residents, and in the course of a few months the rebels within its precincts, formerly numbered by thousands, could be readily told in less than half the number of hundreds.

Many of the prisoners were also released upon taking the oath of allegiance to the government they had wronged, though this number, during the early years of the war, when delusive dreams of victory and speedy release from imprisonment occupied the minds of many of the rebels in arms, was comparatively small. During the earlier months of 1863, some few hundreds of prisoners, originally captured at Arkansas Post, were brought to the camp. These were the only additions of any importance until the fall of 1863, when the capture of General John H. Morgan and his rebel horde, near Salem, Ohio, added nearly five thousand sons of chivalry to the fostering guardianship and care of the authorities at Camp Douglas. These men arrived in batches or detachments of five or six hundred each, and speedily accommodated themselves to the exigences of the situation, after first fully and satisfactorily convincing themselves that escape was impracticable, and when possible, only a certain forerunner of capture and greater restraint.

On the first of January, 1864, the number of prisoners confined within the camp precincts was 5,649. During the year, that number was largely increased by substantial evidences of the retrograde of the rebel Hood. Toward the latter portion of the summer and early part of the fall of 1864, these souvenirs of Sherman's glorious victories reached our city in frequent and large bodies, numbering in the whole nearly 6,000 men. In November, and the younger days of December, 1864, the number of chivalric residents was increased by some hundreds of men not captured by our victorious armies in the south, but discovered in the bosom of our own state, organizing bands to harass and attack the government under which they lived as citizens. Some were arrested in this city, whither they had come to release from confinement their equally traitorous though more manly friends in Camp Douglas. Others were subsequently captured in Coles, Fayette and Christian counties, which section seemed to be a stronghold of treason, and a rendezvous of discontented traitors. Among the most important captures of this kind was the arrest of the notorious Klingman's gang, the members of which were found armed and en route for Camp Douglas. They succeeded admirably in gaining their intended destination, but occupied a much longer time in investigating its internal arrangements than they had originally contemplated.

On the first day of January, 1865, the total number of prisoners confined in camp was eleven thousand seven hundred and eighty, (11,780) consisting chiefly of Hood's men and Morgan's raiders. The remainder included representatives of regiments from every state of the Confederacy, Tennessee being especially well represented.

During 1865, the receipts have been insignificant, and were confined wholly to the opening months, when a few stragglers were picked up and forwarded to the bourne reached by so many of their comrades before them.

In the spring, final exchanges and discharges became much more frequent. Upon the collapse of one after another of the rebel armies, and the equally rapid and regular fall of rebel strongholds, the prisoners confined in northern military prisons gave up every hope of southern victory, and almost unanimously expressed a hearty desire to "make their peace with the gods," take the oath, and return to their neglected homes. So it was with the rebels at Camp Douglas. With the exception of a few discontented ones, more stubborn or more ignorant than the overwhelming majority, they signified their more than willingness to again enroll themselves upon the side of right, and petitions to be allowed to take the allegiance vows poured in upon the camp authorities with the greatest rapidity.

During 1864, the number thus discharged was only 165, classified as follows: Representatives of Kentucky regiments, 88; Tennessee, 23; Louisiana, 8; Missouri, 9; Georgia, 6; Arkansas, 4; Florida, 5; North Carolina, 12; Alabama, 4; Texas, 4; Cherokee Indian, 1.

In 1865, the number of discharges exhibited a marked increase, "Barkis" evincing a "willingness" that almost baffled the efforts of the authorities to gratify it. In the month of May alone, eight thousand four hundred (8,400) prisoners were released and provided with transportation to their homes. This rapidity of depopulative action hardly decreased, and by the month of August, only about two hundred prisoners remained in camp, determined never to take the oath. These, also, in the course of a few days, seeing the prospect of a more uncomfortable incarceration visible, and unpleasantly near, thought better of their opinion, and gladly accepted the terms upon which their less stubborn comrades had left the scene of their imprisonment.

As the prisoners were always arriving and departing, it is somewhat difficult to tell the exact number of prisoners confined in Camp Douglas during its existence as a military prison. Many were released and again arrested, having violated their oaths, and returned to their wallowing in the mire of treason and rebellion. Some even went through the ordeal of release and recapture as many as three times, whilst very many had about time to regain their homes, when they received a call to accept the hospitality of Chicago a second time. On the whole, there have been more than thirty thousand (30,000) upon the prison roll, and of these nearly half the number were together at one time.

Of the treatment of the rebels in camp, much has been said and written, and very many falsehoods and misrepresentations published. If one should believe the rebel scribblers of the south, and the equally traitorous copperheads of the north, Camp Douglas would be conceived to have been the scene of more hellish barbarity than ever was perpetrated in Libby Prison or on Belle Isle. On the other hand, truth testifies that the chivalric visitants from Secessia were treated to more comforts than they received in their own section, many of them partaking within its limits of the first square meal they had ever seen. Of the whole number—over thirty thousand—only about three thousand five hundred died, and these did not fall victims to starvation, exposure or brutality, but died of contagious diseases brought with them, or from the results of long standing affections, which a change of climate aggravated and strengthened. Compare the above statistics with the mortality statistics of Belle Isle, where over half the number of loyal, gallant prisoners were murdered by their barbarous keepers, and then judge who, in the treatment of their prisoners, violated the laws of war and of humanity, and brought themselves under the retribution of Him who thundered, "Thou shalt commit no murder."

The rebels, when they arrived in camp from the scene of their capture, were lean, haggard and starving; when they left their comfortable and warm quarters, to return to their homes, their appearance, in every case, was changed into one of strength and health. The two or three hundred men who, in 1864, took the oath and entered the United States naval service, though originally more wretched than Lazarus, and thinner than Pharaoh's lean kine, appeared in uniform as fine a body of men as ever wore uniforms, giving rise and support to the conjecture that if the rebel authorities had fed their soldiers instead of talking to them; issuing fewer proclamations and more rations; the rebel armies would have fought better, and appeared to greater advantage when on parade, or the compulsory visitants of their conquerors.

Still, notwithstanding their general comfort and good treatment, the rebels would not be satisfied, and especially in the early part of the camp's history, were continually making efforts to break the bonds that held them. Man is an eccentric and peculiar animal. However well he is treated, if he has not been consulted in the premises, but is compelled to receive the benefits heaped upon him whether he will or no, he becomes dissatisfied and unwilling to stay. So it was with the prisoners at camp, and as long as they could, they escaped whenever opportunities offered. At first, sympathizing friends, abusing the liberality of the authorities, passed into the rebel's quarters knives, pistols or money, carefully concealed within loaves of bread, articles of food or clothing. Fat looking turkeys were discovered, on dissection, to contain revolvers, knives, or other articles not generally supposed to be a constituent of the vertebral organization. Homespun pantaloons and coats were carefully lined with greenbacks, and other devices adopted to furnish the imprisoned recipient with means to break guard, or to bribe the guard. These efforts on the part of rebel sympathizers, caused a restriction to be placed upon the privileges hitherto accorded to prisoners and their outside friends; articles of food were not accepted as gifts to rebels, except under peculiar circumstances, and then they passed a close examination: while, when clothing was accepted, the rebel did not receive it until a rigid scrutiny proved the absence of all that would tend to demoralize any guard, or assist the man to depart homewards if he once succeeded in breaking from the camp. After the destruction of this innocent little game, the rebels turned their attention eastward, and assiduously worked in burrowing ingeniously contrived tunnels from their quarters to the outside of the fence. These efforts were some times crowned with success, and once or twice in Col. DeLand's time, as many as seventy or eighty escaped at a time, though a few days generally saw most of the runaways back again. Many of these adventurous spirits struck a bee line from the camp to the nearest saloon, from which, after expending the funds necessary to convey them to Dixie, they would be expelled to the sidewalk, where they would indulge in a quiet siesta in the gutter to sleep off the effects of their libations. The commandant at camp exerted every effort to stop this burrowing propensity, such as taking up the floors of the quarters, so that the excavators could not conceal their earth, digging trenches around the camp, and other devices, which it was considered, would tend to balk the burrowers. All efforts, however, failed to attain perfect success, until the arrival of Gen. Sweet, who conceived and executed the brilliant idea of raising the prisoners' quarters on piles, elevating them six or eight feet from the ground. This at once and forever, stayed all efforts on the part of the prisoners to pursue their investigations earthward. Then to check any climbing aspirations that might exist in the minds of the rebels, Gen. Sweet replaced the fence which formerly encircled the camp, by a strong oaken barricade, twelve feet in height, and surmounted by a railed platform, from which the guard could take a good and clear view of the camp and prisoners beneath. The prisoners, at the completion of these precautions, commenced to feel that escape was one of the things which "could not be," and in consequence, with two exceptions, quietly and comfortably settled down to their prison life, and contentedly remained until the reception of the final order for their discharge.

The two exceptions mentioned, occurred in the fall of 1864, when the prisoners, having acquired some inkling of the diabolical plot outside to turn them loose upon the city, made two attempts to overpower the guard by sticks and stones, and then escape. Neither effort was anticipated in by more than forty or fifty prisoners, and both failed completely. The Johnnies again subsided and pursued, as before, the even tenor of their ways.

During their prison life, the rebels in camp occupied their time in a variety of ways, to break the monotony of the days. Some ingeniously converted bones into dice or prettily decorated rings. Others revived the games of childhood, and could be seen busily engaged in playing leap frog or marbles, with an earnestness worthy of the happiest ten-year-old.

One day, when in the prison square, our reporter stumbled across a mock trial. Two rebels had been charged with "conspiring, in violation of the laws of war, to feloniously steal and carry away," the dinner of a comrade. The offenders were arrested by mock officers, and incarcerated in an impromptu jail. Efforts on their part to obtain their release, were overruled on the ground that the habeas corpus was suspended, and as a "military necessity" they must be tried by a military commission. And so they were. The trial was conducted with the greatest accuracy and ability, the "counsel for the defense" and the "judge advocate," being all men of known legal acumen and celebrity. Upon the conclusion of the case, the court returned a verdict of guilty, and sentenced the offending wights to the severe punishment of having their heads closely shaven, which sentence, despite all expostulations and entreaties, was carried out in due form, "according to the finding of the court."

In another portion of the square was seen a faro bank in full operation, on which the "banker" had amassed the fortune of some $150,000 in Confederate currency.

Numbers of the prisoners were daily detailed for police and other work, such as building quarters, or making general improvements to the camp, in consideration of which duties, they received the—to them—ineestimable reward of tobacco.

The number of deaths in camp, as before mentioned, was very small, considering the abject, destitute and sickly condition of the prisoners on their arrival. No prisoner was ever executed for any offense, and only one shot by the guard. He had scaled the fence, and refused to stop, though ordered by the sentry. In conclusion, one fact may be cited in support of the above assertions, which proves, beyond all doubt, the humanity of the authorities. In the fall of 1864, among a small lot of prisoners, released upon taking the oath, was a Cherokee Indian and a private in a Tennessee regiment. Both left the camp in high spirits, but speedily returned, and in answer to the inquiries of the officer of the guard, asked to be allowed to return to their old quarters. The former because he could "speakee no English," and Chicagoans could "speakee no Injun." The latter because he always made it a point to stay where he felt most at home, and considering that he would receive a sorry welcome "down South," concluded to "watch the bustin' of the Confederacy" from afar.

THE MUSTER OUT AND RETURN HOME OF REGIMENTS.

The rebellion ended with the surrender of Lee and his army, and Johnston and his command, in April of this year. Our armies at the time were up to their maximum strength, never so formidable, never so invincible, and, until recruiting ceased by order of Secretary Stanton, were daily strengthening. The necessity, however, for so vast and formidable numbers ceased with the disbanding of the rebel forces which had, for more than four years, disputed the supremacy of the government over its domain. And now the joyful and welcome news was to be borne to the victorious legions that their work was ended in triumph, and they were to be permitted to "see home and friends once more."

So soon as it was determined to disband our troops, (as rapidly as possible,) information was given to this office and to your Excellency thereof, and on the 11th of May, the following dispatch was received from the Assistant Adjutant General at Washington, to-wit:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11, 1865.

Governor OGLESBY:—Please inform me, by telegraph, to what points in your state you desire regiments and companies to be sent for the purpose of discharge and payment. It is desirable that points in different parts of the state, consistent with proper accommodations and facilities, should be named.

THOS. M. VINCENT, A. A. Gen.

Several places in the state had been mentioned as convenient places for rendezvous and payment of the returning regiments. It was, however, at this time deemed best to designate but two places for said purpose, and these were Camp Douglas, near Chicago, and Camp Butler, near Springfield, Illinois. They had long been the principal camps of rendezvous of the state, and were by far the most commodious and comfortable for the purposes required, and it was confidently believed that they would answer all the purposes of the Federal authorities.

At once the reduction of the army began. The sick and wounded from hospitals were first sent to their respective states for discharge; and, by early in June, the railroads of the state extending toward the south and east from the two places named as rendezvous, were taxed to their utmost capacity to furnish transportation for the thousands of returning veterans, who, all impatient for the end of military restraint and discipline, were so anxiously anticipating the fond welcomes that awaited them every where among the people. Welcomes so nobly won and well deserved, honoring not alone those who received them, but those who so joyously reflected the gratitude and homage of the people so spontaneously bestowed upon the gallant heroes of countless victories won in the nation's cause.

Up to this time, with but little intermission, this has continued, until there have been mustered out and paid off, one hundred and forty-one regiments of infantry, sixteen regiments of cavalry, and thirty-two companies of artillery; leaving only twelve regiments of infantry, and one regiment of cavalry still in the service, as shown by schedule "F," appended hereto, and to which reference is asked. Of those regiments still in service, it will be seen that six are ordered to be mustered out, leaving only seven when this shall have been done.

By reference to schedule "B," herewith published, the date and place of muster out, and place and date of arrival at rendezvous will be shown.

Anterior to the date at which the army began to be disbanded, some apprehensions were expressed by many that the disbandment of so many men among the people, fresh from the army, and the withdrawal of all military restraint and control over them, would be productive of disorder, misrule and crime, to an unprecedented degree in the country.

Experience has proven that all such anticipations and fears were groundless; for with wonderful rapidity, the vast armies of the Union have resumed all their relations of civil life, and been absorbed amid the great body of the people. Every where they have returned to their varied peaceful pursuits, and the legions that nine months ago, in numbers, in solidity, discipline and prowess, were without an antetype in the world's history, may to-day be found in the work shop, at the bench, in the busy marts of trade, in the manufactories, and on the farm; and their members have manifested to the world, that as citizens at home, they know as well how to respect the nation's laws as they know how to vindicate them in the field against armed rebellion.

REGIMENTS REMAINING IN SERVICE.

I had hoped, for various reasons, to have been able to report to your Excellency, at the end of the year, the muster out of the whole of the troops of the state. In this I am disappointed. Every effort has been made from time to time by your Excellency, as well as by this office, to secure this result. Yet it has been deemed wise by the Federal authorities to retain some still in the field. Few as this number is, (as seen by reference to schedule "F,") it is nevertheless felt as a severe requirement of them. Great anxiety is shown by them to be ordered home, and it is believed that but few months, (may be but weeks,) will elapse, ere the last soldiers of this state will be discharged, paid off and disbanded, a consummation devoutly to be wished.

CONCLUSION.

In the preceding pages, I have attempted to convey to your Excellency, as clearly and as fully as I could, some just idea of the manner in which the duties and business of this office have been conducted, during the period now elapsed since my appointment.

So far as the more prominent duties of the office are concerned, this is not a difficult task; yet I despair of conveying to any one an accurate idea of the detail of business done. The impression seems to have gained possession of the public mind, that with the cessation of hostilities and the disbandment of the armies, the labors of this office would be necessarily much reduced. A moment's reflection will satisfy all, that this is an error, for whilst there is no longer an army in the field to be maintained, yet since the war is now at an end, the whole business of the army, left for four and a half years unattended to and accumulating, is now to be settled up, adjusted and balanced.

The mere muster out of the soldier, by no means terminates his right to demand of the state every attention to his just claims, of whatever nature against the Federal government, or the state itself. The great difficulties encountered by the soldiers in looking after their business, are more keenly realized, now that they no longer have officers to attend to it for them, as heretofore. In this way, adjusting and balancing up the business of this great war, and attending to the daily wants and numberless applications of our veterans, has the business of the office been changed not diminished.

It has been to me in the past, by no means a task to discharge these duties, but rather a pleasure, for I confess that the most gratifying part of my daily labor is to see their wants in every way satisfied, and to secure a just recognition of all their claims; and if by daily and ceaseless attention and toil, I can secure to myself the consciousness that I have faithfully done my duty to them such a conviction will constitute my highest reward. The relations I have maintained with the officers and soldiers in the field have been of the kindest character. Nothing has ever occurred, so far as I am advised, to mar or impair the harmony and confidence that should exist, and I have every reason to believe has most happily existed, between this office and the soldiers of the state, whilst in or out of the service. For the uniform kindness and courtesy always extended to me, by both officers and men, I desire to extend to them my gratitude and thanks; and I trust now, when their labors are over and their work accomplished, that their future may be as prosperous and happy as their past has been heroic and honorable.

Between this office and the Federal authorities within the state no cause has been known to exist to give rise to any other than the most pleasant personal and official relations. Brevet Brig. Gen. Oakes, Provost Marshal General of the state, I feel sure merits the highest regard and respect of the state; and I desire to return to him acknowledgments for the uniform courtesy he has extended to me, and for the many facilities he has afforded me in the discharge of the duties incumbent upon this office.

And now, in conclusion, I should do myself injustice, did I not take occasion to express my grateful thanks to your Excellency for the constant assistance rendered me, as well as the many evidences I have received of your kindest confidence. I have believed that the most gratifying return I can make to your Excellency is to deserve what has been so frankly bestowed; and no hope is more gratifying to me than that this should continue to the end of our official relations and ever afterwards.

Respectfully submitted,

I. N. HAYNIE,
Adjutant General of Illinois.

1..	This flag was transmitted to the state with the following letters: "COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, "Executive Department, Boston, May 10th, 1865. To His Excellency, Gov. OGLESBY, Springfield, Ill. : GOVERNOR: I inclose with this, a copy of a letter I received yesterday, from Rev. Dr. Lothrop, clergyman of the Brattle street church in this city, which tells its own story. Locke, who is a fine young fellow in appearance, brought it to me in person, and brought with it the silk flag, the first Union flag displayed in Richmond on the day of its capture. Upon examination, this flag appears to belong to an Illinois regiment, numbered the 13th; but of what arm of the service, whether infantry or cavalry, does not appear. It was probably hanging in Turner's office as a rebel trophy. It belongs of right, therefore, to your state, and I hold it subject to your order, content in yielding it to you, to remember, as symbolical of the common patriotism of the whole country, that the first Union flag raised in Richmond, was an Illinois flag by a Massachusetts soldier. I am, Governor, faithfully, your friend and servant, [Signed] JOHN ANDREWS, Governor of Massachusetts.
				12 CHESTNUT STREET, May 9, 1865. To His Excellency JOHN A. ANDREWS, Governor of Massachusetts: DEAR SIR:—The bearer, John F. Locke, of Somerville, a private of company E, 39th regiment Massachusetts volunteers, 5th army corps, was captured at the attack on Weldon railroad, on the 19th of August, 1864, and sent to Salisbury, N. C., where he was kept till the 20th of February, 1865, and on that day was sent to Richmond, arriving there on the 22d, to be paroled and exchanged. The day after his arrival at Richmond, he met Capt. Porter, adjutant general of his brigade, who had been left by Gen. Hays in charge of the supplies sent to Richmond for our prisoners there, and Capt. Porter wished him to remain and assist in the charge and distribution of these supplies. With this wish or order he complied, and remained at Richmond so employed up to the time of the evacuation of that city by the rebels, civil and military, Capt. Porter having in the meantime left, and Capt. Stewart, of the 146th New York regiment, taking his place. On the morning of the 3d of April, Capt. Stewart, Locke, and one soldier having passed the night in the building containing our stores, which was near Libby prison, Capt. Stewart left a little before 7 o'clock, and walked up Main street, to see what was going on, the explosions, the fires and other indications, all satisfying them the city was being evacuated. Locke was left in charge of the building. About twenty minutes after this, Capt. Stewart's servant came down to the building and said the Federal cavalry were coming in—that they were about a mile and a half off. Locke, upon hearing this, went immediately over to Libby, entered Major Turner's office, found there two captured Union flags—one silk, the other bunting—returned to the building and proceeding to the third story, hung out the Union flag from a window or doorway, before any of our troops were in sight and while there were yet straggling many rebel soldiers in the street. He claims thus to have raised the first Union flag in Richmond, and as he proposes waiting upon your Excellency with the Union flag which he took from Major Turner's office in the Libby, and wanted these facts to be known to you, I have taken the liberty to write them out in the form of this note to you. Locke has been nearly three years in the service and is twenty-one years old.

				Commending him to your Excellency, I have the honor to be with great regard, your friend and obedient servant, [Signed] S. K. LOTHROP.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, April 26, 1864.

General Order No. 5.

I In response to a call of the President of the United States, dated the — instant, twenty thousand volunteers from this state will be accepted for government service for one hundred days, provided they are offered within twenty days from this date. The exigencies of the public service require the greatest activity in the organization of these forces, and it is confidently expected that the unrivaled fame which our state enjoys will not be lessened by the indifference or inactivity of our people in meeting this pressing call of the government.

II. It is earnestly recommended that officers of militia companies immediately open recruiting offices, and, so far as possible, fill up, enlist, and re-organize their companies upon the basis prescribed by the War Department for volunteer companies, to-wit: One captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one first sergeant, four sergeants, eight corporals, two musicians, one wagoner, and not less than sixty-four, nor more than eighty-two privates.

III. These forces, when mustered into service, will be clothed, subsisted, armed and paid by the United States government. For their convenience, and to facilitate their prompt organization, they will temporarily rendezvous at the following places, where government barracks are already prepared for their reception: Camp Fry, Chicago; Camp Butler, Springfield; Ottawa, Mattoon, Centralia, Dixon, Joliet, Quincy.

Mustering officers will be assigned to duty at these camps, who will muster, subside, arm and clothe recruits on their arrival, and as soon as a sufficient number of companies arrive, they will select their company officers and be organized into regiments, and field, staff and line officers commissioned by the Governor; and in making appointment of field and staff officers, regard will be had to the qualification of the applicant, and the services rendered in recruiting such regiment.

By order of his excellency, Governor Yates.

ALLEN C. FULLER, Adjutant General.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, May 6, 1864.

General Order No. 9.

To avoid the delay of correspondence with persons in different parts of the state in relation to recruiting one hundred day men under the late call, and to promptly meet the pressing emergencies of the public service, the following regulations are published for general information:

I. No special authority will hereafter be issued to persons to recruit, but all recruits which shall be enlisted, and all companies organized by the 15th instant and ready to receive marching orders will be accepted. Enlistments will be made in duplicate on blank enlistment papers, which will be furnished on application to this office. Enlistment blanks will also be furnished for distribution to officers assigned to duty at the different camps of rendezvous in this state.

II. These troops will rendezvous at the following places: Camp Butler, Springfield; Camp Fry, Chicago; Dixon, Ottawa, Peoria, Quincy, Rock Island, Mattoon and Centralia, and in case of absolute necessity, at other places to be hereafter designated. But as there are now in the state government barracks sufficient to accommodate twenty thousand men, the general government declines to erect any more barracks.

III. Transportation will be furnished and supplies issued by Federal officers on duty at the above camps of rendezvous. They will soon be ready to furnish these supplies, and by the 9th or 10th instant it is believed they will be prepared to accommodate all.

As these supplies must first be provided at these camps, no companies will move to camp without orders, and all recruiting officers are urged in all possible cases, to fill up their companies before asking for transportation. Compliance with this request will avoid confusion. As soon as a company is full, or whenever an officer has stopped recruiting, application may be made to the undersigned for marching orders and transportation, and as soon as possible transportation will be procured and orders issued.

IV. All company officers which are elected will be commissioned unless some good reason is known to the contrary. Field and staff officers will be commissioned by the Governor, but in determining who shall be commissioned, regard will be had to the qualifications of the applicant and the services rendered by him in recruiting for the regiment. No appointments will be made of field officers until the regiments are full and mustered, and in the meantime no application for these positions will be considered.

V. On account of the great pressure of business upon this department, it will be impossible for a few days to answer all communications relating to the organization of these troops, and it is hoped that the above information will be sufficient.

By order of his excellency, Governor Yates.

ALLEN C. FULLER, Adjutant General.

ADJUTANT GENERAL
OF THE
STATE OF ILLINOIS.
FOR 1866.

REPORT FOR 1866.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SPRINGFIELD, ILL., January 1, 1867.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, RICHARD J. OGLESBY,
Governor of Illinois :

SIR:—In obedience to the requirements of law, I have the honor to submit my second annual report of the transactions and expenses of this office, together with such other matter as, under the law, I deem of interest to the state to be reported, for the year 1866.

The close of the late civil war, in April, 1865, and the policy promptly adopted by the Federal Government of disbanding at once the armies of the Republic, had caused me to entertain the hope, up to a late period of the year 1865, that all the Illinois organizations, before then in the Federal service, would have been mustered out, discharged and disbanded before the close of that year. Nevertheless, I was compelled to close my last annual report without being able to announce this result as a fact consummated.

In my report for 1865, submitted last January, will be found a schedule showing the number and character of Illinois organizations mustered out of the United States service before the date of said report, and, also, the number of organizations left in the service at that period. Since then, and as speedily as possible, those latter organizations have been mustered out of service and have been long since disbanded. In schedule "B," submitted herewith, will be found a list of said last named troops, with the date and place of muster-out of service, place of rendezvous, and date of arrival at the same.

I also submit, herewith, schedule "G," which is a statement showing Illinois organizations mustered out of the service to this date, with the number of officers and enlisted men mustered out in 1865–1866, with date of muster-out and place of rendezvous or disbandment. It will be seen, by an examination of this statement, that the number of troops disbanded with their organizations at Springfield, including all arms of the service, was: Officers, two thousand three hundred and eighty-eight (2388); enlisted men, forty-six thousand eight hundred and eighty-two (46,882). The number disbanded at Chicago, Illinois, of all arms of the service, was: Officers, one thousand one hundred and forty-eight (1148); Enlisted men, twenty thousand seven hundred and eighty-two (20,782). Disbanded in the field: Officers, thirty-six (36); Enlisted men, eight hundred and fifty-three (853).

The first soldiers of the state were mustered into service on 25th April, 1861, and the last organization disbanded June 13th, 1866. Between these two periods (five years, one month and twenty days,) must be sought the history of the military renown of Illinois. In all the great events of this wonderful period of our history the sons of Illinois have borne their full share, and now that the record is closed, ready to be written out and delivered to posterity, no citizen of the state can have cause to feel other than a just pride in reviewing the achievements of our soldiery. In all the elements of military greatness, her intrepid, dauntless and invincible sons have written for history a page as brilliant as ever has been or can be penned, and have made a record that will send down to posterity the names of her regiments, immortal as the legions that fought under Cæsar, or the phalanx that won dominion for Alexander; and whilst we, their contemporaries, remember their valor and their victories with swelling bosoms and gratitude to God that America could claim such sons, future ages will rear monuments to perpetuate their glory and tell their renown to myriads of freemen, to whom they will have bequeathed the priceless results of all their victories.

MILITIA LAWS AND MILITIA.

The seventh section of the laws under which the census of the state is required to be taken, makes it the duty of the census commissioner to transmit to this office a certified statement of the number of persons subject to military duty." In obedience to that requirement the several commissioners throughout the state have, in each of the counties, (excepting those of Carroll, Cass, Gallatin, Mason, Monroe, Morgan and Saline) made said returns. I have supplied the omissions in these cases, by procuring from the office of secretary of state the number of persons reported to that office for said counties, so as to have the report complete. It will be seen that the entire militia of the state aggregates (357,574) three hundred and fifty-seven thousand five hundred and seventy-four, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years; averaging, as near as may be, one militia man to every six of population in the state. In schedule "C," filed herewith, will be found said returns, by counties.

In my report for 1865, I briefly alluded to the fact that the present militia laws of the state, passed in 1844-5, had been long disregarded and were now out of use, obsolete and a dead letter upon the statute book. I again desire to call this matter to the attention of your excellency as being well worthy the considerate attention of the executive and legislative branches of the government. It being the province of the legislature to enact new and modify old laws, when they fail to do so it may be well to infer that they are satisfied with the law as it is. But if it is necessary to have a militia law at all (and of this it is now too late to express a doubt,) I submit that it is necessary to have one that can be executed. Indeed the question forces itself upon the legislature, as to whether they will have this great army of militia organized, or in shape, whereby they may if exigencies demand it, be speedily organized, or whether they will have them without organization or means to become so. Anterior to the time of my entering upon the duties of this office, there stood upon the records of the office nominal organizations of militia companies, in different counties of the state, which had, from time to time, before then been in existence. If any general, regimental, brigade or division organization has ever been effected throughout this state, or even attempted, this office has no advices thereof. Some of these companies, above referred to, at one time and another, had in their possession state arms; but when the volunteer troops of the state were to be armed and sent to the field, into the United States service, in 1861 and afterwards, these arms, as far as could be done, were called in under orders through the chief of ordnance of this state; and since then, as far as can be ascertained, these companies amount to organizations only in name, and it is believed that their members have entirely disbanded and pay no attention whatever to the same—such being the results produced, partly by the war lately existing and partly by the entire unfitness of the militia law to the spirit and genius of our people.

Since the beginning of your excellency's administration there has been reported to this office, and commissioned, one company of militia, called the "Immanuel Hall Cadets," Captain Albert Hall, commanding. This company was organized in the city of Chicago, and has been supplied, as I am informed, with arms by the state. The state ordnance officer's report, for 1866, not yet being made, I am not officially advised of the fact. This company was organized in March of this year, and, in the absence of any state organization of the militia, reports from the company never reached this office. A number of efforts have been made in different parts of the state, to get up organizations, but when the machinery of the law in force is once applied to them, they have uniformly disbanded and abandoned the attempt. These indications have induced me to conclude that under a proper law, companies of militia could be easily organized in many counties of the state. That it is prudent to accomplish this, I entertain no doubt, and I therefore assume and believe that legislators who desire to provide for the welfare and safety of the people will not leave a matter, that so much concerns the public interest, in the condition it now is. It should be remembered that the long failure, on all hands, to execute the present law does not repeal it or weaken the obligation upon your excellency to execute it. Some officers of the law have obligations thrust upon them, that they can not at will disregard, and these laws, if not modified to suit the present state of our people, ought to be executed as they are. Yet no one will deny that they are ridiculous, absurd, unwieldy and altogether unsuited to our present wants and to the present vast population of the state, in which there is to day more men, capable of bearing arms, than there was of population when most of the militia laws now in force were enacted. To prove how much mischief might be done or attempted, under the present law, I desire to call attention to some of its provisions. Much emphasis has been given to the fact that it will be expensive and cost something to organize the militia. That is true. It will and it ought to—else it will be worth nothing. But how is it with the present law? For twenty years part of the present law has remained on the statute books, apparently unrepealed, when, if executed, each militia man in the state could be compelled to provide himself with arms, at a cost of from ten to fifteen dollars each, and keep them ready for drill. This would cost the people ($4,000,000) four million dollars—no inconsiderable item to begin with. If thereafter an organization and discipline and muster of the enrolled forces should be ordered, the entire arms-bearing population could be compelled to devote from three to four days, each year, to company, regimental, brigade and division exercises; and if time be money the people, in this way, would be taxed to the extent of more than another million per annum. And to what good end would all this expenditure tend? None, whatever. The tenth part of this amount expended in securing military education to the youth of the country, as indicated in my last report, would result in ten-fold the advantages, in my opinion. Again, the present law divides the state into six divisions and seventeen brigades, and I have no doubt that when enacted they reached and included the entire state. It is now, however, a noticeable fact that there are thirty-seven (37) counties in the state containing (84,517) eighty-four thousand five hundred and seventeen enrolled militia men, not included in any of the six divisions or seventeen brigades. All these things need a legislative remedy, what that remedy shall be is no part of my business to suggest. The last six years have furnished arguments upon this subject more cogent, voluminous and irresistible than any I could make, and I am content to leave it to the wisdom of those whose province it is to see to the welfare of the people of the state, suggesting what has been of late abundantly established as true, that it is safest for a people, in time of peace to prepare for war. It is far more possible then and immensely more economical.

PROMOTIONS.

In schedule "D," herewith presented, will be found a list of the promotions made during the year 1866, containing date of commission, name, rank, company and regiment, and date of rank, in separate columns.

Most of these commissions were issued for promotion to officers and soldiers who were just about to be or had been mustered out of the service of the United States. No other purpose was accomplished, therefore, by these promotions, than that of securing to the returned veteran a recognition of his services to the country, and furnishing him an evidence thereof, to be kept in his own custody; and it was, therefore, deemed just, wherever it was lawfully in the power of the state authorities, to make these promotions. In nearly all the regiments there were, at the date of their disbandment, vacancies in offices, but by reason of the number of men belonging to companies or regiments being less than the minimum required to entitle officers commissioned to be mustered, officers and men were, under the United States' Regulations, not entitled to be promoted by muster into a higher rank, even though commissioned. Nevertheless, as that (the question as to whether an officer must be mustered when commissioned by the state) was a question for the United States' officers to decide, and as it might, under orders of the commanding general, be done even in cases where the company or regiment was reduced below the minimum required by regulations, I deemed it proper to decide that cases of this kind presented a vacancy to fill which the state authorities might issue a commission. It was supposed that many of them would never be mustered, yet the commission, without muster, was an honorable distinction. And since no law had authorized the state authorities to issue brevet commissions to our soldiers, it was considered but right and just to do whatever might be done without detriment to the public, and without violation of law, in recognition of the services of the soldier. In many instances I have been made to regret the want of authority to make promotions to a greater extent, and I now beg to suggest to your excellency the propriety of asking the legislature, now soon to convene, to provide, by law, for promotions by brevet to be made, and commissions issued, in all cases worthy of especial recognition. The Federal Government can not do full justice in all these cases, and the state should, therefore, have the power to do so, and thus, as far as possible, reward her sons.

EXPENDITURES FOR BOUNTIES IN AID OF RAISING TROOPS.

On the first day of January, 1866, the following circular was issued from this office, and forwarded to the authorities of each county in the state :

GENERAL HEAD-QUARTERS, STATE OF ILLINOIS,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

SPRINGFIELD, January 1st, 1866.

SIR:—It is deemed of importance to collect, as speedily as possible, from all parts of the state, accurate and authentic information, to be filed in this office, of all the various sums of money expended by each and every municipality or association of citizens of the state, in aid of the suppression of the late rebellion.

It is known that large sums have been raised and expended for this purpose throughout all parts of the state, and also that large liabilities have been incurred; and since it may be possible that some national action will be taken relative thereto, it is thought to be of very great importance to secure this information at once.

The classes of expenditures and liabilities referred to are as follows:

Amount of money paid or of debts incurred by counties, cities, villages, towns, townships, districts, sub-districts, or by any association of citizens for bounties to soldiers.

Amounts paid or debts incurred for transportation of soldiers.

Amounts paid or debts incurred for subsistence of soldiers.

Amounts paid or debts incurred for any other purpose connected with and promotive of the success of the war.

By direction of his excellency, the Governor of Illinois, it is therefore respectfully requested of each county, city, town, township, ward, district, sub-district, village or association of citizens of the state to proceed at once, through their proper authorities, to collect said information and return it to me.

Let the county authorities establish by proofs and authenticate the sums expended by counties, or for which they are liable. Let city authorities act likewise on behalf of cities. Town authorities for towns, and in case there are districts or precincts, for which there are no constituted authorities, let the citizens make up the proper proofs of expenditures and liabilities, duly authenticate the same, and transmit it to this office.

In each case of expenditure or of liability it should be particularly shown when, where, for whom and for what purpose the money was paid or debt incurred.

It is not designed to include in the above anything with reference to contributions or donations made to the Sanitary or Christian Commissions, or others of like character. Nor is information desired relative to any sums which have been refunded by the Federal Government.

In all cases it should be shown that the expenditure has not been reimbursed in any way to the person or authorities making it. And if any portion of the sums or debts incurred are not yet paid, the parts paid and unpaid should be clearly and distinctly set forth.

It is hoped that all parts of the state will respond at once to this circular.

BY ORDER OF THE GOVERNOR :

I. N. HAYNIE,

Adjutant General, State of Illinois.

At the time of issuing this circular, it was known that large expenditures of money (besides those freely given to sanitary purposes of the war) had been made in many parts of the state. Feeling that a proper record of these expenditures should be made somewhere, for future reference, and believing that it would afford another evidence of the patriotism of our people, I assumed, with the approbation of your excellency, the office of collecting this information, which in the future may serve, not only to illustrate the self-sacrificing spirit of the people, but, in case the Federal Government shall attempt to reimburse those expenditures made by the states, will afford good proofs thereof when the time shall arrive for such action.

Attached hereto, and marked schedule "H," is a list of the returns made, not only by counties, but by sub-districts or towns, as far as it could be shown.

Sixty-nine counties only have made returns, and exhibit an expenditure of ($15,307,074 48) fifteen million three hundred and seven thousand seventy-four dollars and forty-eight cents.

Thirty-three counties have not reported expenditures, and whilst it may be true, and doubtless is, that all of these counties have not by corporate and official action, made expenditures of the kind indicated in the circular, I am fully aware of the fact that most of the citizens, and I might say all of them, have expended money, in many cases large sums, for this purpose. And if, at any future period, the omission to report the same, as desired, shall operate to their loss, they can only censure themselves.

FLAGS RECEIVED.

But few flags have been returned to the custody of this office during the year 1866, the large majority thereof having been delivered before. In my last year's report it is shown that there was, at the close of that year, in the possession of this office "over three hundred" of these flags and trophies; and I have therein briefly alluded to the condition in which they are now kept, and the necessity for some additional means of security to be provided by the legislative authorities of the state. In schedule, filed herewith and marked "E," I append a list of the flags, banners and guidons received since, and which, with those hitherto reported, still remain in the possession of this office.

The importance of providing for the security of these inestimable evidences of the heroism and valor of our soldiers was brought to your attention more fully in my last annual report than I feel now inclined to do in this. So far, however, as the importance of action in this respect is concerned, I see no reason for recalling anything I may have urged in this respect a twelve months since. Indeed, the conviction of the correctness of the views then presented has been strengthened by all that has occurred afterwards, and I beg now to call especial attention to that part of my preceding annual report as well worthy the immediate, earnest consideration of your excellency and of the legislature soon to meet. So far as I can ascertain, we need anticipate but few more additions to these lists of flags, banners, guidons and trophies. Throughout the state there are numbers of them, especially of flags and banners borne by the soldiers of Illinois, but which, in various ways, and for reasons satisfactory to those who have borne them, have found their way back to the village, city, county, board of trade, or fair hands of those who originally presented them. For a long time, yet to come, it will be vain to expect that those whose affection has entwined them, whose brothers, sons, husbands and fathers bore them, and thereby made them honorable and valuable, will consent to surrender them from their own immediate possession. Nevertheless, it is no doubt better, if once adequate protection and safety is provided for them, that they be in the custody of the state, there to fill the place allotted to them and aid in making up the grand volume of history yet to be written.

MILITARY STATE AGENTS.

On the first day of January last (at the time of submitting my report for 1865) there were in the service of the state, as military state agents, the following named gentlemen, to-wit :

Col. Harry D. Cook, on duty at Washington, D. C., during the entire year, 1866.

Col. Benj. F. Bumgardner, resigned Feb. 21, 1866, was on duty in Texas, visiting hospitals, etc.

Col. Owen M. Long, resigned Feb. 24, 1866, was on duty at New Orleans, La.

It was deemed of interest to the soldiers of Illinois to keep and retain one state agent in the service, to be stationed at the Federal capital, the better to look after the interests of the late soldiery from Illinois, to whom it was considered but just to afford every aid and assistance that could be desired or afforded, consistent with law. Col. H. D. Cook has therefore been kept at Washington, upon a salary paid by the state, and has been employed, under instructions from your excellency, in rendering gratuitous aid to the soldiers of the state, their widows and orphans. At this date he is still on duty there, and so far has deserved the confidence and thanks of all for the ability, integrity, industry and zeal with which he has discharged all his duties. His office and labors, already of great magnitude, and responsibility, are daily increasing in importance. The other gentlemen above named each resigned, as stated above, and it has not been deemed necessary to appoint any one as their successors, the disbandment and return home of our soldiery rendering agents no longer necessary elsewhere than at Washington.

THE BUSINESS OF THE OFFICE.

During the current year, now closed, the labor done and required to be done has been of that character incident to the close of a great war, in which the entire population, with all their great and varied interests, have been more or less involved. Considering the vast army of soldiers sent by Illinois to the field, representing every station, business, trade or occupation in life, and remembering that almost every individual in the state is either directly or remotely interested and connected, in some way, with our military operations of the last five years, it might well be anticipated that the business of this office, though relieved by the ending of active hostilities, from the onerous labor of organizing troops for the field, would yet find ample labor in answering the daily wants of the people, and in finishing up and completing records, supplying lost rolls and placing the records, which concern the soldier, in permanent and durable shape for preservation for future use. The labor of the office has been changed in character, not ended or lessened in magnitude or in importance.

The acts of the last legislature, rendering certified copies of records and files of this office proofs in all cases, greatly increased one branch of the business, and rendered of much more importance all the records therein. Hence, while I have necessarily given daily attention to all the various applications, from those interested, for certificates or for information from the records, I have deemed it and now still deem it of great importance to have completed, as speedily as it can well be done, the records begun by me in 1865. To effect this I have retained in the office such clerical force only as the appropriation has permitted, and have devoted all the labor that the current duties of the office would permit to the completion of these records. I do not seek to disguise the fact that it will increase the expenses of this office, but I do insist that the advantages to be derived in the future, even in the reduction of expenditure, laying aside the question of justice and duty to the soldier, will more than justify the increased outlay at this time. Nevertheless, be the expense much or little, it will have to be borne, else the records of the soldier will not (because they can not) be made up as they should. Other states have done or are doing it, and when we consider the greatness of our state, the perils and hardships of the soldiers who returned, and the irreparable loss of the widow and orphan of those who came not back again, surely we may justify the expenditure required in putting upon paper a record to tell the soldiers' history. So far as I could I have not hesitated to assume the responsibility and proceed with the work, and now, if it is to be justified, respectfully ask sufficient clerical aid in the office to speedily finish this great work, which, when done, I trust will not only be a monument erected to the soldiery of Illinois, but one that will honor your excellency's administration, and manifest through you, to some extent, the gratitude felt by the people toward all their brave and heroic defenders.

As a citizen of the state and an officer of its government I feel a desire to see this work completed, and I do not hesitate to avow my determination to complete it, unless I am disarmed by legislative interference or non-action, or by your excellency's orders; for I hold it to be the bounden duty of the state to see placed beyond danger and doubt the record and reputation of each soldier that marched under its banners, from the great and world-renowned chief who headed and led our armies, to the most obscure private whose name is borne upon the rolls.

The progress made in the work has been reasonably satisfactory. Twenty-five of the most difficult regiments have been completed, and are subject to the inspection of your excellency and of the legislature soon to convene. The work on others is in progress. Indeed, I trust that they and yourself will personally examine this work, for I feel sure its character and merits need only to be understood to be valued and estimated above the mere dollars and cents which it will cost to secure its completion. The design is to have a brief yet complete succinct military record of each soldier from this state, beginning with his name, residence, time and place of enlistment, and following him through his military career until he returns home and is discharged, or if he is disposed of or lost, before his regiment or company was disbanded, to properly account for him: so that, in the end, the enlisted men and officers furnished to the United States will be balanced exactly by those disbanded at the end of the war and otherwise properly accounted for.

In completing and finishing up similar work, the expenditures of other states have been examined; and whilst many of the states have far exceeded Illinois in the sums given for this purpose, yet I do not hesitate to assert, that when these books and records, now in process of completion, shall be finished, no Adjutant General's office in America will possess a work more complete, perfect, valuable or durable.

With this conviction firmly impressed upon my judgment, I shall regard it as unfortunate to the military interests of the state to have this work now stopped, for want of legislative aid in giving to me the requisite clerical assistance. Yet, if it should be done, it will be for me to submit, as I shall most cheerfully, with the utmost deference to their decision.

From many parts of the state I have had applications, by counties and county authorities, for copies of rolls in this office and for certified lists of soldiers from the county. Great anxiety has been often manifested to get these records. In some instances the county authorities, anxious to perpetuate the history of their local soldiery, desired these records to enable the same to be written; others desired them to enable them to pay bounties to those entitled; others for many other purposes—most of them for laudable purposes, beneficial to the public.

If it had been within my power to have complied with all these applications, it would have greatly gratified me, personally. Yet, had I done so, the labors of that kind demanded, would have occupied all the time of all the clerks in the office, and left the records of the office unfinished, incomplete and imperfect; or, if the plan of allowing outsiders, agents of counties sent here, to come into the office, take charge of the rolls and make copies, had been tolerated, every desk in the office would have been occupied, and, ere this, many of the rolls, by constant handling, much defaced or destroyed. I therefore concluded to adopt as a better course for the office, the rules that the labor of completing the records for the whole state was of most importance, and the clerks would not be diverted from this to make up records for counties; but that soldiers, their widows and heirs, would be furnished with certificates from the records in all cases, and as often as they desired them for their own purposes; and, as a security to the soldier for his record here, I deemed it safest and best to allow no one access to the rolls except employees of this office. Upon these principles the business of the office has been conducted; and whilst some dissatisfaction has been expressed by county authorities, whose applications for papers to file in their offices or write history from, has been denied,—the soldiers all over the state have always, without delay, been furnished all the records and papers desired by them to enable a complete adjustment of their business claims or demands to be had and made. And, whilst I do not desire to underate the importance of having proper records of the soldiers accessible at the county seat of each county, it will be for the legislature to provide means to attain this end, and not for me to expect to accomplish it with the present force at my command.

ARSENAL AND STATE ARMS.

Heretofore it has been the practice of the chief of ordnance, who has been in charge of the arsenal and state arms, to submit his reports directly to your excellency, and thence they usually go to the office of the secretary of state. The act of the last legislature having relieved that officer of the custody of all military papers, and charged this office with all military correspondence, I have directed (with the approbation of your excellency) Col. Crowell to send his annual reports here, and he has done so. You will therefore find submitted, as part of this report, the report of Chief of Ordnance for 1866, and also exhibits for 1863, 1864, 1865 and 1866, showing ordnance and ordnance stores received, issued and remaining on hand for each of said years. My purpose in bringing these exhibits to your attention, for the years 1863 and 1864, is to clear up a supposed indebtedness existing for arms issued by the United States to this state, during the administration of your immediate predecessor.

As early as June last, 1866, I addressed a communication to Brig. General Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C., asking him to furnish this office with a statement of the arms issued by the United States to this state, under the act of congress of 1808 and 1855, providing for quotas of arms to be furnished the several states of the Union.

In reply to my letter, General Dyer, by communication, of date June 18, 1866, informed me that the state was charged in his office with

Over draft on quota for 1861, as per letter of Adjutant General Mather.....	$13 00
Value of stores charged to the state, as per letter of Governor Oglesby, of March, 1866.....	51,012 20
Total.....	$51,025 20

From which is to be deducted

Quota of 1862, due the state.....	$6,162 00
Quota of 1863, due the state.....	6,331 00
Quota of 1864, due the state.....	8,862 88
Quota of 1865, due the state.....	8,862 74
Quota of 1866, due the state.....	8,862 74
Balance overdrawn.....	$11,943 84

Accompanying this communication was a "Statement of arms, &c., issued to the state of Illinois upon the requisition of Governor Yates," amounting to ($106,125) one hundred and six thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars, which is in addition to the $51,025 20, above charged, no account being taken of the arms issued to Governor Yates in making up the statement to you in November, 1866.

If, therefore, these two accounts stand,

Illinois will be chargeable with.....	51,025 20
And addition issued to Governor Yates.....	106,125 00

Total$157,150 20

Less amount of quotas for 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865 and 1866.....	39,081 36

Balance due.....$118,058 84

It was manifest to me that here was an error to be adjusted. In order to do so I requested Colonel Crowell to submit exhibits of arms received and issued for these years, beginning with 1863, and ending with 1866, and he has done so. The explanation I make of the matter is this: The two first items charged to Governor Yates are charged,

September 30th, 1863, 3775 Austrian Rifle Muskets.....	$49,075
September 30th, 1863, 1225 Austrian Rifle Muskets.....	15,925
5000.....	$65,000

Now, from January, 1863, up to this date, Dec., 1866, Col. W. D. Crowell has been Chief Ordnance officer of the state, and has received and issued all the arms that come to possession of the state. His report for 1863 shows that he received the following arms:

Enfield rifle muskets	820
French " "	31
U. S. " "	120
English tower smooth bore muskets.....	90

Total received in 1863.....1061

Not one Austrian rifle musket among them.

Moreover, when Col. Crowell took possession of the arsenal and state ordnance there was not an arm of this kind (Austrian rifle musket) in the possession of the state. Now, it is surely far from probable that 5,000 arms could be issued to the state during any one year and still no record of it be found any where; and yet, with these returns for 1863-4-5-6, all before me, made by the officer in charge of that department, and who has all the time been charged with this duty, no such a quantity nor such a quality of arms has been received by the state at all; and, hence, it is beyond question true that these arms, if issued upon Gov. Yates' requisitions of September 30, 1863, were never delivered to the state, but went directly to arm state troops then in the United States' service, and who, of course, either during their term of service, or upon disbandment, turned them over to the United States; in which case the entire charge of ($65,000) sixty-five thousand dollars charged to Gov. Yates, is all error. In this opinion I am corroborated by Col. Crowell, who says that his office furnishes him no information of these arms at all. "But if said arms were issued as above stated, I concur," he says, "in your opinion that they were at once issued to troops being equipped for the field, and subsequently turned over by them to the United States."

The balance of the sum charged against Gov. Yates, to-wit: ($41,125 20) is thus disposed of by Col. Crowell in his report. He says,

"the remaining $41,125 20, for arms and accoutrements furnished from August to October, 1864, upon the requisition of Gov. Yates, is improperly charged, and the arms, etc., specified form a part of those debited to the state, in compliance with the request of Gov. Oglesby, in the sum of $51,012 20, as per communication of Gen. Dyer, of June 18, 1866, which fact will be clearly shown by reference to my "Return" of 1864, and those of Lieutenants Arnold and Dutton of that year.

In view of these facts, I feel morally certain that the amount of $41,125 20, charged to Gov. Yates, (being also charged to Gov. Oglesby) is an error and should be corrected at Washington.

Annexed to this is the report of Col. Crowell in extenso, to which attention is directed and requested.

The entire claim in the statement set down against Gov. Yates being thus disposed of, leaves the account, as adjusted between your excellency and Gen. Dyer, standing. As I understand that account, it is for 4,980 small arms and accoutrements.

By an examination of the returns made by Col. Crowell, it is made to appear that up to October, 1864, that number of arms had been issued to and received by Gov. Yates, and in the adjustment made by your excellency in March, 1866, these identical arms were charged to the state, for which we were debited $51,012 20. I ask now to call your excellency's attention to an error (as I conceive) brought to light by the careful examination made by Col. Crowell of the accounts of receipts and issues kept by him.

In February, 1864, forty-seven (47) Springfield muskets and one hundred and thirty-three (133) Enfield muskets (being a part of those 4,980 arms, as shown by the memoranda and vouchers kept by Col. Crowell,) were received from Lieut. Arnold, U. S. officer, by the state but they were at once turned over to Lieut. Col. Nale, of the 41st Ills. Vol. Inf., then in the United States service, who, with a detachment of said regiment, was ordered to Fayette county, Illinois, to preserve public order, etc. These arms were, by Col. Nale, pursuant to arrangements made between the state officers and Federal authorities here, turned over to two militia companies in Fayette county, (Captains Van Dorston and Mobrey), and by consent, then charged to the state. In this way the 4,980 arms charged to the state were made up and the account closed. In December, 1864, forty-two (42) Springfield muskets and one hundred and twenty-seven (127) Enfield muskets, of these arms, were returned by these militia companies to the state, as per vouchers 31 and 32, abstracts of receipts, on file in Ordnance Department, and turned over to Lieut. C. E. Dutton, as shown by vouchers 50 and 51, abstract of issues, on file in said office—thus proving that of the one hundred and eighty (180) arms received from the United States, one hundred and sixty-nine (169) were returned to them and received by Lieut. Dutton. For this number the state, in my opinion, is entitled to a deduction from the 4,980, leaving 4,800 stand of arms as the accurate and exact number to be debited to the state, instead of 4,980 as claimed by the adjustment made. In order to render this clear beyond dispute, I append “A corrected statement of ordnance and ordnance stores received from the United States for state militia,” and marked “Exhibit No. 5.” If, therefore, 4,980 muskets are debited to us at $51,012 20, 4,800 muskets (the actual number justly chargeable) would be$49,168 38

Deducting our quotas..... 39,081 36

Leaves actually due from the state$10,087 02
instead of $11,943 84, as claimed by Gen. Dyer.

If this be the just sum due from the state to the United States, on account of quotas of arms received, as I believe it is, it should be so adjusted as speedily as possible, and thereupon the correct sum ($10,087 02) be debited to the state, under the arrangement with General Dyer, which is that the balance debited to the state be set down and off-set against future quotas to become due the state under the act of congress.

These arms, together with the other ordnance and ordnance stores, shown in schedule attached to Col. Crowell's reports, now filed in this office, to be yet on hand, are stored in the state arsenal in this city, and remain now under the supervision of Col. Crowell, Chief of Ordnance, who, for his diligence, care and business capacity, deserves the confidence of your excellency and of the public.

OFFICE CHIEF OF ORDNANCE,
STATE OF ILLINOIS,
SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 15, 1866.

BRIG. GEN. I. N. HAYNIE,
Adjutant General, State of Illinois.

SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of copies of the correspondence between Maj. Gen. A. B. Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, U. S. A., Gov. Oglesby and yourself, relative to the number of arms issued to the state of Illinois and the date thereof, also, the number and kind of arms to which the state is at present entitled. Which correspondence has been referred for examination and comparison with the books and papers on file in this Department.

In compliance with your instructions I have made such examination, and find the state of Illinois stands charged with $51,012 20 for arms and accoutrements received from the general government on the application of Gov. Oglesby, for militia purposes, which amount, I presume, covers the 4,980 guns and accoutrements specified in schedule "A," furnished by this Department, Nov. 8, 1865. If such is the case I desire to offer a correction of said schedule, which you will please find inclosed herewith.

In this corrected statement of ordnance and ordnance stores received from the United States for state militia purposes, I have presented the total number of arms, etc., received by and all that should be charged to the state against quotas accruing under the act of congress, 1808, except $13 00, the amount of over draft on quota of 1861, and 200 rifled muskets, Enfield, issued to Cpts. W. F. Armstrong and Silas W. Shepherd, said arms being the property of the United States and issued upon the order of Gov. Yates. They have since been returned and Gov. Oglesby requests that the state be allowed to retain them and that they be added to the number presented in the corrected statement.

In this connection I beg leave to call your attention to certain arms and accoutrements debited to the state of Illinois, on special account, by requisitions of Gov. Yates, specified in statement accompanying the communication of Gen. A. B. Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, U. S. A., to yourself, dated June 18, 1866, from which it appears the state stands charged with $106,125 20. Of that amount $65,000 is charged for 5,000 Austrian rifle muskets, purporting to have been furnished in September, 1863. Upon examination I can find no record of these arms having been received at this arsenal during that year, and consequently can furnish no information concerning them, but if said arms were issued as above stated, I concur in your opinion "that they were at once issued to troops being equipped for the field and subsequently turned over by them to the United States." The remaining $41,125 20 for arms and accoutrements furnished from August to October 1, 1864, upon the requisition of Gov. Yates, is improperly charged, and the arms, etc., specified form a part of those debited to the state in compliance with the request of Gov. Oglesby, in the sum of $51,012 20, as per communication of Gen. Dyer, of June 18, 1866, which fact will be clearly shown by reference to my return of 1864, and those of Lieuts. Arnold and Dutton of that year. In view of these facts, I feel fully assured that the amount of $41,125 20 charged against Gov. Yates and the state of Illinois is incorrect, and the error should be at once corrected.

In conclusion, I beg leave to say I have deemed it proper to furnish complete returns of state and United States ordnance stores in my charge from January 1, 1863, to June 30, 1866, which I am compelled to accompany with certified vouchers, in consequence of the original having been filed in the office of the secretary of state, instead of the Adjutant General's, as desired.

My design in so doing is to clearly show to the authorities at Washington what disposition has been made of the stores purchased and fabricated for the general government and carried on the return as state property until June 30, 1866, when, in compliance with the request of Gov. Oglesby, instructions were received from the Chief of Ordinance, U. S. A., to transfer them to Col. C. C. Pomeroy, A. O. O., U. S. A., at this point, for transportation to Brig. Gen. Callender, commanding U. S. arsenal, at St. Louis, Mo.

I trust these returns and accompanying statements will prove acceptable and materially aid in adjusting accounts between the state of Illinois and the general government.

I have the honor to remain, very respectfully, your ob'd't servant,

W. D. CROWELL,
Col., and Chief of Ordinance, State of Illinois.

Corrected statement of ordnance and ordnance stores received from the United States for State Militia.

To understand the foregoing statement I offer the following explanation:

The stores issued to Col. I. H. Nale, as above, were worn in service and turned over to him for the purpose of repressing disturbances at or near Vandalia. This done, Governor Yates was requested to allow Col. Nale to transfer the arms, etc., to responsible parties residing at the above point, to be issued in case of future emergencies. To this he consented, provided they would organize militia companies under the laws of the state. Two companies were so organized by Captains Van Dorston and Mabray, who received the arms from, and gave receipts to, Col. Nale. Early in the month of December, 1864, they requested permission to return these arms and accoutrements and receive in lieu thereof new ones, which was granted. They returned, however, but 42 Springfield and 127 Enfield rifled muskets, together with the accoutrements appearing above, and on the abstract of receipts, under date of December 12 and 17, 1864. Said arms and accoutrements were turned over to Lieut. Dutton, as above and on abstract of issues under date of December 15 and 17, 1864.

I hereby certify that the above statement is correct.

W. D. CROWELL,
Colonel and Chief of Ordnance State of Illinois.

EXPENDITURES OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE FOR 1866.

In compliance with the law requiring me to report expenses of this office, I submit schedule "A," in which will be seen each item of expenditure for the year 1866.

The appropriation for clerk hire for the year was five thousand dollars, and for messenger, four hundred dollars. There has been expended of this sum for clerk hire, four thousand six hundred and thirteen and thirteen hundredths dollars ($4613 13) to which add four hundred dollars paid the office messenger. Total expended, five thousand and thirteen and thirteen hundredths dollars ($5013 13), leaving of this fund unexpended, three hundred and eighty-six and eighty-seven hundredths dollars ($386 87.)

In the account for stationery and printing, the first item, nine hundred and fourteen and seventy-nine hundredths dollars ($914 79) was incurred in and for 1865, and ought to be charged to that year. It was however, not returned to this office in time for last year's return. Deducting this item, the balance expended for this branch of the office business leaves justly chargeable to the current year only six hundred and twenty-seven hundredths dollars ($600 27), the other items of expenditures have been kept as low as was consistent with due attention to the public business.

Deducting the expenditure properly chargeable to 1865, the net balance chargeable against this year (1866), is six thousand nine hundred and fourteen and ten hundredths dollars ($6914 10). The item for stationery and printing, for 1865, may be explained by the fact that in the early part of that year this office was charged with all the duties incident to organizing and forwarding troops to the field, and in doing so had necessarily to incur considerable expenses for blanks, printing orders, circulars and notices, and for paper.

The appropriations, for the year 1866, for the office, are,

Clerk hire.....	$5,000 00
Messenger.....	400 00
Stationery, printing, postage, telegraph, furniture, rent, fuel, light and incidental expenses.....	7,500 00
Total	$12,900 00
This will leave after deducting expenditures of 1865 and 1866.....	7,828 89

Unexpended of the appropriation for the year..... $5,071 11

This is however liable to be reduced and should be reduced still further, for the reason that to whatever extent the business of this office and the expenses thereof have been increased by the war, to that extent it should be chargeable to the Federal Government, and make up part of our account carried to the war fund, and refunded to the state by the United States. In this class of accounts we may justly place

Salary for clerks.....	$5,013 13
Books, stationery and printing	1,515 06
Telegraph, postage and express account.....	385 48
Amounting in all to about.....	$6,913 67

Leaving only the balance of nine hundred and fifteen and twenty-two hundredths dollars ($915 22) to be charged as expenses, in addition to the salaries of myself and assistant.

If the office could be conducted with less outlay than this, I am at a loss to conceive how.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT, 1865 AND 1866.

In my preceding report I had the honor to submit to your excellency certain reasons for declining to comply with the Senate resolution, passed at the session of the legislature, 1864 and 1865, directing the publication of said report. I beg now to call attention again to that part of my former report, and see no reason for recalling any thing therein uttered. At the present time, however, it is believed that no ground exists that will longer render it necessary, on the part of the legislature to withhold an order for the publication of said report. All the volunteers furnished by Illinois are long since discharged and at home, their records in this office have been, and are being made up, and, ere the meeting of the legislature, for 1869, can be published in full, many of them expect it, and have been looking for the volumes with interest and knowing no reason for contrary action on my part, fail to understand why they have not been published ere this.

All the loyal states have hitherto published their Adjutant General's report, and this state published the reports of my predecessor, General Fuller. I assume, therefore, that the legislature, responding to the general desire and expectation of the soldiers and of the public, will authorize me to publish the report in some form. The states of Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, California, Maine, Rhode Island, Michigan and New Hampshire have about completed the publication of their reports, containing not only the report proper of the Adjutant General, but, also, the name, residence and brief record of each man furnished from the state. Other states are doing likewise; some, however, have rested satisfied to publish only the Adjutant General's report proper, leaving out the names and records of the private soldiers.

It will be my pleasure to conform most cheerfully to whatever action the legislature, with the approval of your excellency, may deem best to adopt in the premises, having full faith that the same will conform to the credit and honor of the state and her soldiery, as well as to the public good. Nevertheless, since it is no part of my nature or disposition to avoid responsibility when proper to be assumed, I desire now to place upon record evidence of the opinions and wishes I entertain relative to this matter. In all that pertains to the good name, honor, credit and renown of this State, the soldiery of Illinois have everywhere, on all occasions, fearlessly and dauntlessly done their whole duty. Four hundred battle-torn, bullet riddled and blood stained banners, delivered by them to the care of the state, is the ample evidence they offer. Surely, this is enough to prove that Illinois soldiers deserve equal attention and equal honor with those of any other state. Shall we deny this because it will cost something? I shall record my vote in the negative; and whilst I express the desire and determination to do all in my power to make up and preserve the record of these men, I hope and ask that whatever legislative aid may be necessary may be given, and I believe it will.

CONCLUSION.

The close of this, my second Report, finds us far advanced into the second year after the overthrow of the late rebellion, the cannon, musket, rifle, carbine and sabre have long since been laid down, and as gladly as they ever unslung the knapsack, the soldiers have laid aside the burdens of war and resumed their position in society as citizens.

The demoralization and criminal disregard of settled forms of law and the usages of peaceful society, so often the sequence of the disbandment of great armies in Europe, are looked for in vain here. The good, faithful, true and dauntless soldier has proven himself "in peace" a good, true, faithful, industrious, moral citizen.

In every walk of civil life and in all the business of the country the men who so lately made themselves the terror of their adversaries, and the wonder and admiration of all Christendom, are to be found with ideas enlarged, intellects made vigorous by actual experience and contact with the world, and enterprise quickened by a knowledge of their worth and power. Already the evil effects of war are rapidly giving place to prosperity and happiness, whilst the nation with its new wealth of renown, vitality and manhood is bounding forward in the pathway of greatness to meet and honor the coming centuries that are destined to witness the boundless prosperity, grandeur and power of a country in which each citizen is (a political paradox) at once a subject and a sovereign. In vain will maligners of our form of government seek in the general conduct of the men who have been disbanded from the grand army of the republic for evidence to depreciate our institutions. Too well do the American soldiers appreciate the truth that all their toils and sacrifices were made for maintenance of law now to forget obedience to it. Instead, therefore, of answering the expectations and hopes of the enemies of our government the soldiers, by becoming better men and better citizens, have rejoiced and not disappointed the friends of human liberty and self government all over the world and added thereby this last testimony to the purity and grandeur of the patriotism that made them one day a victorious army and the next, quiet citizens of the republic.

Trusting that the general prosperity and welfare of the people of the state, which has thus far marked the era of your excellency's administration may be continued, and that ample relief may be afforded all upon whom the calamities of war may have fallen.

I have the honor to remain, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

I. N. HAYNIE,

Adjutant General of Illinois.

ROSTER OF OFFICERS.

AND

HISTORICAL MEMORANDA OF ILLINOIS REGIMENTS.

ILLINOIS VOLUNTEERS.

In the war with Mexico, in 1846-7, Illinois furnished six regiments of men, as follows :

First Regiment—COLONEL JOHN J. HARDIN.

Second Regiment—COLONEL WILLIAM H. BISSELL.

Third Regiment—COLONEL FERRIS FOREMAN.

Fourth Regiment—COLONEL EDWARD D. BAKER.

Fifth Regiment—COLONEL JAMES COLLINS.

Sixth Regiment—COLONEL EDWARD W. NEWBY.

In the organization of regiments, in the late war to suppress the rebellion, it was deemed best to accord with the honor and noble memory of these regiments, and of the men who composed and led them, to leave them in the undisturbed possession, for all time, of the numbers to which they gave so much distinction. Hence the Seventh regiment was really the first in the late war, and therefore begins the list.

HISTORY OF THE SEVENTH INFANTRY.

The Seventh Infantry Illinois Volunteers is claimed to be the first regiment organized in the state of Illinois, under the first call of the President for three months' troops. The Eighth Illinois claims the same honor. The Seventh was mustered into the United States service at Camp Yates, Illinois, April 25, 1861, by Capt. John Pope, U. S. A. Was forwarded to Alton, St. Louis, Cairo and Mound City, where it remained during three months' service.

Was reorganized and mustered for three years' service July 25, 1861, by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A. Proceeded to Ironton, Missouri, and joined the command of Brigadier General B. M. Prentiss. August 23, 1861, marched to Cape Girardeau, Missouri, where it remained some time, Colonel Cook, commanding Post. The regiment went into winter quarters at Fort Holt, Ky., Colonel Cook, commanding Post. The garrison consisted of a brigade—Seventh and Twenty-eighth Illinois and McAllister's battery. General Grant commanded the District of Cairo.

Was with the reconnoitering expedition, under General Grant, in the rear of Columbus, Ky. During the battle of Belmont was sent to Elliott's Mills, just above Columbus. On February 3, 1862, embarked for Fort Henry, and on the 12th for Fort Donelson, taking part in the investment and siege of that place, February 13, 14 and 15, and was engaged in the last charge on the left of the enemy's works. At Donelson the regiment was commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Babcock, Colonel Cook commanding Third Brigade Second Division, Major General C. F. Smith, commanding. Loss three killed, including the gallant Captain Mendell of Company I, and nineteen wounded.

February 21, 1862, left Fort Donelson for Clarksville, Tenn., Major Rowett, commanding, Lieutenant Colonel Babcock absent, sick, and Colonel Cook commanding Brigade. Ordered to Nashville, and afterwards to Pittsburg Landing, where it arrived February 22, 1862. Was engaged continually, April 6 and 7, at the battle of Shiloh, under command of Lieut. Colonel Rowett, Colonel Babcock being absent, sick, and Colonel Cook having been promoted to Brigadier General on the 21st of March. Loss at battle of Shiloh—2 commissioned officers and 15 men killed, and 79 wounded.

Was engaged up to May 30th with Third Brigade, Second Division, and in center of right wing, moving upon Corinth—meanwhile having several skirmishes with the enemy. On evacuation of Corinth, May 30, by the enemy, the regiment marched to Farmington and Booneville, Mississippi, repairing roads and bridges, and returned to Corinth, June 11, 1862. At battle of Corinth, October 3 and 4, 1862, the regiment was engaged both days, entire, on right of Third Brigade, and still in Second Division. Colonel Babcock was in command. On 5th October marched in pursuit of enemy as far as Ruckerville, and returned on 10th. Loss at Corinth—2 commissioned officers and 6 men killed, and 46 wounded. Also, 21 prisoners, who have since been exchanged and returned to duty. December 18, marched to Lexington, Missouri, in pursuit of guerrillas.

April 15, 1863, marched with General Dodge's command through Iuka, Glendale and Burnsville to Bear Creek, on the Alabama Line. On 17th, deployed as skirmishers, drove the enemy from the creek, and, as soon as the cavalry had crossed, companies C and K pushed forward at a double quick in support of a battery. The remainder of the brigade then crossed, and, moving forward to Cherokee, engaged the rebels. The Seventh, on the right, killed 12 of the enemy and captured two prisoners. At dark retired, and next morning moved back to Bear Creek.

April 25, again moved forward to Tusculumbia, and the same evening to South Florence, joining the Ninth Illinois (mounted) Infantry. The next day moved with main column to Town Creek. April 28th, crossed Town Creek and drove the enemy three miles, and remained on the ground during the night with the Second Iowa Infantry. On 29th, recrossed and returned to Corinth with the command, arriving May 2. Loss, during this expedition, one man killed—accidentally shot.

May 12 to June 8, 1863, guarded railroad from Bethel to Jackson, Tennessee. June 18, mounted, by order of Major General Dodge, and the remainder of the month was scouting through West Tennessee. July 7 to 9, on scout. July 26 to August 5, on expedition under command of Colonel Rowett, of the Seventh, capturing 42 prisoners, including one Colonel and two Captains, and many horses and mules. Lost one man, accidentally killed. Again went out, together with 100 men of the Tenth Missouri Cavalry. Had several skirmishes, and captured 20 prisoners. September 26, commenced a four days' expedition with the Seventh Kansas Cavalry, Colonel Rowett in command. Had some very brisk skirmishes, and captured 30 prisoners and several horses and mules. October 4, relieved Eighteenth Missouri at Chewalla, and was again relieved on the 28th.

October 26, proceeded to Iuka. Here guarded approaches until the 6th of November, when marched to Eastport, and, crossing the Tennessee river, moved on flanks of Dodge's command, capturing horses, etc., and fighting guerrillas until November 12, when camped at Pulaski. November 17th to 19th, scouted to and beyond Lawrenceburg, capturing 30 prisoners. November 21, ordered to Corinth, and returned to Pulaski, capturing 25 prisoners. December 10, ordered on scout toward Shreve Creek and Florence, Alabama. Engaged Moreland's Battalion and captured 35 prisoners, including four commissioned officers. The enemy left eight dead upon the field, and many wounded.

Besides the above skirmishes and marches, detachments of the regiment have been constantly employed carrying dispatches, and have had many small skirmishes, captured many prisoners, etc.

December 22, 1863, the regiment re-enlisted as Veteran Volunteers, and January 7, 1864, started to Springfield, Illinois, for the veteran furlough.

[No memorandum furnished of veteran organization. Mustered out July 9, 1865, at Louisville, Ky. Arrived at Camp Butler, July 12, 1865, for final payment and discharge.]

HISTORY OF THE EIGHTH INFANTRY.

On the 25th day of April, 1861, the Eighth Illinois Volunteer Infantry was first organized for the three months' service—Colonel Oglesby, commanding. A contest for rank and seniority arose between the Seventh and Eighth, both being organized on the same day. This contest was finally ended by according to Colonel Cook the first number (Seven) as the number of his regiment, with the second rank as Colonel—Colonel Oglesby taking the second number for his regiment, with the first rank as Colonel.

During its three months' term of service it was stationed at Cairo, Illinois, where, at the end of said term, it was mustered out.

On July 25, 1861, its term of three months' service having expired, the Eighth Infantry Illinois Volunteers reorganized for three years' service.

The regiment was stationed at Cairo, Illinois, until October, 1861, when it was ordered to Bird's Point, Missouri, where it was stationed until February 2, 1862, with the exception of occasional excursions to Cape Girardeau, Commerce, Bloomfield, Norfolk, Missouri, and Paducah and Blandville, Kentucky, and joined in the feint on Columbus in January, 1862.

February 2, 1862, embarked for Tennessee river. On the 5th, met the enemy near Fort Henry and drove them. On the 11th, was in advance of attack on Fort Donelson, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Rhoads, Colonel Oglesby commanding Brigade. On the 15th, the Eighth met the enemy, who were attempting to cut their way out of the Fort, and for three hours and a half withstood the shock of the enemy, although suffering terribly. Its loss, during this time, was 57 killed, 191 wounded and 10 missing. Among the missing was Major John P. Post.

March 6, proceeded to Savannah, and a few days afterwards to Pittsburg Landing. On Sunday morning, April 6, the regiment had in line 25 officers and 453 men, and was commanded by Captain James M. Ashmore, Colonel Rhoads being absent, sick. In the first engagement Captain Ashmore was severely wounded and Captain William M. Harvey, next in rank, killed. The command fell upon Captain Robert H. Sturgess, who nobly led the regiment during the rest of the fight. Toward the close of the second day the regiment, together with the Eighteenth Missouri, was ordered by General McClelland to take a rebel battery in front, which was pouring a most destructive fire upon us. The battery was charged and taken—the gunners being killed at their posts. Loss at Shiloh—26 killed, 95 wounded, 11 missing.

The regiment went through the fatigues and dangers of the siege of Corinth, and after the evacuation was ordered to Bethel, and thence to Jackson, Tennessee, where it remained until November 10, 1862, when it was ordered to Lagrange, Tennessee. November 28, it pushed as far as Water Valley into Mississippi, and returned to Lagrange, after a long, hard march.

The Eighth was, until April 1, 1862, in the Brigade of Colonel Oglesby; at Shiloh, under Colonels Hare and Crocker; until June 1, under Brigadier General John A. Logan, Colorels John E. Smith and M. K. Lawler. At Jackson, until August 20, 1862, under Colonels M. K. Lawler and Frank L. Rhoads; since August 20, 1862, in the Fourth Brigade, Third Division, under Colonel John D. Stevenson, of the Seventh Missouri. For some time in the First Division, General McClernand; then, until evacuation of Corinth, by Brigadier General Judah, and from that time till January 1, 1863, by General Logan. The return of the army from Water Valley was caused by the capture of Holly Springs, and cutting off of our supplies.

The regiment broke camp at Tallahatchie river January 4, 1863, and marched to Grand Junction, arriving on the 9th. On the 12th, ordered toward Memphis. Camped five days at Lafayette, Tennessee, and were joined here by Colonel John P. Post, who had been a prisoner since the battle of Donelson. On the 19th January the regiment marched into Memphis, and encamped on the Hernando road.

February 22, embarked for Lake Providence, and went into camp on lake shore. Afterwards, on account of high water, moved camp to Berry Landing.

April 15, Lieutenants William P. Sitton and Thomas J. McClung and twelve men of the Eighth ran the blockade on a gun boat.

April 12, regiment went to Milliken's Bend. On the 25th started with the army, and passing through Richmond struck the river at Perkins' Landing, and crossed over on the night of the 30th. May 1, 1863, at noon, reached Thompson's Hill and commenced the fight; Captain Jones severely wounded. Marched to Utica. On the 12th, met the enemy near Raymond. In this battle the regiment did distinguished service, relieving the center, which was hard pushed, at a most critical moment, and gallantly driving the enemy. The regiment lost a brave young officer here, in Captain Frank Leeper, Company A, who fell while leading his men. On the 14th May, took part in the capture of Jackson, and on the 16th, the hard fought battle of Champion Hill. In this fight the Eighth and One Hundred and Twenty-Fourth Illinois Volunteers took a battery of six guns—horses, caissons, and all, capturing and killing artillery-men at their guns. On the morning of the 18th, crossed Big Black river, and on the 19th, drove the enemy into his works at Vicksburg. On the 22d, took part in the terrible assault on Fort Hill. During the siege our line was within three hundred yards of Fort Fisher. The interview of General Grant with Pemberton was between our line and Fort Hill.

August 21, 1863, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Josiah A. Sheetz, marched to Monroe, and returned, arriving September 3. October 12, moved with Seventeenth Army Corps, under Major General James B. McPherson, toward Canton. Near Brownsville, in a skirmish, lost two men wounded. Returned on the 18th.

The position of the Eighth, during 1863, was as follows: In the Third Brigade, Brigadier General Stevenson, until July 15; under different Colonels until September 8; Brigadier General Maltby until December 31; Third Division, Major General John A. Logan, until July 15; Brigadier General Stevenson, until August 23; Brigadier General M. D. Leggett until December 31—Seventeenth Army Corps, Major General J. B. McPherson.

The Eighth remained at Vicksburg until February 3, 1864, when it commenced the Meridian campaign, under Major General Sherman, in which it sustained its part of skirmishing and fatigue.

The regiment re-enlisted under General Order No. 191, 1863, and was veteranized March 24, 1864, when it was sent to Camp Butler, Illinois, for veteran furlough. Returning from veteran furlough the regiment was consolidated June 21, 1864.

July 1, left Vicksburg with General Dennis' command for Jackson, which place we occupied July 5. - Returning toward Vicksburg, on the 6th, met the enemy three miles from Jackson and skirmished till dark. On the following day our forces attacked the enemy, and had a severe engagement—the Eighth losing 3 killed, 21 wounded, and 2 missing.

From 29th July to September 3, engaged in the Morganzia expedition. September 3, embarked for mouth of white river, arriving September 8. Remained until October 13, and embarked for Memphis, Tenn. Remained at Fort Pickering until the 29th, and returned to mouth of White river. On 7th November, proceeded up White river to Duvall's Bluff and remained there till November 28 when again embarked for Memphis. On 20th of December, left Memphis with a force under Brigadier General M. K. Lawler, marched to a point near Moscow, and returned to Memphis December 31, 1864.

January 1, 1865, left Memphis for New Orleans, and arrived on the 4th, and were stationed at Kenneville, 15 miles above the city. February 4, moved via Lakeport and Lake Pontchartrain to Dauphin Island, where we remained until March 17, 1865. At this time the regiment started on the campaign against Mobile, crossing the bay to Navy Cove. For eight days marched through almost impassable roads to the head of Mobile Bay. On 26th camped near Spanish Fort and entrenched. Engaged in approaching the fort until March 30, losing one killed and three wounded. On 30th, ordered toward Blakely, Alabama; 31st, camped within four miles of Blakely. April 3, proceeded to rear of line of investment, doing duty in the trenches and extending saps until April 9, at which time were engaged in the charge on the enemy's works. The regiment did gallant service, and was first to plant the flag on the works in her vicinity. Loss in this charge was 10 killed and 54 wounded.

On 12th, crossed the bay and marched to Mobile, remaining there till May 26. On 27th, embarked for Lakeport. On 29th May, camped on the race course four miles from New Orleans. May 31, 1865, left New Orleans and proceeded up Mississippi and Red rivers to Shreveport, La., arriving June 9. June 16, marched toward Marshall, Texas, arriving June 17. September 1, the regiment still remains at Marshall, Texas.

On January 1, 1864, the regiment was in the Third Brigade, Third Division, Seventeenth Army Corps; May 1, in Maltby's Brigade; August, Second Brigade, First Division, Nineteenth Army Corps; December, 1864, Reserve Corps, Military Division West Mississippi; February, 1865, Second Brigade, First Division, Thirteenth Army Corps. Since June 9, it has been in Northern Division of Louisiana and Western District of Louisiana.

The regiment was mustered out of service May 4, 1866, at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and ordered to Springfield, for final payment and discharge, where it arrived May 13, 1866.

HISTORY OF THE NINTH INFANTRY.

The Ninth Illinois Infantry Volunteers was one of the six regiments organized at Springfield for three months' service. The regiment was mustered into service April 28, 1861, and ordered to Cairo, where it remained during the three months' service in a brigade commanded by Brigadier General B. M. Prentiss.

On the 26th July, 1861, the Ninth was mustered into United States service for three years, by Captain Pitcher, U. S. A. About five hundred three months' men re-enlisted for three years and on September 1st the regiment numbered about 1040 men.

September 5, 1861, the regiment was ordered to Paducah, where it passed the winter. During the winter, expeditions were made to Milburn, Mayfield, Viola, Callaway Landing, and elsewhere in Kentucky. Three hundred men of the Ninth, under command of Major Jesse J. Phillips, surprised and attacked a force of 200 rebel Cavalry at Saratoga, Lyon county, Kentucky, killing eight, wounding several and taking 36 prisoners, besides many horses and equipments.

On 5th of February, the regiment moved up the Tennessee river to Fort Henry, and was in First Brigade, Second Division, Army of Tennessee, Colonel John McArthur commanding Brigade, General C. F. Smith commanding Division. The Brigade moved up the left bank of the Tennessee river, driving the rebels from Fort Heiman and capturing all camp equipage and stores there.

February 12, moved to Fort Donelson and were engaged in that battle, with 8 companies, sustaining a loss of 35 killed, 166 wounded and 6 prisoners. The part taken in this action by Colonel McArthur's Brigade, of which this regiment formed a part, has no place in any official report of that action. His Brigade, which formed a part of General Smith's Division, was detached to the support of the First Division, commanded by Brigadier General McClernand, and was engaged on the right of our army during the fighting of Saturday, February 15, where the most severe fighting took place.

February 22, moved up the Cumberland to and occupied Clarksville. On 27th, moved to Nashville and returned March 1. March 6, 1862, embarked for Paducah and up the Tennessee to Pittsburg Landing. Disembarked 19th.

The regiment was engaged at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862, and sustained a loss on the 6th, of 61 killed, 287 wounded, and 2 prisoners. Out of 26 officers of field, staff and line, 21 were killed or wounded. The Second Brigade was commanded by Brigadier General John McArthur, and Division by Brigadier General W. H. L. Wallace.

During the advance upon Corinth, the Brigade was commanded by Brigadier General R. J. Oglesby and the Division by Brigadier General Thomas A. Davies. On the evacuation of Corinth the Division attached to the Third Army Corps, Major General John Pope commanding, pursued the retreating enemy to Booneville, 25 miles south. Remained in camp at Corinth from June 13 to August 16, 1862, and at Rienzi, 15 miles south of Corinth, until October 1, 1862. The regiment was engaged at the battle of Corinth, October 3 and 4, and sustained a loss of 19 killed, 82 wounded and 52 prisoners. After that engagement the regiment was ordered, one battalion to Danville and one to Rienzi, from whence they were ordered to Corinth, November 27, 1862. On December 13, 1862, the regiment was ordered out on a reconnoissance to Guntown, Saltillo, Tupelo and Marietta, Mississippi, marching in six days and a half, 13 miles. The Brigade, Ninth Illinois Infantry, Eighty-first Ohio Infantry, First Battalion Stewart's Illinois Cavalry, and two guns of Tanrath's Battery, commanded by Colonel Aug. Mersey, captured 78 prisoners and a large number of horses and mules.

HISTORY OF TENTH INFANTRY.

The Tenth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized and mustered into United States service at Cairo, Illinois, April 29, 1861, by Capt. Pope; B. M. Prentiss, Colonel; James D. Morgan, Lieutenant Colonel; and Charles H. Adams, Major. It was composed of seven companies of infantry and three of artillery. These companies had been at Cairo since the 20th, garrisoning the place.

The regiment remained at Cairo during the three months' service, during which time expeditions were made to rear of Columbus, in June, and to Benton, Missouri, in July.

The regiment was mustered into United States' service for three years, July 29, 1861, by Captain T. G. Pitcher, and remained at Cairo and Bird's Point during the winter, taking part in January, 1862, in the movement made by General Grant to the rear of Columbus.

March 1st, in connection with Seventh Cavalry, scattered Jeff. Thompson's guerrillas at Sykestown, Missouri, taking several prisoners and two guns. During the month it was sent to General Pope's army at New Madrid.

On night of the 12th, it advanced on New Madrid, driving in the enemy's pickets, at right shoulder shift arms, and without returning a shot. Before morning earth-works were thrown up and four guns planted, under the fire of five gun-boats and Forts Thompson and Pillow. Our loss was one Captain and two men killed. New Madrid was evacuated that night.

On night of April 7th, crossed the river below New Madrid, and intercepted the retreating forces from Island No. 10, causing the surrender at Tiptonville, of General Mackall and 2,500 men, and securing a large amount of artillery and small arms. The movement resulted in the capture of over 6,000 prisoners.

13th April to Fort Pillow; 18th returned, and passing up the Tennessee river landed at Hamburg, April 24. Took part in all the contests of General Pope's army in moving on Corinth. On the 3d and 8th of May, was under fire of the works of Corinth. After struggling through Four Mile Swamp on the 3d, had a brisk skirmish, capturing 15, and killing 30 of the enemy. Our loss, 1 killed and 5 wounded.

Was in the advance in all the movements resulting in the capture of Corinth and pursuit of enemy to Booneville.

Colonel Smith took command of the Brigade.

The regiment lay at Big Springs during the months of June and July, and 21st July marched to Tusculumbia. Thence, under General Palmer, as Division commander, marched via Florence, Athens and Columbia, to Nashville. Lost by guerrillas, five men killed. Reaching Nashville, 12th September, remained there during the blockade. Participated in the repulse of the enemy. November 5, lost 2 killed.

Assigned to Mitchell's Division, Thomas' Corps, Army of Cumberland, and remained in Nashville until July, 1863, and was then placed in Smith's Brigade, Morgan's Division, Granger's Reserve Corps.

Marched, July 20, to New Fosterville, and 24th August to Bridgeport, Alabama, via Shelbyville, Columbia, Athens, Huntsville and Stephenson. October 1st, to Sequatchie Valley, and, in connection with McCook's Cavalry Division, drove Wheeler's Cavalry from the valley.

From thence, on the 24th October, in Morgan's Brigade, Davis' Division, Palmer's Fourteenth Army Corps, to Igo's Ferry, on the Tennessee; thence to Caldwell's.

November 24th, crossed on pontoons, supporting General Sherman's attack on the left of Mission Ridge. Pursued, on the 26th, Hardee's retreating column, who were brought to bay at Chickamauga Station; captured 20 of their rear guard. Followed the retreating enemy as far as Ringold; thence moved via Cleveland, Charleston, Loudon and Morgantown, to within 15 miles of Knoxville; thence to Columbus on the Hiawassie river. Returning to Chattanooga, went into winter quarters in the rear of Rossville, Georgia.

On the 1st of January, 1864, the regiment re-enlisted as veterans. 394 men started for home January 11, 1864.

(No history of Tenth for 1864 on file in Adjutant General's Office.)

The Tenth lay at Beaufort, South Carolina, from January 9th to 13th, when it moved with the division (Mower's First Division) to Pocotaligo, on Charleston and Savannah Railroad. Remained there until the 30th, attempting, on the 20th and 26th, to cross the Salkahatchie, but failing on account of high water. On 30th, moved up on right bank of river and effected a crossing at River's bridge on the 3d, with a loss of 40 men. The Third Brigade, to which the Tenth was attached, being in the advance and losing about 125 men. The crossing was difficult and obstinately contested. The swamp, a mile wide, and with many streams to cross, the water ice-cold and from one to five feet deep. We were in it from 7 A. M. till dark.

General Howard, who was present, pronounced it "the best thing of the war."

The regiment marched to Midway, on the Augusta and Charleston Railroad. 9th, crossed South Edisto at Binicker's bridge, throwing a pontoon over in the face of the enemy, and wading, after dark, over one-third of a mile through the "lake," took the position of the enemy in the flank, drove them from their entrenchments and captured several prisoners and one caisson.

Passing with the army through Orangeburg to Columbia, Winnsboro and Cheraw, skirmishing and destroying railroad, thence to Fayetteville on 11th March. There the regiment was detached to lay pontoon over Cape Fear River, which was done and lodgment effected for a brigade on opposite bank. The enemy's cavalry was driven back with a loss to them of one Lieutenant and five men killed. Thence, with renewed skirmishing, we pushed toward Goldsboro, and when the Fourteenth Corps was attacked at Bentonville, we joined it by a forced night march, and took part in the battle of the 20th and 21st. On the latter day our division, with the Sixty-fourth Illinois Sharpshooters on the skirmish line, got in on Johnson's rear and captured part of his headquarters' material. Our division successfully resisted the attack of Hardee's whole corps. The loss of the regiment on this occasion was about 60, and of the brigade, over 100, being one-fourth of the loss of the whole Army of the Tennessee.

The enemy evacuating during the night, the next day we moved to Goldsboro, thence to Raleigh. After Johnson's surrender, to Richmond, Fredericksburg and Washington, where we participated in the grand review.

Proceeded on the 4th of June to Louisville, Kentucky. Mustered out of United States' service July 4, 1865, and received final discharge and pay, July 11, 1865, at Chicago, Illinois.

During this campaign the regiment was commanded by Lieutenant Colonel David Gillespie. Third Brigade by Brevet Brigadier General Tillson. First Division by Major General J. A. Mower, until Goldsboro, and afterwards by Brevet Major General M. F. Force. Seventeenth Army Corps, Major General Frank P. Blair commanding. Army of the Tennessee, Major General O. O. Howard, commanding.

HISTORY OF TWELFTH INFANTRY.

The Twelfth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was mustered into the United States service for three years August 1, 1861. The regiment remained at Cairo, where it was organized, until September 5, 1861, when, with the Ninth Illinois Infantry, it moved up to and occupied Paducah, being the first Union troops there.

With the exception of occasional expeditions, the Twelfth lay at Paducah until February 5, 1862. Four companies, however, occupying Smithland, Kentucky, until January 25, 1862—Lieutenant Colonel Chetlain commanding Post. Were engaged in the demonstration against Columbus, Kentucky, forty-six miles from Paducah, during the Belmont battle. In January were engaged in a reconnoissance in force towards Fort Donelson, Tennessee.

February 5, embarked for Fort Henry; moved up left bank and occupied Fort Heiman. Remained at Fort Heiman until February 12, when proceeded to Fort Donelson.

Endured the cold and snow and hunger and fatigue of the Fort Donelson battle; formed with the Ninth and Forty-first Illinois, McArthur's Brigade, which suffered so terribly, but fought so nobly on the 15th of February. Loss, 19 killed, 58 wounded, and 10 missing.

February 22, moved to Clarksville, Tennessee, and occupied Fort Sevier. February 26, moved to Nashville. Returned to Clarksville, March 1. Sixth embarked for Pittsburg Landing. Went into camp 19th.

Took part in the terrible battle of Shiloh, being engaged nearly all the time of the two days. Colonel Chetlain commanded the regiment, the 6th, but he being injured by a fall from his horse, Major Hugunin commanded on the 7th. Regimental loss, 109 killed and wounded, and seven missing.

April 28th, moved with the army on Corinth; was engaged in the siege of Corinth, doing its share of picket and fatigue duty, extending saps, etc. After the evacuation the regiment was sent with General Pope in pursuit of the enemy. Lay at Booneville six days and then returned to Corinth. The regiment remained at Corinth until the middle of September. During the approach on Corinth were in Second Brigade, Second Division Army of Tennessee. Brigadier General Thomas A. Davies, commanding division; Brigadier General R. J. Oglesby, brigade, and Colonel Chetlain, regiment.

On the 16th September moved to near Iuka. Were not engaged in the battle of Iuka. On the 19th moved to Burnsville, where it remained till October 2.

October 3 and 4, were engaged in battle of Corinth. The division (second) Gen. Davies, and the sixth division, General McArthur, fought nearly the whole rebel army. The losses were very heavy, and the fighting most desperate. On the 4th, "Powell's Battery," which we were supporting, was captured by the enemy in a charge, but was almost immediately retaken. In this affair the Twelfth took a very conspicuous and brilliant part. Supported by a small part of the Fiftieth and Fifty-second Illinois infantry, they drove the enemy from the works, capturing a stand of colors, and turned the guns of the battery on the enemy. The division lost more than half of the men that were lost during the day. The regiment losing 17 killed, 80 wounded, and 15 missing. Captain Guy C. Ward, acting major, was killed, and brigade commander, General Oglesby, severely wounded. Remained at Corinth until January 24th, 1863, when it was sent as train guard to Hamburg and returned.

April 12. The enemy attacked Glendale, an out-post twelve miles from Corinth. The regiment, 225 strong, in command of Major Huguin, was ordered as re-inforcement. On arriving, they found that the Sixty-fourth Illinois "Yates' Sharp Shooters," had repulsed the attack, and they returned to Corinth. The regiment was now in left wing Sixteenth Army Corps, Major General R. J. Oglesby commanding.

June 6, 1863, moved to Pocahtontas, Tennessee, to guard railroad, where they remained until 29th October, when left wing being attached to Fifteenth Corps, Major General W. T. Sherman commanding, they moved as rear guard, via Corinth, Iuka, crossing Tennessee river at Eastport—Lauderdale, Alabama, destroying an immense cotton factory, to Pulaski, Tennessee, arriving November 12. Here left wing remained, Fifteenth Army Corps going on to Chattanooga and battle of Missionary Ridge.

November 13, went as wagon guard with Second Iowa Infantry to near Columbia, Tennessee, and returned.

November 25. Ordered to Richland Station, Nashville and Decatur Railroad, to guard railroad, where they remained about two months, doing duty, foraging, etc.

December 29. Colonel Chetlain appointed Brigadier General.

January 16, 1864. Regiment re-enlisted as veterans.

January 18. 311 men and 24 officers started for Camp Butler, Illinois, on veteran furlough. The remainder, about 90 men, remaining under command of Captain J. D. Townner.

March 18. Having re-organized at Camp Fry, Chicago, Illinois, the Twelfth proceeded to Pulaski, Tennessee.

April 28. Marched to Larkinsville, and thence by rail to Chattanooga. Started on the campaign 9th May, and from that time till the fall of Atlanta, was actively engaged. Was in second brigade second division left wing Sixteenth Army Corps, Colonel Aug. Mersey commanding brigade; Brigadier General T. W. Sweeney commanding division; Brigadier General G. M. Dodge commanding left wing; Major General J. B. McPherson commanding department and Army of Tennessee.

August 27. Moved out from works in the movement around Atlanta, compelling its fall.

September 1. Assisted in repulsing attack of the enemy on right of Fifteenth and left of Sixteenth Army Corps. They were soon flanked out of their position, leaving a "Blakesley gun," English manufacture, in our possession.

10th. With Sixty-sixth Illinois, were sent to burn railroad bridge over Little Ogeechee, but it was burned by enemy on our approach. Until 17th the regiment was stationed in different places on the line around Savannah, when it was detailed to guard the prisoners taken at Fort McAllister and on the march and to take them to Hilton Head.

Regimental Band mustered out June 13, 1862.

HISTORY OF FOURTEENTH INFANTRY.

This regiment was first called into the state service for thirty days, under the "Ten Regiment Bill." It rendezvoused at Jacksonville, Illinois, and was mustered into the service of the state for thirty days on the 4th of May, 1861. On the 25th of the same month it was mustered into the United States' service for three years, by Captain Pitcher, U. S. A.

The regiment remained at Camp Duncan, Jacksonville, until the latter part of June, for instruction; then proceeded to Quincy, Illinois, and from thence to Missouri, July 5, where, in connection with the Sixteenth Illinois Infantry, it did good service in keeping down the spirit of rebellion. The force under Martin E. Green was dispersed, and James Green, U. S. Senator, a fomentor of secession, was captured and paroled. Regiment left Rolla, Mo., for Jefferson City, accompanying General Fremont on his memorable campaign to Springfield, Mo., after General Price; then returned and went into winter quarters at Otterville.

In the month of February, 1862, the regiment was ordered to Fort Donelson, where it arrived the day subsequent to its surrender; was brigaded with the Fifteenth and Forty-sixth Illinois and Twenty-fifth Indiana, and assigned to the Second Brigade, Fourth Division, under Brigadier General Stephen A. Hurlbut. In the meantime Colonel Palmer had been promoted, and Major Hall, Seventh Illinois Cavalry, originally Captain of one of the companies, had been promoted Colonel.

From Fort Donelson the regiment proceeded to Fort Henry, where it embarked on transports and proceeded up the Tennessee river to Pittsburg Landing.

In the sanguinary engagements of the 6th and 7th of April, when the regiment first smelt powder from the enemy, the loss in killed and wounded was fully one-half the command engaged. The colors, which came out of this bloody conflict with forty-two bullet holes through them, fully attest the gallantry of the command in that memorable struggle. In the grand charge, on the evening of April 7, which was the consummation of that splendid victory over the hosts of rebellion, the Fourteenth Illinois was in the advance and was led by Colonel Hall. In the official report of General Veatch, commander of the brigade to which the Fourteenth was attached, the following language is employed: "Colonel Hall, of the Fourteenth Illinois, led, with his regiment, that gallant charge on Monday evening which drove the enemy beyond our lines and closed the struggle of that memorable day."

The regiment took an active part in the siege of Corinth. After the evacuation it proceeded to Memphis, and thence to Bolivar, Tenn.

October 4, 1862, the Fourth Division, under General Hurlbut, was ordered to proceed to Corinth, as a forlorn hope, to relieve the beleaguered garrison of that place; but the gallant Rosecrans, before Corinth was reached, had already severely punished the enemy, and "the forlorn hope" met the retreating rebels at the village of Metamora, on Hatchie river. In the glorious victory that followed eight hours hard fighting, the Fourteenth Illinois well sustained its reputation earned at Shiloh.

The regiment constituted a part of the right wing of Grant's army in the march into Northern Mississippi, through Holly Springs to Yacona Patalfa, under the immediate command of the lamented McPherson. Van Dorn having captured Holly Springs, and General Sherman being unable to effect a dislodgment of the rebels from Vicksburg, Grant's army was obliged to retreat, and on January 18, 1863, the Fourteenth Illinois went into winter quarters at La Fayette, Tennessee.

Early in the spring the command was ordered to Vicksburg, where it took part in the siege of that stronghold until its final fall, July 4, 1863. Also, accompanied the expedition to Jackson, Mississippi, taking part in the siege until its evacuation. In August, proceeded to Natchez and formed part of the force which marched across the swamps of north-eastern Louisiana to Harrisonburg, on Wachita river, and captured Fort Beauregard, where, the spring before, the ram "Queen of the West" had been sunk, it accompanied General Sherman on his Meridian raid. After the return a large portion re-enlisted as veterans, though its time would have expired in a few months. Returning from the north, where it had been on veteran furlough, it formed a part of the army in the advance on Atlanta. Here the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Illinois, ever together since the fall of 1862, sharers of each others' sorrows and joys, weary marches and honorably earned laurels, were consolidated into the "Fourteenth and Fifteenth Illinois Veteran Battalion." The Battalion was detailed to guard railroad communications at and near Ackworth, Georgia, a most important and dangerous duty, as it was the only route by which General Sherman could supply his immense army with subsistence, etc.

In the month of October, 1864, when the rebel General Hood made his demonstration against Sherman's rear, a large number of the battalion were killed and the major part of the balance were taken prisoners and sent to Andersonville prison. Those who escaped capture were mounted, and, on the Grand March to the sea, acted as scouts, and were continually in the advance, being the first to drive the rebel pickets into Savannah, Georgia. During the long and weary march through North and South Carolina, the battalion was on duty day and night, being constantly in the presence of the enemy, gaining notoriety as skirmishers. The battalion was the first to enter Cheraw, South Carolina, Fayetteville, North Carolina, and also took part in the battle of Bentonville.

At Goldsborough, North Carolina, in the spring of 1865, the battalion organization was discontinued, a sufficient number of organized companies of recruits having arrived by way of New York and Morehead City, North Carolina, to fill up the two regiments, Colonel Hall again being assigned to the command of the Fourteenth. After the capitulation of Johnson, the regiment marched to Washington, D. C., where, on the 24th of May, it took part in the grand review of Sherman's army. It afterwards proceeded, by rail and river, to Louisville, Kentucky; thence, by river, to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; thence marched to Fort Kearney, N. T., and back.

Mustered out at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, September 16, 1865, arriving at Springfield, Illinois, September 22, 1865, where it received final payment and discharge.

The aggregate number of men who have belonged to this organization was 1,980, and the aggregate mustered out at Fort Leavenworth was 480.

During its four years and four months of arduous service, the regiment marched 4,490 miles, traveled by rail 2,330 miles, and by river 4,490 miles—making an aggregate of 11,670 miles.

HISTORY OF SIXTEENTH INFANTRY.

The Sixteenth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized and mustered into United States' service at Quincy, Ill., under the "Ten-Regiment Act," on the 24th day of May, 1861. It was mustered in by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A.

June 12, 1861, moved to Grand river as railroad guard; after which the regiment was scattered along the line of the road as guard. July 10, Colonel Smith's force was attacked at Monroe Station by 1600 mounted rebels, but he held his position until the arrival of reinforcements, when the enemy fled. On the 16th, lost two men killed and two wounded at Caldwell Station. August 20, regiment moved under General Hurlbut to Kirksville, and in pursuit of General Green, arriving at Hannaywell on September 1.

September 10, ordered to St Joseph, Mo. On 14th, together with the Third Iowa Infantry, had a skirmish at Platte City. 17th returned to St. Joseph.

January 27, ordered to Bird's Point, Mo. March 3, ordered to New Madrid, where we were attached to the Army of Mississippi, Second Brigade, Colonel James D. Morgan, First Division, Brigadier General E. A. Paine.

On the evening of the 12th of March the Tenth and Sixteenth Illinois Volunteers were thrown forward and erected a line of earthworks, mounting four heavy guns, within half a mile of the enemy's works.

March 13th, the battle of New Madrid was fought, the Sixteenth supporting the siege guns.

April 7th, were landed on the opposite side of the Mississippi, with the Tenth Illinois, and followed the retreating enemy to Tiptonville, Tenn., where we captured 5,000 prisoners, a large amount of artillery, small arms and ammunition. April 9, returned to New Madrid; 13th, embarked for Osceola, Ark.; 17th, embarked for Hamburg, Tenn., where we arrived 22d. Participated in the siege of Corinth. After the evacuation, pursued the retreating enemy to Booneville; June 12, returned and camped at Big Springs.

July 20, moved to Tusculum; 29th, crossed the Tennessee at Florence.

September 15, arrived at Nashville, after a seventeen days' march, with continual guerrilla fighting—loss, 1 killed and 5 wounded.

Garrisoned Edgefield, guarding railroad bridge. November 5, garrison was attacked by rebel General Morgan, who was repulsed, leaving many dead upon the field. Our loss, one killed and five wounded, including Captain Rowe.

Mustered out July 8, 1865, at Louisville, Ky. Arrived at Camp Butler, July 10, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF SEVENTEENTH INFANTRY.

The Seventeenth Regiment of Illinois Infantry Volunteers was mustered into the United States' service at Peoria, Ills., on the 24th day of May, 1861. Left camp on the 17th June, for Alton, Ills., for the purpose of more fully completing its organization and arming. Late in July it proceeded from Alton to St. Charles, Mo., remaining but one day; thence went to Warrenton, Mo., where it remained in camp about two weeks—company "A" being detailed as body guard to General John Pope, with headquarters at St. Charles.

The regiment left Warrenton for St. Louis, and embarked on transports for Bird's Point, Mo. Remained at Bird's Point some weeks, doing garrison duty; then proceeded to Sulphur Springs Landing; debarking there proceeded, via Pilot Knob and Ironton to Fredericktown, Mo., in pursuit of General Jeff. Thompson, and joined General B. M. Prentiss' command at Jackson, Mo.; thence proceeded to Kentucky and aided in the construction of Fort Holt; then ordered to Elliott's Mills; remained there a short time and returned to Fort Holt; thence to Cape Girardeau, and with other regiments were again sent in pursuit of Gen. Jeff. Thompson's forces; participated in the engagement near Greenfield; lost one man killed and several wounded; returned to Cape Girardeau, doing provost duty until early in February, 1862, when ordered to Fort Henry; participated in that engagement and Fort Donelson, losing several men killed, wounded and taken prisoners. Then proceeded to Metal Landing, Tennessee river, and embarked for Savannah, Tenn.; from thence to Pittsburg Landing, and was assigned to the First Division, Army West Tennessee, under Gen. John A. McClernand; was engaged in the battles of the 6th and 7th April; suffered great loss in killed and wounded. Was with the advance to Corinth. After the evacuation of Corinth marched to Purdy, Bethel and Jackson, Tenn.; remained there until 17th of July, when the regiment was ordered to Bolivar, and was assigned to duty as Provost Guard. Remained at Bolivar until Nov., 1862, during which time participated in the expedition to Iuka, to reinforce Gen. Rosecrans. Afterwards at the battle of Hatchie. Returned again to Bolivar; remained there until middle of November. Then ordered to Lagrange, reporting to Major Gen. John A. Logan; were assigned to duty as Provost Guard, Col. Norton being assigned to the command at that post. Early in December marched to Holly Springs; thence to Abbeyville, guarding railroads; thence to Oxford. After the capture of Holly Springs was assigned to the Sixth Division, Seventeenth Army Corps, under Major General McPherson; then proceeded, via of Moscow, to Collierville; from there to Memphis, and was assigned to duty at the navy yard. Remained there until January 16th; then embarked for Vicksburg; re-embarked and proceeded to Lake Providence, La.; then the Headquarters of the Seventeenth Army Corps, doing duty there until the investment of Vicksburg commenced. Arriving at Milliken's Bend, on or about May 1st; commenced to march across the Delta to Perkins' Landing, on the Mississippi river; thence to the crossing below Grand Gulf, advancing with McPherson's command, via Raymond, Champion Hills, Jackson, Big Black, and to the final investment of Vicksburg. After the surrender of that city, remained there doing garrison duty and making incursions into the enemy's country as far east as Meridian ; west as far as Monroe, La. Returning to Vicksburg, remaining until May, 1864—the term of service of the regiment expiring on the 24th May, of that year.

The regiment was ordered to Springfield, Ills., for muster-out and final discharge, when and where those of the original organization who did not re-enlist as veterans were mustered out and discharged. A sufficient number not having re-enlisted to entitle them to retain their regimental organization, the veterans and recruits whose term of service had not expired were consolidated with the Eighth Illinois Infantry Volunteers, and were finally mustered out with that regiment and discharged in the spring of 1866.

OFFICE COMMISSARY OF MUSTERS, DEPARTMENT OF ARKANSAS,

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 8, 1864.

Lieutenant Colonel W. D. GREEN,

Assistant Adjutant General, Department of Arkansas :

SIR—I have the honor to report that, pursuant to Par. VI, S. O. 112, Headquarters Department of Arkansas, May 24, 1864, and under provisions of War Department Circular 36, series 1864, the enlisted men belonging to Eighteenth Illinois Infantry Volunteers, who were not entitled to discharge when the regimental term of service expired, together with officers of same regiment selected by department commanders, have been formed into three companies, with the following organization :

Company "A," detachment Eighteenth Illinois Infantry Volunteers, John Davis, Captain ; John K. Mosher, First Lieutenant ; Benjamin Redfield, Second Lieutenant.

Fifty-one (51) enlisted men, company C, privates ; forty-nine (49) enlisted men, company H, privates.

Company "B," detachment Eighteenth Illinois Infantry Volunteers, Michael A. Killion, Captain ; Charles O. Towle, First Lieutenant ; Thomas J. Watson, Second Lieutenant.

Sixteen (16) enlisted men, company A, privates ; forty-seven (47) enlisted men, company D, privates ; twenty-seven (27) enlisted men, company E, privates ; two (2) non-commissioned staff officers regiment, privates ; nineteen (19) enlisted men, company D, privates.*

Company "C," detachment Eighteenth Illinois Infantry Volunteers, Jabez J. Anderson, Captain ; George Miller, First Lieutenant.

Nine (9) enlisted men, company B, privates ; fifty-eight (58) enlisted men, company F, privates ; eleven (11) enlisted men, company G, privates ; fourteen (14) enlisted men company I, privates.

The officers and detachment above designated to be accounted for on the rolls of their proper companies from 28th day of May, 1864.

Company "A" has an aggregate of one hundred (100) enlisted men, and is composed exclusively of recruits that joined the regiment after its original organization, and who, with few exceptions, will be entitled to muster-out during months of August and September, 1865.

Company "B" has an aggregate of ninety-two (92) enlisted men, sixty-two (62) veteran volunteers and thirty (30) recruits.

Company "C" has an aggregate of ninety-two (92) enlisted men, sixty-four (64) veteran volunteers and twenty-eight (28) recruits.

The aggregate of the three companies is 303, and this number not being sufficient to entitle the command to a field officer of any grade, it is respectfully recommended that the senior Captain may be placed in command.

All enlisted men have been assigned as private soldiers. Many of them were non-commissioned officers in former companies, but the offices held by them ceased to exist when the regimental organization terminated by virtue of expiration of service.

I, therefore, respectfully suggest that the commanding officer of the above named companies be authorized to appoint, upon the recommendation of the company commanders, the requisite number of non-commissioned officers—all thus selected to take rank and be entitled to the pay of their respective grades from date of this organization, May 28, 1864. Herewith, for the information and guidance of company commanders are descriptive rolls and accounts of pay, clothing, bounty, etc., of each man assigned to their respective companies.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. O. VINCENT,

Major and Commissary of Musters, Department of Arkansas.

*To this company I have, also, temporarily, attached nineteen (19) recruits (Co. "D"), whose term of service expires June 13, 1864, in order that one of the former officers of that company (Lieutenant Towle) may superintend the preparation of their muster-out rolls and discharges.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF ARKANSAS,

LITTLE ROCK, June 30, 1864.

Respectfully returned to Major A. O. Vincent, Commissary of Musters. His organization of the detachment of the Eighteenth Illinois Infantry is approved.

By order of Major General F. STEELE.

W. D. GREEN, A. A. G.

OFFICE COMMISSARY OF MUSTERS, DEPARTMENT ARKANSAS,

LITTLE ROCK, July 2, 1864.

Respectfully referred, through 2d Division, 7th A. C., and intermediate Headquarters, to Captain Jabez J. Anderson, commanding detachment (companies A, B and C) Eighteenth Illinois Infantry Volunteers, for his information and guidance.

A. O. VINCENT,

Major and Commissary of Musters Department of Arkansas.

HISTORY OF EIGHTEENTH INFANTRY.

The Eighteenth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized, under the Ten-Regiment Act, at Anna, Illinois, and mustered into the state service, for 30 days, by Captain U. S. Grant, May 16, 1861. Mustered into the United States' service May 28, 1861, by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A. June 24, ordered to Bird's Point, Missouri. August 7, moved on Cairo and Fulton road, to protect bridges. Returned 17th. 27th, moved to Mound City. October 6th, moved to Cairo. November 1st, to Bloomfield, Mo. Returned November 12. January 10, 1862, moved down Mississippi to Fort Jefferson. 14th, reconnoitered the position of the enemy at Columbus, Ky. January 20, returned to Cairo. Feb'y 2, embarked for Fort Henry, and arrived after the enemy had been driven out by the gun boats. 11th, in the First Brigade, Col. R. J. Oglesby commanding, marched toward Fort Donelson. Was engaged in the three days' battle at Fort Donelson, losing 50 killed and 150 wounded. March 11, embarked for Pittsburg Landing. Went into camp 23d.

At Shiloh, April 6 and 7, was engaged and acquitted itself nobly; loss, 10 killed and 65 wounded. During the Shiloh battle was in General Oglesby's brigade.

During the advance upon Corinth, was in Colonel M. K. Lawler's brigade, Brig. Gen. McClelland's division.

After evacuation of Corinth, proceeded to Bethel, on M. & O. R. R., where we arrived June 6th. 15th, marched to Jackson, Tenn. July 27th, the 2nd brigade (8th, 18th, 29th and 31st Illinois,) marched several days in pursuit of the enemy. Halted at Brownsville, August 1st. Returned to Jackson, 13th. Remained at Jackson during the balance of 1862, with the exception of the pursuit of Forrest, Dec. 21st, and expedition to Town's Station, 23d to 26th. Companies H and C were so reduced in numbers, after the battles of Donelson and Shiloh, that they were consolidated with the remainder of the regiment, and in the fall of 1862, two new companies were raised at Carbondale, by Captain A. Connor.

April 14, 1863.—The Eighteenth Infantry Illinois Volunteers is now composed of two companies veterans, (B and C) one company of three years' recruits (A) and seven companies of one year's recruits, assigned to the regiment in March, 1865.

Since December, 1863, the regiment has been serving in department of Arkansas, commanded by Major General F. Steele, being stationed principally at Pine Bluff, Duvall's Bluff and Little Rock, and engaged in numerous campaigns and expeditions.

Mustered out December 16, 1865, at Little Rock, Arkansas. Arrived at Camp Butler, December 31st, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-FIRST INFANTRY.

HISTORICAL MEMORANDA OF THE TWENTY-FIRST REGIMENT ILLINOIS VOLUNTEERS, FROM THE FIFTEENTH DAY OF JUNE, 1861, TO THE SEVENTH DAY OF AUGUST, 1861, FURNISHED THIS OFFICE BY LIEUTENANT GENERAL U. S. GRANT.

I was appointed Colonel of the Twenty-first Illinois Volunteer Infantry by Governor Richard Yates, some time early in the month of June, 1861, and assumed command of the regiment on the 16th of that month. The regiment was mustered into the service of the United States in the latter part of the same month. Being ordered to rendezvous the regiment at Quincy, Illinois, I thought, for the purpose of discipline and speedy efficiency for the field, it would be well to march the regiment across the country, instead of transporting by rail. Accordingly, on the 3d of July, 1861, the march was commenced from Camp Yates, Springfield, Illinois, and continued until about three miles beyond the Illinois river, when dispatches were received, changing the destination of the regiment to Ironton, Missouri, and directing me to return to the river and take a steamer, which had been sent there for the purpose of transporting the regiment to St. Louis. The steamer failing to reach the point of embarkation, several days were here lost. In the meantime a portion of the Sixteenth Illinois Infantry, under Col. Smith, were reported surrounded by the enemy at a point on the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad, west of Palmyra, and the Twenty-first was ordered to their relief. Under these circumstances, expedition was necessary; accordingly, the march was abandoned, and the railroad was called into requisition. Before the Twenty-first reached its new destination, the Sixteenth had extricated itself. The Twenty-first was then kept on duty on the line of the H. and St. Jo. R. R. for about two weeks, without, however, meeting an enemy or an incident worth relating. We did make one march, however, during that time, from Salt River, Mo., to Florida Mo., and returned in search of Tom Harris, who was reported in that neighborhood with a handful of rebels. It was impossible, however, to get nearer than a day's march of him. From Salt River the regiment went to Mexico, Mo., where it remained for two weeks; thence to Ironton, Mo., passing through Saint Louis on the 7th of August, when I was assigned to duty as a Brigadier General, and turned over the command of the regiment to that gallant and christian officer, Colonel Alexander, who afterwards yielded up his life, whilst nobly leading it in the battle of Chickamauga.

U. S. GRANT,

Lieutenant General.

TWENTY-FIRST INFANTRY, ILLINOIS VOLUNTEERS.

The Seventh Congressional District Regiment was organized at Mattoon, Illinois, on the 9th of May, 1861. On the 15th of May it was mustered into the state service, for 30 days, by Captain U. S. Grant. On the 28th June it was mustered into United States service, for three years, by Captain Pitcher, U. S. A., with Captain U. S. Grant as Colonel. Colonel Grant was commissioned Brigadier General, August 6, 1861, and was succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel J. W. S. Alexander, who was killed September 20, 1863, at Chickamauga.

On the 4th of July, 1861, the regiment marched for Missouri. 22nd, arrived at Mexico, where it remained until August 6, when it proceeded by rail to Ironton, Mo. October 20, marched from Ironton, and, on 21st, participated in battle of Fredericktown. Remained at Ironton until January 29, 1862. Marched with General Steele's expedition to Jacksonsport, Arkansas, when it was ordered to Corinth, via Cape Girardeau. Arrived at Hamburg Landing May 24, 1862. On evacuation of Corinth, pursued enemy from Farmington, Miss., to Booneville. Returning from the pursuit, it formed a part of an expedition to Holly Springs. On the 14th August, 1862, was ordered to join General Buell's army, in Tennessee. Marched, via Eastport, Miss., Columbia, Tenn., Florence, Ala., Franklin, Murfreesboro, and Nashville, Tenn., and arrived at Louisville September 27th, 1862. Engaged in battle of Perryville, October 8th and Chaplin Hill. Company F, Captain David Blackburn was the first in Perryville. From thence, marched to Crab Tree Orchard and Bowling Green, Ky., and to Nashville, Tenn.

When the army marched from Nashville, December 26, 1862, this regiment formed a part of the Second Brigade, First Division Twentieth Army Corps, and was in the skirmish at Knob Gap. December 30, in connection with Fifteenth Wisconsin, Thirty-eighth Illinois and One Hundred and First Ohio, it had a severe engagement with the enemy near Murfreesboro, where it charged the famous Washington (rebel) Light Artillery, 12 Parrott guns, and succeeded in driving every man from the battery, when it was compelled to fall back by a division of rebel Infantry. During the battle of Murfreesboro, it was fiercely engaged, and did gallant duty, losing more men than any other regiment engaged. The Twenty-first was with General Rosecrans' army from Murfreesboro to Chattanooga. Was engaged in a severe skirmish at Liberty Gap, June 25, 1863. Was engaged in the battle of Chickamauga, September 19 and 20, where it lost 238 officers and men.

Colonel Alexander being killed and Lieutenant Colonel McMackin being wounded, Captain C. K. Knight took command of the regiment.

After the battle of Chickamauga, the Twenty-first was attached to First Brigade, First Division Fourth Army Corps, and remained at Bridgeport, Alabama, during October, November and December 1863.

Mustered out December 16, 1865, at San Antonio, Texas. Arrived at Camp Butler January 18, 1866, for final payment and discharge.

XV. So much of Special Field Orders, No. 320, Par. 12, November 22, 1864, from Headquarters Department of the Cumberland, as transferred to the Forty-second Illinois Volunteers the detachment of the Twenty-second Illinois Volunteers, now temporarily attached to the former organization, is hereby confirmed.

By order of the Secretary of War.

W. A. NICHOLS, A. A. G.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-SECOND INFANTRY.

The Twenty-second Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Belleville, Illinois, May 11, 1861, and was mustered into the United States' service, for three years, at Caseyville, Illinois, June 25, 1861, by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A. July 11, moved to Bird's Point, Mo. November 7, seven companies engaged in the battle of Belmont—three being left to guard transports. Loss, 144 killed, wounded and missing. January 14, 1862, reconnaissance, under Gen. Grant, into Missouri. April 8, 1862, expedition to Tiptonville, under Gen. Paine, to intercept retreating enemy from Island No. 10. Captured 4,000 prisoners, 2 Generals, and a large quantity of stores, ammunition, arms and guns. May 3, 5 and 9, 1862, skirmished before Farmington, and battle of Farmington. Was engaged in siege of Corinth, and pursuit of enemy two weeks in June. Was engaged guarding Memphis and Charleston Railroad until August 26, 1862, when it fell back to Nashville, by forced marches, arriving September 11, where it remained the balance of the year.

December 31, 1862, and January 1 and 2, 1863, the regiment was engaged in the battle of Stone River, where it lost 199 out of 342 men going into action. Lieut. Col. Swanwick was wounded and taken prisoner and remained at Atlanta and Richmond (Libby) until May, 1863.

After the occupation of Murfreesboro, the regiment was in camp at different points around that place, foraging and skirmishing through the winter and spring. Marched with the Army of the Cumberland early in June southward. Crossed the Tennessee river at Bridgeport, Alabama, about September 1st. Engaged in the battle of Chickamauga, September 19th and 20th, on the extreme right of the army, under Gen. Sheridan, losing 135 officers and men out of an aggregate of less than 300. In proof of the severity of the action on the 19th, the regiment lost 96 men in less than ten minutes, most of whom were down. Among others, the brave Major Johnson was very severely wounded and Captain French mortally.

The regiment remained in and around Chattanooga, suffering, in common with the rest of the army, from exposure and want of provisions, being frequently on less than half rations, and almost destitute of blankets, clothing, tents, etc., until the 26th of November, when, with the remainder of Gen. Sheridan's division, it was engaged in storming the heights of Mission Ridge, losing again between 30 and 40 out of the mere skeleton to which it had been previously reduced. The few men remaining fit for duty marched about the last of the month to the relief of Knoxville. Passed the greater part of that severe winter (1863-1864) in the mountains of East Tennessee. Marching in the month of January, 1864, to Dandridge, in pursuit of the rebel army under Gen. Longstreet—retreating at night, over awful roads, Strawberry Plains, and thence marched through Knoxville to Loudon, Tenn., where it remained long enough to build log huts and occupy them some weeks; and here, March 6, 1864, received the first full ration since leaving Bridgeport, being fully six months. Leaving Loudon, the regiment marched to Cleveland, Tenn., and there remained until the scanty remnant joined the grand army of Gen. Sherman, on the Atlanta Campaign. Was engaged two days at Resaca, having about 20 men killed and wounded, and in all the other battles and skirmishes, with the exception of Rocky Face, (was eleven days and nights under fire at New Hope Church,) until the morning of the 10th of June, when all but the recruits and veterans were ordered to Springfield, Illinois, for muster-out.

The regiment was mustered out at Springfield, Illinois, July 7, 1864. The veterans and recruits, whose term of service had not expired, were consolidated with the Forty-second Regiment Illinois Infantry Volunteers.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-THIRD INFANTRY.

The Twenty-third Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Chicago, Illinois, May 17, 1861. It was known as the "Irish Brigade," and was mustered into United States' service by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A., June 15, 1861. July 14, 1861, moved to Quincy, Illinois, and thence to St. Louis Arsenal, Missouri. 21st, moved to Jefferson City. In the month of August expeditions were made to Hickory Hill, Mount Pleasant, Sedalia, and other points. September 1st, moved to Lexington. Arrived 9th, and commenced fortifying. On the evening of the 11th, the advance guard of the enemy drove in our pickets. The garrison numbered 2780 men. On the 12th, the enemy, 10,000 strong, under Major General Price, with a battery of six guns, attacked the works. Fierce fighting continued until night, when the enemy were compelled to retire. On 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, out-posts and detachments were continually engaged. At 8 o'clock, A. M., of 18th, the enemy, 28,000 strong, with 13 pieces of artillery, assaulted the works. Without intermission, the battle raged day and night until 4 o'clock, P. M., on the 20th, when, without bread or water, ammunition or hope of re-enforcements, Lexington was surrendered. Killed and wounded of the regiment 107 men—killed and wounded of the enemy 800.

The regiment was paroled.

October 8, 1861, it was mustered out of service, at St. Louis Mo., by order of Major General Fremont. December 10, it was restored by order of Major General McClellan.

Recruited at Camp Douglas, and guarded prisoners until June 14, 1862, when it moved to Harper's Ferry, Virginia. 24th June, moved to New Creek, Va., where it built Fort Fuller. September 1st, moved, with orders to protect Clarksburg, Va. 3d, advanced to Parkersburg—in each case saving the towns threatened. November 10, 1862, Companies B, D and K, Major Moore commanding, attacked General Imboden on South Fork of Potomac. Captured 40 prisoners, 16 head of beef cattle and several hundred hogs, intended for the rebel army. 26th December, Major Moore took command of the regiment. January 3, 1863, moved at 10 o'clock, P. M. A forced march of 40 miles, in 19 hours, to re-enforce Col. Washburne, who was attacked by rebel Gen. Jones. The enemy fled. April 3d, 1863, assigned to Fifth Brigade, First Division, Eighth Army Corps, Col. Mulligan commanding Brigade, and Lieut. Col. James Quirk the regiment. 25th April, moved to Grafton. Same day Company G, Captain Wallace, was attacked at Greenland Gap, by Gen. Jones, at the head of 3000 men, and, after a fight of five hours, was captured and sent to Richmond. April 26th, regiment engaged the advance of Imboden's force at Phillippi. April 28, Companies B, F and I moved to Rowlesburg, to relief of Sixth Virginia Infantry. 29th, Company K, Captain Dan. Quirk, moving to aid of Federal forces at Fairmount, fought enemy under Gen. Jones. July 6th, regiment moved to Hedgesville and Back Creek, and was engaged in skirmishing with Gen. Lee's forces. August 16th, arrived at Petersburg. September 4th, engaged and routed the enemy, under Gen. Imboden, in the Gap, at Petersburg. September 11th, Company I, Captain Fitzgerald, attacked the rebel Captain McNeil, on South Fork. October 29th, regiment was assigned to Second Brigade and Second Division, Department West Virginia, Lieut. Col. Quirk commanding regiment, Col. Mulligan commanding Division. November 8th, moved to support of Gen. Averill, who engaged the rebel Gen. Echols, at Louisburg. 9th, moved to attack Imboden, who fled.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-FOURTH INFANTRY.

The Twenty-Fourth Infantry Illinois Volunteers, known as the "Hecker Regiment," was organized at Chicago, Illinois, and mustered into United States' service, July 8, 1861, by Capt. T. G. Pitcher, and soon after, was ordered to Alton, Illinois. Leaving Alton, it moved to St. Charles, Mo.; thence to Mexico, Mo. Leaving Mexico, July 28, 1861, moved, via St. Louis, to Ironton, Mo., where it remained until 3d September. 4th, moved to Jackson. 5th, moved to Fort Holt. 13th, moved, by rail, to Cincinnati, with orders to go to Washington. Arrested by the accident which befell the Nineteenth Illinois Volunteers, the regiment remained at Camp Dennison, Ohio. September 29th, moved to Louisville, Ky. Next day to Colesburg. Guarded railroad till November 30, when it was assigned to Eighth Brigade, Col. Tarchin commanding. Moved to Elizabethtown, December 5th. Remained until 22nd, when marched to Bacon's Creek, where it remained until February 10, 1862. February 10, 1862, Division marched upon Bowling Green—8th Brigade in advance. Arrived 14th, and remained until 24th. Marched to Nashville, arriving February 27th. Moved March 18th, to Murfreesboro, and remained until 5th April, when the Division marched, via Shelbyville and Fayetteville, to Huntsville. The regiment left same evening, April 11, and marched to Decatur, from which the enemy fled, leaving in our hands C. R. and G. E. small arms and ammunition. From Decatur, the regiment proceeded to Tusculum. Left Tusculum, April 22, 1862, and crossed the Tennessee; en route repulsed a charge of the enemy's cavalry, losing some prisoners. April 30, returned to Huntsville. May 1st, marched to Athens; from which place made several excursions. May 26, marched to Fayetteville, Tenn. June 1st, marched across the Cumberland to a place opposite Chattanooga. June 7, returned over Asper and went as far as Beldefonte. June 11, went back to Stephenson; from thence to Asper, Tenn. Companies F, G and C had an engagement at Rankin's Ferry, in which Captain Kovats and Lieut. Gerhart and one man were wounded, and three missing. From Asper, regiment went to mouth of Battle Creek and remained until July 11; then toullahoma and guarded railroad stations on the Nashville and Chattanooga R. R. until September 7, when it marched with Gen. Buell's army in pursuit of the enemy, and arrived at Louisville, September 23, 1862. October 1st marched in pursuit of the enemy. Took part in the battle of Chapin Hills, near Perryville, October 8, losing 25 killed, 77 wounded, prisoners and 2 missing. October 12, after the battle of Perryville, returned, via Crab Orchard, Lebanon, Glasgow and Bowling Green, to Mitchellville, Ky., on the L. and N. R. R., where it was stationed the remainder of the year.

Veterans and recruits were consolidated into one company, known as Co. A. Said company was mustered out, July 31, 1865, at Louisville, Ky., and arrived at Camp Butler, August 1, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-SIXTH INFANTRY.

The Twenty-sixth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was mustered into United States' service with seven companies, at Camp Butler, Ills., August 31st, 1861, and were ordered to Quincy, Illinois, for the protection of that place. Not having been armed, the regiment did guard duty with hickory clubs. During the autumn, the regiment did guard duty on the Hannibal and St. Jo. R. R., and were armed with old English Tower muskets—Col. John Mason Loomis, commanding post at Hannibal. Prior to January 1st, 1862, three more companies were raised, completing the organization. February 19th, 1862, left Hannibal, Mo., for the South, stopping at Commerce, where the regiment was assigned to Brig. Gen. J. B. Plummer's Brigade, Brig. Gen. Schuyler Hamilton's Division, Major Gen. John Pope's Corps. Arrived at New Madrid, March 3d, and were engaged in action there. Marched to Point Pleasant, and arriving on the 6th, engaged rebel gun boats with sharpshooters and prevented the landing of the enemy. Marched to intercept the flying enemy from Island No. 10, and assisted in capturing many prisoners. After remaining some time at New Madrid, joined an expedition against Fort Pillow. Returning, proceeded up the Ohio and Tennessee rivers to Hamburg Landing. Took part in the siege of Corinth, May 8 and 9, were engaged at Farmington, the regiment losing five killed and thirty wounded. Lieut. Col. Chas. J. Tinkham was among the wounded. Col. Loomis commanded Brigade, and Gen. Stanley the Division. May 28, engaged the enemy one mile from Corinth, the regiment losing four killed and twenty-five wounded. Major Gilmore was wounded. Company G, of the Twenty-sixth was the first to enter Corinth, on evacuation by enemy. Engaged in pursuit to Booneville, and returned to Clear Creek, four miles from Corinth. June 23 ordered to Danville, Miss., where we remained till August 18, 1862, at which time joined Brigade commanded by Col. R. C. Murphy, Eighth Wisconsin, and marched for Tusculum. Arrived 21st. September 8, with Forty-seventh and Twenty-sixth, Lieut. Col. Tinkham commanding, marched to Clear Creek. September 18, marched for Iuka. 19th, were engaged with the enemy, in a Brigade commanded by Lieut. Col. J. A. Mower, of the Eleventh Missouri. Enemy evacuating in the night, we joined in pursuit, arriving at Corinth, October 3d, and participating in the battle of Corinth. After the battle, followed the retreating enemy as far as Ripley. Ten days afterward, arrived again at Corinth, where it stayed until November 2d. Marched, via Grand Junction, Holly Springs and Lumpkin's Mill, toward Tallahatchie river, the enemy being fortified on south side of river. Regiment was here detailed to guard a commissary train to Hudsonville—during the trip losing two men killed and two wounded by guerrillas. Ordered to Holly Springs, for guard duty; thence to Oxford, Miss., where remained until December 20th. Ordered to Holly Springs, to prevent the capture of that place. On 21st, reached that place—enemy having fled. Remained here during the year—Col. Loomis commanding the post, and Lieut. Col. Gilmore as chief of outposts.

In the beginning of the year 1863, the post at Holly Springs was broken up, and the army fell back to Lagrange, Tenn., where the regiment was assigned to duty as provost guard—Col. Loomis commanding the post. Here it remained until March 8th.

March 3, the regiment was brigaded with the Nintieth Illinois, Twelfth and One Hundredth Indiana—Col. Loomis commanding. March 8th, the Brigade marched from Lorange to Collierville, Tenn., where they remained three months, engaged in fortifying the place and defending the railroad against guerrillas and bushwhackers. June 7th, left Collierville for Memphis. The following day they embarked for Haines' Bluff. The regiment subsequently went into camp at Oak Ridge, where it remained until after the fall of Vicksburg. On the afternoon of July 4th, started in pursuit of the retreating forces of Gen. Johnson. The siege of Jackson was marked by severe skirmishing, in one of which Capt. James A. Dugger, of Company C, was instantly killed, by a round shot through the breast, and a number of men were killed and wounded. About the 22d of July, began the march back to Vicksburg; and when the troops crossed Black River they went into camp for the summer. September 28th, the encampment was broken up, and the regiment marched into Vicksburg, and there embarked for Memphis, where it arrived on the 7th of October. Here, a few days were given for the purpose of out-fitting the men, preparatory for the long march across the country from Memphis to Chattanooga, to relieve the besieged Army of the Cumberland. The march begun at 8, A. M., October 11th. Arrived at Bridgeport, November 15th, and, on the 24th and 25th, took an active part in the battle of Mission Ridge, losing, in killed and wounded, one hundred and one officers and men. Among the officers severely wounded were Lieut. Col. Gilmore, Capt. James P. Davis, Company B, Adjutant Edward A. Tucker and Lieut. William Polk, Company B. The next morning started before daylight in pursuit of the defeated and flying enemy, followed them to Ringgold, Georgia; burnt the bridges and destroyed the railroad; then turned to make the march of two hundred miles, without supplies, cooking utensils, camp equipage or change of clothing, to the relief of Gen. Burnside, at Knoxville. Returned to Bridgeport in the latter part of December; were re-clothed, paid off, and marched to Scottsboro', Alabama, and went into winter quarters.

January 1, 1864, there were five hundred and fifteen men present for duty, of whom four hundred and sixty-three re-enlisted as veterans. Of sixty-one men present in Company K, sixty re-enlisted.

January 12th, started home on veteran furlough. At the expiration of furlough, returned to the field, with ranks well filled with recruits. Arrived at old camp, at Scottsboro', March 3d, and remained there until May 1st, when it started on the great Atlanta Campaign. The regiment was actively engaged in all the marches, skirmishes and battles which finally resulted in the capture of Atlanta. On the 3d of August, a detail of 900 men was made from the Division, to charge the enemy's skirmish line. The charge was to be made over an old field, covered with high grass, a distance of about 400 yards. When the signal was given, the men started on a keen run for the rebel works. Private John S. Wilson, of Company D, Twenty-sixth Illinois, a stout, active fellow, out-ran the rest, and suddenly found himself alone in front of a rebel pit, which had been concealed by the tall grass, filled with seventeen men and a commissioned officer. He drew up his musket, and told them "to fight or run, and that d——d quick." All surrendered, except the officer, who started to run, and he shot him. It was laughable to see "Buck," as he was called, marching back with his seventeen prisoners. By order of Gen. Logan, he retained the officer's sword and a fine Whitney rifle, found in the pit, and now has them at home as mementoes of his gallantry. After the fall of Atlanta, most of the old officers were mustered out at the expiration of their term of service. Only two of the original officers remained, one of whom, Captain Ira J. Bloomfield, company K, was made Colonel of the regiment. About the same time the Fourth Division, Fifteenth Army Corps, was broken up, and the regiment was transferred to the First Division of the same Corps, with which it remained until the close of the war.

The regiment did some hard marching, following Hood up towards Chattanooga, and off into Northern Alabama; then returned to Atlanta; were paid and re-clothed, preparatory to "marching through Georgia."

The Twenty-sixth was engaged in the action of Griswoldville, siege of Savannah and capture of Fort McAlister. A short time after the fall of Savannah, the regiment was ordered to Beaufort, S. C., and remained on duty there and at Port Royal Ferry, until the commencement of the northward march through the Carolinas. Were among the first regiments into Columbia, and were hotly engaged in the battle of Bentonville. Here the regiment was ordered to carry the bridge, across Mill creek, which was strongly guarded by the enemy. The regiment charged and carried it, but lost a number of good men. Sergt. Smith, of company K, color bearer, was charging at the head of the column across the bridge and was shot, the colors falling into the stream. The enemy rushed forward to secure them, but Lieut. Webster, with company E, charged, drove them back, and saved the colors. Col. Bloomfield had his horse shot under him and narrowly escaped himself.

Remained at Goldsboro, N. C., a few days; and, April 10th, began the march against Raleigh. Left Raleigh, May 1, for Washington, via Richmond. Participated in the grand review at Washington. Transported, by rail, to Parkersburg, Va.; thence, by boat, to Louisville, Ky., where it remained in camp until July 20, 1865, when it was mustered out of service, and started for Springfield, Illinois, for final payment and discharge. July 28th, the regiment was paid off and disbanded.

The regiment had marched, during its four years of service, 6,931 miles, fought twenty-eight hard battles, besides innumerable skirmishes. They were permitted, by the orders of the commanding General, to place upon their banners, "New Madrid," "Island No. 10," "Farmington," "Siege of Corinth," "Iuka," "Corinth, 3d and 4th October, 1862," "Holly Springs," "Vicksburg," "Jackson, Miss.," "Mission Ridge," "Resaca," "Kenosaw," "Ezra Church," "Atlanta," "Jonesboro," "Griswoldville," "McAlister," "Savannah," "Columbia," "Bentonville."

HISTORY OF TWENTY-SEVENTH INFANTRY.

The Twenty-seventh Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized, with only seven companies, at Camp Butler, Illinois, August 10, 1861, and ordered to Jacksonville, as part of Brig. Gen. John A. McClernand's Brigade.

September 1st, 1861, ordered to Cairo, where three remaining companies joined.

Under Gen. McClernand, it was engaged in the battle of Belmont, November 7, 1861, where it bore quite a prominent part, and lost severely.

On the evacuation of Columbus, Ky., the Regiment was sent to that point.

On March 14, 1862, in company with the Forty-second Illinois, Eighteenth Wisconsin and parts of the Second Illinois Light Artillery and Second Illinois Cavalry it formed the "Mississippi Flotilla," and started down the Mississippi river and remained during the siege of Island No. 10. The Twenty-seventh was the first to land on the island.

After crossing the river, moved to Fort Pillow, but was recalled, and ordered to Pittsburg Landing, Tenn. Was engaged in the siege of Corinth and battle of Farmington, May 9, 1862. Was in pursuit of the enemy to Booneville. Returning to Corinth, remained some time.

In July, 1862, ordered to Iuka, and soon afterwards was distributed along the line of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, where it remained until the early part of September, when it crossed Tennessee river, at Decatur, Alabama, under command of Maj. Gen. Palmer, and made a rapid march for Nashville, arriving 12th September. Remained in that city during the time it was cut off from communication with the North.

It was with the advance from Nashville, and engaged in the battle of Stone River, where it particularly distinguished itself. June 24, 1863, moved, with the army, against Shelbyville and Tullahoma; thence to Bridgeport, Alabama.

September 2, 1863, the corps crossed the Tennessee and moved down toward Rome, Georgia, below Chattanooga, and returned in time to take part in the battle of Chickamauga, where the Twenty-seventh suffered quite severely.

Was in Chattanooga during its investment, and was engaged in the storming of Mission Ridge, where it was noticed for its good conduct.

From Mission Ridge, it went, upon a forced march, to the relief of Knoxville, then closely pressed by Longstreet's corps. By the time it reached there the enemy had been repulsed. It returned to Loudon, Tenn., January 25, 1864, and remained till April 18, when it was ordered to Cleveland, Tenn. From the latter place it moved with the Army of the Cumberland, on the Atlanta campaign.

Was engaged at Rocky Face Ridge, May 9; at Resaca, May 14; near Calhoun, May 16; Adairsville, May 17; near Dallas, from May 26 to June 4; near Pine Top Mountain, June 10 to 14; battle of Mud Creek, June 18; in assault on Kenesaw Mountain, June 27; skirmished about the vicinity of Chattahoochee river; was in the battle of Peach Tree Creek, July 20, and in the skirmishes around Atlanta.

The regiment was relieved from duty at the front, August 25, 1864, and ordered to Springfield, Illinois, for muster-out. Was detained two days at Nashville, on account of apprehensions of an attack by Wheeler.

During its term of service the Regiment has had the following casualties: Killed, or died of wounds, 102; died of disease, 80; number of wounded, 328; discharged and resigned, 209; transferred, 39.

Veterans and recruits consolidated with Ninth Illinois Infantry Volunteers.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-EIGHTH INFANTRY.

The Twenty-eighth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, in the month of August, 1861, by Lieutenant Colonel Louis H. Waters, and Major Charles J. Sellon.

Ordered, August 28, to Thebes, Illinois, September 9, to Bird's Point, Missouri, October 2, 1861, to Fort Holt, Kentucky, and remained, until January 31, 1862, in Colonel John Cook's Brigade. In the meantime, being engaged in several marches South and East from the fort.

January 31, 1862, moved to Paducah, Kentucky, and were assigned to Colonel M. L. Smith's Brigade, Brigadier General Lew. Wallace's Division. February 5, moved up Tennessee river. February 6, took part in the capture of Forts Henry and Heiman. February 13, a detachment of 48 men and 12 officers, under Colonel Johnson, met the enemy (500 strong) at Little Bethel Church, five miles from Fort Henry, and immediately attacked and routed them.

March 6, having been assigned to General Hurlbut's (4th) Division, moved to Pittsburg Landing, arriving 17th.

April 6, 1862, early in the morning, it was called into line, and marched half a mile, to the front, where it met the enemy, driving General Prentiss. It was assigned to a position on the left of the line, in the Peach Orchard. The enemy immediately attacked it, but were repulsed; and it held its position from 8 o'clock A. M. until 3 o'clock P. M., only then retiring under orders from Brigadier General S. A. Hurlbut, commanding the "Old Fighting Fourth Division." On the morning of the 7th, it held a position on the right of the line, and was hotly engaged until the battle closed and the victory was won. During these two long, trying, bloody days, the regiment behaved nobly, and was never broken or driven back by the enemy, though often most heavily pressed. The Regiment sustained a loss of 239 killed and wounded.

The Brigade swept gallantly forward, under a destructive fire of grape, cannister and minnie bullets. The enemy appearing upon both flanks as it reached the ditch, it was compelled to fall back, with a loss of more than half of the rank and file killed or wounded. The eight companies of this Regiment in line, numbering 128 men, lost 73 killed and wounded and 16 taken prisoners.

HISTORY OF TWENTY-NINTH INFANTRY.

The Twenty-ninth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was mustered into the United States' service at Camp Butler, Illinois, August 19, 1861, by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A., and was commanded by Col. James S. Reardon, and was assigned to the Brigade of Brigadier General John A. McClernand.

Early in September it was ordered to Cairo. In October, formed a part of an expedition, under command of Colonel R. J. Oglesby, to Bloomfield, Mo. In January, 1862, expedition into Kentucky, under Brigadier General McClernand. February, 1862, regiment was assigned to the Brigade of Colonel R. J. Oglesby, (Eighth, Eighteenth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth and Thirty-first Illinois.) and Division of Brigadier General McClernand. This command was the first to enter Fort Henry, after its evacuation.

In the battle of Fort Donelson, the Brigade formed the extreme right of the line of investment, meeting the enemy first and fighting them longer than any other portion of the army. Regiment lost 100 men, killed and wounded, of which 30 were killed on the field.

March 1, 1862, regiment was assigned to Colonel L. F. Ross' Brigade, composed of Seventeenth, Twenty-ninth, Forty-third and Forty-ninth Illinois Volunteers, and proceeded to Savannah, Tennessee. 20th March, proceeded to Pittsburg Landing. April 1st, Capt. E. M. Ferrell was promoted Lieutenant Colonel, vice Dunlap, resigned. The regiment bore a most honorable part in the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862. With an effective strength of 400 men, it lost 100 killed and wounded.

April 15, 1862, Major M. Brayman was promoted Colonel, vice Reardon, resigned. Regiment was constantly engaged during the siege of Corinth, May, 1862. June 6, assigned to Brigade of Colonel C. C. Marsh, composed of Eleventh, Twentieth, Twenty-ninth and Forty-fifth Illinois, and moved to Jackson, Tenn. July 1st, 1862, assigned to brigade of Colonel M. K. Lawler, composed of Eighteenth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth and Thirty-first Illinois, and during the month made frequent incursions into West Tennessee.

October 1st, sent to re-enforce General Rosecrans, at Corinth. Arriving too late for the battle, formed the advance of the pursuit to Ripley, Miss., and returned to Jackson.

September 25, Lieutenant Colonel C. M. Ferrill promoted Colonel, vice M. Brayman, promoted Brigadier General. Adjutant Loren Kent, promoted Lieutenant Colonel.

December 1, regiment proceeded to rear of General Grant's army, at Cold Water, Miss., and shortly afterwards went into camp at Holly Springs. 18th, Lieutenant Colonel Kent, with two companies (D and K) went to Jackson, Tenn., to protect that place.

December 20, Colonel R. C. Murphy, of the Eighth Wisconsin Volunteers, surrendered Holly Springs to rebel General Van Dorn, in a most cowardly and disgraceful manner. Eight companies of the regiment were paroled and sent to Benton Barracks. The camp and garrison equipage and books and records of the Twenty-ninth were destroyed. The eight paroled companies were kept at Benton Barracks until July, 1863, when they were exchanged and returned to duty. The two remaining companies were assigned to the Western Navy, in February, 1863, where they served with distinction during the siege of Vicksburg, losing one officer and several men, in running the batteries at Vicksburg and Grand Gulf.

October 16, 1863, Lieutenant Colonel Kent was relieved, at his own request, as Provost Marshal General of the Army of the Tennessee, and assumed command of his regiment, which was assigned to General Logan's Division, of the Seventeenth Army Corps.

October 19th, the One Hundred and Thirty-first Illinois Volunteers was consolidated with the Twenty-ninth, and Lieutenant Colonel Kent promoted Colonel, vice Colonel Ferrell, resigned.

December 1st, 1863, moved to Natchez, and remained on garrison duty.

In January, 1864, the regiment re-enlisted, and was mustered as veterans; and, July 19, received veteran furlough from Springfield, Ills.

Moved from Springfield, August 22, 1864; arrived at Natchez the last of the month, and remained until October, when moved to mouth of White river, having been assigned to Third Brigade, Reserve Corps, Military Division of West Mississippi. A short time afterward was ordered to Memphis, and thence to Paducah, arriving October 20th, 1864, for protection of Kentucky from enemy's cavalry, which appeared on the border.

November 26, embarked for Memphis, camping in that city November 29th. December 21, marched with expedition into the interior of Tennessee. Hard marching, cold weather and bad roads. Returned December 31. January 1, 1865, embarked for New Orleans. Camped above the city at Kenner, on the 5th. February 11th, assigned to Third Brigade, First Division, Thirteenth Army Corps, Colonel Kent commanding Brigade and Lieutenant Colonel J. A. Callicott commanding regiment. Embarked for Mobile. Landed at Dauphin Island on 15th February. March 17, embarked for Fort Morgan, and, landing, bivouacked on the beach. During eight succeeding days, were toiling over almost impassable roads to Spanish Fort, arriving on the 26th. Took an active part in the siege. Moved to Fort Blakely, arriving April 2, and was engaged in the whole siege, supporting the charge made by our Second Brigade, on the 9th, which resulted in the capture of the entire rebel army. Regiment lost, during the campaign, 26 men, killed and wounded.

April 10, marched for Mobile. Arrived, 12th, and remained in camp. June 26, embarked on steam ship Scott, for Texas. Arrived off Galveston, July 1. The sea being quite rough, two or three days were required to disembark. Soon after ordered to Millican, Texas, on Texas Central railroad, arriving on the 9th.

July 26, Regimental Headquarters moved to Hempstead—two companies remaining at Millican, two at Brenham, and one at Beaumont.

The regiment being in Provisional Division, Department of Texas, Major General F. Steele commanding. The regiment reported to Major General J. A. Mower, commanding Eastern District of Texas, until November 6, 1865, when it was mustered out of the United States' service by Lieutenant B. W. Ladd, Ninety-eighth Ohio, and A. C. M.

Placed en route for the state, November 8, and arrived 26th, receiving final pay and discharge, November 28, 1865.

HISTORY OF THIRTIETH INFANTRY.

The Thirtieth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, August 28, 1861, Colonel P. B. Fouke, commanding.

September 1, 1861, moved to Cairo, Illinois, and was assigned to Brigadier General John A. McClelland's Brigade—Brigadier General U. S. Grant, commanding District of Cairo, and Major General John C. Fremont, commanding Department of Missouri.

October 22, went on scout into Kentucky, near Columbus.

November 7, was engaged in the battle of Belmont. The Regiment did gallant service, during this action, and captured the celebrated "Watson's New Orleans Battery."

January 10, 1862, moved from Cairo on a reconnoissance into Kentucky, and returned on 22nd.

February 4, moved up Tennessee river. 6th, was in the attack and taking of Fort Henry, in Colonel Oglesby's Brigade.

Was engaged in the siege and taking of Fort Donelson, 13th, 14th and 15th February, 1862.

Arrived at Pittsburg Landing, April 25. Took part in the siege of Corinth, in Colonel Logan's Brigade. June 4th and 5th, marched from Corinth to Berhel. 8th, occupied Jackson, Tennessee. 13th and 14th of August, marched to Estenaula, and 31st, to Denmark.

September 1, 1862, marched toward Median Station, on the Mississippi Central Railroad, and about 4 miles from that place met the enemy's cavalry, 6000 strong, under General Armstrong, and, after four hours' hard fighting, drove the enemy from the field, gaining a brilliant victory. The Thirtieth was commanded by Major Warren Shedd—Colonel Dennis, commanding Brigade of 20th and 30th Illinois Infantry, one section Schwartz's Illinois Battery, Captain Foster's company of Independent Ohio Cavalry, and 34 men of Fourth Illinois Cavalry.

On 2nd September, marched to Median. 3d, to Jackson. 2nd November, marched to Lagrange. On 11th, marched toward Water Valley, Mississippi, arriving December 19th. 21st, marched for Memphis, Tennessee, arriving January 19, 1863. Were stationed at Memphis, Tennessee, in Colonel Leggett's Brigade, Major General Logan's Division, Major General McPherson's Corps.

February 22nd, 1863, moved to Lake Providence, Louisiana. Moved, soon after, to Vista's plantation. April 17, to Milliken's Bend, Louisiana. Joined Grant's army, and moved to Bruin-burg, Mississippi—crossing Mississippi river. May 1st, moved to Thompson's Hill. Moved to Hankinson's Ferry, on Black river, skirmishing with the enemy en route. Moved to Raymond, Mississippi. Engaged in the battle of Raymond, May 12. Moved, via Clinton, to Jackson. Pursued the retreating enemy, after their defeat of 14th May. May 16, engaged in the battle of Champion Hills, losing heavily. Crossed Black river with the army, and arrived in the rear of Vicksburg, 19th May, 1863.

May 25, moved with expedition to Mechanicsburg, under General Blair. Returning, actively participated in the siege of Vicksburg, until June 28, and then moved to Black river, under General Sherman, to watch the rebel General Johnson.

Moved with General Sherman's army to Jackson, and assisted in the investment of that place; after which the regiment moved to Vicksburg, arriving July 25. Remained in camp until August 20, when it moved to Monroe, Louisiana—returning 28th. October 14, moved, under General McPherson, toward Canton, Mississippi. Was in engagement at Bogachitta creek. Returned same month.

January 1st, 1864, mustered in as a veteran organization. 10th, moved with expedition up the Mississippi river, against guerrillas, and returned on 15th. February 3, left Vicksburg, on Meridian Campaign, under General Sherman. Participated in the several skirmishes with the enemy, and arrived at Meridian, February 15. Returned, March 3. Distance, 300 miles.

March 5, left Vicksburg on veteran furlough to the state, arriving at Camp Butler, March 12.

April 18, left Camp Butler. 28th, left Cairo with "Tennessee River Expedition," under General W. Q. Gresham. Arrived at Clifton, Tennessee, 30th. May 5, marched, via Pulaski, Tennessee, and Athens, Alabama, to Huntsville, Alabama. May 25, moved to Decatur, crossing Tennessee river, 27th. Thence, via Warrentown, Alabama, to Rome, Georgia; thence, via Kingston, joining General Sherman's "Grand Army" at Ackworth, June 8th. 10th, moved to Big Shanty, and commenced skirmishing with the enemy. 27th, moved out to make a demonstration in front, losing about 20 killed and wounded.

Also, in battle of July 22nd, near Atlanta—lost heavily. Actively engaged until the fall of Atlanta and Jonesboro. Camped at East Point, September 6.

October 4, 1864, moved northward, in the pursuit of General Hood, via Kenesaw Mountain, to Resaca, and returned to Smyrna Camp Ground, via Galesville, Alabama, arriving November 5.

November 13, moved to Atlanta. 15th, moved with General Sherman's army in the "March to the Sea," participating in the capture of Savannah, Georgia, December 21st. Left Savannah, January 4, 1865, and moved, by water, to Beaufort, South Carolina. Left Beaufort, January 13th, and participated in the capture of Pocotaligo, on the 15th. Remained at Pocotaligo until 30th. Marched, with Sherman's army, to Goldsboro, North Carolina, where the regiment arrived, March 25, 1865. Was engaged, during the march, in the capture of Orangeburg, Columbia, and Cheraw, South Carolina, and Fayetteville, North Carolina, besides destroying railroad track, etc.

April 10, moved to Raleigh, arriving there on the 14th. Remained in camp until the surrender of the rebel army, under General Johnson.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-FIRST INFANTRY.

The Thirty-first Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Cairo, Illinois, Sept. 8th, 1861, by Colonel John A. Logan, and mustered into the United States' service by Captain T. G. Pitcher, United States Army. The Regiment was assigned to the Brigade of Brigadier General John A. McClernand.

The Regiment was engaged in the battle of Belmont, November 7, 1861. Was in reconnaissance in Kentucky, in January 1862—suffering much from cold and exposure.

February 2, 1862, embarked for Fort Henry. Occupied that place February 6. Engaged in the battle of Fort Donelson, February 13th, 14th and 15th, remaining there until 22d. when ordered to Pittsburg Landing. On its arrival the regiment was assigned to the First Brigade, Brigadier General John A. Logan, First Division, Reserve, Army of Tennessee, in which it remained until evacuation of Corinth.

Was engaged in the siege of Corinth, May, 1862. In June, marched to Jackson, where it remained until November 1st, being sent, October 4th, to the re-enforcement of General Rosecrans, at Corinth; but not arriving in time for the battle, were sent in pursuit of the enemy, which it followed to Ripley.

November 1st, 1862, marched from Jackson with First Brigade, Colonel C. C. Marsh commanding, Third Division, Brigadier General John A. Logan commanding (Right Wing, Army of the Tennessee), to Lagrange; where we remained two or three weeks, and moved on the Yacona Expedition, moving as far into Mississippi as Cold Water; and after remaining in camp two or three days, returned to the Tallahatchie river. Remaining in camp during the remainder of the year.

On January 1st, 1863, the regiment was in the First Brigade, Third Division, Seventeenth Army Corps, Brigadier General John E. Smith commanding Brigade, Brigadier General John A. Logan commanding Division, and Major General J. B. McPherson, Corps.

January 15th, moved to Lagrange, Tennessee; thence to Colliersville, where it remained for two weeks, and moved to Memphis, Tennessee, remaining until March 10, 1863. 10th, embarked for Lake Providence, remaining until April 1st, 1863. Moved to Berry's Landing. Remained till 6th. Moved to Milliken's Bend. 29th, marched all day and night down the river, and on 30th, at 9 A. M., crossed the river, below Vicksburg, into Mississippi. May 1st, moved to the assistance of General McClernand, at Thompson's Hill.

The regiment was without rations, and had nothing to eat the night before; but the "boys" said go, and away they went, with three cheers. Made a march of twelve miles in three hours; came up to the enemy and turned their right flank, thus saving the day.

Next day crossed Bayou Pierre, and, on the 3d came up with the enemy, and defeated them again, at Ingram's Heights. They still followed the retreating "chivalry," skirmishing every day, until the 12th, when they made a stand at Raymond, and again retreated to Jackson, where the regiment had a severe fight, in which the "Johnnies" again "caved in."

May 15, turned our course towards Vicksburg. 16th, defeated the enemy at Champion Hills. 19th, reached the defenses at Vicksburg. The regiment was engaged during the entire siege. In the charge on Fort Hill, lost 2 officers and 8 men, killed, and 40 wounded. Our flag received 153 shots, and the staff was shot in two four times.

November 7, moved to Big Black river. Regiment reorganized January 5, 1864. February 3, moved, with Seventeenth and Sixteenth Corps, on the Meridian campaign, under General Sherman. Returned March 3d, having marched 300 miles.

March 19, 1864, started for Illinois, on veteran furlough.

May 3, left Cairo for Clifton, Tennessee, arriving on 6th. Moved, 15th, through a portion of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, and, on the 9th of June, joined General Sherman's grand army at Ackworth. Was engaged in the battle of Bush Mountain (Kenesaw Mountain) June 27, and participated in all the battles, skirmishes and marches made by the Division (Third) during the siege of Atlanta, from July 19 to August 31—among them, the memorable 21st and 22d of July and August 31st, at Lovejoy Station.

Was with Sherman, in the campaign after Hood, October 1864, arriving at Marietta, November 8, where the men drew clothing and supplies, and were paid. 13th, moved to Atlanta, and 15th, moved, with General Sherman, in the "March to the Sea."

Arrived at defenses of Savannah, December 10, and on 12th camped at Dr. Owen's rice plantation. Remained until 21st, when marched into the city. Remained in camp near Savannah until January 4, 1865.

January 4, 1865, marched to Fort Thunderbolt, and embarked on Harvest Moon, for Beaufort, S. C.—camping two miles from the town—and remained until 13th, when it moved to Pocomtogo. After considerable skirmishing, the enemy evacuated the works. The regiment remained here, waiting for the Fourteenth and Twentieth Corps to come up, until 30th—meantime moving to Blair's Landing to assist in unloading stores for the Corps.

January 30th, commenced the Carolina campaign, marching, via Salkahatchie, Orangeburg, Columbia, Winn-boro, Cheraw, Fayetteville and Bentonville, to Goldsboro, where we arrived March 24, 1865, having been without communications for 54 days.

April 10, marched toward Raleigh, arriving 14th. Remained in camp until the surrender of General Johnson's army, when, on 29th, marched northward—arriving at Richmond, Virginia, May 9, and at Alexandria, May 19th, 1865.

The Regiment participated in the grand review, May 24th, at Washington, and camped near the city till June 6.

June 6, moved, via Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to Parkersburg, Virginia. 8th, embarked for Louisville, Kentucky. 11th, arrived, and were assigned to provost guard duty.

July 19, 1865, were mustered out of United States' service, by Lieutenant Aug. P. Noyes, A. C. M. Third Division, Seventeenth Army Corps. Moved for Springfield, Illinois, and arrived July 23, 1865. July 31, 1865, received final pay and discharge.

The regiment, at time of discharge, numbered 25 officers and 677 enlisted men. At organization, numbered 1130, and have received recruits to the number of 700. Killed in action, died of wounds, of disease and discharged, 1128.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-SECOND INFANTRY.

The Thirty-second Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Ills., by Col. John Logan, and mustered into United States' service, December 31, 1861.

January 28th, 1862, ordered to Cairo. February 2, ordered to Bird's Point, Mo. On the 8th February, proceeded up Tennessee river. 9th, arrived at Fort Henry. 23d, in First Brigade, Col. I. C. Pugh commanding; Fourth Division, General S. A. Hurlbut commanding. Proceeded to Pittsburg Landing. March 15, arrived, and 17th, camped two miles from the landing.

The Thirty-second bore a distinguished and honorable part in the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862, losing 40 killed and 200 wounded.

Was engaged in the advance on Corinth, and pursuit to Cold Water, Miss., and returned to Lagrange, and afterwards marched to Memphis, arriving July 21st. September 6, moved towards Brownsville, and went into camp at Bolivar, 13th. Ordered to Grand Junction on the 20th. Were compelled to retire to Bolivar by an overwhelming force of the enemy. October 4, ordered to Corinth, to re-enforce General Rosecrans.

October 5, at the Hatchie river, met the enemy and fought the battle of Matamora, where they were victorious over five times their number. Here the Thirty-second did good service. Loss, 7 killed and 29 wounded. Returned to Bolivar, 8th. November 3, moved to Lagrange. 8th, in a forced march, southward, surprised and captured over a hundred rebel cavalry at Lamar, and routed the enemy at that place. November 28, camped at Lumpkin's Mill. December 11, crossed the Tallahatchie. 13th, marched to Yocona creek. 21st, moved to within four miles of Holly Springs. Holly Springs being captured and communications cut off, the troops were on half rations. 22d, crossed the Tallahatchie. 23d, marched to Waterford. 26th, to Lumpkin's Mill.

January 8th, 1863, having subsisted on the country for two weeks, moved to Holly Springs. Here Colonel Logan returned from leave of absence and resumed command.

10th, moved across the Cold Water. 11th, reached Moscow. 13th, ordered to Lafayette, and when within 3 miles of Lafayette ordered back, and halted at Wolf river. 16th, moved to Lafayette, and afterward to Colliersville.

February 6, Thirty-second moved to Bray's Station. At this time the Division was commanded by Colonel I. C. Pugh, Forty-first Illinois, and Brigade by Colonel Bryant, Twelfth Wisconsin.

In March, moved to Memphis, and remained until May 11, when it moved to Young's Point, La. 15th, joined the Division 10 miles below Vicksburg. 16th, embarked for Grand Gulf, where they were detained as garrison. June 12th, the post of Grand Gulf was abandoned, and the regiment joined the Division on the lines around Vicksburg. Was engaged in the siege until June 27, when Colonel Logan was ordered, with Thirty-second Illinois, One Hundred and Fourteenth Ohio and one section of artillery, to command the post at Warrenton. July 4, ordered to rejoin the Brigade, and, on the 5th, marched with General Sherman's army toward Jackson. This was the most trying march the regiment had made, being tired and worn out during the siege.

July 23, Brigadier General M. M. Crocker assigned to command of Fourth Division, and soon after Brigadier General W. Q. Gresham took command of Brigade.

August 15, moved to Natchez. September 1st, ordered against Harrisonburg, La. The place being evacuated at its approach, it captured nine pieces of artillery, which were destroyed, after which it returned to Natchez.

November 24, Brigade landed at Vicksburg. 27th, moved out to Clear creek, eight miles from Vicksburg. December 4th, in light marching order, and four days' rations in haversack, the Thirty-second, Twelfth Wisconsin and about 500 cavalry embarked for Natchez, an attack being expected at that place. Four days' hard marching and slight skirmishing were made at Natchez.

December 21st, Brigade moved toward Fayette, and, 22d, advanced to Fayette, driving the enemy before it; after which it returned to Natchez, and remained until January 23, 1864.

January 23, 1864, moved to Vicksburg, where the regiment was mustered as a veteran organization.

February 4, started on Meridian expedition with First Brigade, Fourth Division, Seventeenth Army Corps, and returned with the command, having marched nearly 300 miles.

March 16th, the regiment embarked for Illinois, to receive their veteran furlough. April 28th, reassembled at Camp Butler, and moved to Bird's Point, Mo. May 8 1864, moved for Clifton, Tenn., arriving on the 15th. Marched, on the 17th, and moving, via Pulaski, Tenn., Huntsville and Decatur, Ala., Rome and Kingston, Ga., joined General Sherman's army at Ackworth, June 11th, 1864. At this time our Brigade was commanded by Colonel W. L. Sandersen, Twenty-third Indiana; Division, by Brigadier General W. Q. Gresham; and Corps, by Major General F. P. Blair. June 12, 1864, siege of Kenesaw Mountain commenced. The Seventeenth Corps occupied the left of the line, and the Thirty-second Regiment occupied a most exposed position in the advance. July 2, the Corps was transferred to the extreme right of the line, and skirmished with the enemy, 4th and 5th, and on the 5th, the Fourth Division assaulted the enemy's works near Nickajack creek—the Thirty-second being the first to plant its colors on the works. The enemy then withdrew to the Chattahoochee, and on 17th of July fell back to Atlanta. July 18th, the regiment was transferred to Second Brigade, and Colonel Logan assigned to command of the Brigade—Lieutenant Colonel English commanding regiment. The Second Brigade was now sent to Marietta, to guard the depot of supplies at that place. September 8, a party of fifty men, under command of Lieutenant Alex. Campbell, while out foraging, were captured, after a spirited resistance—only 9 escaping.

On the 1st of October, the regiment was moved to a point near Kenesaw Mountain. On the 3d, the enemy, in strong force, attacked the line, and driving back the guard, killed and captured 12 men.

The regiment remained in camp near Marietta until the commencement of "Sherman's March to the Sea" when it moved from Marietta, November 13th, and from Atlanta, November 15th, 1864.

In the siege of Savannah, from December 10th to 21st, the regiment lost Captain E. C. Lawson, and four men, wounded. From the 8th to 18th, the regiment was on less than one-fourth rations, and some days not having anything to eat.

Remained at Camp at Savannah, Ga., until January 5, 1865, when embarked at Thunderbolt for Beaufort, S. C. Disembarked 7th, and remained until February 1st.

On the 3d of February, the Division, under command of Brevet Major General Giles A. Smith, waded the Salkahatchie river, at a point where it had been deemed impossible, by the enemy, to cross. The river spreading out about two miles wide, and the water being from two to five feet deep and ice cold, it was a severe task, but Generals, staff officers and enlisted men, waded together, and after half hour's skirmishing on the opposite bank, compelled the enemy to evacuate their strong line of defense. The regiment was, at this time, in the Third Brigade, Brigadier General Belknap commanding. Colonel Logan and Lieutenant Colonel English being on court martial duty, at Louisville, Ky., the regiment was commanded, during these two long campaigns, by Captain John J. Rider, who was subsequently commissioned Lieutenant Colonel.

February 12th, arrived at North Edisto. The bridge being strongly guarded, the Thirty-second, which was in advance, was ordered one mile above, where it waded the stream. The enemy finding a portion of our troops across the river, fled, and Orangeburg was occupied by the Seventeenth Corps.

On the 16th inst., the Division arrived on the south bank of the Congaree river, opposite Columbia, S. C., and our batteries commenced shelling the enemy, who were still in the city. During the night they evacuated the place, and in the morning two companies of the Thirteenth Iowa Infantry, and Company C, of this regiment, crossed the river, in flats, with the colors of each regiment. The flag of the Thirteenth Iowa was placed on the State House, and that of the Thirty-second Illinois Regiment, by Adjutant F. Y. Hedley, on the City Hall.

From Columbia marched to Cheraw, arriving March 3, and to Fayetteville, N. C., arriving March 13; thence to Bentonville, N. C., where the regiment was engaged on the 21st, five companies in the skirmish line losing heavily. For gallantry in this action Captain Dunn was highly complimented by the Brigade commander, General Belknap.

On the 22d March, moved to Goldsboro, N. C. On the 13th of April, moved to Raleigh, and soon after to Jones' Station, where it remained until Johnson's surrender.

April 28th, was transferred to Second Brigade, Brigadier General Stolbrand commanding. 29th, moved northward, via Petersburg, Richmond and Alexandria. Took part in the grand review at Washington, May 24th, 1865.

June 6, moved westward via Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to Parkersburg, Virginia; thence, by Ohio river, to Louisville, Ky. 20th, the Brigade was transferred to the Department of Missouri, and again moved westward, via St. Louis, Missouri and Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; and, on the 22d, marched for Fort Kearney, Nebraska, arriving August 13th. Returned to Fort Leavenworth, arriving September 2.

September 16, mustered out of United States' service at Fort Leavenworth, and ordered to Camp Butler, Ill. for final payment and discharge.

The regiment traveled, while in the United States' service, about 11,000 miles.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-THIRD INFANTRY.

The Thirty-third Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, in the month of September, 1861, by Colonel Chas. E. Hovey, and mustered into the United States' service by Captain T. G. Pitcher, U. S. A.

September 20, moved to Ironton, Mo., via St. Louis. Remained at Ironton during the winter, with occasional scouts into the country. On one of these the battle of Fredericktown was fought—Company A on skirmish line. March, 1862, moved, with the command of General Steele, southward, passing into Arkansas at Pitman's Ferry, and marching, via Pocahontas and Jacksonport, to Batesville, where it joined General Curtis' army; thence, via Jacksonport, Augusta and Clarendon, to Helena. Was engaged in the battle of Cache, and in many skirmishes. At the battle of Cotton Plant, Company A, on skirmish line, met and checked a charge of 2000 Texan Rangers.

During July and August were camped 20 miles south of Helena, and engaged in eight expeditions up and down the river.

September 1st, was moved up the river to Sulphur Springs, and thence to Pilot Knob, where it arrived the middle of October, 1862.

November 15, moved to Van Buren, Ark., in Colonel Harris' Brigade, Brigadier General W. P. Benton's Division, of General Davidson's Corps. Made winter campaign in Southeast Missouri, passing through Patterson, Van Buren, Alton, West Plains, Eminence and Centreville, and returned to Bellevue Valley, near Pilot Knob, about March 1st, 1863.

The Thirty-third was then ordered to Ste. Genevieve, Mo., where, with the command, it embarked for Milliken's Bend, La. Attached to the First Brigade, First Division, Thirteenth Army Corps, it was engaged in all its battles, participating in the battles of Port Gibson, Champion Hills, Black River Bridge, assault and siege of Vicksburg, and the siege of Jackson.

In August, moved to New Orleans, with the Thirteenth Corps. In October, with Brigade of Colonel Shunk, Eighth Indiana, Major General C. C. Washburne's Division, and Major General E. O. C. Ord's Corps, engaged in the campaign up the Bayou Teche. Returned to New Orleans in November. Thence ordered to Brownsville, Texas, but, before landing, was ordered to Aransas Pass. Disembarked on St. Joseph Island, marched up St. Joseph Island and Matagorda Island to Saluria, participating in the capture of Fort Esperanza. Thence moved to Indianola and Port Lavaca.

The First Brigade, while on the main land of Texas, was commanded by Brigadier General Fitz Henry Warren.

January 1st, 1864, the regiment re-enlisted as veterans, and March 14th reached Bloomington, Illinois, and received veteran furlough.

April 18, 1864, regiment was reorganized at Camp Butler, Illinois, and proceeded to New Orleans, via Alton and St. Louis—arriving 29th, and camping at Carrollton.

May 17th, ordered to Brashear City, La. Soon after its arrival the regiment was scattered along the line of the road, as guard, as follows : Companies F, C and K, at Bayou Boeuf ; Company I, Bayou L'Ours ; Companies A and D, Tigerville ; Company G, Chacaboula ; Company E, Terre Bonne ; Company B, Bayou Lafourche and Bayou des Allemands ; Company H, Boutte. Regimental Headquarters, Terre Bonne. The District was called the "District of Lafourche," commanded by Brigadier General Robert A. Cameron, Headquarters at Thibodaux.

September 17, 1864, the non-veterans of the regiment were started home, via New York City, in charge of rebel prisoners, and were mustered out at Camp Butler, about October 11, 1864.

March 2, 1865, ordered to join the Sixteenth Army Corps. Near Boutte Station the train was thrown from the track, and 9 men killed and 70 wounded. 18th, regiment embarked on Lake Pouchetrain, for Mobile expedition. Company K, remaining behind to guard transportation, joined the regiment April 11, at Blakely. Moved, via Fort Gaines and Navy Cove, landed on Fish river, Ala., and marched with General Canby's army up east side of Mobile Bay. The regiment was in the First Brigade, Colonel W. L. McMillian, Ninety-fifth Ohio ; First Division, Brigadier General J. McArthur ; Sixteenth Army Corps, Major General A. J. Smith.

March 27, arrived in front of Spanish Fort, the main defense of Mobile, and, until its capture, April 8th, was actively engaged. Loss, one killed, two died of wounds, and nine wounded.

After the surrender of Mobile, marched, April 12, 1865, with the Sixteenth Corps, for Montgomery, Alabama, where it arrived on 25th, and encamped on the Alabama river. Here it received the news of Lee and Johnson's surrender, after which its operations were not of a hostile character.

May 10, marched to Selma, and May 17, by rail, to Meridian, Mississippi. Here remained. In the latter part of July the regiment was filled above the maximum, by men transferred from Seventy-second, One Hundred and Seventeenth, One Hundred and Twenty-second and One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Illinois.

Moved to Vicksburg, April 14th, 1865, and remained at that place until mustered out of service, November 24, 1865, and ordered to Camp Butler, Illinois, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-FOURTH INFANTRY.

The Thirty-fourth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, September 7, 1861, by Colonel E. N. Kirk. Moved, October 2, to Lexington, Kentucky, and from thence to Louisville, and then to Camp Nevin, Kentucky, where it remained until February 14, 1862. Marched to Bowling Green, and thence, via Nashville, Franklin and Columbia, to Savannah, on the Tennessee river. Arrived at Pittsburg Landing, April 7, 1862, and was hotly engaged in that battle, losing Major Levanway and 15 men killed, and 112 wounded. From thence moved to Corinth, and was engaged on the 29th May, losing one man killed and five wounded. From Corinth, moved to Iuka and Florence, Alabama. Crossed the river at that place and moved to Athens, Huntsville and Stevenson, Alabama. Was encamped over a month at Battle creek. From thence marched, via Pelham, Murfreesboro and Nashville, to Louisville, Kentucky, arriving September 27, 1862. Brigade commanded by Col. F. M. Stambaugh, Seventy-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers, Gen. McCook commanding the Division.

October 1st, 1862, left Louisville for Frankfort. Regiment commanded by Lieut. Col. H. W. Bristol, Brigade, by Col. E. N. Kirk, and Division, by Brig. Gen. Sill. October 4, was engaged in a skirmish at Clayville, Kentucky. From Frankfort, moved, via Laurensburg, Perryville, Danville, Crab Orchard, Lebanon and Bowling Green, to Nashville. November 27th, had a skirmish at Laverne. Regiment remained in camp five miles south-east of Nashville until December 26, 1862. Second Brigade, Brig. Gen. E. N. Kirk commanding; Second Division, Brig. Gen. R. W. Johnson commanding. Right Wing of Fourteenth Army Corps, Alexander McD. McCook commanding.

December 27, Right Wing moved toward Triune, the Thirty-fourth, in advance, encountered the enemy commanding the approaches to Triune; drove him till noon, when he formed in the town. The nature of the ground preventing the use of artillery, the infantry was advanced, and after a sharp fight, drove the enemy from town—the enemy taking his artillery with him. 29th, moved, via Independence Hill, toward Murfreesboro. 30th, took position as extreme right of Union lines. 31st, the enemy attacked the regiment in overwhelming force, driving it back on the main line. Following the advantage gained by his infantry, the enemy's cavalry charged the line, and captured many of the Regiment. Loss—killed 21, wounded 93, missing 66. Gen. Kirk was mortally wounded. During the three following days, the Thirty-fourth did guard duty.

While at Murfreesboro, the Right Wing, Fourteenth Army Corps, was organized into the Twentieth Army Corps, and Major Gen. McCook assigned to command.

June 24, 1863, the Twentieth Corps moved by the Shelbyville pike, toward Liberty Gap. On the 25th, the Second Brigade was ordered forward, and advanced across an open cornfield, eighty rods in width, lately plowed and softened by the rains which fell the day and night before, until the men sunk half way to the knee in mud at every step. Without help, and in the face of a rebel brigade advantageously posted, they drove the enemy from his position—the Second Arkansas Infantry leaving their battle flag on the hill, where they fought in front of the Thirty-fourth. The regiment losing 3 killed and 26 wounded.

Moved, on 26th, via Beech Grove, to Manchester, entering Tullahoma on the morning of July 1st.

August 7th, Colonel A. P. Dysart resigned, leaving the regiment under command of Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Van Tassell.

August 16th, moved, via Larkin's Valley, to Bellefonte, Alabama. The Thirty-fourth was here detailed as Provost Guard. 30th, moved to Capertan's Ferry, on Tennessee river. Here the regiment was left to guard the pontoon bridge.

September 18th, moved the boats to Battle creek.

October 20th, 1863, moved, under command of Brigadier General J. D. Morgan, to Anderson's Cross Roads, in Sequatchie Valley.

November 8th, moved to Harrison's Landing, on Tennessee river. November 14th, ordered to report to Brigadier General John Beatty, commanding Second Brigade, Second Division, Fourteenth Army Corps, Jeff C. Davis commanding Division. Arrived at Chattanooga 15th, and camped on Moccasin Point.

November 25th, ordered to join the Brigade on the battle field of Chattanooga. Arrived 11 o'clock P. M. Moved at 1 o'clock A. M. of 26th, and moved via Chickamauga Station—met the retreating enemy near Graysville, and was engaged about half an hour.

28th, moved back to Chattanooga, where those unable to march were put in camp. The remainder of the regiment moving on the expedition into East Tennessee, as far as Loudon, where the Thirty-fourth were detailed to run a grist mill, grinding corn and wheat for the Division. Returned to Chattanooga, arriving December 19, 1863.

December 22d, the Thirty-fourth was mustered as a veteran organization, and January 8th, 1864, started for Springfield, Illinois, for veteran furlough.

Received veteran furlough, and rendezvoused at Dixon, Illinois. February 28, moved, via Chicago, Louisville and Nashville, arriving at Chattanooga March 7, 1864, and moved out to join the Second Brigade, Colonel John G. Mitchell, One Hundred and Thirteenth Ohio, commanding, in camp near Rosville, Georgia.

Mustered out July 12, 1865, at Louisville, Kentucky. Arrived at Chicago July 16, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-FIFTH INFANTRY.

The Thirty-fifth Illinois Volunteer Infantry was organized at Decatur, on the 3d day of July, 1861, and its services tendered to the President. On the 23d day of same month, it was accepted by the Secretary of War, as Colonel G. A. Smith's Independent Regiment of Illinois Volunteers.

On the 4th day of August, left Decatur, and arrived at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, next day. Remained there one week, and then was ordered to Marine Hospital, St. Louis. Eight companies were there mustered into the United States' service. Aggregate strength of regiment, 793.

On the 15th of September, moved, by railroad, to Jefferson City, Missouri. 25th of September, moved to Otterville—same transportation. 15th October, marched to Sedalia, 15 miles, and joined General Sigel's advance on Springfield; arrived there on 26th. Distance marched, 125 miles.

November 10th, marched to Wilson's Creek, and returned on the 12th. Distance, 25 miles.

November 13th, left Springfield for Rolla; arrived there on 19th; distance, 114 miles.

January 23d, 1862, began advance on Springfield, and arrived there on the 13th day of February. Next day followed Price's retreating army, and arrived at Cross Hollows, Arkansas, on the 21st, after a hard and fatiguing march. Line of battle formed, and skirmishing with rebels nearly every day. Distance, 223 miles.

March 5th, retired from Cross Hollows to Pea Ridge—12 miles. 7th, Dodge's Brigade, composed of Fourth Iowa and Thirty-fifth Illinois Infantry, with First Iowa Battery, moved north on Cassville road, about one mile and a half, to Elkhorn Tavern, and commenced the battle of Pea Ridge, for that day, about 10 A. M. Soon after, were supported by Vandever's Brigade, composed of Ninth Iowa, 24th Missouri Infantry and Dubuque Battery, with a detachment of Third Illinois Cavalry—being the whole of Carr's Division. The enemy, composed of Missouri troops, under General Price, were repulsed in all their attempts to gain the table land upon which the Elkhorn Tavern and Pea Ridge are situated, until 4 P. M., when, assaulting Carr's position with 12,000 men and 30 cannon, it was carried after obstinate resistance and heavy loss. This regiment lost as follows: Killed, 15; wounded, 45; prisoners, 55—of whom 15 were wounded.

Colonel G. A. Smith was severely wounded in head and arm, early in the action, and was so disabled that he never rejoined his regiment to take command of it after. The regiment was engaged in repulsing the enemy on the morning of the 8th, but without loss. The losses in Carr's Division, composed of four regiments, two batteries, and detachment of cavalry, was more than half the entire loss of General Curtis' army in the three days' fighting of that battle. Distance marched, from Pea Ridge to Keitsville, 49 miles.

April 5th, 1862, commenced march to Batesville, Arkansas—regiment in command of Major McIlwain—Lieutenant Colonel Chandler commanding brigade—arrived at Batesville May 8. Distance, 291 miles.

May 10th, assigned to General Jeff. C. Davis' Division, and began march to Cape Girardeau, Missouri; arrived there on 21st; distance, 252 miles.

May 22d, embarked on steamer Sunshine, for Hamburg Landing, Tennessee; arrived there on 25th. On 27th, moved to Farmington, Mississippi, and took part in siege of Corinth until its evacuation on the 30th.

June 1st to 6th, following rebel army, and in front of Booneville. 12th, camped at Clear creek. 22d, at Jacinto. Distance marched, from Hamburg Landing to Jacinto, including countermarches, 92 miles.

June 27th, trip to near Holly Springs, and return; distance 100 miles.

August 8th, marched to Iuka; distance, 35 miles.

August 9th, detached to guard Bear creek bridge; remained on guard duty until the 21st. While at this place, sent to Iuka, 112 bales of cotton, abandoned by rebel owners. Left Bear creek on the 21st, and joined Buell's army at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, on September 1st. Distance, 175 miles.

September 2d, started for Louisville, Kentucky; arrived there on 25th. Distance, 220 miles.

October 1st, advanced on Bragg's army, in front of Louisville. On the 8th, battle of Perryville. Skirmished with rebel left; no loss. Reached Nashville, Tennessee, on 6th; distance, from Louisville, 200 miles.

November 10th, escort for train to Mitchellsville; distance, going and returning, 60 miles.

November 26th, the Twenty-fifth and Thirty-fifth Illinois Volunteers started on four days' scout, to Harpeth Shoals; distance, both ways, 132 miles.

December 26th, left Nashville, for Murfreesboro, via Triune; distance, 45 miles.

August 7th to 20th, on march to Stevenson, Alabama; distance, 40 miles.

August 28th, marched to Caperton's Ferry. Next day, Heg's Brigade, composed of Twenty-fifth and Thirty-fifth Illinois, Eighth Kansas, and Fifteenth Wisconsin Infantry, crossed the Tennessee river, on pontoons, and drove the rebel pickets back, while the bridge was being laid—being the first infantry on the south side of the Tennessee river.

August 29th to September 19th, crossed Raccoon, Sand, and Lookout Mountains; marched to Alpine, to Dug Gap, 6 miles in front of Lafayette, Georgia, and to battle field of Chickamauga; distance, 150 miles.

November 23d, in assault on rebel rifle-pits, in front of Mission Ridge.

November 25th, storming and capture of Mission Ridge. This regiment was formed in front line on left of Willich's Brigade, Wood's Division, Fourth Army Corps. Wood's Division was the first to carry the crest of the Ridge, and the rebel works there. The men were led by the regimental flags being advanced in front. The flag of this regiment was carried, in advance of the men, to within twenty steps of the rebel works on the crest. All of the color guard but one, Corporal Preston, Company K, had been wounded, and he, at this time, being instantly killed, by a bullet through his head, the flag fell into the hands of Lieutenant Colonel Chandler, commanding regiment, who was there to receive it, and by him carried into the enemy's works, followed by his men. None were in earlier, and the enemy's line was broken in many places nearly at that moment. Losses, as follows: Killed, 6 men; wounded, 2 commissioned officers and 46 men.

Went into action with 212 officers and men.

November 28th to December 7th, on march from Chattanooga to Knoxville; distance, 138 miles.

December 11th to 16th, on scout to Mayville, and return; distance, 30 miles.

January 21st, 1864, destroyed bridge at Strawberry Plains, and marched to Knoxville; distance, 16 miles.

Most of the losses occurred at the following places:

May 9th and 10th, Rocky Faced Ridge; May 14th and 15th, Resaca; May 26th and 27th, Dallas; June 18th, Mud Creek; June 21st and 22d, Kenesaw.

Major McIlwain was killed on the 22d day of June, in front of Kenesaw. He was a brave and efficient officer—always prompt in the discharge of his duties. He distinguished himself at the battle of Stone River, as commander of the skirmishers of the brigade.

August 26th, left Chattahoochee bridge, for Chattanooga. Went into camp at Chattanooga on the 27th of August, and remained until the 31st; then started for Springfield, Illinois, to be mustered out of service. Were 11 days on the road to Nashville, having encountered Biffel's Cavalry, at Athens, Alabama, and Wheeler's, at Campbell Station, Tennessee. Rebuilt 6 miles of railroad track, and brought everything through. The Sixth Indiana Volunteers accompanied this regiment.

Were mustered out at Springfield, Illinois, on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1864.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-SIXTH INFANTRY.

The Thirty-sixth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Aurora, Illinois, in September, 1861, by Colonel Nicholas Greusel, and mustered into United States' service by Captain A. G. Brackett, U. S. A. September 23, 1861.

September 24th, ordered to Quincy, Illinois, by rail, and thence to St. Louis, where the regiment was armed. 29th, moved to Rolla, where the regiment remained until January 14, 1862. Marched to Lebanon. Remained until February 10. Entered Springfield on the 13th. Proceeded to Bentonville, Arkansas, and were engaged in the fight there, March 6th. The regiment was engaged in the battle of Leetown, March 7th, and of Pea Ridge, 8th. Marched, via Keitsville, Cassville, Cape Fear, Galena, Forsythe and West Plains, Missouri, and Salem, Arkansas, to Batesville, Arkansas. Were then transferred to the Department of the Mississippi, and marched, under General Asboth, to Cape Girardeau, Missouri. Embarked for Hamburg Landing, Tennessee, and were, on arrival, assigned to General Pope's command.

On evacuation of Corinth, marched to Booneville, and back to Rienzi, remaining until September 6th. Moved to Cincinnati, via Corinth, Columbus, Cairo, Odin and Seymour. Moved from Covington, via Indianapolis, to Louisville, and remained until October 1st, when it marched with General Buell's Army, Gilbert's Corps, Sheridan's Division, Colonel Greusel's Brigade, the regiment being commanded by Captain Silas Miller, via Bardstown and Springfield, to Perryville, where it met the enemy. In this action the Thirty-sixth lost 75 killed and wounded. Moved thence, via Danville and Lancaster, to Crab Orchard; thence, via Lancaster, Danville, Lebanon, New Market, Cave City and Bowling Green, to Nashville, near which place it encamped.

The Brigade commanders have been Colonels Osterhaus, Greusel, Hansendifel, and Knoblesdorf. Division commanders, Generals Sigel, Asboth, Jeff. C. Davis, Gordon Granger and Sheridan. Corps commanders, Generals Curtis, Pope, Granger, Gilbert, and McCook. Department commanders, Generals Fremont, Hunter, Halleck, Grant, Wright, Nelson, Buell and Rosecrans. The Thirty-sixth Illinois was engaged in the battle of Stone River, from December 26th 1862, until January 2d, 1863, coming out of the action with only 200 men. Says Colonel Greusel:

"At daylight on the 31st, the regiment was assaulted by a rebel brigade, under General Weathers, and being supported by the Eighty-eighth Illinois, Colonel Frank Sherman, on its left, they were soon driven back to the woods; but again, and again, they were rallied; every time meeting the same fate, until 38 of that fine brigade were all that were left to tell where their rebel comrades had fallen. The Thirty-sixth charged them at the point of the bayonet twice, in succession, driving them back. Forty-one of the poor boys lay dead on their faces on less than one acre of ground. The wounded is large, and, in fact, the killed and wounded are the largest in the whole Division.

"At 8 o'clock, A. M., 31st, received notice of the death of Gen. Sill, and the command of the Brigade devolved upon me. All our brigade commanders were killed. Here it was that Herrington fell. Only half of the Division, Sheridan's Third, were left. My Brigade went into action 2210 strong, and came out with 1008, rank and file. My officers, with one exception, stood their ground. 1st Sergeant Orrison Smith, for bravery during the battle, maintaining his position in the company, although wounded in three places, I made him a Second Lieutenant, in front of the whole Regiment.

"My Regiment," continues Colonel Greusel, "is in a crippled condition. Only ten officers are left. Nine wounded and taken prisoner by the enemy, one killed, and one mortally wounded."

The Thirty-sixth, as appears from the official report of Lieut. Col. Porter C. Olson, bore an honorable part in the battle near Chickamauga Creek, on the 20th and 21st September, 1863.

September 19th, the regiment, Colonel Miller, commanding, marched from Pond Springs to Gordon's Mills, a distance of ten miles. At 2 p. m., went into position, near Gordon's Mills, with one company thrown forward as skirmishers. At 5 o'clock p. m., fell back to the timber, about 200 yards, and remained during the night. At 4 o'clock a. m., 20th, marched two miles and a quarter to the left, and formed in the second line. At 11 a. m., after some skirmishing, ordered forward to the support of the centre. Formed on the brow of a hill, under a most terrible fire, but in perfect good order, and engaged the enemy fiercely, checking his advance. At this juncture the enemy appeared on the left, and, turning the flank, subjected us to a murderous enfilading fire, against which we could offer but little resistance. The regiment was ordered to fall back. Gen. Lytle being killed, Col. Miller took command of the Brigade, and Lieut. Col. Olson of the Regiment. The regiment made another stand, but was overwhelmed by numbers, and compelled to fall back. Marched to Rossville, and encamped for the night. 21st, in position on the Chattanooga road. 22d, moved into Chattanooga.

Mustered out October 8, 1865, at New Orleans, Louisiana, and arrived at Camp Butler, Illinois, October 17, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-SEVENTH INFANTRY.

The Thirty-seventh Infantry Illinois Volunteers, was organized at Chicago, Illinois, by Colonel Julius White, in September, 1861. It consisted of ten companies of Infantry and two of Cavalry.

September 19th, ordered to St. Louis, Missouri. A few days afterward, moved to Booneville; from thence to Otterville, and thence to Springfield, via Warsaw. Returned to Otterville, under Gen. Hunter, where it remained during the winter.

January 24, 1862, marched to Pea Ridge, and participated in the battle of that place. Returned to Cassville.

June 27, marched to Springfield.

September 29, marched to Newtonia, and was present at that battle. Moved to Pea Ridge, and thence, via Huntsville and Osage Springs, to Fayetteville, where it again routed the enemy. Returned to Marionville, Missouri, and marched to Ozark and fifteen miles toward Hartsville, and, after camping a few days, marched to Camp Lyon, Missouri. Soon after marched to the relief of Gen. Blunt, marching 112 miles in three days. Met, fought and defeated the enemy, who were greatly superior to us in numbers. Camped at Prairie Grove, Arkansas.

December 31, 1865, regiment stationed at Columbus, Texas.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-EIGHTH INFANTRY.

The Thirty-eighth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, in September, 1861, by Colonel William P. Carlin. September 20th, 1861, was ordered to Pilot Knob, Missouri, receiving its arms en route. Colonel Carlin was placed in command of the post. October 20th, marched to Fredericktown, and 21st was engaged in the battle at that place with the enemy, under Jeff. Thompson.

The regiment remained at Pilot Knob during the winter.

March 3, 1862, moved to Reeves' Station, on Black river, arriving on the 10th. Here the troops, consisting of Twenty-first, Thirty-third and Thirty-eighth Illinois Infantry, Eleventh Wisconsin Infantry, Fifth, Seventh and Ninth Illinois Cavalry, First Indiana Cavalry, and Sixteenth Ohio Battery, were organized into the Division of South-east Missouri, under command of Brigadier General F. Steele. First Brigade, Colonel Carlin commanding, consisted of Twenty-first and Thirty-eighth Illinois Infantry, Fifth Illinois Cavalry, and Sixteenth Ohio Battery.

March 31st, moved from Reeves' Station to Doniphan. April 17th, crossed Current river. 21st, reached Pocahontas, Arkansas.

April 30th, marched for Jacksonport, Arkansas, arriving May 4th.

May 10th, the Twenty-first and Thirty-eighth were ordered to Cape Girardeau, Missouri, 220 miles distant. This march was made in ten days, a day and a half of which time was spent in ferrying Black and Current rivers. May 24th, arrived at Hamburg Landing. Moved to the front, and were before Corinth during the last days of the siege—in Second Brigade Fourth Division, Left Wing Army of Mississippi, Colonel Carlin commanding Brigade, Brigadier General Jeff. C. Davis commanding Division and Major General John Pope.

Marched to Danville, Booneville, back to Corinth, and to Jacinto. During the last of June, marched to Ripley, and returned by forced marches, arriving July 4th, 1862. Remained in camp till August 14th, when marched with the Division to join the Army of the Ohio, under General Buell. Passing through Iuka, Mississippi, crossed the Tennessee at Eastport: thence marched, via Florence, Alabama, Lawrenceburg, Mt. Pleasant, Columbia, Franklin, Murfreesboro and Nashville, Tennessee, Bowling Green, Mumfordsville, Elizabethtown, and West Point, Kentucky, arriving at Louisville, Kentucky, September 26th, 1862, having marched, night and day, about 500 miles.

October 1st, marched from Louisville, in the Thirty-first Brigade, Ninth Division, Army of the Ohio—Colonel Carlin commanding Brigade, and General Robert B. Mitchell commanding Division.

October 8th, engaged in battle of Perryville, Major D. H. Gilmer commanding, and captured an ammunition train, two caissons and about 100 prisoners. Was honorably mentioned in General Mitchell's report of the battle. Joined in pursuit of Bragg as far as Crab Orchard, and then marched through Lancaster, Danville, Lebanon and Bowling Green, to Edgefield Junction, near Nashville, arriving November 9th.

Went on a scout to Harpeth Shoals with Fifteenth Wisconsin Volunteers, and returned November 20th, having destroyed a large quantity of salt, and captured a rebel wagon train and one hundred horses and mules.

Advanced from Nashville, December 26th, 1862, and with the Brigade, (Second Brigade, First Division, Right Wing of Army of Cumberland) charged a battery at Knob Gap, near Nolensville, capturing two guns. Regimental loss, 3 killed and 8 wounded.

Engaged in the battle of Stone River, from December 30, 1862, to January 4, 1863. December 31st, the brigade was heavily engaged, repulsed three heavy charges, and held the position until the enemy, having driven Johnson's Division, came heavily on the flank and forced the line to retire. Regiment lost in this engagement, 34 killed, 109 wounded, and 34 missing.

Encamped at Murfreesboro until June. Meantime the Right Wing was changed to the Twentieth Army Corps.

When the enemy advanced on Tullahoma, the Twentieth Army Corps moved on Liberty Gap, and engaged the enemy, June 24th, 25th and 26th. On the 25th, the Thirty-eighth was ordered to relieve the Seventy-seventh Pennsylvania, of General Willich's Brigade, of General Johnson's Division, who were hotly pressed by the enemy. The Thirty-eighth charged across a plowed field, under heavy fire, and drove the enemy from their works, capturing the flag of the Second Arkansas. June 26th, skirmished with the enemy all day, losing 3 killed and 19 wounded. That night the enemy withdrew.

Marched through Manchester, and camped at Winchester, Tennessee. August 17th, 1863, crossed the Cumberland Mountains to Stevenson, Alabama. 30th, crossed the Tennessee river, at Caperton's Ferry. Crossed Sand Mountain, and camped in Will's Valley. September 9th, crossed Lookout Mountain, and camped in Broomtown Valley, about 50 miles south of Chattanooga.

September 13th and 14th, recrossed Lookout Mountain to Will's Valley. 16th, ascended Lookout Mountain, and marched 25 miles, on the top, to Steven's Gap. 17th, entered McLemore's Cave, and laid in line of battle before Dug Gap, in Pigeon Mountains. 17th, at dark, moved to the left, to Pond Springs. 19th, marched past Crawfish Springs, and entered the battle of Chickamauga, near Gordon's Mills. Double quicking, a line was formed, under fire, and was hotly engaged till dark. September 20th, was moved to the left. Went into position at 10 A. M., and was heavily engaged. The enemy, pressing through a gap made by the withdrawal of General Woods' Division, forced the line back, and the Brigade narrowly escaped capture. Was re-formed on the hills, in the rear of the battle ground, and marched toward Rossville. Was then marched toward the right, where General Thomas was continuing the fight. After dark, returned to Rossville. Loss, Lieutenant Colonel D. H. Gilmer, killed, and Major Alden severely wounded. Of 301 men who entered the fight, 180 were killed, wounded or missing.

September 21st. Captain W. C. Harris, being relieved from Brigadier General Carlin's staff, took command of the Regiment. 22d, moved into Chattanooga, and remained till the last of October, working on fortifications, etc. The Twentieth Army Corps was broken up, and Twenty-first and Thirty-eighth Illinois, One Hundred and First Ohio and Eighty-first Indiana, were assigned to First Brigade, First Division, Fourth Army Corps.

HISTORY OF THIRTY-NINTH INFANTRY.

The organization of this regiment was commenced as soon as the news of the firing on Fort Sumter reached Chicago.

General T. O. Osborn was one of its contemplated field officers, and labored zealously to get it accepted under the first call for troops, but did not accomplish his object. The state having filled its quota without this regiment, efforts were made to get it accepted into the state service of Missouri, but without success. The regiment had already assumed the name of His Excellency, the Governor of Illinois, and was known as the "Yates Phalanx." Governor Yates manifested an earnest desire to see it brought into the service, and sent General O. L. Mann (then known as Captain) to Washington, with strong commendatory letters to the President and Secretary of War, urging the acceptance of the regiment, which at this time had over 800 men on the rolls.

The regiment was accepted on the day succeeding the first Bull Run disaster, and Austin Light, of Chicago, was appointed Colonel; and under his direction the organization was completed, and left Camp Mather, Chicago, on the morning of October 13, 1861. The day previous to the departure, a beautiful stand of colors was presented to the regiment by Miss Helen Arion, daughter of Colonel Arion. It had also won a handsome flag at a prize drill, under the auspices of the Illinois Agricultural Society, then in session at Chicago.

On leaving Chicago, the regiment reported to Brigadier General Curtis, at Camp Benton, St. Louis, Missouri.

October 29, the regiment received orders to proceed to Williamsport, Maryland, where it was fully armed and equipped. December 11, it pressed on to Hancock, Maryland, at which point it crossed the Potomac river, and was distributed in detachments along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to assist in guarding that important line of transit.

January 3, 1862, the advance of a rebel force 15,000 strong, under command of "Stonewall" Jackson, attacked Companies D, I and K, in the command of Major Mann, near Bath, Virginia, and, after a brisk little fight, were repulsed; then, with two pieces of artillery, a liberal display of strategy and courage, the enemy was held in check for nearly twenty-four hours. Companies C and G, under command of Captain Stoughton, were also attacked at Great Cacapon Bridge, but repulsed the enemy with considerable loss. A heavy force was approaching, and these companies, not being able to ford the Potomac, retreated up the railroad to Cumberland, Maryland. Colonel Osborn, with the remaining portion of the regiment, was simultaneously attacked at Alpine Station. Companies C and F, in command of Captain Munn, drew into ambush about five hundred (500) of Asbby's Cavalry, and, after killing and wounding 30, routed them. The regiment finally forded the Potomac, sustaining no serious loss, except in the matter of camp and garrison equipage, and took up a new position on the Maryland shore.

Cumberland was at this period threatened, and the Thirty-ninth was ordered to make a forced march of forty (40) miles, over terrible roads, which was accomplished in the short space of eighteen hours. From Cumberland the regiment was ordered to New Creek, Virginia, to guard a bridge, and was here assigned to the First Brigade of General Lander's Division, and was soon ordered to Patterson's Creek, below Cumberland. At this period the regiment suffered seriously from sickness, occasioned by constant exposure and excessive duty. The weather was intensely cold, and cattle cars were the only quarters to be had for the command. But the men endured these hardships for over two months with scarcely a murmur, notwithstanding their comrades were almost daily dying around them. These days and weeks will ever be remembered as being more terrible than were those in which the enemy was confronted on the battle-field.

From Patterson's Creek the Thirty-ninth took the advance, protecting the workmen in repairing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to Martinsburg. The regiment, from Martinsburg, participated in a reconnoissance to Strasburg, and, on its return, took part in the brilliant fight at Winchester, March 23, 1862, that resulted in the utter defeat of "Stonewall" Jackson's forces. The regiment suffered but little during the engagement, owing to its position, which was the extreme left. The ensuing day it took the advance in pursuing the enemy down the Shenandoah Valley, as far as New Market, where it was detached and sent into the Luray Valley, to protect bridges over the South Branch of the Shenandoah river.

Major S. W. Munn, in command of four companies, met a small cavalry force at Columbia Bridge, and, after a brisk skirmish, dislodged the enemy, putting out the fire which they had applied to the structure, and capturing thirty (30) prisoners.

The Thirty-ninth left the Valley the 1st of May, 1862, with Shields' Division, and, making a continued march of one hundred and fifty (150) miles, reported to General McDowell at Fredericksburg. After one day's rest, the news of General Banks' defeat in the Valley arrived, and the regiment was ordered back to the Valley, making forced marches over a distance of one hundred and eighty miles. After a few days' rest, the regiment was ordered to Alexandria, Virginia, and immediately embarked on transports for the James River, and reached Harrison's Landing in time to take part in the closing scenes of General McClellan's seven days' fight and seven nights' retreat. While at Harrison's Landing, the regiment was kept at the front, on picket duty, and had a series of unimportant skirmishes, until about the middle of August, when it participated in the second Malvern Hill fight, but without material injury. From this point a large number of officers and men were sent away sick.

The regiment was here assigned to the First Brigade, Peck's Division, Keyes' Corps, and retreated with the army to Fort Monroe. September 1, it was sent to Suffolk, Virginia, where it remained for the space of three months, fortifying the place, and making frequent expeditions to the Blackwater, where heavy skirmishes frequently occurred. On one occasion it participated in the capture of two pieces of artillery and forty prisoners.

At Suffolk, about the 1st of December, Major S. W. Munn resigned, on account of ill health, and returned home.

On the 5th of January, 1863, the regiment broke camp, and marched a distance of seventy-five miles, to the Chowan River, where it took transports, and reported to General Foster, at Newbern, North Carolina. Colonel T. O. Osborn was here placed in command of the First Brigade, O. S. Terry's Division of Foster's Corps. A beautiful flag was here presented to the regiment, from His Excellency, Governor Yates, bearing his portrait, and which was carried through all the subsequent battles of the Thirty-ninth.

January 20, 1863, the regiment again embarked, accompanying General Foster's expedition to Hilton Head, South Carolina. It remained in camp on St. Helena Island, South Carolina, for several weeks, where a most favorable opportunity for drill and discipline was diligently improved. An experienced inspecting officer here paid the Thirty-ninth a flattering compliment, by pronouncing it the best drilled and the best equipped regiment in the Division.

The 1st of April, the regiment took part in General Hunter's expedition against Charleston, and, after landing on Folly Island, took a prominent part in the erection of batteries with which Morris Island was taken.

The regiment was next ordered to Morris Island, South Carolina, where it was assigned to General Alfred H. Terry's Division, and again worked zealously and long in the trenches, parallels and forts which resulted in the final capture of Fort Wagner. A day or two previous to the fall of this fort, Colonel Osborn was temporarily disabled by the premature discharge of a heavy piece of ordnance. The regiment formed the advance of their brigade, temporarily commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Mann, and occupied the trenches on the night that it was discovered the fort was being evacuated. As soon as this fact was known, the Thirty-ninth entered the fort, captured the enemy's rear-guard, cut several fuses that were laid with the design to blow up the structure on the approach of Union troops, and planted the regimental colors on the parapet some two hours before the time appointed for the general charge.

At the time the fort was taken possession of, Lieutenant Colonel O. L. Mann sent the following telegram to headquarters:

"HEADQUARTERS OFFICER OF THE TRENCHES,

"FORT WAGNER, MORRIS ISLAND, S. C. August 7th, 1863.

"To Major General Q. A. Gilmore:

"The Field Officer of the Trenches sends his compliments and congratulations to the Major General commanding, from the bomb-proofs of fallen Fort Wagner, and wishes to assure him that his confidence in God and General Gilmore is yet unshaken."

A portion of the Thirty-ninth temporarily garrisoned this work, and the balance occupied Fort Gregg, which fell simultaneously with Fort Wagner. Captain J. Woodruff, a very gallant officer, was killed about this time in Fort Gregg, by a shell thrown from the enemy's batteries on Sullivan's Island. The loss in killed and wounded during these four months of siege duty was not very heavy, compared to the constant bombardment to which the regiment was subjected; yet it was far more trying to the nerve and courage of the command than a hotly contested battle would have been.

After assisting in strengthening and remodeling the defenses on Morris Island, the Thirty-ninth returned to Folly Island, and soon embarked for Hilton Head, where the regiment remained for several weeks, and then re-enlisted, being the first organization in the entire Department to accept Veteran honors and responsibilities. It left Hilton Head on Veteran furlough, for Chicago, Illinois, via New York, on the 1st of January, 1864, amid great enthusiasm. An entire brigade, with several Generals and their Staffs, turned out to escort it to the place of embarkation. The regiment reached Chicago the middle of January, 450 strong, and was tendered a fine ovation by the citizens, in Bryan Hall.

After the regiment had been recruited to seven hundred and fifty (750) strong, it left, early in March, 1864, for Washington, D. C., and from thence sailed to Georgetown, Virginia, where it was assigned to the First Brigade, First Division, Tenth Army Corps. It then embarked, the 5th day of May, 1864, with General Butler's expedition up the James River. On reaching Bermuda Hundred, the regiment took the advance on the march into the interior for seven miles, when the entire command was halted, and intrenchments thrown up. After remaining for a day or two, the whole column was moved forward to Drury's Bluff. The Thirty-ninth was located on the extreme left of General Butler's command on the 16th day of May, 1864, when the entire force under Butler was attacked and driven back. The regiment was at one time completely surrounded by the enemy, but succeeded in cutting their way out, after great loss. To use General Butler's own words, "the Thirty-ninth fought most gallantly, and have suffered most severely."

Colonel Osborn, Major Linton, Captain Phillips, Captain Wheeler, Lieutenant Kidder and Lieutenant Kingsbury were all wounded—the latter losing an arm. Captain James Wightman and Adjutant J. D. Walker were killed while gallantly cheering on the men. The entire loss in this engagement, including killed, wounded and missing, reached nearly two hundred, (200.)

The regiment was again ordered out on the 20th of May, to dislodge the enemy from some temporary works near Wier Bottom Church, which was accomplished in a most gallant manner, with a loss of forty (40) in killed and wounded. The Thirty-ninth captured in this charge a large number of prisoners, including General Walker, who was seriously wounded in this engagement. Lieutenant Colonel Mann was seriously wounded in this engagement, thus leaving the command without a field officer.

At this place, Surgeon Charles M. Clark, who had previously been detached from the regiment as Operating Surgeon, was placed in charge of the Tenth Army Corps Flying Hospital—a position which he filled with acknowledged skill and ability. After the merging of the Tenth and Eighteenth Corps into the Twenty-fourth Army Corps, Surgeon Clark was appointed Chief Operating Surgeon of the Corps, which position he retained until the surrender of the rebel army. Subsequently, he was placed in charge of the Military Hospital at Richmond, where he remained until its final abandonment in September, 1865, being then ordered to Norfolk, Virginia, as chief medical officer of the district, and in charge of the Post Hospital.

On the 2d of June, the regiment was again called into action, on nearly the same ground as on the 20th of May, in which engagement it lost, in killed, wounded and missing, some forty (40) men. Lieutenant Albert W. Fellows was killed soon after the action commenced, and Lieutenant Al. C. Sweetzer was severely wounded in both legs, losing one by amputation above the knee.

On the 16th, 17th and 18th days of June, the regiment came in contact with General Longstreet's Corps, near the Petersburg and Richmond pike, and fought him night and day. Captain O. F. Rudd was mortally wounded in this affair, and the regiment lost about thirty-five (35) men in killed and wounded.

On the 14th day of August, the regiment crossed to the north side of the James River, and operated with the Army of the James, in conjunction with the Second Corps, under the direction of General Grant, in a reconnoissance toward the works near Richmond. On the 16th, the brigade to which the Thirty-ninth was attached was ordered to charge the works of the enemy at Deep Run. The enemy offered a most stubborn resistance, not giving back even when our men mounted their works, and fought them hand to hand; but western valor proved to be more than a match for them. Our boys broke their lines, capturing a large number of prisoners.

During the action, and just after gaining the earth-works, Henry M. Hordenburg, a private of Company G, encountered the Color Sergeant of an Alabama regiment, carrying its regimental colors. A desperate conflict at once took place between the two—one to capture and the other to defend that stand of colors. After several minutes' hard fighting, in which both received wounds, Hordenburg dispatched his enemy, and captured the colors, which he presented in person to Major General Birney, commanding Tenth Corps. General Butler, learning of the affair, promoted Private Hordenburg to a First Lieutenant in a colored regiment; but the brave boy was shot dead while in the trenches before Petersburg, September 28, 1864, two days before his commission arrived.

In this battle of 16th of August, the Thirty-ninth lost one hundred and four (104) men, in killed, wounded and missing. Captain L. A. Baker, commanding regiment, was shot through the leg, causing amputation; Captain Chauncey Williams and Lieutenant John Frane were killed, Lieutenant James Lemons mortally wounded, Lieutenant N. C. Warner seriously wounded and leg amputated, and Lieutenant C. F. Knapp and Lieutenant M. L. Butterfield were slightly wounded.

In the latter part of August, the regiment was ordered to the trenches in front of Petersburg, where it was almost constantly on duty, and under fire both night and day. In the latter part of September, the Tenth and Eighteenth Corps moved over to the north side of the James River again, and on the 7th October, the Thirty-ninth met the enemy, near Chapin's farm, who made three desperate charges upon the hastily constructed works behind which our boys were stationed. But they were driven back each time with fearful loss.

On the 13th of October, the Thirty-ninth took part in a charge, under command of Major General A. H. Terry, upon the enemy's works near Darlington road, seven miles from Richmond. Out of about two hundred and fifty (250) men who went into that charge, sixty fell, struck by the enemy. Captain George Heritage, commanding the regiment, was severely wounded in two places, Lieutenant C. J. Wilden was killed, and Lieutenant N. E. Davis mortally wounded. The regiment now fell under command of First Lieutenant James Hannum, Company C, there being but two other officers besides himself left—one the Adjutant, the other a Second Lieutenant—the balance killed, or absent, wounded. Several, however, had previously been mustered out, by reason of expiration of service.

On the 27th of October, the regiment took part in a reconnoissance near the same place as last mentioned, and had a brisk engagement with the enemy. In November, Colonel Osborn returned to the regiment, but not fully recovered from his wounds. He was soon placed in command of the First Brigade, First Division, Twenty-fourth Corps, to which the Thirty-ninth was attached. In December, First Lieutenant H. A. Plimpton, having received a Captain's commission, and being mustered on the same, took command of the regiment. During the winter, the Thirty-ninth remained behind the works on the north side of the James, where it was thoroughly equipped anew, and attained great proficiency in drill, for which it had excellent advantages, that were well improved.

During the winter it had frequent skirmishes with the enemy, but no regular engagement. In March, it received about one hundred recruits, and on the 27th of the same month took part in the military movements which finally resulted in wresting the strongholds of Petersburg and Richmond from the grasp of the enemy. It crossed to the left of the Army of the Potomac, and on the 2d day of April took part in the charge upon Fort Gregg, the key to the works about Petersburg and Richmond. It was an inclosed work, situated upon an eminence, the country surrounding which, was open, and commanded by five other forts and redoubts. Immediately surrounding it was a ditch six (6) feet deep and twelve (12) feet wide. It fell to the lot of the First Brigade to charge and take the fort; and the Thirty-ninth was the first regiment to gain the ditch, and the first to plant her flag upon the structure. Out of nine of her color-guard, seven were shot down. After gaining the ditch the conflict became most desperate. On account of the abruptness and slippery nature of the side of the ditch, it was only by digging foot-holds in the earth, with swords and bayonets, that the boys were enabled to gain the parapet, when the struggle was hand-to-hand, and which lasted for the period of half an hour, ere success crowned the effort, which was the capture of the fort and the entire garrison. Out of one hundred and fifty (150) members of the Thirty-ninth who went into that fight, (the balance of the regiment being on picket duty) sixteen (16) were shot dead, and now lie buried where they fell, and forty-five (45) more severely wounded, many of whom have since died.

For the gallantry displayed by the Thirty-ninth, in this charge, a magnificent brazen eagle, cast for the purpose, was presented and placed upon the regimental color staff by the hand of Major General John Gibbons, at the time of a grand review of the corps.

The eagle bore the following inscription: "Presented to the Thirty-ninth Illinois Veteran Volunteers, by Major General John Gibbon, commanding Twenty-fourth Army Corps, for gallantry in the assault upon Fort Gregg, Petersburg, Virginia, April 2d, 1865." The Color Sergeant, Henry M. Day, who was severely wounded while planting the color upon the fort, was rewarded by a medal of honor from the War Department. Col. Thomas O. Osborn was appointed a Brigadier General by brevet, and Captain H. A. Plimpton a Major by brevet, for gallantry on the occasion. After this affair, the regiment took the advance of the Army of the James, in the pursuit after General Lee, and succeeded in heading his army off after forced marches (forty miles in one day) and frequent skirmishes at Appomattox Court House, and where, after a brisk engagement on the 9th day of April, 1865, in which the Thirty-ninth had several men wounded, it had the proud satisfaction of witnessing the final surrender of General Robert E. Lee, with his great Army of Northern Virginia.

The regiment was retained at the above named place for several days, as guard over the baggage and camps of the conquered army. It was then ordered to Richmond, where it remained until August. On the 11th of May, 1865, Brevet Brigadier General Osborn was made full Brigadier General, and Brevet Major Plimpton, full Major.

From Richmond, the regiment was sent to Norfolk, Virginia, reporting to Brevet Brigadier General O. L. Mann, Colonel of the regiment, who, after recovering from his wounds received on the 20th day of May, 1864, had been appointed Provost Marshal for the District of Eastern Virginia, and soon after breveted Brigadier General and placed in command of said district.

The Thirty-ninth remained on duty at Norfolk until the 5th day of December, 1865, at which time General Order No. 131 was issued from Headquarters, Department of Virginia, ordering its muster-out of service, which was accomplished on the 6th of December, and on the afternoon of the 7th, the regiment started for Springfield, Illinois, for its final muster-out and payment, via Chicago, where it arrived on the afternoon of the 10th of December. The following morning it continued its way to Springfield, arriving at Camp Butler on the morning of the 12th inst.

On the morning of December 16th, the regiment, prior to its final payment, was assembled in the chapel, where the ceremony of surrendering the flags of the regiment to the state authorities transpired. The Adjutant General, thanking them for their gallantry, and congratulating them on the happy termination of their services, received the old battle-worn relics, making a brief but appropriate speech.

The regiment was then paid off by companies, and ere the day closed, the gallant old Thirty-ninth Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, ceased to exist as an organization.

HISTORY OF FORTY-THIRD INFANTRY.

The Forty-third Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, in the month of September, 1861, by Colonel Julius Raith.

October 8, the regiment—only eight companies being full—was ordered to St. Louis, Missouri. The regiment was equipped at Benton Barracks.

November 6th, ordered to Tipton, Missouri. On arriving, was ordered by General Pope to occupy Otterville, Missouri.

January 19, 1862, ordered to Benton Barracks, Missouri, where, with Twenty-fifth Indiana, it formed a brigade, Brigadier General Strong, commanding, and General Sherman commanding post. Here Companies I and K joined the regiment.

February 6th, moved to Fort Henry, arriving on the 10th. 18th, moved to Fort Donelson, where it was attached to General Ross' Brigade, General McClelland's Division.

March 4th, moved to Bell's Landing; and 14th, arrived at Savannah, Tennessee. 22d, moved to Pittsburg Landing. The strength of the regiment was then 610 men. The regiment was in the two days' bloody battle of Shiloh, losing, in killed and wounded, 200. Its commander, the noble and daring Raith was mortally wounded, and died April 11th. The following named officers were killed: Chaplain Walther, Captain Grimm, Lieutenant Lindroth and Lieutenant Sacker. Captain Edvall was mortally wounded.

Was engaged during the siege of Corinth, May, 1862.

June 4th, in Ross' Brigade, Logan's Division, Reserve Corps, Army of the Tennessee; was ordered to Bethel and thence to Jackson, arriving June 17th.

July 4th, 1862, moved to Bolivar. From here, a part of the regiment was sent out to disperse a party of guerrillas, from Hardiman county.

September 15th, moved to Corinth; moved, with Ross' Division, to Iuka, from which place General Rosecrans had driven Price, before the Forty-third arrived. Returned to Corinth, and thence to Bolivar, where the regiment camped, on the 22d.

October 10th, moved to Lagrange and Grand Junction, and returned.

December 18th, a part of the regiment moved to Jackson. Same day, started with an expedition consisting of Forty-third Illinois and Sixty-first Illinois, Colonel Engelman, commanding; moved out on Lexington road, four miles, meeting a detachment of the Eleventh Illinois and Fifth Ohio Cavalry, who had been driven from Lexington, with a loss of many prisoners and two cannon. Colonel Engelman posted his two skeleton regiments near the Salem cemetery. The troops lay all of the succeeding severe cold night, without fire. At daybreak, the cavalry were deployed to find the position of the enemy. About 9 o'clock, the enemy appeared, about 500 strong, driving in a little squad of cavalry; first, at a walk, then a brisk trot, and when within seventy-five yards of their position, charged headlong upon them with deafening cheers. The infantry had, however, withheld their fire, and now poured in terrific volleys, sending the enemy flying back, leaving from sixty to eighty dead and wounded on the field. The Forty-third had two men wounded. The enemy was estimated at 1,800 strong, with five pieces artillery, under General Forrest, and engaged an infantry force of 425 men. In the afternoon, received re-enforcements, pursued the enemy fifteen miles, and afterwards returned to Jackson, arriving December 21st.

December 23d, moved with Colonel Lawler's expedition, via Medon Station, Denmark, Glover Creek, and Toons' Station, returning 26th, to Bolivar, Tennessee.

In the spring of 1863, 200 men of the regiment were mounted, by order of Brigadier General Mason Brayman commanding post, and did excellent service, capturing guerrillas, etc.

May 30th, 1863, moved to Memphis, Tennessee. June 1st, embarked, and moving down the Mississippi and up the Yazoo, disembarked at Satartia, 4th. Here, General Adams, with 2,000 of the enemy, contested the advance, but was forced to retreat, after losing a number of prisoners. 9th, moved to Haines' Bluff.

July 12th, 1863, moved to Big Black river. 22d, to Snyder's Bluff. 29th, embarked for Helena. August 6th, assigned to First Brigade, Second Division, Arkansas expedition, Major General F. Steele commanding.

August 13th, left Helena. 17th, arrived at Clarendon, on White river. 22d, crossed White river. 24th, arrived at Duvall's Bluff.

September 1st, moved from Duvall's Bluff. Arrived at Brownsville on the 2d and moved on 6th, crossing Bayou Meton on the same day. Colonel A. Engelman was assigned to command of the Second Division. 7th, arrived at Ashley's mill, and camped until the 10th, when moved forward to the Arkansas river, and laid pontoon. Two regiments of infantry, several batteries of artillery and a division of cavalry, crossed the river. The infantry moved on the north side of the river to a point opposite Little Rock. The enemy evacuated the place, and the cavalry, Thirteenth Illinois Cavalry in the lead, occupied the place. 11th, the Forty-third was ordered into the city, being the first infantry regiment to enter the place.

March 13th, 1864, the Forty-third was assigned to Third Brigade, Colonel A. Engelman commanding Third Division, Brigadier General F. Saloman commanding. Major General F. Steele taking command of the Red River Expedition, moved from Little Rock, March 23d, 1864. After bridging many small streams and laying pontoon over the Ouachita, arrived at Arkadelphia on the 29th.

April 1st, moved to Spoonsville. 2d, at Okolona, had a slight skirmish with Shelby's Brigade.

On 3d, Colonel Engelman's Brigade was sent back to Spoonsville, to gather information concerning General Thayer's Division, which was to have joined them there. 5th, rejoined the army. 6th, crossed the Little Missouri. 9th, General Thayer came up. 10th, moved, Forty-third in advance, for Prairie d'Anne. Met the enemy occupying the first ridge of Prairie d'Anne. After some skirmishing, the line was charged, and the Forty-third, at a double-quick, and with loud cheers, drove them from the ridge. The enemy fell back upon their main force, half a mile distant, and opened on the regiment with artillery. Captain Vaughn's Battery replied promptly and with telling effect. A general advance was then ordered, when the enemy's line gave way, and the Forty-third was first in the enemy's works. The enemy retreated under cover of the darkness. At 8 o'clock p. m., the enemy's artillery again opened, and a lively duel was kept up between it and Vaughn's Springfield Light Artillery; the only casualty being, Lieutenant Thomas, of Vaughn's Battery, slightly wounded. Toward midnight, the enemy's cavalry charged Vaughn's Battery, and attempted to capture it, but were repulsed.

On the 12th, the army again moved forward on the enemy's new line, but the enemy evacuated their works on the approach of the Forty-third, and fled.

Moved from Prairie d'Anne, on the Camden road, and in the evening camped at Terre Rouge creek.

April 14th, after considerable skirmishing, reached Camden, situated on the banks of the Ouachita.

On the 17th, a large train of 180 wagons, was captured by the enemy. The First Kansas Regiment, A. D., who were escort, fought bravely and heroically, but were overpowered by superior numbers.

April 23d, a train sent to Little Rock, under a guard of the Forty-third Indiana, Thirty-sixth Iowa and Seventy-seventh Ohio, was captured, together with a greater part of the troops. The news of General Banks' defeat having now reached them, Camden was evacuated and the army moved toward Little Rock.

At Jenkins' Ferry, the army of Kirby Smith having come up, they were attacked with great fury. The Forty-third Illinois and a section of Vaughn's Battery, being rear guard, were first attacked; loss, in this battle, 700; but that of the enemy over 2,000. About 4,000 men engaged the enemy's force, which amounted to 20,000 men. The capture of three cannon was made, two of which were taken by the Second Kansas, A. D. The enemy were successfully repulsed.

May 3d, arrived at Little Rock, Arkansas, where the regiment was mustered out, November 30th, 1865, and arrived at Camp Butler, Illinois, December 14th, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF FORTY-FOURTH INFANTRY.

This regiment was organized in August, 1861, at Camp Ellsworth, Chicago, under the supervision of Colonel Charles Knoblesdorff, and mustered into the service of the United States on the 13th day of September, 1861, and, on the 14th of the same month, embarked on board the cars for St. Louis, Missouri, where it arrived on the 15th.

On the 16th, ordered to Washington, D. C.; but this order was countermanded the next day, and the regiment took up its quarters at Benton Barracks, where it remained till the 22d, when it received arms from the St. Louis Arsenal, and embarked on steamer for Jefferson City, which was then threatened by the victorious army of General Price, jubilant over their dearly bought victory at Lexington. Arrived at Jefferson City on the 25th, and the next day disembarked and took quarters in the State House. Remained there till the 29th, when it marched to Sedalia, Missouri, where the regiment was assigned to General Sigel's famous Division. Remained in camp, drilling, scouting, foraging, etc., till the 13th of October, when the army took up its line of march toward Springfield, Missouri.

Arrived at Springfield on the 27th, only a few hours too late to take part in the bloody charge, led by Major Zagonia, (of General Fremont's Body Guard) on the rebel cavalry which was stationed there, by which they were driven from the town. Here remained till the 8th of November, when General Fremont, having been relieved from command, on the 4th, and General Hunter placed in command of the army, it moved toward Wilson's Creek, the scene of the late bloody battle between General Lyon's and Colonel Sigel's forces, and the rebel army, under Price and McCullough. The men were in the best of spirits, and, although they were now to meet that enemy whom they had been seeking for two months, none appeared to doubt their ability to whip any force which might be brought against them; but all were doomed to disappointment, for the next day's order was to turn back toward Springfield, where, arriving same evening, it was found that the army had broken up camp and was marching toward Rolla, Missouri. At the same time the Division (Sigel's) had moved in the opposite direction, only for the purpose of deceiving the enemy in regard to real movements; and, on the 13th, the Division followed on, in the rear of the main army, toward Rolla, the terminus of the G. W. Branch of the Pacific R. R., where it arrived on the 19th, without being materially molested by the enemy. Here it remained during the winter, the regiment suffering severely from sickness, many of the men being called to that house "not made with hands," and many others being discharged for disability.

On the 2d of February, 1862, General Curtis having assumed command of the army, it again took up the line of march toward Springfield, where the rebel General Price had concentrated his forces, with the avowed determination of giving battle should he be attacked. But he failed to come to time, and the Union forces again took possession of the city, on the 13th day of February, without serious opposition. Then began an exciting chase—this regiment being continually in advance, till it reached Camp Halleck, Benton county, Arkansas. On the 20th, when the pursuit was abandoned, the troops were allowed a few days' rest, having marched four consecutive days, during the most inclement weather, there being six inches of snow on the ground a portion of the time, and skirmishing with the enemy every day during the last week's march. Here they remained till the 5th of March, when it became evident that the combined forces of Van Dorn, Price and McCullough were marching to give battle, and accordingly on the 6th, moved toward Sugar Creek Valley, under the command of Curtis, Siegel, Davis and Asboth, and in the afternoon of the same day the rear guard was attacked and repulsed by the enemy. Thus began the terrible battle of Pea Ridge, which resulted so disastrously to the rebels, in which this regiment took a prominent part. After the enemy had been routed this was one of the regiments selected to follow up his retreat, which was done for three days, capturing one stand of colors, taking many hundred prisoners and several pieces of artillery. Remained in this vicinity till the 5th day of April, when the march was resumed, for Forsythe, Missouri, and thence to Batesville, Arkansas, on the White river, when the army was re-organized, it being now in the Brigade commanded by Colonel Osterhaus; and, on the 8th of May, crossed the river, and, as was supposed, took up the line of march toward Little Rock. Had not gone far when orders were received to return to Batesville and march to Cape Girardeau, on the Mississippi river, two hundred miles distant, and from thence to Pittsburg Landing, Tennessee, by water, to re-enforce the troops then besieging Corinth, Mississippi. Arrived at Pittsburg Landing on the 26th of May, and the next day marched up within supporting distance of the main army, arriving two days previous to the evacuation. After the evacuation, was attached to Major General Pope's army, and sent in pursuit of the retreating foe; but the roads were so bad that the pursuit was abandoned, after a few days, and on the 12th of June, returned to Bionzo, Mississippi, and went into camp, and remained there until August 26th. Cincinnati and Covington being threatened by the enemy, the Brigade, consisting of the Second and Fifteenth Missouri, Thirty-sixth and Forty-fourth Illinois, under command of Colonel Greusel, of the Thirty-sixth Illinois, was ordered to those places, to protect them from the assaults of the enemy.

It arrived at Cincinnati about the 1st of September, and immediately crossed the river to Covington, Kentucky, where it remained until the 17th, when it became known that the enemy had withdrawn from the front and were then moving upon Louisville, the Brigade re-crossed the river to Cincinnati, and embarked on board the cars for Louisville, where it arrived on the 19th, and remained till the 1st of October. Here the command was again re-organized, under the command of Major General Buell—this regiment being assigned to the Thirty-fifth Brigade, Eleventh Division, Army of the Ohio, and started on the memorable campaign after Bragg, through Kentucky. The regiment was engaged in the battle of Perryville, on the 8th of October, being in the Division commanded by General P. H. Sheridan. After the battle, followed the retreating foe to Crab Orchard. On the 20th of October, marched toward Bowling Green, where it arrived on the 1st of November. Here Gen. Rosecrans assumed command of the army. On the 4th of November, took up the line of march toward Nashville, where it arrived on the 7th, thus relieving the garrison at that place and re-opening communication with Louisville. Remained here till the 26th day of December, when the army moved against the rebel forces at Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Was now attached to the Second Brigade, Third Division, Twentieth Army Corps, Col. Schaffer commanding the Brigade, Gen. Sheridan the Division, and Gen. McCook the Corps. In the bloody battle of Stone River the regiment took a prominent part, losing more than half its number, in killed and wounded. Remained with the army at Murfreesboro, till the 26th of June, 1863, when it again marched to meet the enemy, and was engaged at Hoover's Gap, Shebyville, and Tullahoma, Tennessee. Arrived at Cowen Station on the 2nd of July, and remained there for a few days, when it marched to Stevenson, Alabama, driving the rear of the rebel army across the Tennessee river at Bridgeport, Alabama. Then returned to Stevenson, Alabama, and remained till the 21st of August, when the movement against Chattanooga, Tennessee, began. This Corps (the Twentieth) crossed Sand Mountain, and moved down the valley towards Rome, Georgia, and had reached a point within 27 miles of the latter place, when the balance of the army was attacked, near Chickamauga, by the rebel forces under Bragg and Longstreet. The Forty-fourth was ordered to return immediately, and re-join the main army. After three days and nights forced marches, it arrived on the field in time to take part in the bloody conflict of September 19th and 20th, 1863. Falling back to Chattanooga, Tennessee, it remained there, on quarter rations till the latter part of November. On the 25th of November, this regiment was foremost in the desperate charge upon Mission Ridge, Gen. Sheridan giving it praise for having placed one of the first flags on the rebel works. Following the enemy next day it captured many prisoners and several pieces of Artillery and on the 27th was ordered back to Chattanooga, to prepare for a forced march to Knoxville, 150 miles distant, to relieve the forces there then being besieged by the rebel forces under the command of Gen. Longstreet. It arrived at Knoxville three days after the siege had been raised by Gen. Burnside. The Twentieth and Twenty-first Corps having been consolidated at Chattanooga, the Forty-fourth was assigned to the First Brigade, Second Division, Fourth Army Corps—Col. F. T. Sherman commanding the Brigade, Gen. Sheridan the Division, and Gen. Granger the Corps. From Knoxville marched to Sevierville, and, after staying there a few days, were ordered back to Knoxville, and from there out on the E. T. and V. railroad, to Strawberry Plains, where it was reported the enemy had made a stand and offered battle; but this proved a mistake, and the regiment went into camp at Blain's Cross Roads. Here the troops were on the point of starvation several times, having, for days at a time, nothing but corn in the ear, and but a limited supply of that. Nothing could more fully prove the patriotism of the men, than the fact, that here, on the point of starvation, exposed to the most inclement weather, (it being so cold that the ink would freeze to the pen as the men signed their names,) over three-fourths of the men voluntarily consented to serve three years more, for that government for which they had suffered so much during the past two years and a half. Remained here until about the 12th of January, 1864, when it marched to Dandridge, Tennessee, when on the 16th and 17th, an attack was made by the enemy; and, after considerable hard fighting, it becoming evident that the whole rebel army was advancing, the Union forces fell back to Knoxville, and from there marched to Kingston, Tennessee, when a stand was made till the 30th of January, when they were ordered to Chattanooga, to receive veteran furloughs. Arrived at that place on the 3d of February, and drew full rations from the Government for the first time in four months. Started for home on the 18th, and reached Chicago on the 1st of March. On the 4th, the men were furloughed, and started for home. From the time the Regiment left its rendezvous, in September, 1861, up to the time of re-enlistment, it had marched over 5000 miles.

On the 14th day of April, the regiment reached Nashville, Tennessee, on its way back to the field. On the 16th, marched toward Chattanooga, arriving there on the 30th. The next day started for Cleveland, Tennessee, where it arrived on the 3d of May, and was immediately ordered to the front with the main army, which had just began its movements toward Atlanta. The regiment passed through nearly all the battles and skirmishes of this ever memorable campaign, and entered Atlanta on the 8th day of September, with the main army. Among the many battles and skirmishes in which this regiment was engaged during this campaign, might be mentioned Buzzard Roost, Rocky Faced Mountain, Resaca, Adairsville, Dallas, New Hope Church, Kenesaw Mountain, Gulp's Farm, Chattahoochee river, Peach Tree Creek, Atlanta and Jonesboro. After staying at Atlanta, two weeks, it was, on the 28th of September ordered to Chattanooga, where it remained till the 18th of October, when, in company with the rest of the Division (Second) it was sent on a reconnoitering expedition to Alpine Valley, about 40 miles distant. Returned on the 29th. On the 1st of November it was ordered to Athens, Alabama, for the purpose of intercepting the rebel army under General Hood. Now marching toward Nashville, Tennessee, from Athens, it marched to Pulaski, Tennessee, and made preparations to give battle should the enemy attack; but it soon became apparent that our numbers were far too small to cope successfully with the rebel hordes. On the 22d, commenced falling back towards Nashville, closely followed by the enemy. There was more or less fighting every day till the 30th of November. Arriving at Franklin, Tennessee, General Scofield, then in command, determined to offer battle. The conflict was short, but one of the most desperate in which the regiment was ever engaged. Our Brigade commander, Colonel Opdyke, afterward, in a general order, by the authority of the general commanding, gave the honor of gaining the victory and saving the army to this Brigade. The next day reached Nashville, and the regiment again took part in the battle of Nashville, December 15th and 16th, and followed the broken and scattered columns of the rebel force to the Tennessee river. On the 5th of January, 1865, went into camp at Huntsville, Alabama. Thus ending the war in the Department of the Cumberland, on the 28th day of March, the regiment was ordered to Knoxville, Tennessee, and then to Bull's Gap and Blue Springs, East Tennessee, where it remained till the 19th of April, when the rebel army of Virginia, having surrendered to General Grant, the Corps (the Fourth) was ordered to Nashville, where it arrived on the 22d, and for a few weeks indulged the vain hope that it was now going to be mustered out of service, but this illusion was soon dispelled, by receiving orders to go to New Orleans. On the 15th day of June, started for the Crescent city, arriving on the 22d. After laying there till the 16th of July, was ordered to Texas, and embarked on board steamer for Indianola. Landed at Port Lavaca on the 23d, and went into camp on the La Placido river, where it remained until the 25th day of September, 1865, when it was mustered out and placed en route for Springfield, Illinois.

Arrived at Springfield October 15, 1865, where it received final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF FORTY-FIFTH INFANTRY.

The Washburne Lead Mine Regiment was organized at Chicago, Illinois, December 25, 1861, by Col. John E. Smith, and mustered into the United States' service as the Forty-fifth Infantry Illinois Volunteers.

January 15, 1862, moved to Cairo, Illinois.

February 1st, assigned to Brigade of Col. W. H. L. Wallace, Division of Brig. Gen. McClelland.

February 4, landed below Fort Henry, on the Tennessee, and on the 6th marched into the fort, it having surrendered to the gun-boats.

February 11th, moved toward Fort Donelson, and during the succeeding days bore its part of the suffering and of the battle. The flag of the Forty-fifth was the first planted on the enemy's works. Loss, 2 killed and 26 wounded.

March 4, moved to the Tennessee river, and, 11th, arrived at Savannah. Was engaged in the expedition to Pin Hook.

March 25th, moved to Pittsburg Landing, and encamped near Shiloh Church.

The Forty-fifth took a conspicuous and honorable part in the two days' battle of Shiloh, losing 26 killed and 199 wounded and missing—nearly one-half of the regiment.

April 12, Col. John E. Smith, of the Forty-fifth, took command of the Brigade. During the siege of Corinth the regiment was in the First Brigade, Third Division, Reserve, Army of the Tennessee, and bore its full share of the labors and dangers of the campaign.

June 4, the regiment was assigned to Third Brigade, and moved toward Purdy, 15 miles.

On the 5th, marched to Bethel; 7th, to Montezuma, and, on the 8th, to Jackson, Tennessee, the enemy flying on its approach.

During the months of June and July, engaged in garrison and guard duty.

August 11th, assigned to guarding railroad, near Toon's Station.

On the 31st, after much desperate fighting, companies C and D were captured. The remainder of the regiment, concentrating at Toon's Station, were able to resist the attack of largely outnumbering forces. Loss, 3 killed, 13 wounded and 43 taken prisoners.

September 17, moved to Jackson; November 2, to Bolivar, and was assigned to First Brigade, Third Division, Right Wing, Thirteenth Army Corps.

November 3, 1862, marched from Bolivar to Van Buren; 4th, to Lagrange, and were assigned to provost duty. 28th, marched to Holly Springs.

December 3rd to Waterford; 4th, to Abbeville; 5th, to Oxford, to Yocona river, near Spring Dale.

Communications with the north having been cut off, foraged on the country for supplies.

December 17th, notice received of the promotion of Col. John E. Smith, to Brigadier General, ranking from November 29th.

December 22d, returned to Oxford. 24th, moved to a camp, 3 miles north of Abbeville, on the Tallahatchie river, where the regiment remained during the month.

Mustered out July 12, 1865, at Louisville, Kentucky, and arrived at Chicago July 15, 1865, for final payment and discharge.

HISTORY OF FORTY-SIXTH INFANTRY.

The Forty-sixth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, December 28th, 1861, by Colonel John A. Davis.

Ordered to Cairo, Illinois, February 11th, 1862. From thence proceeded, via the Cumberland river, to Fort Donelson, Tennessee, arriving 14th, and was assigned to the command of General Lew. Wallace. On the 15th, lost one man killed and two wounded. 16th, moved through the works and to Dover. 19th, moved to Fort Henry.

March 6th, embarked for Pittsburg Landing, where it arrived on the 18th. The Regiment was now in Second Brigade, Fourth Division, with Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Forty-sixth Illinois, and Twenty-fifth Indiana, Colonel James C. Veatch, Twenty-fifth Indiana, commanding Brigade, and Brigadier General S. A. Hurlbut, of Illinois, commanding Division.

In the battle of Shiloh, the Forty-sixth took a most conspicuous and honorable part, losing over half of its officers and men, in killed and wounded, and receiving the thanks of the commanding generals. Among the wounded were Colonel John A. Davis, Major Dornblaser, Captains Musser, Stephens, Marble and McCracken, Lieutenants Hood, Barr, Arnold, Ingraham and Howell. In this action, the "Fighting Fourth Division," of General Hurlbut, achieved a reputation for bravery, to which it added on every field in which it was engaged until the close of the war.

Was engaged in the siege of Corinth, in the month of May.

June 2d, camped six miles west of Corinth. On the 10th, marched to the Hatchie river. 15th, passed through Grand Junction, and camped three miles from town. 24th, moved to Collarbone Hill, near Lagrange. On the 30th, moved to Old Lamar Church.

July 1st, marched to Cold Water, and returned on the 6th. On the 17th, moved toward Memphis, and marching, via Moscow, Lafayette, Germantown and White's Station, camping two miles south of Memphis on the 21st July.

August 27th, engaged in the scout to Pigeon Roost.

September 6th, moved from Memphis towards Brownsville. 7th, marched through Raleigh and Union Stations. 9th, marched to Big Muddy river. 11th, via Hampton Station, to Danville. 12th, via Whiteville, to Pleasant Creek. 14th, via Bolivar to Hatchie river.

September 27th, all the troops on the river, at this place, were reviewed by General McPherson.

October 4th, moved toward Corinth. 5th, met the enemy at Metamora. The Forty-sixth was in position on the right of Second Brigade, supporting Bolton's Battery. After an hour of shelling, by the batteries, the infantry were ordered forward, and at a double quick advanced, driving the enemy across the river. The First Brigade coming up, "Hurlbut's Fighting Fourth Division" advanced and drove the enemy from the field, compelling their flight. Colonel John A. Davis, of the Forty-sixth, was mortally wounded in this action, and Lieutenant M. R. Thompson, also—both dying on the 10th. After the battle returned to Bolivar.

November 3d, marched to Lagrange. 28th, moved to Holly Springs. 30th, toward Tallahatchie river, and camped near Waterford, Mississippi, where splendid winter quarters, with mud chimneys and bake ovens complete, were fitted up, in time to move away from them.

December 11th, to Hurricane Creek, and 12th, to Yocona Station, where it remained until December 22, when it marched to Taylor's Station.

Van Dorn having captured Holly Springs, marched, on 23d, via Oxford, to Hurricane Creek. 24th, the Forty-sixth Illinois and Thirty-third Wisconsin moved, as train guard, to north side of Tallahatchie river. 26th, moved camp four miles nearer Holly Springs, between Waterford and Wyatt Station.

January 6, 1863, moved to Holly Springs. 10th, Fifteenth and Forty-sixth Illinois were escort to ammunition train to Lagrange. 13th, marched to Moscow, where it remained until February 5th, when it moved to Lafayette. The garrison of Moscow was First Brigade, Fourth Division, the Forty-sixth and Seventy-sixth Illinois, of the Second Brigade, and two batteries; and the garrison of Lafayette, the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Illinois and one battery, Colonel Cyrus Hall commanding.

After rejoining Brigade at Lafayette, marched, 9th of March, via Collierville and Germantown, to Memphis.

April 21st, 1863, engaged in the expedition to Hernando, and returned 24th.

May 13th, embarked for Vicksburg, and, on the 15th, landed at Young's Point. 18th, marched to Bowers' Landing. 19th, moved to Sherman's Landing. 20th, moved, by steamer, up Yazoo to Chickasaw Bayou. Disembarked, and moved across the swamp to the bluff.

May 21st, proceeded to the right of General Grant's Army, and were then ordered to Snyder's Bluff. 24th, marched in the direction of Vicksburg. 25th, marched to the extreme left of the line. The regiment was detailed on picket duty, and, during the night, the out-post, consisting of five companies of the regiment, were captured by the enemy. One hundred and four men and seven officers were captured, seventy escaping.

The remainder of the regiment took an active part in the siege of Vicksburg. July 5th, moved to Clear Creek. 6th, to Bolton Station. 8th, to Clinton. 9th, to Dickens' Plantation, where it remained guarding train. 12th, moved into position on the extreme right of the line near Pearl river. Engaged in the siege until the 16th, when the enemy evacuated Jackson; after which the Regiment returned to Vicksburg.

The Division was now transferred to the Seventeenth Corps, and Brigadier General M. M. Crocker assigned to command.

August 12th, moved to Natchez.

September 1st, went on an expedition into Louisiana, returning on the 8th. September 16th, moved to Vicksburg.

November 28th, moved to Camp Cowan, on Clear Creek.

January 4th, 1863, the Forty-sixth was mustered as a Veteran Regiment. 12th, started north, for veteran furlough. 23d, arrived at Freeport, Illinois, and on the 27th, the regiment was furloughed.
